LEASES OR USE PERMITS FOR MINING OF PHOSPHATE

JULY 2, 1938.

In the interest of the public pending investigation by the Congress pursuant to the message of the President dated May 20, 1938, and Senate Joint Resolution 298, approved June 16, 1938, of the adequacy and use of the phosphate resources of the United States, it is hereby ordered that until further notice no action be taken in the matter of granting leases or use permits for the mining of phosphate under the act of February 25, 1920 (41 Stat. 437).

However, in any particularly meritorious case when, in the judgment of the Secretary of the Interior, the granting of a lease is in the public interest, the provisions of this order may be waived.

This order has no applicability to outstanding leases. Applications for phosphate leases may be filed while this suspension order is in effect but no rights of any kind are thereby acquired.

E. K. BURLEW,
Acting Secretary of the Interior.

REGULATIONS AND FOREST PRACTICE RULES FOR THE SALE OF TIMBER FROM THE REVESTED OREGON AND CALIFORNIA RAILROAD AND RECONVEYED COOS BAY WAGON ROAD GRANT LANDS SITUATED IN THE STATE OF OREGON

I. THE ACT OF AUGUST 28, 1937 (50 STAT. 874)

Title I of the Act of August 28, 1937, entitled, "An Act Relating to the revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands situated in the State of Oregon", provides:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That notwithstanding any provisions in the Acts of June 9, 1916 (39 Stat. 218), and February 26, 1919 (40 Stat. 1179), as amended, such portions of the revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands as are or may hereafter come under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior, which have heretofore or may hereafter be classified as timberlands, and powersite lands valuable for timber, shall be managed, except as provided in section 3 hereof, for permanent forest production, and the timber thereon shall be sold, cut, and removed in conformity with the principle of sustained yield for the purpose of providing a permanent source of timber supply, protecting watersheds, regulating stream-flow, and contributing to the economic stability of local communities and industries, and providing recreational facilities: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to interfere with the use and development of power sites as may be authorized by law.

The annual productive capacity for such lands shall be determined and declared as promptly as possible after the passage of this Act, but until such determination and declaration are made the average annual cut therefrom shall not exceed one-half billion feet board measure: Provided, That timber from said lands in an amount not less than one-half billion feet board measure, or not less than the annual sustained yield capacity when the same has been determined and declared, shall be sold annually, or so much thereof as can be sold at reasonable prices on a normal market.

If the Secretary of the Interior determines that such action will facilitate sustained-yield management, he may subdivide such revested lands into sustained-yield forest units, the boundary lines of which shall be so established that a forest unit will provide, insofar as practicable, a permanent source of raw materials for the support of dependent communities and local industries of the region; but until such subdivision is made the land shall be treated as a single unit in applying the principle of sustained yield: Provided, That before the boundary lines of such forest units are established, the Department, after published notice thereof, shall hold a hearing thereon in the vicinity of such lands open to the attendance of State and local officers, representatives of dependent industries, residents, and other persons interested in the use of such lands. Due consideration shall be given to established lumbering operations in subdividing such lands when necessary to protect the economic stability of dependent communities. Timber sales from a forest unit shall be limited to the productive capacity of such unit and the Secretary is authorized, in his discretion, to reject any bids which may interfere with the sustained-yield management plan of any unit.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of the Interior is authorized, in his discretion, to make cooperative agreements with other Federal or State forest administrative agencies or with private forest owners or operators for the coordinated administration, with respect to time, rate, method of cutting, and sustained yield, of forest units comprising parts of revested or reconveyed lands, together with lands in private ownership or under the administration of other public agencies, when by such agreements he may be aided in accomplishing the purposes hereinbefore mentioned.

SEC. 3. The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to classify, either on application or otherwise, and restore to homestead entry, or purchase under the provisions of section 14 of the Act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1269), any of such revested or reconveyed land which, in his judgment, is more suitable for agricultural use than for afforestation, reforestation, stream-flow protection, recreation, or other public purposes.

Any of said lands heretofore classified as agricultural may be reclassified as timber lands, if found, upon examination, to be more suitable for the production of trees than agricultural use, such reclassified timber lands to be managed for permanent forest production as herein provided.

SEC. 4. The Secretary of the Interior is authorized, in his discretion, to lease for grazing any of said revested or reconveyed lands which may be so used without interfering with the production of timber or other purposes of this Act as stated in section 1: Provided, That all the moneys received on account of grazing leases shall be covered either into the "Oregon and California land-grant fund" or the "Coos Bay Wagon Road grant fund" in the Treasury as the location of the leased lands shall determine, and be subject to distribution as other moneys in such funds: Provided, further, That the Secretary is also authorized to formulate rules and regulations for the use, protection, improvement, and rehabilitation of such grazing lands.

SEC. 5. The Secretary of the Interior is hereby authorized to perform any and all acts and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for the purpose of carrying the provisions of this Act into full force and effect. The Secretary of the Interior is further authorized, in formulating forest-practice rules and regulations, to consult with the Oregon State Board of Forestry, representatives of timber owners and operators on or contiguous to said revested and reconveyed lands, and other persons or agencies interested in the use of such lands.

In formulating regulations for the protection of such timberlands against fire, the Secretary is authorized, in his discretion, to consult and advise with Federal, State, and county agencies engaged in forest-fire-protection work, and to make agreements with such agencies for the cooperative administration of fire regulations therein: Provided, That rules and regulations for the protection of the revested lands from fire shall conform with the requirements and practices of the State of Oregon insofar as the same are consistent with the interests of the United States."

II. POLICY STATEMENT

The Act of August 28, 1937 (50 Stat. 874), is a measure providing for the conservation of land, water, forest and forage on a permanent basis, the prudent utilization of these resources for the purposes to which they are best adapted, and the realization of the highest current income consistent with undiminished future returns. Title I of the Act seeks through application of the principles of sustained yield management to provide perpetual forests which will serve as a secure foundation for continuing industry and permanent communities. The Act also provides for the flow of a full measure of the benefits produced by a well managed forest to the people of the region in which the revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands are situated.

Proceeding in accordance with the requirements of the Act, it will be the policy of the Department of the Interior to restrict the cutting of timber on the revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands to a total volume of 500,000,000 feet B. M. per annum pending an intensive examination of the property, the determination of the productive capacity of the land, and the formulation of a detailed forest working plan. It will further be the policy of the Department to direct such cutting under rules of forest practice providing for partial or selective logging in its various forms of tree, group and area selection. Tree selection will be required in stands of Ponderosa Pine and other intolerant species, and group and area selections will be favored in Douglas Fir and the more tolerant species. There are many different ways in which selective cutting may be applied and a reasonable degree of discretion will be permitted field officers in the exercise of their judgment in prescribing the method or methods to be applied to a given sale unit. However, destructive methods which may tend to prevent an early restocking of the area under development are not authorized by the Act of August 28, 1937, and will not be permitted.

Prompt reforestation, following cutting of timber, so that the land may be kept continuously productive and to the end that the sustained yield of timber products may be maintained at a high level will be among the principal objectives of management.

Short term sales of restricted quantities of timber will be favored during the formulation of the detailed working plan, the division of the area into sustained yield forest units, and the development of cooperative agreements with operators, private timber owners and State and Federal agencies. During this period the quantities of timber offered for sale will be sufficient to supply the normal needs of industry and to keep labor employed. Consideration will be given to the requirements of established operations to avoid unnecessary interference with their normal plans of development. However, contracts extending over periods of more than three years will not ordinarily be approved prior to the placing of the area under a permanent plan of management.

The property as a whole will ultimately be subdivided into local sustained yield units, after making a careful study of the economic factors which must be weighed before the definite establishment of such units and after consultation with the local and State interests which are involved. The allocation of timber to particular units will be carried out as fairly and equitably as possible, giving full consideration to existing operations and the policy of stabilizing and perpetuating substantial dependent communities. Cutting will be encouraged in and directed toward mature and over-mature Douglas Fir stands and will be discouraged in young thrifty types that show a high current increment.

The Act refers to certain secondary benefits of the forest which are to be conserved by the new plan of management. It requires that the management practices employed shall provide agricultural opportunities, recreational facilities, water-shed protection, and stream-flow regulation.

In compliance with this mandate, all lands classified for continuous timber production shall be so managed as to maintain or restore on them the best obtainable forest cover, to the end that soil may be protected from erosion, rainfall stored and its run-off retarded, floods avoided and the landscape kept green and attractive. In furtherance of this policy and in order to furnish recreational facilities, scenic strips of merchantable timber may be reserved adjacent to public roads, along stream courses and surrounding lakes.

When reservations of this character are made they shall be of such form and extent as to minimize the danger of damage due to storms or other natural causes. They shall be so planned as to avoid unnecessary interference with the normal and proper conduct of logging operations on adjacent lands. Dead and dying and over-mature trees may be selectively cut and removed from the reserved stands where this can be accomplished economically and without serious damage to recreational values.

Land shall be classified for agricultural use only where conditions indicate the probability of a permanent agriculture of better than marginal economy.

Grazing under regulation is authorized where it will not interfere with the attainment of the principal goal of forest management, namely, a high sustained yield of commercial timber from all areas classified as permanent forest land.

III. REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE SALE OF TIMBER

1. Applications for the purchase of timber.—Applications for the purchase of timber from the revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands under authority of the Act of August 28, 1937, should be made in writing to the Chief Forester, O. & C. Lands at Portland, Oregon, on forms provided therefor. Upon the receipt of applications for purchase the Chief Forester will conduct an investigation of the timber applied for and if the sale as proposed meets with the requirements of the Act of August 28, 1937, that officer will authorize the advertisement of the timber or recommend such advertisement to the Commissioner of the General Land Office or the Secretary of the Interior, as provided in these regulations. Offerings of timber for sale may also be made from time to time without the receipt of application when in the judgment of the department such action is necessary to effective management.

2. Qualifications of purchasers: Limitations on sales.—No sale will be made for less than the appraised price and the right to purchase at any sale will be limited, in accordance with law, to citizens of the United States, associations of such citizens, and corporations organized under the laws of the United States, or any State, Territory, or district thereof. Native born citizens will be required to file an affidavit to that effect in connection with the first purchase, and naturalized citizens will be required to furnish either the original certificate of naturalization or duly certified or attested copy thereof, which copy, if of a certificate of naturalization issued after September 26, 1906, must be on the form prescribed by the Bureau of Naturalization. Corporations will be required to furnish either the original certificate of incorporation, or a duly certified or attested copy thereof. A corporation organized outside of the State of Oregon must also show by a certificate by a proper State official that it has been authorized to do business within the State of Oregon.

3. Examination and report.—Before any timber is advertised or sold it shall be examined and appraised by the Chief Forester or his representative, and a complete report covering the sale area filed with the officer who is to approve the sale. The report should consist of a description of the area, an estimate of the volume to be removed, an appraisal of the value of the timber by species, the plan of development best adapted to the area, the cost of development, the investment required, and the market value of the products manufactured from the timber.

The report should also include details with respect to the silvicultural practice to be followed, plans for brush disposal, fire protection and any special considerations which should be incorporated in the contract in protection of the interest of the United States. The report should be accompanied by a copy of the form of advertisement to be used, a copy of the proposed contract and bond, and a map of the sale area.

4. Advertisement of sales.—All sales of timber of a stumpage value in excess of $100 shall be made only after due advertisement and under sealed bids, and each advertisement must be approved by the officer who will approve the contract. If the stumpage value of the timber offered does not exceed $2,000, the advertisement may be made in a newspaper or by posters and circular letters. If the stumpage value exceeds $2,000 the advertisement must be made in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the locality where the timber is situated. For sales in which the stumpage value of the timber does not exceed $10,000 the advertisement shall be for not less than two weeks; for sales exceeding $10,000 but not over $100,000 not less than four weeks, and for all sales exceeding $100,000 not less than eight weeks.

5. Deposits with bids.—Cash deposits shall be submitted with each proposal for the purchase of timber from the revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands. Such deposits shall be at least 20 per cent of any estimated stumpage value which is less than $1,000; at least 10 per cent of any estimated stumpage value between $1,000 and $10,000; at least 5 per cent of any estimated stumpage value between $10,000 and $100,000; and at least 3 per cent of any estimated stumpage value exceeding $100,000. Every deposit must be made in cash or in the form of a duly certified check on a solvent national bank, drawn payable to the order of the Chief Forester of the O. & C. Lands. Deposits with bids are required as a guarantee of good faith, and when a bond is not executed the deposit of the successful bidder will be retained until the contract is completed. In the final settlement the deposit will be credited as a portion of the whole amount due for the timber purchased and any balance returned, provided the Purchaser has faithfully performed the terms of the contract. If a bond is furnished and accepted, the deposit will be credited as a first installment in the payment for the timber. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned upon the award of the bid.

6. Acceptance and rejection of bids.—Under ordinary circumstances the high bid received in connection with any advertisement issued under authority of these regulations will be accepted. However, the officer authorized to approve the contract shall have the right to reject the high bid and re-advertise if he considers the high bidder to be unqualified to fulfill the contractual requirements of the advertisement. The right is also reserved to reject any bid which may interfere with the sustained yield management plan of any sustained yield unit.

7. Financial position of purchasers.—In all sales in excess of $5,000, and in smaller sales when necessary, the successful bidder will be required, prior to the award of the timber, to submit a complete financial statement of his ability to fulfill the terms of the contract. Additional information with respect to the ability of the bidder to perform the contract, inclusive of data covering plant and equipment, etc., may be required before the award of the bid, in the discretion of the officer approving the contract.

8. Contracts.—Every timber sale contract shall be a clear statement of the obligations of the purchaser and of the Government. As a matter of convenience a standard form of timber contract has been provided and all sales of timber having a stumpage value in excess of $100 will be consummated through the use of the standard form, unless a special form for a particular sale is approved by the Secretary of the Interior. The standard form provides for a reasonable degree of flexibility to meet variable conditions and no essential departure from the fundamental requirements thereof may be authorized, except with the approval of the Secretary. The Forest Practice Rules which have been incorporated in and made a part of these regulations shall be attached to and made a part of each timber sale contract.

All contracts should be executed in quadruplicate by the parties in interest. In connection with contracts approved by the Chief Forester, O. & C. Lands, that officer will sign as both party of the first part and as the approving officer. A copy of such contract, together with a complete report covering the essential facts in connection therewith, should be submitted to the Commissioner of the General Land Office for examination and filing. In contracts requiring the approval of the Commissioner of the General Land Office or the Secretary of the Interior, the Chief Forester, O. & C. Lands, will sign as the party of the first part, and all copies thereof, together with a report and a recommendation, will be submitted to the approving officer for final action.

9. Bonds.—In sales of timber in which the value of the stumpage does not exceed $5,000 the initial deposit may be retained as a cash bond until the contract is completed. In sales of timber in which the stumpage value exceeds $5,000 but is not over $10,000 a bond of approximately 20 per cent of the value of the timber will be required. In sales of timber in which the stumpage value exceeds $10,000 but is not over $100,000 a bond in an amount of approximately 10 per cent of the estimated value of the timber will be required and in sales in which the stumpage value exceeds $100,000 a bond will be required in an amount to be fixed by the Secretary of the Interior. Ordinarily corporate surety bonds will be required. However, if personal sureties are furnished in lieu thereof, such sureties will be accepted and the bond approved only upon a clear showing by the principals and the bondsmen that they are fully capable of carrying out the terms of the agreement.

10. Approval of contracts and bonds.—Contracts covering sales of timber having a stumpage value of $25,000 or less may be approved by the Chief Forester, O. & C. Lands. Contracts covering sales of timber having a stumpage value between $25,000 and $50,000 will be approved by the Commissioner of the General Land Office. Contracts covering sales in which the stumpage value exceeds $50,000 shall be made only with the express approval of the Secretary of the Interior. Bonds guaranteeing the faithful performance of contracts shall be approved by the officer approving the contracts.

11. Payments for timber.—Payments for timber shall be required in advance of cutting, either as a single payment or in the form of installments. In sales having a stumpage value of not more than $1,000 payment will ordinarily be required in full before cutting is started. In sales of timber having a stumpage value of $1,000 to $5,000 payment shall be made in installments of not less than $1,000 each; in sales of from $5,000 to $25,000 in installments of not less than $2,500 each; and in sales of from $25,000 to $100,000 in installments of not less than $5,000 each; provided that the last installment on any sale may be in an amount equal to the balance due and payable thereon. In sales in which the stumpage value is in excess of $100,000 the amount of the installments shall be determined at the time such sales are authorized; provided that the amount so fixed shall not be less than $5,000 for each installment.

12. Time for cutting and removal of timber.—The maximum periods which shall be allowed for the cutting and removal of timber after the date the contract has been approved shall be as follows: For sales having a stumpage value of from $1,000 to $5,000, two years; for sales of timber having a stumpage value of $5,000 to $10,000, three years; for sales over $10,000 but not exceeding $25,000, five years; and for sales exceeding $25,000 the number of years to be fixed by the Commissioner of the General Land Office or the Secretary of the Interior at the time such sales are authorized.

13. Reappraisals.—Timber sale contracts of more than five years' duration will provide for the redetermination of stumpage prices after reappraisal at stipulated intervals. Ordinarily reappraisals will be made and new rates established by the Secretary every three years subsequent to the year in which cutting operations are initiated. Special contract forms similar to the standard form but inclusive of a reappraisal clause will be formulated and approved by the Secretary for all sales of more than five years' duration.

14. Timber cutting permits.—All timber cutting which is not done under formal contract may be authorized on the standard permit form. The permit form has been devised as a convenience in meeting the requirements of homesteaders, ranchers and local persons for limited quantities of timber for domestic, agricultural and grazing purposes. It should not be used as a substitute for the regular contract form. The maximum value of the stumpage which may be cut under permit in one year by any individual shall not exceed $100. Permits for the cutting of dead and down timber or for stand improvement may be issued by O. & C. officers without charge. However, a reasonable charge should be made for such merchantable timber as may be authorized for cutting under permit.

15. Measurement of products.—All living timber cut under authority of the standard form of contract or permit provided for herein shall be marked or otherwise designated by an authorized forest officer of the General Land Office. Timber shall be paid for on the basis of the cruised volume which, in group and area selection, will be determined in the accepted commercial manner, and in tree selection, will be determined by individual tree scale.

In view of the scattered location of a large part of the revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands the determination of volume by cruising or tree measurement will be more or less generally applied.

On comparatively large timber sales when the regular method of log scaling is practicable of application this method may be used since it insures a higher degree of accuracy than does cruising or the tree measurement method. The Scribner Decimal C log rule shall be used on all sales where the logs are scaled after the timber is cut, and this rule shall be the basis of volume determination in cruising or tree measurement.

16. Records and reports.—A complete record of timber sale activities shall be maintained in the Office of the Chief Forester, O. & C. Lands at Portland, Oregon, and that officer shall make monthly and annual reports to the Commissioner of the General Land Office concerning all details of administration.

The field record of timber sales shall consist of scale books, scale reports and a register of scale reports showing the volume scaled or measured on each sale unit, the payments received therefor and the disposition of the moneys so received.

Progress reports of the timber scaled or measured in each unit under development should be mailed each month to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, together with a summary of all sales and an analysis of the cost of administration. At the close of the fiscal year a detailed annual report must be rendered to the Commissioner by the Chief Forester, O. & C. Lands. This report should include a summary of the business conducted during the year, an analysis of the cost of administration, a detailed budget set-up of administrative requirements and a complete statement of the progress achieved in connection with the formulation of a permanent forest working plan for the property.

17. Acquisition of rights of way.—The procedure governing the filing of applications and the granting of rights of way over public domain land under the various rights of way acts will be followed with respect to rights of way over the revested and reconveyed lands; provided, a sum sufficient to cover the estimated damage shall be deposited with the Chief Forester prior to construction, and provided further, that suitable stipulations will be required in connection with the granting of all rights of way for the protection of the various conservation measures contemplated by law.

IV. FOREST PRACTICE RULES AND GENERAL CONTRACT STIPULATIONS

The following forest practice rules and general contract stipulations are hereby prescribed for use in all contracts for the sale of timber from revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands situated in the State of Oregon, except as special provision shall be made by the Secretary of the Interior with respect to particular sales.

18. Definitions.—The word "Chief Forester" as used in these forest practice rules and contract stipulations signifies the Chief Forester, O. & C. Lands. His office and principal place of business shall be in the City of Portland, Oregon.

The term "officer in charge" whenever used in these stipulations signifies the forest officer of highest rank assigned to the administration of timber sales within the District in which the sale is located, or such other officer as may be designated by the Chief Forester to supervise the sale.

Foresters, logging engineers, log scalers and other officers authorized to administer timber sales will be appointed by the Secretary of the Interior and receive their instructions from the Chief Forester or the officer in charge.

19. Basis of sale.—Timber shall be sold on the basis of cruise, tree scale or log scale, and no timber except that necessary for improvements or that which interferes with the economical conduct of a logging enterprise shall be cut unless it has been marked or designated in advance by the officer in charge. Where volumes are determined on the basis of a scale of the standing trees, such volumes shall be checked for accuracy by a periodic scaling of the logs on sample areas. The purchaser shall be permitted to witness such check scaling. Where the volume is determined by log measurement the Scribner Decimal C log rule will be used in scaling the logs.

20. Deposits.—Cash deposits in advance of cutting will be required as stipulated in the contract. The title to standing timber or forest products covered by the contract will not pass to the purchaser until such timber or products are paid for. If at any time the stumpage value of the timber cut and unpaid for shall approach or equal the total amount then on deposit, an additional advance deposit shall be required.

21. Logging areas designated by.—The priority of areas to be logged, when economically feasible, may be designated by the officer in charge if such action is necessary to prevent deterioration from fire, insects or disease, and to fully protect the interests of the United States.

22. Selective logging.—The logging of areas in such manner as to preserve a part of the merchantable timber, promote the growth of young trees, or preserve the forest cover, shall be practiced on all lands chiefly valuable for the production of timber. The general plan of selective logging to be followed may take any of the various forms of tree selection, group selection or area selection, or combinations thereof, which in the judgment of the Chief Forester will assure the successful conservation and protection of the resources under development.

23. Reservations for public purposes.—In the discretion of the officer in charge, a strip of suitable width on each side of lakes, streams, roads, and trails and in the vicinity of camping places and recreation grounds may be reserved, in which little or no cutting will be allowed. In carrying out the selective cutting in these areas all reasonable care shall be taken to avoid injury to the remaining standing timber. Within these reserved areas trees shall be felled in such manner as to leave the right of way, streams and lake shores free from slash deposits.

24. Protection of young growth.—The young growth shall be protected as fully as possible in every branch of the logging operations and its use in the construction of improvements may be restricted by the officer in charge.

25. Fire code.—Section 5 of the Act of August 28, 1937, provides in part, "That rules and regulations for the protection of the revested lands from fire shall conform with the requirements and practices of the State of Oregon insofar as the same are consistent with the interests of the United States", and proceeding in accordance therewith, contractors will be required to comply with applicable provisions of the State fire code, as well as the following:

(a) The slash resulting from logging operations shall be burned only under written permit from the Chief Forester acting in cooperation with the State Forester. In the Douglas fir type on areas logged in the group or area selection manner the burning of slash, where required, shall be carried out in accordance with the best and safest practices recognized in the "Forest Practice Handbook" of the Pacific Northwest Loggers and the West Coast Lumbermen's Associations. Adequate special protection shall be given to all reserved timber. Proper fire trails shall be constructed as required by the Chief Forester where necessary in advance of slash burning to protect green timber areas, islands of immature timber and previously logged areas that have been cleared of slash. Where the tree selection method of logging is used special methods economically possible shall be worked out by the Chief Forester in cooperation with the State Forester and the purchaser. In the Ponderosa pine type slash disposal shall be carried out in accordance with the Rules of Forest Practice (Oregon) of the Western Pine Association. Special provisions may be developed by the Chief Forester in cooperation with the State Forester and the purchaser.

(b) Smoking and lunch fires shall be restricted during periods of fire hazard and shall be permitted only in especially prepared places.

(c) The contractor shall be required to stop logging operations in especially hazardous fire weather upon request from the Chief Forester.

26. Responsibility for damage.—The contractor shall be held accountable for any damage to virgin timber, reserve stands or young growth, occurring as a result of slash burning or other fires originating on the sale area or adjacent lands and shall be required to pay for such damage on the basis of an appraisal to be conducted by the Chief Forester; provided the Purchaser, his subcontractors or employees are directly or indirectly responsible for the origin or spread of the fire.

27. Sales—Rights of way.—Other sales within a sale area may be made of products and kinds of timber not sold under a previous sale, provided such sales will not, in the judgment of the officer having authority to make such sale, interfere with the operations of the previous purchaser. The previous purchaser shall not be held liable for any damage by fire or other causes for which such additional purchasers are directly or indirectly responsible. Rights of way may be granted through portions of the sale area during the contract period, provided they do not interfere with the operations of the previous purchaser.

28. Firewood—Improvements.—As far as possible only unmerchantable timber other than young growth shall be used for firewood and improvements, and material so used will not be charged to the Purchaser. Wood and improvements taken from merchantable material will be scaled or measured, charged, and paid for at its appraised value.

29. Stumps.—Stumps will be cut low so as to avoid unnecessary waste.

30. Waste.—Unnecessary waste of merchantable timber not previously paid for in high stumps, butts, tops, breaks, skids, and partially sound logs and all trees designated for logging which are not logged and all trees which are left felled or lodged or badly damaged by the logging operations will be scaled for their merchantable contents and charged against the Purchaser.

31. Carelessness — Breakage. — Carelessness on the part of fellers or other employees of the Purchaser that results in unnecessary breaking of trees not previously cruised or scaled will be penalized by scaling such trees full as if they had not been broken.

32. Sanitation.—The vicinity of logging camps and stables will be kept in a clean and sanitary condition, and rubbish will be removed and properly burned or buried during the occupancy and upon the removal of the camps and stables.

33. Pollution: Obstruction of Streams: Streams shall not be obstructed by felled trees or otherwise, nor shall they be polluted by sawdust, manure, or any other refuse from a camp or mill.

34. Utility Facilities: Existing telephone lines, fences, roads, trails, and other improvements shall be protected as far as possible in the logging operations, and whenever they are broken or obstructed the Purchaser shall promptly repair the damage. If he fails to make the repairs promptly, the officer in charge may make the repairs and purchasers may be charged with double the expense thereof.

35. Necessary Improvements: Improvements necessary to execute his contracts, such as camps, sawmills, railroads, roads, telephone lines, chutes, bridges, sluices, and dams may be constructed and maintained by the Purchaser on and across the contracted area, subject to regulation by the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

36. Existing Improvements: Improvements already on the area which are necessary for logging purposes may be used by the Purchaser, subject to regulation by the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

37. Time for removal of improvements.—The time limit for the removal of the improvements and other property of the Purchaser is one year after the expiration of the contract. After that time the title to improvements, including camps, will attach to the land, and no personal property of the purchaser will thereafter be removed except with the written consent of the officer in charge: Provided, That improvements necessary for the logging of other O. & C. timber may be left for such time and on such terms as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

38. Extension of time.—Extension of time for the performance of any contract may be granted the Purchaser by the officer approving the contract, in his discretion and subject to such conditions as he may impose.

39. Extension of time denied.—If extension of time to cut and remove the timber is not granted by the officer approving a contract, the Purchaser shall not cut timber after the expiration of the contract, but he may remove the timber previously cut and paid for, within one year of the expiration of the contract. If not removed within the time allowed, the title will revert to the United States notwithstanding the Purchaser may have paid for the timber.

40. Assignments by purchaser.—Assignment of any contract in whole or in part by the Purchaser will not relieve him of his contract obligations unless the assignment is approved by the officer approving the contract and the bond is satisfactorily renewed.

41. Records—Reports.—The Purchaser shall furnish the Chief Forester annually on forms provided therefor, a report of the amount of lumber sold and the average grade prices received f. o. b. the mill during the preceding year; the amount of ties and timber sold, with average price per M; and the amount of by-products sold and the total receipts for the same, and such other information as may be requested. These reports will be regarded as confidential.

42. Suspension of Operations — When.—Suspension of the Purchaser's operations may be made by the Chief Forester after due notice if any requirements of the contract and of these stipulations are disregarded and until there is satisfactory compliance. Failure to comply with any one of the requirements of the contract after written notice addressed to the Purchaser by the officer in charge will be ground for revocation by the officer approving the contract of all rights of the Purchaser under this and other contracts, and the forfeiture of his bond and of all moneys paid, and the Purchaser will be liable for all damage resulting from his breach of contract.

43. Appeal.—An appeal as provided by the Rules of Practice of the Department of the Interior may be taken to the Commissioner of the General Land Office and Secretary of the Interior from the final decision of the Chief Forester or his staff.

44. Bond unsatisfactory. — Whenever any bond furnished to guarantee obligations under a sale shall be unsatisfactory to the officer approving the sale he may require a new bond which shall be satisfactory to him.

45. Default.—Wilful failure of the purchaser to complete his contract or to log as promptly as economically possible an area damaged by fire, wind, insects, or other causes, or the commission by him of any act for which the officer approving his contract shall declare the contract forfeited, will render the Purchaser and his bondsmen liable for the depreciation in the value of the remaining timber on an estimate of value and quantity to be made under the direction of the officer approving this contract.

46. Persons Excluded.—No member of or delegate to Congress shall be admitted to any share, part, or interest in any contract, or to any benefit derived therefrom (see Secs. 114 and 116, Act of March 4, 1909, entitled "An Act to codify, revise and amend the penal laws of the United States," 35 Stats. L., 1088, 1109), and no person undergoing a sentence of imprisonment at hard labor shall be employed in carrying out any contract (see Executive Order of May 18, 1905).

47. Forms.—Forms for application, bid, contract, and bond heretofore approved by the Secretary of the Interior will be made available through the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

48. These regulations shall be effective and operative sixty days from the date of approval.

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

IN THE MATTER OF FEDERAL WATER SERVICE CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR RECONVENING HEARING

Federal Water Service Corporation, a registered holding company, desiring to propose to its stockholders a voluntary plan of reorganization, heretofore filed with this Commission, (a) an application and two amendments thereto pursuant to Section 11 (g) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for a report by the Commission upon such plan, (b) a declaration and two amendments thereto pursuant to the Commission's Rule 12E-5 with respect to the solicitation of assents to such plan, and (c) a declaration pursuant to Section 7 of said Act with respect to the issues and sales and changes in rights called for by such plan.

A hearing with respect to the foregoing was held and continued subject to call.[1]

Subsequently said corporation amended the application and declarations so as to cause the same to relate, in the event the Commission shall determine not to permit such Section 7 declaration, as previously filed and amended, to become effective, to a new and different plan. Such new and different plan provides for reducing, by a proceeding under Section 28 of the General Corporation Law of Delaware, said corporation's stated capital from $31,356,373.25 to $13,500,000. Such reduction of capital is to be effected by reducing the stated values of the several classes of stock, all of which are without par value.

It is ordered, That the before mentioned hearing in this matter be reconvened on August 5, 1938, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in Room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing evidence may be offered with respect to either or both of said plans of reorganization and with respect to said application and declarations as now or hereafter amended.

It is further ordered, That at such hearing cause be shown why the before-mentioned declarations shall become effective.

Notice of such reconvening of such hearing is hereby given to Federal Water Service Corporation and all others who have appeared in this proceeding and to any other person whose participation in this proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to this proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before July 30, 1938.

[AAA–38 Wheat 3]

REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO FARM ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS FOR THE 1939 CROP OF WHEAT

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by Section 375 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 (Public Law No. 430, 75th Congress, approved February 16, 1938), as amended, I do make, prescribe, publish, and give public notice of the following regulations governing farm acreage allotments for the 1939 crop of wheat under Title III of said Act, to be in force and effect until rescinded, amended or superseded by regulations hereafter made by the Secretary of Agriculture under said Act.

SECTION 1. Applicable provisions of the act.—Section 334 (c) of the Act provides as follows:

The allotment to the county shall be apportioned by the Secretary, through the local committees, among the farms within the county on the basis of tillable acres, crop-rotation practices, type of soil, and topography. Not more than 3 per centum of such county allotment shall be apportioned to farms on which wheat has not been planted during any of the three marketing years immediately preceding the marketing year in which the allotment is made.

The amount of the national acreage allotment is provided for by section 333 of the Act, the amount of the State acreage allotment by section 334 (a) of the Act, and the amount of the county acreage allotment by section 334 (b) of the Act.

SEC. 2. Method of establishing farm acreage allotments.—

A. Farms upon which wheat was seeded for harvest in any one of the years 1936, 1937, and 1938.

(1) Tillable acres and crop-rotation practices.—As the basis for apportionment for the first two factors (tillable acres and crop-rotation practices), specified in section 334 (c) of the Act, the county committee shall first determine for each farm a "usual" acreage of wheat. This acreage shall be the average annual acreage of wheat seeded for harvest, (plus the acreage determined by the county committee to have been diverted from the production of wheat under the agricultural adjustment and conservation programs) during the period 1936, 1937, and 1938, and including also one or more of the years 1930 to 1935 if the county committee determines, pursuant to instructions issued by the Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, that the inclusion of such additional years is necessary in order to reflect the usual acreages of wheat on farms in the county. However, if, with respect to any farm, the county committee finds that the acreage seeded to wheat in any of the years in such period (a) was abnormally low due to extreme flood or drought, (b) is not typical of the farm for 1939 due to customary crop-rotation practices, a change in such practices, or a change in the acreage of cropland in the farm, or (c) was abnormally high due to failure of crops other than wheat, such year shall be eliminated in determining the usual acreage of wheat for such farm. If for any of such years no data are available, such year shall also be eliminated.

For any farm for which all the years in the applicable period are thus eliminated, the usual acreage of wheat shall be determined by applying to the acreage of cropland on such farm in 1938 the ratio of (a) the average annual acreage seeded to wheat for harvest in 1936 and 1937 to (b) the 1938 cropland, such ratio being determined on the basis of such data for all farms on which wheat was seeded for harvest in 1936, 1937, or 1938 in the community in which such farm is located, or in the county if data for such ratio is not available for the community.

(2) Type of soil and topography.—For farms with respect to which the variation in the adaptation of the soil for the production of wheat and the topography of the cropland from the average for the county or the community is not reflected in the usual acreage of wheat for the farm, such usual acreage shall be adjusted by the county committee so as to reflect such variation in the type of soil and topography: Provided, That the adjustment in the usual acreage on the basis of the type of soil and topography shall not exceed 25 per cent.

(3) Adjustment to county acreage allotment. — The usual acreages of wheat determined under (1) and (2) of this subsection A, adjusted pro rata to equal 97 per cent of the county acreage allotment, shall be the farm acreage allotments for farms on which wheat was seeded for harvest in at least one of the three years 1936, 1937, and 1938. Such allotments shall be subject to further adjustments under subsection B of this section.

B. Farms upon which wheat was not seeded for harvest in any one of the years 1936, 1937, and 1938.—For farms upon which wheat was not seeded for harvest in any one of the years 1936, 1937, and 1938, but for which a wheat acreage allotment is requested for 1939 the county committee shall determine a wheat acreage allotment which is comparable to those determined under subsection A of this section 2 for farms which are similar with respect to tillable acreage, type of soil, and topography: Provided, That the wheat acreage allotment for any such farm shall not exceed the wheat acreage allotment requested for the farm, and provided further, That the sum of all such farm acreage allotments in the county shall not exceed 3 per centum of the county acreage allotment. If the sum of all such farm acreage allotments in the county is less than 3 per centum of the county acreage allotment, the remaining acreage shall be used as a reserve to correct any errors in the making of acreage allotments and in the event that such remaining acreage is not needed for this purpose, it shall be distributed pro rata among all farms in the county upon which wheat was planted for harvest in any one of the years 1936, 1937, and 1938.

SEC. 3. Opportunity to furnish data.—Each person owning or operating a farm in the county may submit to the county committee any information or data which is relevant to the factors to be taken into consideration by the county committee in establishing farm acreage allotments.

SEC. 4. Instructions and forms.—The Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall cause to be prepared and issued with his approval such instructions and such forms as may be required to carry out these regulations.

SEC. 5. Definitions.—As used in these regulations and in all forms and documents in connection therewith, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires:

1. Act means the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 and any amendments thereto.

2. Secretary of Agriculture means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

3. Administrator means the Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture.

4. State committee means the group of persons designated within any State to assist in the administration of Sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act.

5. County Committee means a committee utilized for the county under Sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act.

6. Farm means all adjacent or nearby farm land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, including also:

(a) Any other adjacent or nearby farm land operated by the same person (as part of the same unit with respect to the rotation of crops and with workstock, farm machinery, and labor substantially separate from that for any other land), the inclusion of which is requested or agreed to, within the time and in the manner specified by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, by the operator and all the owners who are entitled to share in the proceeds of the crop on any of the land to be included in the farm.

(b) Any field-rented tract (whether operated by the same or another person), which, together with any other land included in the farm, constitutes a unit with respect to the rotation of crops:

Provided, That land not under the same ownership shall be included in the same farm only if the county committee determines that all of such land is customarily regarded in the community as constituting one farm. A farm shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the principal dwelling is situated, or if there is no dwelling thereon it shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative areas, as the case may be, in which the major portion of the farm is located.

7. Cropland means farm land which is tilled annually or in a regular rotation.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of July, 1938. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

If any merchandise is imported or brought into the United States in any vessel or vehicle, or by any person otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle, from a contiguous country, which vessel, vehicle, or merchandise is not so reported to the proper customs officers; or if the master of such vessel or the person in charge of such vehicle fails to file a manifest for the merchandise carried therein, or discharges or lands such merchandise without a permit; such merchandise and the vessel or vehicle, if any, in which it was imported or brought into the United States shall be subject to forfeiture; and the master of such vessel or the person in charge of such vehicle, or the person importing or bringing in merchandise otherwise than in a vessel or vehicle, shall, in addition to any other penalty, be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the merchandise which was not reported, or not included in the manifest, or which was discharged or landed without a permit. (d) The penalty of $100 for failure to report and the penalty of $100 for proceeding inland without a permit apply in every case where a vehicle is involved whether or not the vehicle is carrying merchandise, passengers, or baggage. With respect to vessels of less than five net tons, said penalties apply only when such vessels are carrying merchandise or baggage. (See art. 212 (c).)

Not less than one package of every invoice and not less than one package of every ten packages of merchandise, shall be so designated unless the Secretary of the Treasury, from the character and description of the merchandise, is of the opinion that the examination of a less proportion of packages will amply protect the revenue and by special regulation or instruction, the application of which may be restricted to one or more individual ports or to one or more importations or one or more classes of merchandise, permit a less number of packages to be examined. All such special regulations or instructions shall be published in the weekly Treasury Decisions within fifteen days after issuance and before the liquidation of any entries affected thereby. (b) Original importers and their sureties are not relieved from any personal or bond liability to the Government by a transfer of the right to withdraw goods from a bonded warehouse, unless a bond is filed by the transferee on customs Form 7555, in which case the transferor and his sureties shall be relieved from the payment of duties, charges, and exactions on the merchandise the subject of the transfer, but shall remain bound by all other unsatisfied conditions of the bond. (See art. 332 (a).)

The transferee shall also have the right to receive all lawful refunds of moneys paid by him to the United States with respect to the merchandise and no revocation of any transfer shall deprive him of this right. Any such transfer may be made irrevocable by the filing of a bond of the transferee in such amount and with such conditions as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, including an obligation to pay all unpaid regular, increased, and additional duties, charges, and exactions on the merchandise the subject of the transfer. Upon the filing of such bond the transferor shall be relieved from liability for the payment of duties, charges, and exactions on the merchandise the subject of the transfer, but shall remain bound by all other unsatisfied conditions of his bond.

(e) If a bond is filed by the transferee on customs Form 7555, the right of the transferee to withdraw the merchandise may not thereafter be revoked by the person who made the warehouse entry.

Article 333 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Any difference between the total estimated duties deposited and the total liquidated duties accruing on merchandise withdrawn for consumption before the liquidation or reliquidation of the warehouse entry, if less than $1, shall be disregarded and if $1 or more shall be collected or refunded as the case may be. An unnumbered statement shall be prepared by the collector in duplicate on customs Form 7505, showing the total number of withdrawals for consumption made before the liquidation or reliquidation of the warehouse entry, the total estimated duties deposited, the total liquidated duties accrued on the merchandise covered by such withdrawals, and any increased duties due or excess duties deposited. (As to destruction of such merchandise, see art. 806 (e).)

Article 365 is amended to read as follows:

ART. 365. Importations not exceeding $1 in value.—(a) Tariff Act of 1930, section 321, as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 7:

Collectors of customs are hereby authorized under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, • • • to admit articles free of duty when the expense and inconvenience of collecting the duty accruing thereon would be disproportionate to the amount of such duty, but the aggregate value of articles imported by one person on one day and exempted from the payment of duty under the authority of this section shall not exceed • • • $1 • • •. [See art. 423 (l).]

(b) Customs officers may pass free of duty, without issuing a mail entry therefor, parcels containing articles (except those subject to internal-revenue tax) the aggregate value of which is not more than $1, provided the merchandise is not imported for sale or forwarded in a manner designed to evade the payment of customs duty. Where such importations are subject to internal-revenue tax, both duty and tax shall be assessed. (See arts. 283 and 832.)

Article 392 is amended by deleting the first three sentences and substituting therefor the following:

(c) Photographic dry plates and films of the manufacture of the United States (except moving-picture films to be used for commercial purposes), exposed abroad, whether developed or not.

(d) Photographic films light struck or otherwise damaged, or worn out, so as to be unsuitable for any other purposes than the recovery of the constituent materials, provided the basic films are of the manufacture of the United States.

* * * * *

(h) The allowance of total or partial exemption from duty under any provisions of this paragraph shall be subject to such regulations as to proof of identity and compliance with the conditions of this paragraph as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe.

Article 397 is amended by deleting paragraphs (c) and (d) and substituting therefor a new paragraph (c) reading as follows:

(c) In the case of moving-picture films exposed abroad, free entry shall not be allowed under paragraph 1615 (c) unless the requirements set forth above in this article are met and the collector is satisfied by an affidavit of the importer and such other evidence as the collector shall deem necessary that the films are not to be used for commercial purposes. Such moving-picture films, when imported in passengers' baggage, may be passed free of duty without compliance with the requirements of this article if the collector is satisfied that the films were manufactured in the United States and are not to be used for commercial purposes.

Article 398 (a) is amended by deleting the first sentence and substituting therefor the following:

(a) The collector may waive record evidence of exportation and declaration of the foreign shipper provided for in article 397 (a) if he is satisfied by the production of other evidence as to the existence of all the facts upon which the entry of the merchandise under paragraph 1615 is dependent.

Article 398 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) No evidence relative to the conditions of paragraph 1615 will be required in the case of articles of domestic manufacture in use at the time of importation as the usual coverings or containers of merchandise not subject to an ad valorem rate of duty unless such articles would be dutiable, if not of domestic manufacture, under special provisions of the tariff act such as paragraphs 217, 328, and 408.

Article 399 is amended to read as follows:

ART. 399. Drawback—Internal revenue tax—Articles excluded from paragraph 1615 (a), (b), (c), and (d).—(a) Tariff Act of 1930, paragraph 1615 (free list), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 35:

* * * * *

(e) The foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to—

(1) Any article upon which an allowance of drawback has been made under section 313 of this Act or a corresponding provision of a prior tariff act, unless such article is in use at the time of importation as the usual container or covering of merchandise not subject to an ad-valorem rate of duty;

(2) Any article of a kind with respect to the importation of which an internal-revenue tax is imposed at the time such article is entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, unless such article was subject to an internal-revenue tax imposed upon production or importation at the time of its exportation from the United States and it shall be proved that such tax was paid before exportation and not refunded;

(3) Any article manufactured or produced in a customs bonded warehouse in the United States and exported under any provision of law; or

(4) Any article made dutiable under the provisions of paragraph 1606 (c) of this Act.

(f) Upon the entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption of any article previously exported, which is excepted from free entry under this paragraph by the foregoing subparagraph (e) and is not otherwise exempted from the payment of duty, there shall be levied, collected, and paid thereon, in lieu of any other duty or tax, a duty equal to the total duty and internal-revenue tax, if any, then imposed with respect to the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States, but in no case in excess of the sum of customs draw-back, if any, proved to have been allowed upon the exportation of such article from the United States plus the amount of the internal-revenue tax, if any, imposed at the time such article is entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption upon the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States. Manufactured tobacco subject to duty hereunder shall be retained in customs custody until internal-revenue stamps in payment of any part of the legal duties measured by a rate or amount of internal-revenue tax shall have been placed thereon.

(b) The following articles, if in use at the time of importation as the usual coverings or containers of merchandise not subject to an ad valorem rate of duty, shall be admitted free of duty, even though exported with benefit of drawback:

(1) Steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, and other substantial outer containers and coverings of domestic manufacture, exported empty or filled with products of the United States, including shooks and staves when returned as boxes or barrels; and

(2) Other usual coverings and containers of domestic manufacture, if not advanced in value or improved in condition by any process of manufacture or other means. Filling, sealing, and labeling are held to advance the value of the contents rather than that of the containers.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (b), and if the merchandise is not otherwise exempted from duty, the entry shall not be liquidated free of duty unless the collector is satisfied from the certificate of exportation or other evidence or information that no drawback was allowed at the time of exportation and that the merchandise is not subject to a duty equal to the internal-revenue tax imposed on the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States. In the absence of satisfactory evidence or information as to the allowance or nonallowance of drawback, the entry shall be liquidated with the assessment of duty equal to the total duty and internal-revenue tax, if any, imposed with respect to the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States. If the amount of drawback allowed has been proved, the duty assessed shall be in the amount of the drawback plus the amount of any internal-revenue tax imposed with respect to the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States, or in the amount of the duty and any internal-revenue tax imposed on the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States, whichever is the lower.

(d) Articles manufactured or produced in a customs bonded warehouse and exported shall be subject on reimportation to a duty equal to the total duty and internal-revenue tax, if any, imposed at the time of entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption with respect to the importation of like articles not previously exported from the United States.

(e) Animals straying across the border or driven across the border for pasturage purposes or for feeding to improve them for the market and not returned within eight months are excluded from free entry as domestic products returned.

Article 402 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Shooks and staves produced in the United States and reimported in the form of complete boxes or barrels in use as the usual containers of merchandise are exempt from any duties imposed by the tariff laws upon similar containers made of foreign shooks or staves, provided their identity is established under these regulations.

Article 405 is amended by deleting the caption and substituting therefor the following:

Drums—Quicksilver flasks—Outer containers.—

Article 405 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Except as provided in article 398 (b), steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, and other substantial outer containers of domestic manufacture should be entered under the general regulations governing the free entry of domestic products exported and returned. If the record evidence of exportation cannot be produced, the collector may accept other satisfactory evidence of allowance or nonallowance of drawback. In the absence of satisfactory evidence as to the allowance of drawback, or as to the amount thereof paid, on metal drums of American manufacture, unless exempt from duty in accordance with article 399 (b), duty should be assessed in the amount of 24 cents per drum, the fair average amount of drawback paid on such articles.

Article 405 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums and other substantial outer containers of foreign manufacture, if actually exported from the United States empty and returned as usual containers or coverings of merchandise or exported filled with products of the United States and returned empty or as the usual containers or coverings of merchandise, shall be exempt from duty if exported in accordance with the regulations contained in article 402 (d), (e), (f), except that the notice of intent shall be on customs Form 4481 and the certificate of exportation issued by the collector on Customs Form 4473, and if there are filed in connection with the entry an affidavit of the importer on customs Form 3289 and certificates of the foreign shipper and the American consul as prescribed in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this article. Prior to exportation from the United States such articles must be permanently and indelibly marked for identification.

Article 405 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) A foreign shipper desiring to return to the United States any articles described in the preceding paragraph should furnish the American consul at the place of shipment with a certificate in the following form:

I, ----------, of ----------, do hereby certify that to the best of my knowledge and belief the (steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums and other substantial outer containers) [1] mentioned in (the annexed invoice) (invoice No. ----, of ---------- 19--) [1] are of the manufacture of ---------- and were exported from the United States at the port of ---------- per SS ---------- on ---------- 19-- (empty --------) (filled with ----------),[1] and that the same are being returned to the United States (empty ----------) (filled with ----------).[1]

(Shipper)

Article 405 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) If claim for exemption from duty for foreign steel boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, or other substantial outer containers is made at the time of entry, the certificates of the foreign shipper and American consul may be accepted if produced at any time prior to the liquidation of the entry.

Article 406 is amended by inserting "of domestic manufacture" in the first line before "exported" and by deleting the last sentence.

(h) There shall also be filed the certificate of registration (customs Form 4455) and a declaration made by the consignee, owner, or agent having knowledge of the facts, that the articles entered are the identical articles covered by the certificate of registration, and that the value or cost of repairs or alterations is correctly stated in the entry. In cases where an article exported and repaired or altered abroad is imported by a person not a regular importer, and the exportation was not made in accordance with these regulations, the collector, if satisfied as to the bona fides of the transaction and that the exporter was ignorant of the regulation requirements, may waive the production of the certificate of registration (customs Form 4455) and compliance with so much of these regulations as relates to the exportation under such certificate.

(i) When the value of the returned articles in their repaired or altered condition, is less than $100, a bill or statement showing separately the value of the articles in their repaired or altered condition and the cost or value of the repairs or alterations may be accepted in lieu of a certified consular invoice and the certificate of the person in the foreign country who made the repairs or alterations need not be filed.

(j) Collectors shall require at the time of entry a deposit of estimated duties, based upon the value of the repairs or alterations, and shall order all packages containing such articles to the appraiser's stores for identification of the articles and appraisement of the value of the repairs or alterations.

(k) Special investigations shall be made when there is suspicion that substitution has occurred, when there is question as to the amount and nature of the repairs or alterations, or in any other case when there is doubt as to the bona fides of a particular transaction.

(l) The term "repairs or alterations" is hereby defined to mean any restoration, change, addition, renovation, cleaning, or other treatment which does not destroy the identity of the article exported or create a new or different article.

Article 409 (b) is amended by inserting "or alterations" after "repairs" in the third line.

Article 419 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Tariff Act of 1930, paragraph 1798 (free list), as amended by the Liquor Tax Administration Act, approved June 26, 1936, section 337, and by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 36:

* * * in case of residents of the United States returning from abroad all wearing apparel, personal and household effects,

• • • taken by them out of the United States to foreign countries shall be admitted free of duty, without regard to their value, upon their identity being established under appropriate rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury: Provided further, That up to but not exceeding $100 in value of articles (including distilled spirits, wines, and malt liquors aggregating not more than one wine gallon and including not more than one hundred cigars) acquired abroad by such resident of the United States as an incident of the foreign journey for personal or household use or as souvenirs or curios, but not bought on commission or intended for sale, shall be free of duty: Provided further, That (a) in the case of articles acquired in any country other than a contiguous country which maintains a free zone or free port, the exemption authorized by the preceding proviso shall apply only to articles so acquired by a returning resident who has remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for a period of not less than forty-eight hours and (b) in the case of articles acquired in a contiguous country which maintains a free zone or free port, the Secretary of the Treasury shall by special regulation or instruction, the application of which may be restricted to one or more individual ports of entry, provide that the exemption authorized by the preceding proviso shall be applied only to articles acquired abroad by a returning resident who has remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for not less than such period (which period shall not exceed twenty-four hours) as the Secretary may deem necessary in the public interest or to facilitate enforcement at the specified port or ports of the requirement that the exemption shall apply only to articles acquired as an incident of the foreign journey: Provided further, That the exemption authorized by the second preceding proviso shall apply only to articles declared in accordance with regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury by a returning resident who has not taken advantage of the said exemption within the thirty-day period immediately preceding his return to the United States: Provided further, That no such special regulation or instruction shall take effect until the lapse of ninety days after the date of such special regulation or instruction: And provided further, That all articles exempted by this paragraph from the payment of duty shall also be exempt from the payment of any internal-revenue taxes.

Article 419 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) The $100 exemption shall not be granted a resident of the United States who has taken advantage of such exemption within the 30-day period immediately preceding his return to the United States. The date of the passenger's latest arrival in connection with which such an exemption was allowed shall be deemed the date he took advantage of the exemption, notwithstanding the articles admitted under the exemption arrived at a subsequent date. A passenger who has received a total exemption for the journey of less than $100 is not entitled to apply the remainder of that amount to articles acquired abroad on any subsequent journey. The exemption shall not be allowed in any case unless the articles claimed to be exempt were purchased or otherwise acquired merely as an incident of the foreign journey for personal or household use, but not bought on commission or intended for sale. Articles acquired on one journey and left in a foreign country are not subject to an exemption accruing upon a passenger's return from a subsequent journey.

Article 419 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) In the case of articles acquired otherwise than in a contiguous foreign country which maintains a free zone or free port no exemption shall be allowed unless the returning resident has remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for a period of not less than 48 hours. With respect to articles acquired in a contiguous foreign country which maintains a free zone or free port, the exemption may be allowed without regard to the length of time the returning resident has remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States, unless the resident returns through a port with respect to which there is in effect a special regulation or instruction requiring that the returning resident, in order to obtain the benefit of the exemption on such articles, shall have remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for such period, not to exceed 24 hours, as shall be specified in the special regulation or instruction.

Article 419 (e) is amended by changing the period at the end of the first sentence thereof to a comma and adding the following:

provided such articles in either case are listed on a written declaration presented to the customs officer at the time of the passenger's return to the United States.

Article 419 (h) is amended to read as follows:

(h) In the absence of the certified copy of baggage declaration provided for above or in article 422 (c) (4) and (5), the exemption shall not be allowed for articles not accompanying the passenger or shipped in bond to destination, unless it is otherwise shown to the satisfaction of the collector that the passenger presented a written declaration covering such articles at the time of his return to the United States.

Article 420 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Cigarettes, tobacco, not more than 100 cigars, and not exceeding an aggregate of one wine-gallon of distilled spirits, wines, and malt liquors may be included within the $100 exemption accorded each returning resident. No internal-revenue tax is payable on any articles accorded free entry under the $100 exemption. Foodstuffs may be included in the $100 exemption.

Article 422 (a) (2) is amended by changing the period at the end of the first sentence to a comma and adding the following:

Collectors of customs are hereby authorized, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, • • • to admit articles free of duty when the expense and inconvenience of collecting the duty accruing thereon would be disproportionate to the amount of such duty, but the aggregate value of articles imported by one person on one day and exempted from the payment of duty under the authority of this section shall not exceed $5 in the case of articles accompanying, and for the personal or household use of, persons arriving in the United States, or $1 in any other case.

Paragraphs designated (j), (k), (l), and (m) of article 423, are redesignated paragraphs (k), (l), (m), and (n), respectively, and a new paragraph, designated (j), is inserted, reading as follows:

(j) The word "duty" as used in the preceding paragraph does not include internal-revenue tax. The remission of duty therein authorized shall not be applied to importations subject to an internal-revenue tax, and on such importations both duty and tax shall be collected. The remission of duty under the foregoing authority shall not be construed as an exemption within the meaning of the third, fourth, and fifth provisos of paragraph 1798 of the tariff act, as amended. (Sec. 528, Tariff Act 1930.)

Article 434 is amended by deleting the matter beginning with "Tariff Act" in the first line and ending with "exempt from duty" in the eighth line and substituting therefor the following:

(a) Entry of articles under any of the above provisions of law shall be made on customs Form 7501 (at New York on customs Form 7517–B), except that when the merchandise does not exceed $100 in value the forms provided for the informal entry of importations received through the mails, in passengers' baggage, and otherwise, may be used in proper cases. When the articles are admitted under the provisions of section 308 (5) without the requirement of security for exportation, the procedure provided for in article 477 shall be followed. There shall be set forth on the entry (1) the provision of law under which entry is claimed, (2) a description of the use to be made of the articles, in sufficient detail to enable the collector to determine whether they are entitled to entry under the provision of law claimed, and (3) a declaration that the articles are not to be put to any other use and that they are not imported for sale or sale on approval.

Article 435 (b) is amended by deleting the exception following "$100," in the last sentence and substituting therefor the following:

(d) Reciprocal privileges.—The privileges granted by this section and section 317 of this Act in respect of aircraft registered in a foreign country shall be allowed only if the Secretary of the Treasury shall have been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect of aircraft registered in the United States. If the Secretary of Commerce shall advise the Secretary of the Treasury that he has found that a foreign country has discontinued, or will discontinue, the allowance of such privileges, the privileges granted by this section and such section 317 shall not apply thereafter in respect of aircraft registered in that foreign country.

Article 477 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Tariff Act of 1930, section 308 (5), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 4:

The following articles, when not imported for sale or for sale on approval, may be admitted into the United States under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, without the payment of duty, under bond for their exportation within six months from the date of importation, which period may, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury (whether such articles are imported before or after this section becomes effective), be extended, upon application for a further period not to exceed six months:

(5) Automobiles, motorcycles, bicycles, airplanes, airships, balloons, boats, racing shells, and similar vehicles and craft, and horses, and the usual equipment of the foregoing; all the foregoing which are brought temporarily into the United States by nonresidents (A) for the purpose of taking part in races or other specific contests, or (B) for the transportation of such nonresidents, their families and guests, and such incidental carriage of articles as may be necessary and appropriate to the purposes of the journey, but not to be used for the transportation of persons or articles for hire nor in any case primarily for the carriage of articles (but nothing in this Act shall be construed as altering the customary exceptions of vehicles and other instruments of international traffic from the application of the customs laws); and in the case of horses, vehicles, and craft entered under this subdivision collectors of customs may, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, defer the exaction of a bond for not to exceed ninety days (or six months in the case of such horses, vehicles, and craft from a country which accords a similar privilege to horses, vehicles, and craft from the United States) after the date of importation, but unless such horse, vehicle, or craft is exported or the bond is given within the period of such deferment, such horse, vehicle, or craft shall be subject to forfeiture;

Article 477 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) If the collector is satisfied of the importer's identity and good faith, an article may be admitted under the above provision of law for a stay of not to exceed 90 days (or six months in the case of horses, vehicles, and craft from a country which accords a similar privilege to horses, vehicles, and craft from the United States) without entry or security for exportation. In such cases, the collector shall issue to the importer a certificate on customs Form 4447, which shall be delivered with the horse, vehicle, or craft covered thereby to the customs officer at the port of exit at the time of departure. The customs officer to whom the certificate is surrendered shall examine the horse, vehicle, or craft, supervise its exportation if the examination satisfactorily establishes the identity of the article, and endorse the certificate to show the fact of exportation. The stub of the certificate, appropriately endorsed, shall be returned to the port where the certificate was issued. Certificates shall be issued to aircraft only when the craft are registered in a country with which the United States has a reciprocal agreement in regard to aircraft and piloting privileges, or when the person in charge produces proper evidence of permission from the Department of Commerce to operate in the United States. Lists of countries granting horses, vehicles, and craft from the United States the privilege of six months free entry without bond, and of countries with which the United States has reciprocal agreements concerning aircraft and piloting privileges, will be published from time to time in Treasury Decisions.

When the article was admitted for six months without bond, the entry shall be accompanied by an application of the importer to the Bureau of Customs for approval of the acceptance of the entry, and the acceptance of the entry shall be tentative pending such approval. The application and report of the collector thereon shall be in accordance with the provisions of article 441. Whenever an entry is substituted under the provisions of this paragraph for a certificate (customs Form 4447), the time during which the imported article may remain in the United States under the entry shall be computed from the date of original arrival in the United States and the article shall be appraised according to its value at the time of such arrival.

Article 477 (i) is amended by deleting the second sentence and substituting therefor the following:

The provisions of paragraph 1101 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by this Act, with respect to wool or hair entered under bond for use in the manufacture of articles enumerated in such paragraph, shall apply with respect to wool or hair under bond on the effective date of this Act, as well as with respect to wool or hair thereafter imported.

(c) For the purposes of articles 505 to 513, inclusive—

(1) Except with reference to entry or withdrawal, the term "wool or hair" means wool or hair in its imported or any other form, that is, wool or hair which has been entered or withdrawn under the provisions of paragraph 1101 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, and any product or substance composed wholly or in part of, and resulting from any processing of, such wool or hair under bond, but does not include articles made from such wool or hair and enumerated in such paragraph 1101 (b).

(2) Wool or hair is transferred under bond whenever it is transferred from the custody of one manufacturer, processor, or dealer to the custody of another manufacturer, processor, or dealer, whether the transferor or transferee is the owner of the merchandise or has received or is to receive such merchandise to be processed for the account of another.

ART. 505. Entry or withdrawal.—(a) Such wool or hair may be entered on customs Form 7501 (consumption entry) and be immediately released under bond, or may be entered for warehouse on customs Form 7502 and remain in bonded warehouse under the ordinary warehouse bond until appropriately withdrawn or otherwise disposed of in accordance with law.

(b) When entry is made on customs Form 7501, it shall have indorsed thereon the following notation: "Above merchandise entered under bond for use in the manufacture of ---------- (floor coverings, press cloth, camel's hair belting, knit or felt boots, or heavy fulled lumbermen's socks) under the provisions of paragraph 1101 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by section 33, Customs Administrative Act of 1938," which indorsement shall be signed by the obligor on the bond. The penalty of the single entry bond shall be in an amount equal to the value of the wool or hair plus double the estimated duties. The penalty of the term bond shall be $10,000 or such larger amount as the collector of customs deems necessary to the protection of the revenue.

(b) A single entry or term bond shall be filed by each manufacturer, processor, or dealer entering or withdrawing the wool or hair under bond or receiving it by transfer under bond in its imported or other form.

(c) Only one term bond shall be required from each manufacturer, processor, or dealer. If wool or hair is entered or withdrawn at any port other than that at which the original term bond is filed, a certified copy of such bond shall be filed at such other port. The collector at the port of entry or withdrawal shall forward to the collector at the port where the original bond is filed a certificate, customs Form 7531, showing the particulars of importation of the wool or hair entered or withdrawn, so that it may be charged against the original bond.

ART. 507. Records of receipt of wool or hair.—(a) Each manufacturer, processor, or dealer who enters or withdraws wool or hair under bond or who receives wool or hair by transfer under bond shall keep records which will show:

(b) Every lot of wool or hair entered or withdrawn under bond, or received by transfer under bond, shall be marked or stored, until put into process, in such manner as to insure the identification of the lot with the entry, withdrawal, or transfer certificate.

(c) Each manufacturer or processor shall keep records showing when each lot of bonded wool or hair was put into process by him.

ART. 508. Records of manufacture—abstracts.—(a) Each manufacturer or processor shall keep the records specified in this article with respect to products and substances resulting wholly or in part from wool or hair. Such records may be kept by manufacturing lot or by period of manufacture of not to exceed six months, and shall show:

(1) The date or inclusive dates of the processing of each manufacturing lot or the inclusive dates of each period of manufacture;

(2) The quantity, identity, and description of the wool or hair, not previously processed by the reporting manufacturer or processor, put into process in the lot or during the period;

(3) The quantity and description of all intermediate products, stocks in process, and wastes (including noils), not described in the preceding paragraph, which are put into process in the lot or during the period. (This applies only to materials carried over from a previous lot or period and does not require the keeping of records of materials which are put back into process in the same lot or period in which they resulted);

(4) The quantity and description of the final products resulting from the processing by the manufacturer or processor; the quantity by weight of the wool or hair contained therein; and

(5) The quantity of any wastes (including noils) incurred which remain on hand upon completion of the manufacturing lot or period of manufacture. Such wastes shall be accounted for under the following designations:

Noils.

Soft (including all wastes, except noils, burr wastes, card strippings, and sweepings, produced after the scouring of the wool or hair and before the spinning operation).

Hard (including all wastes, except sweepings, produced in and after the spinning operation but before completion of the weaving operation or, in the case of the manufacture of articles enumerated in paragraph 1101 (b), Tariff Act of 1930, which are not woven, before the completion of the enumerated article).

Fly (including all wastes other than noils and hard and soft wastes as above specified).

White soft wastes and white threads shall be accounted for separately.

(6) The records of each manufacturer or processor shall contain a detailed inventory of all wool and hair on hand at the close of each abstract period or at the completion of each manufacturing lot.

(b) When the manufacturer or any enumerated article spins the yarns used in the manufacture thereof, he shall also keep records showing the quantity and description of all the yarns so spun.

(c) When a bonded manufacturer or processor has not manufactured or processed any bonded wool or hair for a period of six months since his last report, he shall promptly so advise the collector of customs.

(d) Within three months after the completion of each lot or period of manufacture, the manufacturer or processor shall submit to the collector of customs where his original bond is on file an abstract of his records of manufacture showing the data provided for heretofore in this article.

(e) Each such abstract shall bear the following affidavit of an authorized officer or member of the firm:

I, _____, do hereby solemnly swear (affirm) that this document is a true and correct abstract of our records of manufacture; that such records have been kept in the manner prescribed by article 508 of the Customs Regulations of 1937, as amended.

ART. 509. Records and reports of enumerated articles or wool or hair delivered—Transfer certificates.—(a) Each manufacturer, processor, or dealer shall keep records showing the quantity, description, and wool or hair content of all wool or hair (including samples) and enumerated articles delivered from his premises pursuant to transfer under bond, purchase, consignment, or otherwise. Such records shall also show the date of delivery from the premises, and the name and address of the transferee, purchaser, consignee, or other person to whom delivery is made. The records shall show also the exact designation under which any wool or hair was transferred, sold, consigned, or otherwise delivered and (except as to transfers under bond) the price paid or agreed to be paid, or, if there has been no sale or contract of sale, the price that the manufacturer, processor, or dealer would have received or was willing to receive for the wool or hair if sold in the ordinary course of trade. Every delivery within the purview of this paragraph, except of enumerated articles, shall be shown on the abstract prescribed in article 508 (d).

(b) Within 30 days after the delivery of wool or hair from the premises, otherwise than under a transfer certificate provided for in paragraph (e) of this article, the manufacturer, processor, or dealer making such delivery shall file an affidavit with the collector of customs in whose district his original bond is filed, showing the quantity and description of merchandise delivered, the date of delivery, and the name and address of the person to whom delivered. The affidavit shall show the particulars as to price specified in paragraph (a) of this article, whether representative samples have been retained, whether the merchandise resulted in the usual course of manufacture of enumerated articles, and whether such merchandise could have been used (with or without further preparation) in the manufacture of enumerated articles.

(c) The manufacturer, processor, or dealer shall retain for customs inspection a representative sample of not less than one pound of each kind of merchandise for which a report is required by article 510 (b) or (c). Such sample shall be properly identified in his records with the report covering such merchandise and for a period of three months after the delivery such sample shall at all reasonable times be available for inspection by proper officers of the Government.

(d) Tariff Act of 1930, paragraph 1101 (b), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 33 (a):

> • • • A manufacturer, processor, or dealer may be relieved of liability under his bond with respect to any wool or hair so entered or withdrawn which is transferred in its imported or any other form to another manufacturer, processor, or dealer who has filed a bond to insure that the merchandise so transferred shall be used only in the manufacture of the above-enumerated articles. • • •

(e) Wool or hair transferred by one bonded manufacturer, processor, or dealer to another bonded manufacturer, processor, or dealer shall be covered by a transfer certificate, customs Form 7531–a, which shall be filed within 30 days after the transfer. When the original bonds of both the transferor and transferee are on file in the office of one collector of customs, the transfer certificate shall be filed with that officer in duplicate. When the original bond of the transferee is on file in another customs district, the transfer certificate shall be filed in triplicate, one copy to be retained by the collector at the place of filing and two copies to be forwarded to the collector where the original bond of the transferee is on file, who shall acknowledge receipt thereof. The transferor shall not be relieved from liability under his bond until the transferred wool or hair has been charged against the bond of the transferee.

ART. 510. Reports of use or transfer for use in violation of bond.—(a) Tariff Act of 1930, paragraph 1101 (b), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 33 (a):

> • • • Every manufacturer, processor, or dealer who has given a bond pursuant to the provisions of this sub-paragraph shall report any use or transfer of merchandise in violation of the terms of his bond, within thirty days after such use or transfer, to the collector of customs in whose district the bond is filed; and for failure to so report, such manufacturer, processor, or dealer shall be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the merchandise so used or transferred at the time and place of such use or transfer. Such penalty shall be in addition to the duties above provided for. • • •

(b) When a bonded manufacturer or processor uses any bonded wool or hair otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles, or in preparation for such manufacture, he shall within 30 days after such use make a report thereof to the collector of customs in whose district his original bond is filed, showing the quantity and description of the wool or hair so used, the use to which it has been put, the date of such use, whether such wool or hair resulted in the usual course of manufacture of the enumerated articles, and whether it could have been used in the usual course of manufacture of such articles.

(c) Manufacturers, processors, or dealers shall likewise report to such collector of customs within 30 days any transfer of bonded wool or hair for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles. The report shall show the quantity and description of the wool or hair, the date of transfer, the name and address of the transferee, and, if known, the specific use to which the wool or hair is to be put. Such reports of manufacturers or processors shall state whether the wool or hair resulted in the usual course of manufacture of the enumerated articles and whether it could have been used in the manufacture of such articles.

(d) Whether merchandise has resulted in the usual course of manufacture shall be determined with respect to the normal operations of the plant at which such merchandise resulted. Whether merchandise resulting in the usual course of manufacture of such enumerated articles can be used, with or without further preparation, in the usual course of manufacture of any enumerated articles, shall be determined with respect to the normal operations of the industries producing such articles in the United States.

ART. 511. Duties—Exportation or destruction.—(a) Tariff Act of 1930, paragraph 1101 (b), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 33 (a):

> • • • If any wool or hair so entered, withdrawn, or transferred under bond is used or transferred for use in its imported or any other form in any manner otherwise than in the manufacture of the articles enumerated above, there shall be levied, collected, and paid on the merchandise so used or transferred in violation of the bond the regular duties which would apply to such merchandise if imported in its condition at the time of such use or transfer. Such duties shall be paid by the manufacturer, processor, or dealer whose bond is charged with the wool or hair at the time of such use or transfer; but such duties shall not be levied or collected on any merchandise (except white soft wastes, white threads and noils, which shall be dutiable at seven-eighths of such regular duties when used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles) resulting in the usual course of manufacture of such enumerated manufactured articles which cannot be used (with or without further preparation) in the usual course of the manufacture of such enumerated articles, or which is exported or destroyed. • • •

(b) All wool or hair in its imported form used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles shall be assessed with duty in accordance with the above provision. As to merchandise resulting from the use of the imported wool or hair in the usual course of manufacture of the enumerated articles, which is used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles, no duty shall be assessed unless such merchandise can be used (with or without further preparation) in ordinary commercial practice in the usual course of manufacture of such enumerated articles, except in the case of white soft wastes, white threads and noils which shall be dutiable at seven-eighths of the regular duties when they are used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles irrespective of whether they can be used (with or without further preparation) in the manufacture of such enumerated articles. Wastes and other merchandise which have not resulted in the usual course of manufacture of the enumerated articles are dutiable when used or transferred for use otherwise than in the manufacture of the enumerated articles irrespective of whether they could have been used with or without further preparation.

(c) Wool or hair, except wool or hair in its imported form, will be credited against the covering bond if exported or destroyed under customs supervision.

ART. 512. Presumption that wool or hair used in violation of the bond is composed wholly of bonded wool or hair.—(a) Tariff Act of 1930, paragraph 1101 (b), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 33 (a):

> • • • When any wool or hair which has been entered or withdrawn under bond as provided for in this subparagraph is used or transferred for use, in its imported or any other form, otherwise than in the manufacture of the above-enumerated articles and prior to such use or transfer there shall have been combined or mixed with such wool or hair any other merchandise, the whole or the combination or mixture shall be presumed to be composed of wool or hair entered or withdrawn under bond, as provided for in this subparagraph, unless the manufacturer, processor, or dealer liable for the payment of the duties shall establish the quantity of bonded wool or hair in such combination or mixture. • • •

ART. 513. Verifications of abstracts and reports.—(a) If deemed necessary, collectors of customs will refer abstracts, reports, and certificates of transfer required by articles 509 and 510 to the appropriate supervising customs agent for verification. The originals of all books and records kept by bonded manufacturers, processors, and dealers and relating to bonded wool or hair, and the establishments of such manufacturers, processors, and dealers shall be available at all reasonable times for inspection by proper officers of the Government.

Article 528 is amended to read as follows:

ART. 528. Marking of articles and packages to indicate country of origin.—(a) Tariff Act of 1930, section 304 (a), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 3:

> Except as hereinafter provided, every article of foreign origin (or its container, as provided in subsection (b) hereof) imported into the United States shall be marked in a conspicuous place as legibly, indelibly, and permanently as the nature of the article (or container) will permit in such manner as to indicate to an ultimate purchaser in the United States the English name of the country of origin of the article. The Secretary of the Treasury may by regulations—
> (1) Determine the character of words and phrases or abbreviations thereof which shall be acceptable as indicating the country of origin and prescribe any reasonable method of marking, whether by printing, stenciling, stamping, branding, labeling, or by any other reasonable method, and a conspicuous place on the article (or container) where the marking shall appear; • • •

(b) The term "country," as used in section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, is held to mean the political entity known as a nation. Colonies, possessions, or protectorates outside the boundaries of a mother country shall be considered separate countries. The marking required by such section 304 shall include the name of the country of origin, in English, unless other marking to indicate the English name of the country of origin is specifically authorized by the Department. The adjectival form of the name of a country is acceptable as a proper indication of the origin of imported merchandise, provided the word does not appear with other words so as to refer to a kind or species of product, such terms as "English walnuts," "Brazil nuts," etc., being unacceptable. Standard abbreviations of the names of countries approved by the United States Board on Geographical Names are acceptable. Variant spellings which clearly indicate the English name of the country of origin, such as Brasil for Brazil and Italie for Italy, are acceptable. Notices of acceptable markings other than the English name of the country of origin will be published from time to time in Treasury Decisions.

(c) The country of origin means the country of manufacture or production. Further work or material added to an article in another country must effect a substantial transformation in order to render such other country the "country of origin" within the meaning of this article. (T. D. 48623.)

(d) The method of marking must be one which is suitable to produce marking on the particular article (or container) which is as legible, conspicuous, indelible, and permanent as the nature of the article (or container) will reasonably permit. Stenciling should be used upon such articles as bagging; branding or stenciling may be used upon such material as wood; stamping with a rubber stamp may be used upon such material as paper or cloth, but not upon metal; die-stamping or cast-in-the-mold lettering should be used on metal unless such marking of the article at the time of manufacture would result in injury to the article or would be economically prohibitive, in which cases some other permanent method of marking may be used, such as etching, engraving, or marking by means of metal plates which bear the required marking and which are securely attached to the article by screws or rivets. Glassware should be marked in the mold or by etching or engraving unless such marking at the time of manufacture would disfigure or otherwise injure the article for its intended use, in which case the marking may be by means of labels securely affixed. Marking by means of labels or tags securely attached to the article or container to be marked shall be acceptable only when no other means of marking is practicable by reason of injury or undue expense; but articles (or containers) customarily marked by labels or tags which remain on the articles (or containers) until they reach the ultimate purchaser, such as the usual labels securely affixed to bottles and tinned goods, or varnish-coated decalcomania transfer labels attached to articles, shall be regarded as acceptable methods of marking. No marking should be accepted which would be obliterated, destroyed, or permanently concealed by a processing to which the articles are ordinarily subjected in the United States if there is a reasonable method of marking the goods in a more permanently conspicuous and indelible manner. (T. D. 49065.)

(e) Articles (or containers) shall be marked in a place where the mark can be easily read upon a casual examination of the article (or container). Articles (or containers) subject to marking to indicate the country of origin should be marked on an integral part in a reasonably conspicuous place where the marking is not likely to be defaced, destroyed, removed, altered, covered, obscured, or obliterated by the treatment or use made of the article (or container) before it reaches the ultimate purchaser.

(f) Products of the United States exported and returned, and products of possessions of the United States are not required by section 304 of the tariff act to be marked to indicate their origin. Articles of foreign manufacture or production imported into the Philippine or Virgin Islands and reshipped to the United States are subject to all marking requirements applicable to merchandise imported from a foreign country.

(g) Tariff Act of 1930, section 304 (a) (2), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 3:

The Secretary of the Treasury may by regulations—

(2) Require the addition of any other words or symbols which may be appropriate to prevent deception or mistake as to the origin of the article or as to the origin of any other article with which such imported article is usually combined subsequent to importation but before delivery to an ultimate purchaser;

(h) When an imported article is of a kind which is usually combined with another article subsequent to importation but before delivery to an ultimate purchaser, the marking to indicate the country of origin shall include words or symbols which will clearly show that the origin indicated is that of the imported article only and not that of any other article with which the imported article may be combined subsequent to importation. For example, bottles or drums imported empty to be filled in the United States shall be marked with some such words as "bottle (or drum) made in (name of country)." This regulation shall not apply to articles of a kind which are ordinarily so substantially changed in this country that the articles themselves become products of the United States.

(i) Tariff Act of 1930, section 304 (b), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 3:

Whenever an article is excepted under subdivision (3) of subsection (a) of this section from the requirements of marking, the immediate container, if any, of such article, or such other container or containers of such article as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, shall be marked in such manner as to indicate to an ultimate purchaser in the United States the English name of the country of origin of such article, subject to all provisions of this section, including the same exceptions as are applicable to articles under subdivision (3) of subsection (a). If articles are excepted from marking requirements under clause (F), (G), or (H) of subdivision (3) of subsection (a) of this section, their usual containers shall not be subject to the marking requirements of this section. Usual containers in use as such at the time of importation shall in no case be required to be marked to show the country of their own origin (See art. 532 for exceptions).

(j) The containers of imported articles are not required to be marked except as specified in such section 304 (b). The container which shall be required to be marked shall be the outermost container in which the article ordinarily reaches the ultimate purchaser.

(k) If an article is excepted under article 532 from marking requirements, its container must be marked to indicate the country of origin of the contained article, unless the container is exempt from marking by reason of the second sentence of section 304 (b) of the tariff act or because the container itself is within an exception prescribed in article 532. This rule applies even though the excepted article is itself actually marked to indicate the country of its origin.

(l) Unusual containers of imported articles within the meaning of section 504, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be marked so as clearly to indicate the country of their own origin in addition to any marking which may be required to show the country of origin of their contents.

(m) Tariff Act of 1930, section 304 (c), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 3:

If at the time of importation any article (or its container, as provided in subsection (b) hereof) is not marked in accordance with the requirements of this section, and if such article is not exported or destroyed or the article (or its container, as provided in subsection (b) hereof) marked after importation in accordance with the requirements of this section (such exportation, destruction, or marking to be accomplished under customs supervision prior to the liquidation of the entry covering the article, and to be allowed whether or not the article has remained in continuous customs custody), there shall be levied, collected, and paid upon such article a duty of 10 per centum ad valorem, which shall be deemed to have accrued at the time of importation, shall not be construed to be penal, and shall not be remitted wholly or in part nor shall payment thereof be avoidable for any cause. Such duty shall be levied, collected, and paid in addition to any other duty imposed by law and whether or not the article is exempt from the payment of ordinary customs duties. The compensation and expenses of customs officers and employees assigned to supervise the exportation, destruction, or marking to exempt articles from the application of the duty provided for in this subsection shall be reimbursed to the Government by the importer. (T. Ds. 42487, 43772, 44355.)

(n) The duty of 10 per centum provided for in subsection (c) of section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be assessed upon the value as defined in section 503, Tariff Act of 1930. The 10 per centum additional duty is assessable for failure to mark the article (or container) either to indicate the English name of the country of origin of the article to an ultimate purchaser or to include words or symbols required to prevent deception or mistake. When marking on an article (or container) is required in order to comply with such section 304 and the regulations thereunder, marking other than that so required will not serve to relieve the merchandise from the additional marking duty. When an article is to be exported or destroyed, or the article (or its container) is to be marked under customs supervision, under subsection (c) of such section 304, the identity of the imported article must be established to the satisfaction of the collector.

(o) Tariff Act of 1930, section 304 (d), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 3:

No imported article held in customs custody for inspection, examination, or appraisement shall be delivered until such article and every other article of the importation (or their containers), whether or not released from customs custody, shall have been marked in accordance with the requirements of this section or until the amount of duty estimated to be payable under subsection (c) of this section has been deposited. Nothing in this section shall be construed as excepting any article (or its container) from the particular requirements of marking provided for in any other provision of law.

(p) Tariff Act of 1930, section 558 (b), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 24:

When articles are exported or destroyed under customs supervision after once having been released from customs custody, as provided for in subsection (c) of section 304 of this Act, such exportation or destruction shall not exempt such articles from the payment of duties other than the marking duty provided for in such subsection (c).

(q) No article which has been repacked under article 936 of these regulations or which has been manipulated under section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, shall be withdrawn for consumption unless such article (or its container) is marked in accordance with the provisions of section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, at the time of withdrawal.

Delete marginal reference to Tariff Act of 1930, sec. 304 (c), opposite article 530.

Article 530 (b) is amended by deleting the second sentence and substituting therefor the following:

If any article required to be marked under such paragraph 367 or 368 is found not to be marked to indicate the country of origin (manufacture), the 10 percent marking duty prescribed by section 304 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, shall be assessed, unless marking is accomplished, or the merchandise is exported, in accordance with section 304 (d), Tariff Act of 1930.

Article 532 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Tariff Act of 1930, section 304 (a) (3), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 3:

The Secretary of the Treasury may by regulations—

(3) Authorize the exception of any article from the requirements of marking if—

(A) Such article is incapable of being marked;

(B) Such article cannot be marked prior to shipment to the United States without injury;

(C) Such article cannot be marked prior to shipment to the United States, except at an expense economically prohibitive of its importation;

(D) The marking of a container of such article will reasonably indicate the origin of such article;

(E) Such article is a crude substance;

(F) Such article is imported for use by the importer and not intended for sale in its imported or any other form;

(G) Such article is to be processed in the United States by the importer or for his account otherwise than for the purpose of concealing the origin of such article and in such manner that any mark contemplated by this section would necessarily be obliterated, destroyed, or permanently concealed;

(H) An ultimate purchaser, by reason of the character of such article or by reason of the circumstances of its importation, must necessarily know the country of origin of such article even though it is not marked to indicate its origin;

(I) Such article was produced more than twenty years prior to its importation into the United States; or

(J) Such article is of a class or kind with respect to which the Secretary of the Treasury has given notice by publication in the weekly Treasury Decisions within two years after July 1, 1937, that articles of such class or kind were imported in substantial quantities during the five-year period immediately preceding January 1, 1937, and were not required during such period to be marked to indicate their origin: Provided, That this subdivision (J) shall not apply after September 1, 1938, to sawed lumber and timbers, telephone, trolley, electric-light, and telegraph poles of wood, and bundles of shingles; but the President is authorized to suspend the effectiveness of this proviso if he finds such action required to carry out any trade agreement entered into under the authority of the Act of June 12, 1934 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 19, secs. 1351–1354), as extended.

Article 532 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Articles coming within the classes of merchandise specified above are hereby exempted from the requirement of marking. The marking of the container of an article will reasonably indicate the origin of such article within the meaning of section 304 (a) (3) (D), Tariff Act of 1930, if the container is sealed and the article is usually sold to the ultimate purchaser without the container being opened to make the article readily available for inspection. No article should be excepted from marking under subdivision (G) if there is a reasonable method of marking which could be used and which would not be obliterated, destroyed, or permanently concealed by the processing to which the goods are to be subjected in the United States.

Article 532 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) The following articles and their containers are not subject to the marking requirements of section 304 or paragraph 354, 355, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 367, 368, or 1553, Tariff Act of 1930:

(1) Articles entered for immediate exportation or for transportation and exportation;

(2) Products of the American fisheries which are free of duty;

(3) Products of possessions of the United States (see art. 528 (f)).

(4) Articles exempt from duty under article 365 or 832 of these regulations.

Article 533 (a) is amended by deleting the first sentence and substituting therefor the following:

The appraiser will report to the collector all articles (or containers) found by him not to be legally marked.

Paragraphs (c), (d), and (e) of article 533 are redesignated paragraphs (d), (e), and (f), respectively, and a new paragraph (c) is added, reading as follows:

(c) Tariff Act of 1930, section 304 (d), as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, section 3:

No imported article held in customs custody for inspection, examination, or appraisement shall be delivered until such article and every other article of the importation (or their containers), whether or not released from customs custody, shall have been marked in accordance with the requirements of this section or until the amount of duty estimated to be payable under subsection (c) of this section has been deposited. Nothing in this section shall be construed as excepting any article (or its container) from the particular requirements of marking provided for in any other provision of law.

New paragraph (d) of article 533 is amended by deleting "properly marked by the importer within a period of 30 days from the date of notification by the collector of the marking requirements" in the sixth, seventh, and eighth lines and substituting therefor "exported, destroyed or properly marked by the importer prior to the liquidation of the entry,".

New paragraph (f) of article 533 is amended by inserting before "the matter" in the sixth line, "or an application for relief from payment of the full penalty of the bond filed for transmittal to the Bureau," and adding at the end of the paragraph the following:

Relief from the payment of liquidated damages will be contingent upon the showing made concerning the diligence and good faith shown by the importer in attempting to secure compliance with the marking requirements.

Article 534 is amended to read as follows:

(b) This provision of law is administered by the Department of Justice and suspected violations should be reported directly to the United States Attorney.

* * * The collector shall designate the packages or quantities covered by any invoice or entry which are to be opened and examined for the purpose of appraisement or otherwise and shall order such packages or quantities to be sent to the public stores or other places for such purpose. Not less than one package of every invoice and not less than one package of every ten packages of merchandise, shall be so designated unless the Secretary of the Treasury, from the character and description of the merchandise, is of the opinion that the examination of a less proportion of packages will amply protect the revenue and by special regulation or instruction, the application of which may be restricted to one or more individual ports or to one or more importations or one or more classes of merchandise, permit a less number of packages to be examined. All such special regulations or instructions shall be published in the weekly Treasury Decisions within fifteen days after issuance and before the liquidation of any entries affected thereby. REGULATIONS GOVERNING ALLOTMENTS AND PAYMENTS TO STATES FOR FISCAL YEAR 1939 FROM FUNDS APPROPRIATED UNDER PROVISIONS OF SECTION 4A OF CHAPTER XV OF ACT OF JULY 9, 1918, AS ADDED BY ACT OF MAY 24, 1938

Pursuant to the authority contained in Section 4d of Chap. XV of the Act of July 9, 1918, as added by the Act of May 24, 1938 (Public, No. 540, 75th Congress) the following regulations are hereby prescribed:

I. Compliance with law and regulations.—In order that funds allotted to the States may be of maximum use in assisting States, municipalities, counties, health districts, and other political subdivisions of the States in establishing and maintaining adequate measures for the control of the venereal diseases, payments made to a State under authority of the Act will be certified by the Surgeon General only after such State has complied with the provisions of the Act and the Regulations authorized thereunder.

II. Allotments.—The Surgeon General, pursuant to the authority contained in Section 4b of the Act, has determined that 80 percent of the total amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1939 (viz $2,400,000) shall be allotted to the several States, including the District of Columbia, Alaska, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Hawaii, on the basis of (1) the population, (2) the extent of the venereal disease problem, and (3) the financial needs of the respective States, "in establishing and maintaining adequate measures for the prevention, treatment and control of the venereal diseases," in accordance with the following percentage distribution:

1. Population.—Allotments amounting to 24 percent of the available appropriations will be made to the several States in the ratio which the population of each State bears to the population of the United States as shown by the Census Bureau 1937 mid-year population estimates.

2. Extent of the venereal disease problem.—Allotments amounting to 32 percent of the available appropriations will be made to the several States on the basis of the extent of the venereal disease problem determined as follows: Because of the more accurate morbidity data for syphilis, the prevalence of this disease as shown by surveys of the United States Public Health Service will be used. Allotments will be based upon the varying composite geographical and racial prevalence rate of syphilis and the per capita cost of government in the respective States.

3. Financial needs. — Allotments amounting to 24 percent of the available appropriations will be made to the several States on the basis of the financial needs of such States as determined by the ability of the State to raise revenue expressed indirectly in terms of per capita income.

III. Balances from allotments.—Unpaid balances from allotments at the end of the fiscal year shall not be paid but shall remain in the appropriation for reallotment to the States in the succeeding fiscal year in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

IV. Balances from payments.—Unexpended balances remaining from quarterly payments made to the States in accordance with the provisions of the Act may be retained by the States and utilized for carrying out the purposes for which such funds were allotted and paid, subject to the following conditions:

1. Balances required under these regulations to be matched with State or local funds must be so matched before they are expended.

2. Itemized budgets for the expenditure of such balances must be submitted and approved prior to such expenditure.

3. In those instances where unexpended balances have accumulated the Surgeon General may, in his discretion, make deductions from payments due in a subsequent quarter in the amount of such unexpended balances. Funds so deducted from the payment to a State may be paid to a State in the discretion of the Surgeon General in any subsequent quarter upon the submission and approval of budgets.

V. Submission of plans.—To be eligible to receive payments from allotments, each State shall submit to the Surgeon General:

1. A comprehensive statement of the present State venereal disease control organization, program and budget including amounts expended from State and local funds for venereal disease control during the fiscal year 1936 and the fiscal year 1937.

2. A proposed plan for extending and improving the service of the State venereal disease control unit.

3. A proposed plan for extending and improving local (city, district, county) venereal disease control services to be carried out with the assistance of funds available under the provisions of the Act of May 24, 1938.

VI. Submission and approval of budgets.—Before payments will be made to any State, the State Health Officer shall:

1. Submit to the Surgeon General and secure approval of a proposed budget for each project on forms supplied by the Public Health Service. The budget shall show the sources, proposed uses, and amounts of all funds, the amounts requested from the Public Health Service for the fiscal year, together with such other information relating to such proposed project as the Surgeon General may require. The application for quarterly payment to a State shall include only those funds required for financing budgets actually in force, or which definitely will become operative, in the quarter for which payment is requested.

2. Certify that State and local expenditures have not been replaced or curtailed through the use of federal funds.

VII. New and revised budgets.—Budgets for new projects and revised budgets for existing projects may be submitted in any quarter after the beginning of the fiscal year, but such budgets will not be made effective prior to the beginning of the next succeeding quarter; provided that exceptions to this rule may be made by the Surgeon General, when necessary, to meet emergencies.

VIII. Existing appropriations not to be replaced.—No funds paid to a State pursuant to this Act shall be used to replace State or local funds in such a way as to effect a conservation or reduction of appropriations for venereal disease control work by State and local governmental agencies.

IX. Matching requirements. — Allotments to the several States will be available for payment when matched by State or local public funds appropriated and expended for venereal disease control work as follows:

1. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1938, the allotment to each State on the basis of population (Regulation II, Sub. 1) shall be matched.

2. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1939, and thereafter the allotment to each State on the bases of the population and the extent of the venereal disease problem shall be matched.

3. Funds employed for matching purposes may be derived either from new or old appropriations, State or local, and from donations by private individuals or non-governmental agencies when such non-public funds are certified as being available and will be expended for the control of the venereal diseases under the direction of the official health authority.

X. Training of personnel.—In order to meet the needs for properly qualified professional and technical personnel with which to conduct effectively State and local venereal disease control work, health departments may budget for the training of personnel such sums as may be deemed necessary for this purpose; provided, that the sums used for the training of personnel and the scientific personnel nominated for training be first approved by the Surgeon General.

Funds budgeted by a State for the training of personnel may be used to pay living stipends, tuition, and traveling expenses of full-time or part-time personnel employed or to be employed in the State and local health services, such training period not to exceed one year for any individual.

The Surgeon General will also specify to the States the maximum allowances for stipends, traveling and other permissible items of expense for the training of personnel.

These funds may also be used to aid training centers in the equipment and maintenance of training courses.

XI. Method of payments to States and custody of funds.—Subject to approval by the Secretary of the Treasury, payments will be made in quarterly installments to the Treasurer of the State or other State official authorized by law to receive such funds.

All such payments shall be held by the State official to whom made, in a separate fund distinct from other State funds, and shall be disbursed by him solely for the purposes specified in budgets approved by the State health officer and the Surgeon General and filed with such official.

XII. Financial reports. — The State health officer shall submit and certify to the Surgeon General on forms provided for that purpose financial reports as follows:

1. A quarterly project financial report for each budget in force which shall show actual amount of expenditure of Public Health Service, of State, and of local funds budgeted, and such other information as the Surgeon General may from time to time require.

3. An annual report of all State expenditures for the control of the venereal diseases showing by appropriations all such State expenditures for the latest State fiscal year ending on or before December 31, 1938. This report must be certified also by the Treasurer or other State official charged with the responsibility for disbursing the health department funds.

XIII. Progress reports of activities.—Narrative and statistical reports of activities will be required by the Public Health Service from each State Health Department and necessary forms for this purpose will be provided.

XIV. Reports of activities from other agencies not required.—No detailed reports of activities will be required for personnel paid from funds supplied by other agencies.

Such rating shall be determined in the case of the State laboratory by the Public Health Service.

2. The State laboratory and any local laboratory receiving funds under this Act shall provide laboratory services for the venereal diseases on the same basis as such service is provided for other communicable diseases.

3. Free diagnostic and treatment facilities shall be provided by all health departments or clinics receiving funds under this Act for (a) the diagnosis and emergency treatment of any patient who applies; (b) any patient referred by a private physician either for continued treatment or for consultative advice and opinion; and (c) any patient unable to afford private medical care. 4. Free distribution of antisyphilitic drugs shall be made on the request of any physician for the treatment of his patients, providing that where health departments have established the policy of furnishing drugs to the physician conditional upon receiving a morbidity report on the case of syphilis to be treated, that such policy will not in any way be altered by this regulation.

5. To receive funds under this Act, diagnostic and treatment services shall be as freely available to infected nonresident people as to people who reside in the governmental unit providing the services. Clinics shall be so located as to be easy of access and of maximum convenience to the population, and shall be held in well lighted and well ventilated rooms. The number of clinic sessions shall be adequate to meet local needs, and shall be held at such time as to avoid economic loss to employed patients; the physical arrangements shall be such as to insure privacy for the patients when receiving medical attention; and the minimum equipment shall consist of a sphygmomanometer, vaginal speculum, and the necessary apparatus and reagents for examination of the urine. The minimal data included on morbidity, clinical and epidemiologic records shall be those presented in the reprint of the U. S. Public Health Service on "A Mechanical System for Reporting Morbidity, Treatment-Progress, and Control of Venereal Diseases", or such minimum data as may be later approved by the members of the Conference of State and Territorial Health Officers. Efficient case-finding and case-holding work shall be conducted in all clinics by qualified personnel.

6. The services of a properly qualified full-time venereal disease control officer shall be provided in each State, and in any municipality receiving funds under this Act, if the population of either exceeds 500,000 on the basis of the 1930 census, provided further, that the State health officer, after consultation and agreement with the Surgeon General, may require that the above regulation will apply in cities of populations of less than 500,000, on the basis of the 1930 census.

7. In allocating funds under this Act for local venereal disease control services, the State health officer shall give due consideration to the relatively higher prevalence of syphilis in urban areas.

[Act, Sec. 314, 372 and 375.]

ARTICLE III.—MARKETING OF TOBACCO AND PENALTIES

SECTION 301. A Memorandum of sale to be obtained for every marketing.—Whenever any tobacco is marketed (whether the marketing is within the quota or not) the marketing card for the farm on which such tobacco was produced, together with the warehouse bill or other record of the marketing, shall be presented to the field assistant who is located most conveniently to the place of marketing for the purpose of obtaining a memorandum of sale (Form 38–Tobacco 17 in the case of warehouse sales and Form 38–Tobacco 18 in the case of non-warehouse sales) covering the tobacco marketed. A memorandum of sale shall then be issued by the field assistant; provided that, in the case of a non-warehouse sale which is subject to penalty, the memorandum shall not be issued unless the certificate on Form 38–Tobacco 18 as to the facts of the marketing is signed by the buyer and the producer (or by the producer alone if the marketing is made directly to a person outside of the United States). [Act, Sec. 373 and 375.]

SEC. 302. Effect of memorandum of sale.—A memorandum of sale shall identify the tobacco covered by the memorandum as tobacco the marketing of which is subject to penalty, or tobacco the marketing of which is free of penalty, as the memorandum, on its face, may show, and, if the marketing is subject to penalty, shall state the amount of the penalty upon the marketing.

It shall be the responsibility of the person liable for the payment of the penalty upon a marketing to check carefully the entries in the memorandum of sale issued to cover the marketing and the records upon which such memorandum was based. Any errors should be brought immediately to the attention of the field assistant for correction. The failure of the person liable for the payment of the penalty to have any errors corrected will not relieve such person of the payment of the penalty due upon the basis of the correct entries. [Act, Sec. 314 and 375.]

SEC. 303. Marketing free of penalty.—Any marketing of tobacco shall be free of penalty, and shall be so identified by the memorandum of sale covering the marketing, to the extent that

(a) Such tobacco is marketed within the quota for the farm on which such tobacco was produced, as shown by a valid marketing card presented to obtain the memorandum of sale to cover such marketing; provided that if the producer and the person liable for the payment of the penalty shall (on Form 38–Tobacco 27) designate any tobacco as tobacco marketed subject to penalty, then such tobacco shall be deemed to be marketed in excess of the quota, and the memorandum of sale shall not identify such tobacco as marketed free of penalty; or

(b) Such tobacco is marketed solely for nicotine or other by-product uses and is so identified by a certificate made on Form 38–Tobacco 25 by the by-product manufacturer and the producer; or

(c) Such tobacco was grown for experimental purposes only by a publicly owned agricultural experiment station and is so identified by a certificate made on Form 38–Tobacco 25 by an authorized representative of the experiment station and the producer. [Act, Sec. 314, 372 and 375.]

SEC. 304. Marketings subject to penalty.—(a) Any marketing of tobacco shall be subject to penalty, and shall be so identified by the memorandum of sale covering the marketing, to the extent that the tobacco marketed cannot, as of the date of the issuance of the memorandum of sale, be identified pursuant to section 303 of these regulations as tobacco the marketing of which was free of penalty.

(b) If a memorandum of sale has not been issued to cover a marketing of tobacco such marketing shall be deemed to be a marketing which was subject to penalty. [Act, Sec. 314, 372 and 375.]

SEC. 305. Amount of penalty.—The penalty upon any marketing of tobacco subject to penalty shall be 50 per centum of the market price of such tobacco on the date of marketing or 3 cents per pound, whichever is higher. The sale price of any tobacco will be considered as evidence of the market price on the date of marketing where accompanied by a warehouse bill in the case of warehouse sales, or in the case of non-warehouse sales where verified by the certificate (on Form 38–Tobacco 18) of the buyer and the producer. [Act, Sec. 314.]

SEC. 306. Persons to pay penalty and deduction from purchase price.—(a) If the tobacco is marketed by the producer through a warehouseman (or other agent who performs services comparable to the services performed by a warehouseman) the penalty shall be paid by the warehouseman (or such other agent); but the warehouseman (or such other agent) may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the purchase price paid to the producer.

(b) If the tobacco is marketed by the producer directly to any person outside the United States, the penalty shall be paid by the producer.

(c) If the tobacco is marketed by the producer in a manner other than as described in subsections (a) and (b) of this section, the penalty shall be paid by the person who acquires the tobacco from the producer; but an amount equivalent to the penalty may be deducted by the buyer from the price paid to the producer in case such tobacco is marketed by sale. [Act, Sec. 314.]

SEC. 307. Payment of penalties.—Penalties upon the marketing of tobacco shall become due at the time of the marketing, and shall be paid by remitting the amount thereof to the Secretary of Agriculture (addressed for the attention of the Comptroller, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Washington, D. C.), not later than the end of the calendar week next following the week in which the penalties became due. The remittance shall be accompanied,

(a) in the case of a warehouseman, by his report on Form 38–Tobacco 19, or

(b) in the case of a dealer, by his report on Form 38–Tobacco 22, or

(c) in the case of a producer, by his statement showing the number of pounds sold, the market price thereof and the person outside the United States to whom sold.

The remittance may be made by draft, money order or check, payable to the order of the Secretary of Agriculture, but any such draft, money order, or check shall be received subject to payment at par. [Act, Sec. 314 and 372.]

SEC. 308. Refund of penalties.—Whenever, pursuant to a claim filed with the Secretary of Agriculture within one year after payment to him of any penalty collected from any person pursuant to the Act, the Secretary of Agriculture finds that such penalty was erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected, the Secretary of Agriculture shall certify to the Secretary of the Treasury for payment to the claimant, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, such amount as the Secretary of Agriculture finds the claimant is entitled to receive as a refund of such penalty. Any claim filed with the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to this section shall be made in accordance with regulations to be prescribed by him. [Act, Sec. 372.]

ARTICLE IV.—MARKETING CARDS

SECTION 401. Form of card.—The marketing card (Form 38–Tobacco 14) shall contain the signature, in ink or indelible pencil, of both the person authorized to issue the marketing card and the operator, and a statement of the following:

(a) The State and county code and serial number of the farm for which the marketing card is issued;

(b) The number of the marketing card;

(c) The name and address of the operator;

(d) The amount of the marketing quota, or, if more than one marketing card is issued for the farm, the number of pounds for which the marketing card is issued, expressed in words on the face of the marketing card, and expressed in figures on the inside of the marketing card in column 1 opposite the word "Quota"; and

(e) The date on which the marketing card was issued. [Act, Sec. 373 and 375.]

SEC. 402. Persons to issue card.—The county committee shall designate one of its members or the Secretary of the County Agricultural Conservation Association as the person authorized to issue marketing cards for farms in the county. Only one person shall be designated by the committee for this purpose, and, in the absence of a specific designation, the Secretary of the County Agricultural Conservation Association shall be deemed to be the person designated. [Act, Sec. 375.]

SEC. 403. Receipt for card.—After the marketing card or cards have been duly prepared, they shall be delivered to the operator upon his receipt therefor. There shall be listed in the operator's receipt (Form 38–Tobacco 13), in the appropriate spaces thereon, (a) each marketing card issued for the farm and received by him and the number of pounds for which each such marketing card was issued, and (b) the names of all producers having a share in the tobacco available for marketing from the farm, and (c) the operator's estimate of the number of pounds of tobacco which will be available for marketing from the farm. The receipt shall be retained in the county office and shall be available to any producer having a share in the tobacco available for marketing from the farm, whether such person be listed on the receipt or not, either for inspection or for evidence as to any matter to which the receipt relates. [Act, Sec. 375.]

SEC. 404. Entries on card.—No person other than a field assistant, or a person designated by the Chief of the Tobacco Section, or by the county committee, shall make any entry (except for the writing by the operator of his signature) on the marketing card; but every entry on the marketing card should be carefully checked by each interested person, and any error should be immediately reported for correction to a person authorized to make entries on the marketing card. [Act, Sec. 375.]

SEC. 405. Rights of producers in card.—Each producer who has a share in the tobacco available for marketing from the farm shall have the right to market, or to have marketed for him, under the marketing card issued for the farm the quantity of such tobacco which he is entitled to market, or to have marketed, under the quota for the farm, as provided in section 203 of these regulations. [Act, Sec. 375.]

SEC. 406. Invalid cards.—(a) A marketing card shall be invalid if the marketing card was not issued or delivered in the form and manner required in this Article; but such invalid marketing card shall become valid when returned to the county office and reissued and delivered in the required form and manner.

(b) A marketing card shall be invalid if the entries on the marketing card with respect to the amount, portion or balance of quota are incorrect, or if, because of the omission of any entry which should have been made on the marketing card, the balance of unused quota is incorrect; but if, subsequent to the time of invalidation, no marketings have been made and entered on the marketing card which would have been subjected to penalty if the correct entries had been shown on the marketing card, then such invalid marketing card shall become valid when the error has been corrected by a person authorized to make entries on the marketing card, or, in any other case, when the marketing card has been returned to the Tobacco Section and the necessary corrections have been made under its direction.

(c) A marketing card shall be invalid if the marketing card is credited with an amount of quota, any part of which has been transferred in violation of the provisions of Article V; but such invalid marketing card shall become valid when the marketing card has been forwarded to the Tobacco Section and the necessary corrections have been made under its direction.

(d) A marketing card shall be invalid if any entry is made on the marketing card by a person not authorized to make such entry; but such invalid marketing card when returned to the county office shall be replaced by a new marketing card issued for an amount of quota determined as provided in section 400 of these regulations.

(e) The marketing card shall be invalid if it is presented and used to obtain a memorandum of sale covering the marketing of tobacco which was grown on a farm other than the farm for which the marketing card was issued; but such invalid marketing card shall become valid when returned to the Tobacco Section, and the necessary corrections have been made under its direction.

(f) The marketing card shall be invalid if it is lost or stolen; but if no entry has been made on the marketing card between the time of its loss or theft and its return to the operator of the farm for which the marketing card was issued, then such invalid marketing card shall become valid when it has been returned to the operator; or if any entry has been made on the marketing card between the time of its loss or theft and its return to the operator, then such invalid marketing card shall become valid when it has been returned to the Tobacco Section and the necessary corrections have been made under its direction; provided that if such lost or stolen marketing card is not found or returned to the operator prior to the issuance of a duplicate marketing card as provided in section 408 of these regulations, then such lost or stolen marketing card shall be permanently invalid.

(g) The marketing card shall be invalid if it is destroyed or becomes illegible; but a new marketing card shall be issued to replace such destroyed or illegible marketing card as provided in section 408 of these regulations and such destroyed or illegible marketing card shall be permanently invalid. [Act, Sec. 375.]

SEC. 407. Invalid cards suspended.—(a) If any field assistant or the county office shall learn of or ascertain the invalidity of any marketing card, such person shall immediately notify the Tobacco Section of the code and serial number, and the name of the operator of the farm for which the marketing card was issued, and of the facts causing the invalidity of the marketing card; unless the marketing card is then in the possession of such person, in which case he shall retain and make disposition of the marketing card in accordance with the provisions of section 406 of these regulations. Upon receipt of such notice the Tobacco Section shall notify all field assistants, the operator of the farm, and the county committee of the county where the farm is located, that the marketing card has been suspended for invalidity.

(b) If any such marketing card shall thereafter come into the possession of any field assistant or the county office, such person shall retain and make disposition of the marketing card in accordance with the provisions of section 406 of these regulations. [Act, Sec. 375.]

SEC. 408. Duplicate card to replace card which is lost, stolen, destroyed, or becomes illegible.—Whenever any marketing card is lost, stolen, destroyed or becomes illegible, the county office shall be notified of the code and serial number, and the name of the operator of the farm for which the marketing card was issued, the number of the marketing card, and, if known, the amount of the unused quota evidenced by the marketing card. Such notice shall be in writing, subscribed by the operator of the farm for which the marketing card was issued. If, in the case of a lost or stolen marketing card, the producer is at or near a warehouse where he believes the loss or theft occurred, he shall also notify the field assistant at the warehouse.

When such notice has been given to the county office and a period of two weeks has elapsed from the time of its receipt of such notice, a duplicate marketing card may be issued by the county office for an amount of quota determined as provided in section 409 of these regulations.

Such marketing card shall bear the same number as the number of the marketing card which was lost, stolen, destroyed or became illegible, and shall have written under the marketing number, in large letters, the word "duplicate." The person issuing the marketing card, shall sign the card in the space provided for his signature and shall also sign below the word "duplicate." [Act, Sec. 375.]

SEC. 409. Amount of quota for duplicate cards.—Whenever the county office issues a duplicate marketing card for any marketing card which has become invalid the amount of quota for which such card shall be issued shall equal whichever of the following amounts is the smaller:

(a) The unused quota as stated by the operator; or

(b) The unused quota as determined by subtracting from the quota for the farm the total marketings from the farm (as shown by memoranda of sale) and the amount of unused quota shown on all other marketing cards issued for the farm; provided that, if no amount is stated by the operator, the amount for which the card shall be issued shall equal the amount determined under (b) above. [Act, Sec. 375.]

SEC. 410. Replacement of old card.—Whenever, on any card, the space for recording marketings becomes inadequate, such marketing card shall be surrendered to the county office, and a new marketing card shall be issued for the amount of the quota remaining unused on the marketing card so surrendered. An appropriate entry shall be made on the surrendered marketing card showing that a new marketing card has been so issued. [Act, Sec. 375.]

ARTICLE V.—TRANSFER OF QUOTAS

[Act, Sec. 313 (d)]

SECTION 501. Transfer authorized.—A transfer of quota may be made to another farm only to the extent and in the manner provided in this Article.

SEC. 502. Amount transferable.—The quota for a farm may be transferred only to the extent and in the event that such quota exceeds the sum of (a) the number of pounds of tobacco available for marketing from the farm which have not been marketed (or otherwise disposed of) at the time of the proposed transfer, (b) the number of pounds of tobacco marketed from the farm solely for nicotine or other byproduct uses, and (c) the number of pounds of tobacco marketed from the farm which were grown for experimental purposes only by a publicly owned agricultural experiment station.

SEC. 503. Place and person to make transfer.—Transfers may be made at a warehouse by a field assistant or at the county office by a person authorized to make transfers.

SEC. 504. Transfer direct between operators or through warehouseman.—Transfers of quota may be made as a result of direct negotiation between the operators of the farms concerned in the transfer; or, subject to the provisions of this Article, an operator may authorize a warehouseman to act as his agent to arrange a transfer of quota.

If the operator of a farm desires to have a warehouseman act for him in arranging a transfer of quota from the farm, the operator shall deliver to the warehouseman his authorization (Form 38–Tobacco 23) and the marketing card for the farm from which the transfer is to be made. Such warehouseman shall then enter in his transfer record book (Form 38–Tobacco 24) the number of pounds of quota to be transferred, and shall present the marketing card and the authorization to a field assistant who shall charge the marketing card with the number of pounds to be transferred by making appropriate entries on the card. The marketing card shall then be returned to the warehouseman, and shall be retained by him until an examination of his transfer records has been made by an authorized representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

SEC. 505. How transfer made.—(a) If the transfer is to be made as a result of direct negotiation between the operators of the farms concerned in the transfer, the marketing cards for the respective farms, together with the authorization (Form 38–Tobacco 23) of the operator of the farm from which the transfer is to be made, shall be presented to a representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration authorized to make the transfer. Such representative shall then charge the marketing card for the farm from which the transfer is to be made, and credit the marketing card for the farm to which the transfer is to be made, with the number of pounds of quota transferred, by making appropriate entries on the respective marketing cards.

(b) If the transfer is to be made through a warehouseman, the warehouseman shall charge on his transfer record book the number of pounds of quota to be transferred, and shall then present his book to the field assistant in lieu of the presentation of an authorization and marketing card for the farm from which the transfer is to be made. The field assistant shall then credit the marketing card for the farm to which the transfer is made with the number of pounds transferred by making appropriate entries on such card.

SEC. 506. AAA record of transfer.—A representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration who makes any transfer entries on a marketing card shall make a record thereof on Form 38–Tobacco 15.

SEC. 507. Consideration for transfer.—(a) If a transfer is made as a result of direct negotiation between the operators of the farms concerned in the transfer, the consideration for the transfer shall be whatever consideration is agreed upon by the operators of the respective farms; provided that no such transfer shall be made for a consideration which is less than 5 cents per pound for each pound of quota transferred unless all the producers on the farm from which the quota is to be transferred have consented thereto.

(b) If a warehouseman acts as agent in connection with a transfer, the consideration for the transfer shall be a sum computed at the rate of, and at no other rate than, 5 cents per pound for each pound of quota transferred, and shall be paid by the warehouseman to the operator of the farm from which the transfer was made not later than the day next following the making of the transfer.

SEC. 508. Producers' rights in transferred quota.—Each producer having a share in the tobacco available for marketing from the farm which has not been marketed at the time of the transfer shall be entitled to market, or to have marketed for him, under the transferred quota that proportion of his share of such tobacco which his contribution to the consideration for such transfer is of the total consideration for the transfer.

SEC. 509. Distribution of consideration.—The consideration received by the operator for the transfer of any portion of the quota shall be divided by him among the producers on the farm in proportion to their shares in the tobacco available for marketing from the farm, unless all such producers agree among themselves to a different division of the consideration; provided that, if the quota transferred is quota which was not allotted to the farm but was acquired by transfer, then the consideration shall be divided by the operator among such producers on the farm who contributed to the payment of the consideration for the transfer in the proportion which their contributions were of the total consideration for the transfer, unless such producers agree among themselves to a different division of the consideration.

SEC. 510. Conditions of warehouseman's agency.—No warehouseman shall act as agent for the purpose of arranging transfers of quota; unless—

(a) He has executed an agreement on Form 38–Tobacco 26, and such agreement has been approved by the Chief of the Tobacco Section;

(b) With respect to each transfer, he has been authorized in writing to arrange the transfer (Form 38–Tobacco 23) by the operator of the farm from which the transfer is to be made; and

(c) His right to act as agent has not been terminated under the provisions of this Article.

SEC. 511. Warehouseman's charge for services.—A warehouseman acting as agent may charge the operator of the farm to which he arranges a transfer of quota a sum of not exceeding $1 for his services in connection with each transfer to the farm; provided that all quota transferred to a farm at the same time, whether transferred from one or more farms, shall be considered as one transfer. No other charge shall be made by a warehouseman for his services in connection with a transfer.

SEC. 512. Warehouseman's record of transfers.—Every warehouseman who acts as agent in connection with the transfer of marketing quotas shall keep complete and accurate record relative thereto on a transfer record book (Form 38–Tobacco 24). The transfer record book shall be and remain the property of the Secretary of Agriculture, and shall be available at all times for inspection by a representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration authorized to make such inspection by the Chief of the Tobacco Section, and upon request by the Chief of the Tobacco Section shall be immediately surrendered to the Secretary of Agriculture by forwarding it to the Tobacco Section, or by delivering it to a representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration authorized by the Chief of the Tobacco Section to receive such transfer record book.

SEC. 513. Order of transfer.—A warehouseman who acts as agent shall arrange for the transfer of quotas to farms in the order in which requests for such transfers together with the marketing cards upon which the transfers are to be entered are received by him from producers; provided that he may require requests to be accompanied by a deposit of the consideration (i. e., 5 cents per pound of each pound of quota requested). For the purpose of fixing the order of priority, the warehouseman shall enter in his transfer record book (Form 38–Tobacco 24) in the order in which requests for quota are received by him, the name of the operator and the county code and farm serial number of the farm to which the transfer is requested, the amount of the requested transfer, the amount of the deposit, if any, received.

SEC. 514. Termination of agency.—The warehouseman's right to act as agent shall be terminated by

(a) Voluntary surrender of the right, or

(b) Violation of any provision of this Article.

SEC. 515. Effect of voluntary termination.—If the termination is voluntary on the part of the warehouseman, he shall immediately notify the Chief of the Tobacco Section that he no longer desires to act as agent; and such warehouseman shall proceed as expeditiously as possible to settle all matters relating to the agency.

SEC. 516. Effect of involuntary termination as to warehouseman.—If the termination is made by his violation of any of the provisions of this Article, the warehouseman shall immediately forward his transfer record book (Form 38–Tobacco 25) to the Tobacco Section and any interest which the warehouseman may have in any cards then on hand in connection with transfers shall be forfeited and such cards and any authorizations for transfer (Form 38–Tobacco 23) relating thereto shall be turned over forthwith to the field assistant to be forwarded to the Tobacco Section. The Tobacco Section shall cause such publication of the fact of termination as appears necessary to protect the interests of producers.

ARTICLE VI.—RECORDS AND REPORTS

[Act, Sec. 373]

SECTION 601. Warehouseman's record of marketing. — Every warehouseman shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the Secretary of Agriculture a report of the following information with respect to each sale or resale of tobacco made on his warehouse: The name of the seller, the name of the purchaser, the date of sale, the number of pounds sold, the sale price, and, in the case of a sale for a producer, the name of the operator of the farm on which the tobacco sold was produced, the amount of the penalty, and what part of the amount of the penalty was deducted by him from the price paid the producer.

The reports on Form 38–Tobacco 19 and Form 38–Tobacco 21 shall be sent to the Comptroller, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Washington, D. C., not later than the end of the day next following the day for which the report is made; provided that, if he so elects, the warehouseman may accumulate the reports on Form 38–Tobacco 19 for one calendar week and make his return thereof on or before the end of the calendar week next following the week for which the reports were made.

Every warehouseman shall make such additional reports to the Secretary of Agriculture as the Chief of the Tobacco Section may, from time to time, request.

SEC. 604. Records of dealers.—Every dealer shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the Secretary of Agriculture a report of the following information with respect to each purchase (or other acquisition) of tobacco and each sale (or other disposition) of tobacco made by him: The date when and the place where made, the number of pounds of tobacco involved, the price (or other consideration) paid or received, the name and address of the person from which acquired or to whom the disposition was made (or if acquired or disposed of by sale at auction on a warehouse floor, the name of such warehouse), and in case the tobacco is acquired from a producer, the name of the operator of the farm on which the tobacco marketed was produced, the amount of the penalty, and what part of the amount of the penalty was deducted by him from the price paid the producer.

The reports shall be forwarded to the Comptroller, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Washington, D. C., not later than the end of the calendar week next following the week for which such daily reports are made.

Every dealer shall make such additional reports to the Secretary of Agriculture as the Chief of the Tobacco Section may, from time to time, request.

SEC. 606. Exception for certain dealers.—Any dealer, who does not purchase or otherwise acquire tobacco except at warehouse sale and who does not resell, prior to the redrying thereof, more than 15 percent of the tobacco purchased by him, shall not be subject to the provisions of section 605 of these regulations; but every such dealer shall make such reports to the Secretary of Agriculture as the Chief of the Tobacco Section may, from time to time, request.

SEC. 607. Records and reports of redryers, etc.—Every person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing, or stemming tobacco for producers shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the Secretary of Agriculture a report of the following information with respect to each lot of tobacco received by him: The date of receipt of the tobacco, the number of pounds received, the purpose for which the tobacco was received, the name and address of the person from whom the tobacco was received (and, if received from a producer, the name and address of the operator, and the code and serial number, of the farm on which the tobacco was grown), the amount of any advance made by him on the tobacco, and the disposition of the tobacco.

SEC. 609. Failure to keep record or make report.—Any warehouseman, processor or common carrier of tobacco, or person engaged in the business of purchasing tobacco from producers, or person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing or stemming tobacco for producers, who fails to make any report or keep any record as required under this Article or who makes any false report or record, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500.

Form 38–Tobacco 11, "Instructions for Determination of Flue-Cured Tobacco Farm Marketing Quotas for 1938",[3] is amended as follows:

"Paragraph C of Section I, Part 1, is amended by striking out the sentence therein reading:

"'The normal marketings for new farms will be 100 percent of the marketings indicated by the land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm' and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"'The normal marketings for new farms will be 50 percent of the marketings indicated by the land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm'."

"The second paragraph of Section II, Part 1, is amended by striking out the sentence therein reading:

"'The normal marketings for each new farm will be the marketings indicated by the land, labor and equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm.

and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"'The normal marketings for each new farm will be 50 percent of the marketings indicated by the land, labor and equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm.'"

Section III is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"E. Marketings for new farms in relation to equipment and 1938 acreage of tobacco.—The normal marketings for any new farm shall not be less than the smaller of (a) 1,000 pounds for the farm plus an additional 1,000 pounds for each tobacco curing barn on the farm in condition for use in 1938, or (b) 150 percent of the acreage of tobacco to be harvested on the farm in 1938 times the farm yield."

Section IV is amended by striking out paragraph C and by inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"C. Four percent addition to the State quota.—A number of pounds equal to four percent of the farm quotas established (pursuant to A above) for all old farms in each State will be apportioned among such farms. The apportionment to each such farm shall be made in proportion to the amount by which the farm marketing quota is less than 70 percent of whichever of the following amounts is the smaller:

(1) the adjusted past marketing for the farm, or

(2) 150 percent of the 1938 acreage of tobacco to be harvested on the farm times the farm yield."

"D. Preliminary farm marketing quota.—A preliminary quota not to exceed that number of pounds obtained by multiplying the number of acres of tobacco to be harvested on the farm in 1938 by 400 pounds may be assigned to a farm, if, within two days of the opening of the tobacco markets on which the operator of the farm states that he desires to market the tobacco produced on the farm, the farm marketing quota has not yet been allotted to the farm; provided that in the case of a new farm the preliminary quota shall not exceed the smaller of (1) the sum of 300 pounds for the farm plus 300 pounds for each tobacco curing barn on the farm in condition for use in 1938, or (2) the number of pounds obtained by multiplying the number of acres of tobacco to be harvested on the farm in 1938 by 300 pounds.

If other matter is in such volume as would necessarily cumber the record, such book or document will not be received in evidence but may be marked for identification, and, if properly authenticated, the relevant or material matter may be read into the record, or, if the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative so directs, a true copy of such matter, in proper form, shall be received as an exhibit, and like copies delivered by the party offering the same to opposing parties or their attorneys appearing at the hearing who shall be afforded an opportunity to examine the book, paper, or document, and to offer in evidence in like manner other portions thereof if found to be material and relevant.

(b) Commission's Files.—In case any matter contained in a report or other document on file with the Commission is offered in evidence, such report or other document need not be produced or marked for identification, but in other respects the provisions of the foregoing section 466.16 (a) will apply.

(c) Records in Other Proceedings.—In case any portion of the record in any proceeding other than the one on hearing is offered in evidence, a true copy of such portion shall be presented for the record in the form of an exhibit unless:

(1) The party offering the same agrees to supply such copies later at his own expense, if and when required by the Commission; and

(2) The portion is specified with particularity in such manner as to be readily identified; and

(3) The parties represented at the hearing stipulate upon the record that such portion may be incorporated by reference, and that any portion offered by any other party may be incorporated by like reference subject to (1) and (2); and

(4) The presiding Commissioner, examiner or other representative directs such incorporation.

(d) Objections.—Any documentary evidence offered, whether in the form of exhibit or by reference, shall be subject to appropriate objection.

(e) Copies to Opposing Counsel.—When exhibits of a documentary character are offered in evidence, copies must be furnished to opposing counsel unless the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative otherwise directs.

SEC. 466.17 Stipulations—(a) How Evidenced.—The parties may by stipulation in writing filed with the Commission or presented at the hearing, agree upon any facts involved in the proceeding; but such stipulation between the parties shall not bind the Commission as to such facts unless expressly approved by the Commission.

SEC. 466.18 Further Evidence and Closing of Record.—In any case, at or after the close of testimony or at any stage of the hearing, the presiding Commissioner, examiner or other such representative of the Commission may call for further evidence upon any issue and may reopen the case for the purpose of receiving further evidence, but shall cause to be given due and reasonable notice to all parties in interest appearing at the hearing of the time and place fixed for the further taking of testimony. No further evidence shall be taken after the report is filed with the Commission, except where the cause is reopened by order of the Commission.* #

SEC. 466.19 Continuances.—Applications for continuances or for the extension of time in which to file any pleadings or briefs shall be made in writing, stating the facts on which the request is based, and filed with the Commission. Continuances and extensions of time will be granted or denied by the Commission in its discretion.* #

SEC. 466.20 Witnesses and Subpenas.—(a) Subpenas; Who May Issue.—Subpenas requiring the attendance of witnesses from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing may be issued by the Commission or any member thereof or any officer designated by it.

(b) Subpenas Duces Tecum.—Subpenas for the production of books, papers, or documents unless directed by the Commission upon its own motion will issue only upon application in writing. Applications to compel witnesses to produce documentary evidence must be verified and must specify, as nearly as may be, the books, papers or documents desired and the facts to be proved by them.

(c) Fees of Witnesses.—Witnesses who are summoned are entitled to the same fees as are paid for like services in the Courts of the United States, such fees to be paid by the party at whose instance the testimony is taken, and the Commission before issuing subpena may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

(d) Subpenas; Service; Return.—If service of subpena is made by a United States Marshal or his deputy, such service shall be evidenced by his return thereon. If made by any other persons, such person shall make affidavit thereof, describing the manner in which service is made and return such affidavit on or with the original subpena. In case of failure to make service, the reason for the failure shall be stated on the original subpena. In making service, the original subpena shall be exhibited and read to the person served and a copy thereof shall be left with him. Original subpena, bearing or accompanied by the required return, affidavit, or statement, shall be returned forthwith to the Secretary of the Commission, or, if so directed on the subpena, to the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative of the Commission before whom the person named in the subpena is required to appear.* #

SEC. 466.21 Transcript of Testimony.—The Commission will make provisions for a stenographic record of the proceeding and for such copies of the transcript as it requires for its own purposes. The Commission assumes no obligation to furnish copies gratuitously to parties of record or other interested persons.* #

He may impose such limits of time on the argument as he may determine, having regard for other assignments for hearing before him. Such argument will be transcribed and bound with the transcript of testimony and will be available to the Commission for consideration in deciding the case.

(b) Forms and Style of Briefs.—Briefs must comply with the requirements of section 466.12. The date of each brief must appear on the front cover or title page. Each brief should contain an abstract of the evidence relied upon by the party filing it, preferably assembled by subjects with reference to the pages of the record or exhibit where the evidence appears. It should include requests for such specific findings as the party thinks the Commission should make.

(c) Arrangements of Contents.—The brief should contain a concise statement of the case which should precede the abstract of evidence. The abstract of evidence should precede the argument. Exhibits should not be reproduced in the brief, but if desired may be reproduced in an appendix of the brief. Analysis of such exhibits should be included in the abstract of evidence under the subjects to which they pertain. Every brief of more than twenty pages should contain on its front leaves a subject index with page references, and a list of all cases cited alphabetically and arranged with reference to the pages where the citations appear.

(d) Filing; Service; Number of Copies.—At the close of the testimony in each case, the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other representative of the Commission, will fix, at his discretion, depending upon the magnitude of the issues involved, the time for filing and service of the respective briefs. All briefs should be filed simultaneously. Only one brief shall be filed by each party. All briefs must be accompanied by notice showing service upon all parties or their attorneys who appeared at the hearing or on brief, and 15 copies of each brief shall be furnished for the use of the Commission.

(b) Statement as to New Evidence.—If the petition be for further hearing before final submission or for reopening the proceeding to take further evidence, the nature and purpose of the evidence to be adduced must be briefly stated and it must appear not to be merely cumulative.

(c) Specification of Errors.—If the petition be for rehearing, reargument, or reconsideration, the matters claimed to have been erroneously decided must be specified and the alleged errors briefly stated. If the order of the Commisison is sought to be vacated, reversed, or modified by reason of matters which have arisen since the hearing or of consequences which would result from compliance therewith, the matters relied upon by the petitioner must be set forth in the petition.

(b) Exceptions to Proposed Report; Briefs; Requests for Oral Argument.—Within 15 days after service of the proposed report any party may file with the Commission and serve in the manner prescribed in section 466.22 exceptions and brief to the proposed report of the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other Commission representative. Exceptions and brief should be one document. Within 15 days after expiration of the time so fixed briefs in reply may be filed and served, but will not be received later except on leave granted upon application therefor. Application for oral argument before the Commission may be made by any party filing exceptions or reply to exceptions, and must accompany the exceptions or reply. The Commission will set a time and place for oral argument and give notice thereof by mail to all parties of interest appearing in the case. Reasonable time limit for argument will be imposed by the Commission, with due regard to the magnitude of the issues involved.

(c) Exceptions to be Specified with References to Record.—Exceptions to the presiding Commissioner, examiner, or other Commission representative's proposed report either as to statements of fact or matters of law must be specific. If exception is taken to matters of law and conclusions, the points relied upon must be stated separately and clearly. If exception is taken to any statement of fact reference must be made to the page or pages of the record relied upon and a proposed corrected statement incorporated in the exception brief.* #

SEC. 466.25 Petitions for Review.—If a hearing has been conducted by a division of the Commission, such division, consisting of three members of the full Commission, shall exercise all of the powers and authority of the Commission in the premises, provided, however, that upon written petition filed by an interested party a review may be secured by the full Commission of the report, finding, or order of such division of the Commission. SEC. 466.27 Change in and Waiver of Rules.—(a) Change.—The rules of procedure adopted by the Commission are subject to be changed by order of the Commission without notice to any person. The Secretary shall publish the rules of practice and procedure from time to time as they shall then exist and shall furnish a reasonable number of copies thereof to any interested person upon application to him without charge therefor.

(b) Waiver.—The Commission may waive conformance with these rules or any of them by any person in its discretion either upon its own motion or upon petition by such person.* #

By order of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That respondents shall cease and desist from continuing, making, carrying into effect, maintaining or renewing any agreement, understanding, or conspiracy, to use any methods for the substantial lessening or suppression of price competition in snow fence products, in interstate commerce, including the following methods, to-wit:

(a) The filing with respondents' executive secretary, or any other agent, of the respective delivered price lists, discounts, or terms of sale of respective respondents with the understanding that the same are to be maintained, for all sales of snow fence products made by each said respondent so filing, either indefinitely or for a given period, or until a new filing shall be made;

Provided, however: (1) That any understanding, agreement or conspiracy as to any matter or thing, from which respondents are collectively prohibited by the above provisions of this order, shall, if undertaken on the part of any number of respondents, more than one and less than all, be as fully within the prohibitions hereof as though all respondents participated therein; and

(2) That any matter or thing from which respondents are collectively prohibited by the above provisions of this order shall not be deemed to be within the prohibitions hereof if done by any respondent individually and wholly apart from any understanding, agreement, or conspiracy with others; but nothing herein contained shall be deemed to have sanctioned any discrimination in price practiced by any respondent individually.

TITLE 21.—CHAPTER I

Part I.—Regulations Under Sections 201 (p) and 505—New Drugs

SEC. 1.01. A drug may be a new drug by reason of—

(1) the newness for drug use of any substance which composes the drug, in whole or in part, whether it be an active substance or a menstruum, excipient, carrier, coating, or other component;

(2) the newness for drug use of a combination of two or more substances, none of which is a new drug;

SEC. 1.02. A new drug shall not be deemed to be subject to section 505 of the Act if it is subject to the Virus, Serum, and Toxin Act of July 1, 1902 (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 42, ch. 4), or the Virus, Serum, Toxins, Antitoxins and Analogous Products Act of March 4, 1913 (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 21, ch. 5), and complies with such Act.

SEC. 1.03. To be valid an application must contain as a part thereof all the matter required by section 505 (b) of the Act; the Secretary shall not permit the filing of an application which is incomplete. The Food and Drug Administration shall notify the applicant of the date on which his application is filed.

SEC. 1.04. If the Secretary finds, before the date prescribed by section 505 (c) of the Act for an application to become effective, that he has no cause to issue an order under section 505 (d) of the Act refusing to permit the application to become effective, the Food and Drug Administration shall so notify the applicant in writing, and the application shall become effective on the date of the notification.

SEC. 1.05. A new drug intended solely for investigational use by experts qualified by scientific training and experience to investigate the safety of drugs, shall be exempt from the operation of section 505 of the Act if—

(1) its labeling bears the statement "For investigational use only.";

(2) it is delivered only to such experts and is used by them solely for investigation;

(3) each expert has adequate facilities for the investigation to be conducted by him; and

(4) the person who introduced the drug in interstate commerce, or delivered it for such introduction, holds a signed statement from each expert to the effect that he will not use the drug otherwise than in the investigation to be conducted by him unless and until an application under section 505 (b) of the Act becomes effective with respect to such drug.

Part II.—Regulations Under Section 702—General Administrative Provisions: Examinations and Investigations

SEC. 2.01. (a) An official sample is a sample collected by an officer or employee of the Department from a shipment or other lot of an article within the jurisdiction of the Act, with records or other evidence showing such jurisdiction. Analysis includes examinations and tests.

(b) An official sample of a food, drug, or cosmetic collected for analysis under the Act shall be at least twice the quantity estimated by the officer or employee to be sufficient therefor, unless—

(1) the amount of the article available and reasonably accessible for sampling is less than twice the quantity so estimated;

(2) the cost of twice the quantity so estimated exceeds $10;

(3) the article is perishable;

(4) the sample is collected from a shipment which is being imported or offered for import into the United States, or from a person named on the label of the article, or his agent, and such person is also the owner of the article; or

(5) the analysis consists principally of rapid analytical procedures, organoleptic examination, or other field inspection examinations or tests, made at the place where the sample is collected or in a mobile or temporary laboratory.

In addition to the quantity of sample prescribed above the officer or employee shall, if practicable, collect as part of the sample such further amount of the article as he estimates to be sufficient for use as exhibits in the trial of any case under the Act based on the sample.

(c) After the Food and Drug Administration has completed such analysis of an official sample of a food, drug, or cosmetic as it determines, in the course of analysis and interpretation of analytical results, to be adequate to establish the respects, if any, in which the article is in violation of the Act, and has reserved an amount of the article it estimates to be adequate for use as exhibits in the trial of any case under the Act based on the sample, a part of the sample, if any remains available, shall be provided for analysis, upon written request, by any person named on the label of the article, or the owner thereof, or the attorney or agent of such person or owner, except when—

(1) the sample, after collection, has become decomposed or otherwise unfit for analysis, or

(2) the request is not made within a reasonable time before the trial of any case under the Act based on the sample.

The person, owner, attorney, or agent who requests the part of sample shall specify the amount desired and make advance payment of the cost thereof. A request from an owner shall be accompanied by a showing of ownership, and a request from an attorney or agent by a showing of authority from such person or owner to receive the part of sample. When two or more requests for parts of the same sample are received the requests will be complied with in the order in which they were received so long as any part of the sample remains available therefor.

(d) When an official sample of a food, drug, or cosmetic is the basis of a notice of hearing under section 305 of the Act, or of a case under the Act, and the person who received the notice or who is a party to the case has no right under paragraph (c) to a part of the sample, such person or his attorney or agent may obtain a part of the sample upon request accompanied by a statement from each person named on the label of the article, and owner thereof, who has not exercised his right under paragraph (c), waiving such right. The operation of this paragraph shall be subject to the exceptions, terms, and conditions prescribed in paragraph (c).

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

[T. D. 4832]

INCOME TAX

AMENDMENT OF REGULATIONS 74, 77, 86 AND 94, RELATING TO GAIN OR LOSS UPON INSTALLMENT OBLIGATIONS WHEN PROPERTY SOLD IS REPOSSESSED

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

PARAGRAPH A. Article 351 of Regulations 74 and article 351 of Regulations

77 are amended by eliminating the last three paragraphs of each article and by inserting in each article (in lieu of the three paragraphs so eliminated) the following:

"If for any reason the purchaser defaults in any of his payments, and the vendor returning income on the installment basis repossesses the property sold, whether title thereto had been retained by the vendor or transferred to the purchaser, gain or loss for the year in which the repossession occurs is to be computed upon any installment obligations of the purchaser which are satisfied or discharged upon the repossession or are applied by the vendor to the purchase or bid price of the property. Such gain or loss is to be measured by the difference between the fair market value of the property repossessed and the basis in the hands of the vendor of the obligations of the purchaser which are so satisfied, discharged, or applied, with proper adjustment for any other amounts realized or costs incurred in connection with the repossession. See also article 355. The basis in the hands of the vendor of the obligations of the purchaser satisfied, discharged, or applied upon the repossession of the property shall be the excess of the face value of such obligations over an amount equal to the income which would be returnable were the obligations paid in full. No deduction for a bad debt shall in any case be taken on account of any portion of the obligations of the purchaser which are treated by the vendor as not having been satisfied, discharged, or applied upon the repossession, unless it is clearly shown that after the property was repossessed the purchaser remained liable for such portion; and in no event shall the amount of the deduction exceed the basis in the hands of the vendor of the portion of the obligations with respect to which the purchaser remained liable after the repossession. See also article 191. If the property repossessed is bid in by the vendor at a lawful public auction or judicial sale, the fair market value of the property shall be presumed to be the purchase or bid price thereof in the absence of clear and convincing proof to the contrary. The property repossessed shall be carried on the books of the vendor at its fair market value at the time of repossession.

"If the vendor chooses as a matter of consistent practice to return the income from installment sales on the straight accrual or cash receipts and disbursements basis, such a course is permissible."

PAR. B. Article 44–1 of Regulations 86 and article 44–1 of Regulations 94[1] are amended by eliminating the last three paragraphs of each article and by inserting in each article (in lieu of the three paragraphs so eliminated) the following:

"If for any reason the purchaser defaults in any of his payments, and the vendor returning income on the installment basis repossesses the property sold, whether title thereto had been retained by the vendor or transferred to the purchaser, gain or loss for the year in which the repossession occurs is to be computed upon any installment obligations of the purchaser which are satisfied or discharged upon the repossession or are applied by the vendor to the purchase or bid price of the property. Such gain or loss is to be measured by the difference between the fair market value of the property repossessed and the basis in the hands of the vendor of the obligations of the purchaser which are so satisfied, discharged, or applied, with proper adjustment for any other amounts realized or costs incurred in connection with the repossession. See also article 44–5. The basis in the hands of the vendor of the obligations of the purchaser satisfied, discharged, or applied upon the repossession of the property shall be the excess of the face value of such obligations over an amount equal to the income which would be returnable were the obligations paid in full. No deduction for a bad debt shall in any case be taken on account of any portion of the obligations of the purchaser which are treated by the vendor as not having been satisfied, discharged, or applied upon the repossession, unless it is clearly shown that after the property was repossessed the purchaser remained liable for such portion; and in no event shall the amount of the deduction exceed the basis in the hands of the vendor of the portion of the obligations with respect to which the purchaser remained liable after the repossession. See also article 23 (k)–1. If the property repossessed is bid in by the vendor at a lawful public auction or judicial sale, the fair market value of the property shall be presumed to be the purchase or bid price thereof in the absence of clear and convincing proof to the contrary. The property repossessed shall be carried on the books of the vendor at its fair market value at the time of repossession.

"If the vendor chooses as a matter of consistent practice to return the income from installment sales on the straight accrual or cash receipts and disbursements basis, such a course is permissible."

PAR. C. Article 353 of Regulations 74, as amended by Treasury Decision 4360, approved December 23, 1932, and article 353 of Regulations 77 are amended by eliminating the second paragraph of each article and by inserting in each article (in lieu of the paragraph so eliminated) the following:

"If the purchaser defaults in any of his payments, and the vendor returning income on the installment basis reacquires the property sold, whether title thereto had been retained by the vendor or transferred to the purchaser, gain or loss for the year in which the reacquisition occurs is to be computed upon any installment obligations of the purchaser which are satisfied or discharged upon the reacquisition or are applied by the vendor to the purchase or bid price of the property. Such gain or loss is to be measured by the difference between the fair market value of the property reacquired (including the fair market value of any fixed improvements placed on the property by the purchaser) and the basis in the hands of the vendor of the obligations of the purchaser which are so satisfied, discharged, or applied, with proper adjustment for any other amounts realized or costs incurred in connection with the reacquisition. See also article 355. The basis in the hands of the vendor of the obligations of the purchaser satisfied, discharged, or applied upon the reacquisition of the property will be the excess of the face value of such obligations over an amount equal to the income which would be returnable were the obligations paid in full. No deduction for a bad debt shall in any case be taken on account of any portion of the obligations of the purchaser which are treated by the vendor as not having been satisfied, discharged, or applied upon the reacquisition of the property, unless it is clearly shown that after the property was reacquired the purchaser remained liable for such portion; and in no event shall the amount of the deduction exceed the basis in the hands of the vendor of the portion of the obligations with respect to which the purchaser remained liable after the reacquisition. See article 191. If the property reacquired is bid in by the vendor at a foreclosure sale, the fair market value of the property shall be presumed to be the purchase or bid price thereof in the absence of clear and convincing proof to the contrary. If the property reacquired is subsequently sold, the basis for determining gain or loss is the fair market value of the property at the date of reacquisition (including the fair market value of any fixed improvements placed on the property by the purchaser)."

PAR. D. Article 44–3 of Regulations 86 and article 44–3 of Regulations 94 are amended by eliminating the second paragraph of each article and by inserting in each article (in lieu of the paragraph so eliminated) the following:

"If the purchaser defaults in any of his payments, and the vendor returning income on the installment basis reacquires the property sold, whether title thereto had been retained by the vendor or transferred to the purchaser, gain or loss for the year in which the reacquisition occurs is to be computed upon any installment obligations of the purchaser which are satisfied or discharged upon the reacquisition or are applied by the vendor to the purchase or bid price of the property. Such gain or loss is to be measured by the difference between the fair market value of the property reacquired (including the fair market value of any fixed improvements placed on the property by the purchaser) and the basis in the hands of the vendor of the obligations of the purchaser which are so satisfied, discharged, or applied, with proper adjustment for any other amounts realized or costs incurred in connection with the reacquisition. See also article 44–5. The basis in the hands of the vendor of the obligations of the purchaser satisfied, discharged, or applied upon the reacquisition of the property will be the excess of the face value of such obligations over an amount equal to the income which would be returnable were the obligations paid in full. No deduction for a bad debt shall in any case be taken on account of any portion of the obligations of the purchaser which are treated by the vendor as not having been satisfied, discharged, or applied upon the reacquisition of the property, unless it is clearly shown that after the property was reacquired the purchaser remained liable for such portion; and in no event shall the amount of the deduction exceed the basis in the hands of the vendor of the portion of the obligations with respect to which the purchaser remained liable after the reacquisition. See article 23 (k)–1. If the property reacquired is bid in by the vendor at a foreclosure sale, the fair market value of the property shall be presumed to be the purchase or bid price thereof in the absence of clear and convincing proof to the contrary. If the property reacquired is subsequently sold, the basis for determining gain or loss is the fair market value of the property at the date of reacquisition (including the fair market value of any fixed improvements placed on the property by the purchaser)."

Notices

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN ARGUMENTS IN SUPPORT OF OR OPPOSITION TO AN ORDER REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MARKETING AREA

Whereas, after due notice,[1] public hearings were conducted by representatives of the Department of Agriculture at Albany, New York, May 16, 1938; Malone, New York, May 17, 1938; Syracuse, New York, May 18, 1938; Elmira, New York, May 19, 1938; New York City, May 20, 24, 25 and 26, 1938; and Albany, New York, June 3, 4, and 7, 1938, on a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the New York Metropolitan Marketing Area; and

Whereas, prior to the issuance of an order regulating the handling of milk in the New York Metropolitan Marketing Area, the Secretary desires that an opportunity be given to interested parties to file written arguments in support of or in opposition to the issuance of such order;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that any interested party may file written arguments in support of or in opposition to the findings and provisions, or any of them, of the order attached hereto. Seven copies of such written arguments must be delivered to the Hearing Clerk, Room 1318 South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., not later than the 2nd day of August 1938, or must be deposited in the United States mail, addressed to the Hearing Clerk, and postmarked not later than midnight of the 1st day of August 1938.

In witness whereof, I, M. L. Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, have executed this notice in duplicate and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, this 22nd day of July 1938.

[SEAL] M. L. WILSON,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

FINDINGS

1. That approximately one-third of the milk produced for sale in the marketing area is produced in States other than the State of New York; that approximately one-third of the milk produced in the State of New York for sale in the marketing area passes through other States on its way to be sold in the marketing area; and that milk produced in the State of New York for sale in the marketing area which does not pass through other States on its way to be sold in the marketing area is physically and inextricably intermingled with that milk which is produced outside the State of New York for sale in the marketing area or which is produced in the State of New York for sale in the marketing area but which passes through other States on its way to be sold in the marketing area; and that all milk which is produced for sale in the marketing area is handled in the current of interstate commerce or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk and its products, except as such milk is regulated by an order of the Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets of the State of New York, to which this order is complementary;

2. That the prices calculated to give milk handled in the marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to section 2 and section 8c of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds and other economic conditions which affect the supply and demand for such milk, and that the minimum prices fixed in accordance with the method set forth in this order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest;

3. That this order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to handlers defined in a marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held;

4. That a pro rata assessment on handlers at a rate not to exceed 2 cents per hundredweight of Class I, II–A, and II–B milk handled will provide funds necessary for the proper administration of this order; and

[1] 3 F. R. 1000 DI.

5. That orderly marketing conditions for milk flowing into the New York metropolitan marketing area are so disrupted as to result in impairment of the purchasing power of such milk, and that the issuance of this order and all of its terms and conditions will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Any utilization of milk claimed by a handler shall be subject to verification by the market administrator. Any claim by a handler of utilization of milk at the plant of any other person shall be accompanied by a complete statement of such utilization and written consent by such person for the market administrator to verify such statement by an audit of such person's records.

SEC. 4. Verification of reports and payments.—The market administrator shall promptly verify all reports and payments of each handler by audit of such handler's records. Each handler shall, during the usual hours of business, make available to the market administrator or his representative such of his records and facilities as will enable the market administrator to:

1. Verify the receipts and utilization of all milk required to be reported, pursuant to this article, and, in case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

2. Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

3. Verify the payments to producers prescribed in article VII.

Article VI.—Determination of Uniform Price

SECTION 1. Net pool obligation of handlers.—The net pool obligation of any handler for milk received from producers during each month shall be a sum of money computed for such month as follows:

1. Determine the total quantity of milk in each class at each plant;

2. Subtract from the quantity of milk in each class the quantity of such milk received from other plants, or from other handlers;

3. Subtract pro rata out of each class the quantity of milk received in bulk from the handler's own farm;

4. Subtract from the remaining quantity of milk in each class, the quantity of each to which the prices in section 1 of article IV do not apply, which result shall be known as the "net pooled milk" in each class;

5. Multiply the total quantity of net pooled milk in each class, at all plants of the handler combined, by the respective class prices set forth in section 1 of article IV, and add together the resulting sums;

6. Deduct, in the case of each plant where the average butterfat content of all milk received from producers is in excess of 3.5 percent and add in the case of each plant where the average butterfat content of all milk received from producers is less than 3.5 percent, an amount equal to the difference between the total value of the butterfat differentials on net pooled milk in Classes III-A, IV-A, and IV-B at the rates set forth in section 2 of article IV for such milk and the total value of the butterfat differentials on such milk as set forth in section 3 of article VII:

7. Deduct, in the case of each plant nearer New York City than the 201–210 mile zone and add in the case of each plant farther from New York City than the 201–210 mile zone, an amount equal to the difference between the total value of the transportation differentials on all net pooled milk in Classes II-A, II-B, III-A, III-B, and III-C, at the rates set forth in section 3 of article IV, and the total value of the transportation differentials on net pooled milk in Classes II-A, II-B, III-A, III-B, III-C, IV-A, and IV-B at the rates set forth in column B of the schedule in section 3 of article IV; and

8. Deduct 20 cents per hundredweight for all net pooled milk received from producers at plants in the counties listed below in this section. The result thus obtained shall be known as the "handler's net pool obligation."

Counties

New York.—Columbia, Dutchess, Nassau, Orange, Putnam, Suffolk, Ulster, and Westchester.

New Jersey.—Hunterdon, Somerset, Essex, Union, Morris, Warren, Sussex, and Passaic.

Connecticut.—Litchfield.

Massachusetts.—Berkshire.

SEC. 2. Computation of the uniform price.—The market administrator shall, on or before the 14th day of each month, audit for mathematical correctness and obvious errors the final report submitted for the preceding month by each handler and, on the 14th day of such month, compute from all of such corrected reports the uniform price in the following manner:

1. Combine into one total the net pool obligations of all handlers;

2. Subtract the total of payments required to be made for such month by section 3 of article VII and claimed pursuant to section 6 of article VII;

3. Add the amount of cash in the producer settlement fund;

4. Divide the result by the total quantity of milk represented in the sum obtained pursuant to paragraph 1 of this section; and

5. Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents to provide against the contingency of errors in reports and payments or of delinquencies in payments by handlers. This result shall be known as the uniform price for such month for milk containing 3.6 percent butterfat received from producers at plants in the 201–210 mile zone.

Article VII.—Payments to Producers

SECTION 1. Time of payment.—On or before the 25th day of each month each handler which is not a cooperative association of producers shall make payment to each producer for all milk delivered by such producer at any plant during the preceding month at not less than the uniform price, subject to differentials set forth in sections 2 and 3 of this article. If, however, the net pooled milk in all classes at all plants of such handler is less than the total milk he received from producers and he does not pay the uniform price for all milk received from producers, such handler shall pay each producer the uniform price on such producer's pro rata share of the net pooled milk at all of his plants. Each handler shall give each producer a clear statement of the percentage of such producer's milk which was paid for at the uniform price and furnish a copy of such statement to the market administrator at the time payment is made.

SEC. 2. Transportation and location differentials.—The uniform price shall be plus or minus the differential shown in column B of the schedule contained in section 3 of article IV for the zone of the plant as established for the purposes of section 3 of article IV, plus 25 cents in the case of plants located in the counties listed in paragraph 8 of section 1 of article VI.

SEC. 3. Butterfat differential.—The uniform price shall be plus or minus, as the case may be, 4 cents per hundredweight for each one-tenth of one percent above or below 3.5 percent of average butterfat content of milk delivered by any producer during any month.

SEC. 4. Grade A premium.—In addition to the uniform price and all other payments required pursuant to this article, each handler shall pay for milk which is qualified under the New York City Department of Health requirements for sale as Grade A milk and which is delivered to a plant similarly qualified, an amount per hundredweight equivalent to the following differentials on that Class I milk which such handler sold in the marketing area as Grade A milk:

Butterfat content (percent)	Bacteria colonies per cc
	10,000 or less	10,000 to 25,000	Over 25,000
	Cents per cwt.	Cents per cwt.	Cents per cwt.
3.7	60	42	5
3.8	66	48	7.5
4.0 and above	78	60	12

SEC. 5. Payments to cooperative associations.—Any cooperative association of producers may apply to the Secretary for a determination of its qualifications to receive payments pursuant to this section by reason of its having and exercising full authority in the sale of the milk of its members, using its best efforts to supply in times of short supply Class I milk to the marketing area, and to secure utilization of milk, in times of long supply, in a manner to assure the greatest possible returns to all producers, and having its entire activities under the control of its members. After such determination the cooperative association of producers shall be entitled to continue to receive such payment until it has been disqualified by the Secretary, after hearing for failure to exercise the authority and to perform the functions upon which such determination was based.

The market administrator shall make the payments authorized by this section, or issue credit therefor, out of the producer settlement fund on or before the 25th day of each month, subject to verification of the reports upon which such payment is based. Such payments shall be made to each cooperative association of producers under the following conditions and at the following rates:

1. One cent per hundredweight of net pooled milk at any handler's plant which was caused to be delivered from its members by such association and on which such handler has made the reports and payments required by this order.

2. Except as set forth in paragraph 3 of this section, 2½ cents per hundredweight of net pooled milk at plants of other handlers which was reported and collected for by such association.

3. Five cents per hundredweight of net pooled milk at plants operated by such association and, if, in addition to the other qualifications, such association has been determined by the Secretary to have sufficient plant capacity to receive all the milk of its members and to be willing and able to receive milk from producers not members, 5 cents per hundredweight of any net pooled milk which was caused by it to be delivered to any other handler and which is reported and collected for by such association.

SEC. 6. Market service payment.—The market administrator shall pay out of the producer settlement fund to any handler immediately after audit of claim for such payment made on forms supplied by the market administrator:

1. With respect to milk received from producers at a plant operated by such handler equipped only for the receiving and shipping of milk to the marketing area, which was during any month except November or December, moved to a plant where it was utilized in Classes II-A, II-B, III-A, III-B, III-C, III-D, or, during the month of October, IV-A, 23 cents per hundredweight of milk so moved, plus 4 cents per hundredweight for the first five miles or fraction thereof, plus ¼ cent per hundredweight per mile for the next 20 miles, and plus ⅒th of 1 cent per hundredweight per additional mile, of the shortest highway distance between the two plants; and

2. Thirty cents per hundredweight of Class I milk sold in the marketing area, during the months of November and December received from producers at a plant which is equipped for condensing or drying milk and from which, during the months of May and June preceding, in terms of equivalent of milk received at such plant, no milk in excess of 10 percent and no cream in excess of 50 percent was shipped to the marketing area.

SEC. 7. Producer settlement fund.—The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as "the producer settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to sections 8 and 10 of this article and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to sections 6, 9, and 10, of this article, and to cooperative associations of producers, pursuant to section 5 of this article.

SEC. 8. Payments to the producer settlement fund.—Each handler shall on or before the 18th day of each month pay to the market administrator for payment to producers through the producer settlement fund the amount by which his net pool obligation for the preceding month is greater than the amount obtained by multiplying the net pooled milk of such handler by the uniform price.

SEC. 9. Payments out of producer settlement fund.—On or before the 20th day of each month the market administrator shall remit to each handler for payment to producers the amount, if any, by which such handler's net pool obligation is less than the amount obtained by multiplying the net pooled milk of such handler by the uniform price. If at such time the balance in the producer settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments due to such handler, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly the payments made to each handler and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who on the 25th day of the month has not received the balance of such reduced payment from the market administrator shall be deemed to be in violation of section 1 of this article if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer settlement fund.

SEC. 10. Adjustments of errors in payments.—Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors made in payments to or from the producer settlement fund, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount, and such handler shall, within five days, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler the market administrator shall, within five days, make such payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment to any producer for milk delivered to any handler discloses payment to such producer of less than is required by this article, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment next following such disclosure.

Article VIII.—Expense of Administration

SECTION 1. Payment by handlers.—As his pro rata share of the expense of administration hereof, each handler shall, on or before the 20th day of each month, pay to the market administrator a sum not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight on the total quantity of milk which was received from producers at plants operated by such handler, directly or at the instance of a cooperative association of producers, and which was utilized in Classes I, II–A, and II–B, the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the Secretary. This section shall not be deemed to duplicate any similar payment by any handler under any order issued by the Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets of the State of New York to which this order is complementary.

Article IX.—Suspension, Termination and Liquidation

SECTION 1. Continuing obligation of handlers.—Unless otherwise provided by the Secretary in any notice of amendment, termination or suspension of any or all of the provisions hereof, such amendment, termination or suspension shall not (a) affect, waive, or terminate any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen or may thereafter arise in connection with any provision of this order; (b) release or waive any violation of this order occurring prior to the effective date of such amendment, termination or suspension; or (c) affect or impair any rights or remedies of the Secretary or of any other person with respect to any such violations.

SEC. 2. Continuing power and duty.—If, upon the termination or suspension of this order, there are any obligations arising hereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, or by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such termination or suspension.

The market administrator shall (a) continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; (b) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all funds or property on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, to such person as the Secretary shall direct; and (c) if so directed by the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property and claims vested in the market administrator pursuant to this order.

SEC. 3. Liquidation.—Upon the termination or suspension of this order, the market administrator shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid and owing at the time of such termination or suspension.

Any funds collected for expenses, pursuant to the provisions of this order, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator in liquidating the business of the market administrator's office shall be distributed by the market administrator to handlers in an equitable manner.

Article X.—Effective Time

SECTION 1. Effective time.—This order shall become effective after the issuance by the Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets of the State of New York of an order containing provisions similar to the provisions of this order and to which this order shall be complementary and on the first day of the month following, by more than three days, publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER by the Secretary of (a) his finding that the order is approved by more than two-thirds of the producers voting in a referendum, (b) a marketing agreement containing provisions similar to this order approved by him and signed by handlers of more than 50 percent of the milk sold in the marketing area, or, his determination approved by the President that the failure or refusal of handlers to sign tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act and that the issuance of the order is the only practical means of advancing the interests of producers pursuant to such declared policy of the act.

TITLE 25—INDIANS

OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

LEASING OF ALLOTTED AND TRIBAL LANDS FOR AGRICULTURAL, ETC., PURPOSES

FLATHEAD, FORT HALL, KIOWA, OMAHA, UMATILLA, AND WINNEBAGO RESERVATIONS

MAY 27, 1938.

The Honorable, The SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

MY DEAR MR. SECRETARY: In connection with codifying the regulations governing leasing of allotted and tribal lands for agricultural, grazing and business purposes, approved May 9, 1929, as amended from time to time, it was found that section 33 thereof could not be codified as it appears in the existing regulations inasmuch as the special regulations referred to have nowhere been stated therein.

Section 33 of the above mentioned regulations is the following:

"Special regulations to meet variant conditions on the Flathead, Fort Hall, Kiowa, Omaha, Umatilla, and Winnebago Reservations heretofore prescribed will remain in force until further notice."

Apparently, over the period of years the need for the exceptions in each case referred to by section 33 has disappeared, and as a general proposition the general rules and regulations, now in force and sent to all superintendents, have been followed on the five reservations in question.

It is accordingly recommended that section 33 be eliminated from the regulations, which will place these five reservations in the category of the general regulations. If it is later found that any special provisions not covered by these regulations are necessary, appropriate readjustment will be made at that time.

In view of the necessity to complete immediately the codification of these regulations, it is recommended that this request receive early consideration.

Sincerely yours,

S. M. DODD,
Acting Commissioner.

Approved, May 31, 1938.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

(T. D. 4833)

TAXES ON GASOLINE, LUBRICATING OIL, BREWER'S WORT AND MALT PRODUCTS, GRAPE PRODUCTS, AND MATCHES

REGULATIONS 44, CHAPTERS I, II, V, VII AND VIII, AMENDED

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

In conformity with the provisions of sections 701 (1), 705, and 707 of the Revenue Act of 1938, Regulations 44, approved September 11, 1934, as amended, are further amended as follows:

Chapter I is amended by amending article 2, as amended by Treasury Decision 4754, approved July 21, 1937,[1] to read as follows:

"ART. 2. Effective period.—The tax is imposed upon any sale or use, on or after June 21, 1932, and before July 1, 1939, of gasoline, lubricating oil, or matches by the manufacturer or other person liable for tax under the provisions of section 623 (see article 5), irrespective of when the article was manufactured, produced, or imported. In the case of grape products, the tax applies to any sale or use, made during the period June 21, 1932, to June 26, 1936 (both dates inclusive), and with respect to malt products, the tax applies to any sale or use made during the period June 21, 1932, to June 30, 1938 (both dates inclusive)."

Chapter II, as amended by Treasury Decision 4604, approved November 12, 1935, is further amended as follows:

(1) Immediately after the quotation of section 630 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as added by the Act of June 16, 1933 (48 Stat. 254), which precedes article 28, as amended by Treasury Decision 4604, the following subtitle and quotation of section 705 of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

REVENUE ACT OF 1938

SEC. 705. Exemption From Excise Tax of Supplies for Certain Aircraft.—(a) Section 630 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended, is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following: "The term 'vessels' as used in this section includes civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, and the term 'vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation' includes aircraft owned by the United States or by any foreign nation and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof. The privileges granted under this section in respect of civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, in respect of aircraft registered in a foreign country, shall be allowed only if the Secretary of the Treasury has been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect of aircraft registered in the United States. If the Secretary of the Treasury is advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that a foreign country has discontinued or will discontinue the allowance of such privileges, the privileges granted under this section shall not apply thereafter in respect of civil aircraft registered in that foreign country and employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions."

(b) The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be effective July 1, 1938.

(2) The seventh paragraph of article 28, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

"The term 'vessel' includes every description of watercraft or other contrivance used, or capable of being used, as a means of transportation on water. For the period prior to July 1, 1938, it does not include any type of aircraft. On and after July 1, 1938, such term also includes (a) civil aircraft registered in the United States and employed in foreign trade or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions, and (b) civil aircraft registered in a foreign country and employed in foreign trade or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions."

(3) Immediately after the seventh paragraph of article 28, as amended, the following new paragraph is inserted:

"The term 'vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation' includes every description of watercraft or other contrivance used, or capable of being used, as a means of transportation on water and constituting a part of the armed forces of the United States or of a foreign nation. For the period prior to July 1, 1938, it does not include any type of aircraft. On and after July 1, 1938, such term also includes aircraft owned by the United States or by any foreign nation and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof."

(4) Immediately after the ninth paragraph of article 28, as amended, the following new paragraph is inserted:

"The exemption with respect to civil aircraft is more limited than the exemption with respect to other vessels in that it extends only to civil aircraft employed exclusively in foreign trade, or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions. Moreover, although section 630 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as added by section 5 of the Act of June 16, 1933 (48 Stat. 254), exempts sales of articles for use as fuel supplies, etc., on watercraft engaged in trade between the Atlantic and the Pacific ports of the United States, the amendment provided in section 705 of the Revenue Act of 1938 does not exempt sales of articles for use as fuel supplies, etc., on civil aircraft engaged in trade between such ports. In the case of civil aircraft registered in a foreign country, the exemption is further limited in that the privilege of exemption may be granted only so long as the foreign country of registry allows a substantially reciprocal exemption with respect to civil aircraft registered in the United States. If a foreign country discontinues the allowance of such substantially reciprocal exemption, the exemption allowed by the United States will not apply after the Secretary of the Treasury is notified by the Secretary of Commerce of the discontinuance of the exemption allowed by the foreign country."

(5) The eleventh paragraph of article 28, as amended, is amended by adding the following sentence at the end thereof:

"If articles are sold tax free for use on civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions, the exemption certificate must show the name of the country in which the aircraft is registered."

(6) The form of the exemption certificate set forth in the fourteenth paragraph of article 28 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 3. (a) Any manufacturer or dealer desiring a license to transport, ship, or receive firearms or ammunition in interstate or foreign commerce shall make application to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall prescribe by rules and regulations the information to be contained in such application. The applicant shall, if a manufacturer, pay a fee of $25 per annum and, if a dealer, shall pay a fee of $1 per annum.

(b) Upon payment of the prescribed fee, the Secretary of the Treasury shall issue to such applicant a license which shall entitle the licensee to transport, ship, and receive firearms and ammunition in interstate and foreign commerce unless and until the license is suspended or revoked in accordance with the provisions of this Act: Provided, That no license shall be issued to any applicant within two years after the revocation of a previous license.

(c) Whenever any licensee is convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this Act, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court to notify the Secretary of the Treasury within forty-eight hours after such conviction and said Secretary shall revoke such license: Provided, That in the case of appeal from such conviction the licensee may furnish a bond in the amount of $1,000, and upon receipt of such bond acceptable to the Secretary of the Treasury he may permit the licensee to continue business during the period of the appeal, or should the licensee refuse or neglect to furnish such bond, the Secretary of the Treasury shall suspend such license until he is notified by the clerk of the court of last appeal as to the final disposition of the case.

(d) Licensed dealers shall maintain such permanent records of importation, shipment, and other disposal of firearms and ammunition as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe.

SEC. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply with respect to the transportation, shipment, receipt, or importation of any firearm, or ammunition, sold or shipped to, or issued for the use of, (1) the United States or any department, independent establishment, or agency thereof; (2) any State, Territory, or possession, or the District of Columbia, or any department, independent establishment, agency, or any political subdivision thereof; (3) any duly commissioned officer or agent of the United States, a State, Territory, or possession, or the District of Columbia, or any political subdivision thereof; (4) or to any bank, public carrier, express, or armored-truck company organized and operating in good faith for the transportation of money and valuables; (5) or to any research laboratory designated by the Secretary of the Treasury; Provided, That such bank, public carriers, express, and armored-truck companies are granted exemption by the Secretary of the Treasury; nor to the transportation, shipment, or receipt of any antique or unserviceable firearms, or ammunition, possessed and held as curios or museum pieces: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent shipments of firearms and ammunition to institutions, organizations, or persons to whom such firearms and ammunition may be lawfully delivered by the Secretary of War, nor to prevent the transportation of such firearms and ammunition so delivered by their lawful possessors while they are engaged in military training or in competitions.

SEC. 5. Any person violating any of the provisions of this Act or any rules and regulations promulgated hereunder, or who makes any statement in applying for the license or exemption provided for in this Act, knowing such statement to be false, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $2,000, or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both.

SEC. 6. This Act shall take effect thirty days after its enactment.

SEC. 7. The Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe such rules and regulations as he deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 8. Should any section or subsection of this Act be declared unconstitutional, the remaining portion of the Act shall remain in full force and effect.

SEC. 9. This Act may be cited as the Federal Firearms Act.

Part V.—Hours of Service of Drivers

Regulations Effective October 1, 1938

RULE 1. As used in these regulations:

(a) The term "motor vehicle" means any vehicle, machine, tractor, trailer, or semitrailer propelled or drawn by mechanical power and used upon the highways in the transportation of passengers or property, or any combination thereof determined by the Commission, but does not include any vehicle, locomotive, or car operated exclusively on a rail or rails.

(b) The term "driver" means any individual who drives in transportation in interstate or foreign commerce any motor vehicle as defined in paragraph (a) above.

(c) A driver is on duty from the time he begins to work or is required to be in readiness to work until the time he is relieved from work and all responsibility for performing work. Time spent by a driver resting or sleeping in a berth as defined in paragraph (g) of this rule shall not be included in computing time on duty.

(d) The term "drive or operate" includes all time spent on a moving vehicle and any interval not in excess of 20 minutes in which a driver is on duty but not on a moving vehicle. It does not include time spent resting or sleeping in a berth as defined in paragraph (g) of this rule.

(e) The term "week" means any period of 168 consecutive hours beginning at the time the driver reports for duty, as defined in paragraph (c) of this rule.

(f) The term "24 consecutive hours" means any such period starting at the time the driver reports for duty, as defined in paragraph (c) of this rule.

(g) The term "berth" means a berth or bunk on the motor vehicle which is properly equipped for the purpose of sleeping, including springs and a mattress, or an inner-spring mattress, pillow, adequate bed clothing, adequate ventilation, and ready means of entering and leaving the berth.

(h) Where any other terms used in these regulations are defined in section 203 (a) of the Motor Carrier Act, 1935, such definitions shall be controlling. Where terms are used in the regulations which are neither defined herein nor in said section 203 (a), they shall have the ordinary practical meaning of such terms.

RULE 2. Every motor carrier and his or its officers, agents, employees, and representatives shall comply with the following regulations, and every such motor carrier shall require that his or its officers, agents, employees, and representatives shall be conversant with these regulations.

RULE 3. (a) No carrier subject to these regulations shall permit or require any driver in his employ to remain on duty, as defined in paragraph (c) of rule 1, for a total of more than 60 hours in any week, as defined in paragraph (e) of rule 1; provided, however, that carriers operating vehicles on every day of the week may permit drivers in their employ to remain on duty for a total of not more than 70 hours in any period of 192 consecutive hours.

(b) No carrier subject to these regulations shall permit or require a driver in his employ to drive or operate a motor vehicle for more than 10 hours in the aggregate in any period of 24 consecutive hours, unless such driver be off duty for 8 consecutive hours during or immediately following the 10 hours aggregate driving and within said period of 24 consecutive hours; provided, however, that two periods of resting or sleeping in a berth, as defined in paragraph (g) of rule 1, may be cumulated to give the aforesaid total of 8 hours off duty.

RULE 4. No carrier subject to these regulations if himself a driver shall remain on duty or drive or operate for longer periods than those prescribed in rule 3 hereof for employed drivers.

RULE 5. Each carrier subject to these regulations, except carriers engaged in mass transportation and operating on frequent and regular schedules, shall require that a driver's log in duplicate shall be kept by every driver in his employ who operates a motor vehicle engaged in transportation in interstate or foreign commerce, and, if himself an owner-driver, shall keep such a log. Entries in said driver's log shall be made by the driver, and shall show the place of origin and destination of the trip, the times of reporting for duty and of going off duty, the periods of driving or operating and other work, and any other information found desirable.

Each carrier shall make monthly reports to the Bureau of Motor Carriers, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C., prior to the fifteenth day of each succeeding month, of every instance where a driver has been required or permitted to be on duty or to drive or operate for hours in excess of those prescribed by these regulations, and shall fully explain the reasons for and circumstances surrounding such violations. Such reports shall be in writing and sworn to.

RULE 6. In case of flood, storm, accident, or similar emergency, a driver may complete his run without being in violation of the provisions of these regulations, if such run would reasonably have been completed without violation except for the delay caused by such emergency.

RULE 7. These regulations shall not apply to any carrier subject thereto when transporting passengers or property to or from any section of the country with the object of providing relief in case of earthquake, flood, fire, famine, drought, epidemic, pestilence, or other calamitous visitation or disaster.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

UNITED STATES MARITIME COMMISSION

[General Order No. 26]

INFORMATION AND APPLICATION FORM RELATING TO FEDERAL SHIP MORTGAGE INSURANCE

JULY 28, 1938.

The United States Maritime Commission, pursuant to authority conferred upon it by Title XI of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, hereby issues information concerning Federal Ship Mortgage Insurance and adopts as necessary and appropriate thereunder the attached form of application for commitment to insure a preferred ship mortgage under said Title XI of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936 as amended.

By order of the United States Maritime Commission.

[SEAL] W. C. PEET, JR.,
Secretary.

INFORMATION CONCERNING FEDERAL SHIP MORTGAGE INSURANCE—TITLE XI OF THE MERCHANT MARINE ACT, 1936, AS AMENDED

Under Title XI of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, effective June 23, 1938, the Commission is authorized, subject to the provisions of this Title, to insure preferred ship mortgages which secure new loans or advances made to aid in financing the construction, reconstruction, or reconditioning, subsequent to June 23, 1938, of all types of passenger, cargo, and combination passenger cargo carrying vessels, tugs, towboats, barges and dredges, documented under the laws of the United States, and fishing vessels, owned by citizens of the United States, and designed principally for commercial use (a) in the coastwise or intercoastal trade; (b) on the Great Lakes, or on bays, sounds, rivers, harbors, or inland lakes of the United States; or (c) in foreign trade between the United States and foreign countries in continental North America, and between the United States and all islands lying between the continent of South America and the United States in the Gulf of Mexico, the Caribbean Sea, or the Atlantic Ocean.

FILING APPLICATION

Forms of application may be obtained from the office of the Commission in Washington, D. C. Applications should be prepared on the appropriate form and in strict compliance with the instructions applicable thereto. Applications will be received only from the prospective lender (referred to as the Mortgagee). The application must establish compliance with the technical, financial and legal requirements prescribed by Title XI and imposed by the Commission thereunder. It may—and in many cases probably will—prove impossible to comply with such requirements unless approval of the Commission is obtained prior to the making of the loan and the commencement of the work to be financed thereby. Accordingly, if insurance is desired, the filing of an application for a commitment to insure and obtaining Commission approval prior to the commencement of work is strongly urged.

No application will be approved unless the Commission is satisfied (a) that all professional and other fees paid or to be paid in connection with the obtaining of the loan or the insurance are fair and reasonable, and (b) that no payment has been or is to be made for solicitation or for attempting to influence the Commission's action.

ELIGIBILITY FOR INSURANCE

To obtain Federal Ship Mortgage Insurance, the following requirements of eligibility must be established in accordance with the provisions of Title XI:

1. The Mortgagee.—The Mortgagee must be approved by the Commission as responsible and able to service the mortgage properly, and in addition, must be a citizen of the United States (the words "citizen of the United States" include a corporation, partnership, or association only if it is a citizen of the United States within the meaning of section 2 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended; in the case of a corporation, partnership, or association operating a vessel on the Great Lakes, or on bays, sounds, rivers, harbors or inland lakes of the United States the amount of interest required to be owned by a citizen of the United States shall be not less than 75 per centum). Generally speaking, the mortgagee should be a recognized active lending institution such as a bank, trust company, insurance company, or other institution which lends its own funds for the purpose of earning an interest return.

2. The Mortgagor.—The Mortgagor must be approved by the Commission as possessing the ability, experience, financial resources and other qualifications necessary to the adequate operation and maintenance of the mortgaged property. The Mortgagor must also be a citizen of the United States.

3. The mortgaged vessel.—The vessel, in order to be the subject of a preferred mortgage, which may be insured under Title XI, must be a type of vessel on which a preferred mortgage can be given. A preferred mortgage may be given on a vessel of the United States, i. e., a vessel that is registered, enrolled, or licensed under the laws of the United States (except that no towboat, barge, scow, lighter, car float, canal boat, or tank vessel of less than 200 tons gross may be the subject of a preferred mortgage). The vessel should be built to classification requirements of the American Bureau of Shipping for the service in which it is to be operated. The Commission must be satisfied as to the suitability of the vessel to the commercial use for which it is designed. Consideration will be given to the possible utility of the vessel for national defense in the event of a national emergency. Compliance with approved standards of safety will be required, and the vessel must be insured against such hazards and in such amounts as the Commission shall require.

4. Purpose of loan secured by the mortgage.—Compliance with the requirements of Section 1104 (a) (8) must be established and satisfactory assurance given of continued compliance with respect to the use of the vessel. If application is made for insuring a mortgage to refinance in part any existing indebtedness, a substantial portion of the total amount to be secured by the new mortgage shall be applied to new construction, reconditioning or reconstruction of the mortgaged vessel, as required by Section 1106.

5. Economic soundness.—No mortgage shall be accepted for insurance unless the Commission finds that the property and project with respect to which the mortgage is executed is economically sound. In determining compliance with this requirement the Commission shall consider the competitive conditions in the trade in which it is proposed to operate the vessel to be financed, and may hold public hearings where the nature of proposed competition with existing services warrants.

6. Terms of loan secured by the mortgage.—The loan or advance must have been made to finance construction, reconstruction or reconditioning undertaken after June 23, 1938 (except as provided in Section 1106) and its terms must comply with the following requirements in addition to others which may be prescribed by the Commission:

(a) Interest shall be at a rate not to exceed 5 per cent unless the Commission finds that in certain areas or under certain circumstances the market demands a higher rate, in which case not in excess of 6 per cent per annum may be allowed;

(b) The secured obligation shall be for a period not in excess of 20 years, or such lesser period as the Commission may require;

(c) The mortgage must contain covenants and conditions prescribed by the Commission, including provisions referred to in Section 1104 (a) (7); and

(d) The amount of the secured obligations shall not exceed 75 per cent of the cost (as estimated by the Commission) of the construction, reconstruction, or reconditioning financed by the loan or advance but in no event more than 75 per cent of the amount which the Commission estimates will be the value of the property when the construction, reconstruction or reconditioning is completed.

COMMITMENT TO INSURE

The Commission will not insure any mortgage prior to the completion of the construction, reconstruction or reconditioning financed by the loan or advance secured thereby. The Commission may, however, if it approves an application therefor, execute and deliver to the Applicant an agreement that, upon satisfactory completion of the work financed by the loan or advance and the execution and delivery of a first preferred mortgage, it will insure such mortgage in accordance with the provisions of Title XI. The commitment to insure will have annexed to it the form of insurance contract to be executed.

In the event of extraordinary changes occurring between the date of the commitment and the date of the insurance contract which affect either the estimated cost of the work being financed by the mortgage to be insured, or the estimated value of the completed vessel, revised estimates may be made by the Commission either upon its own initiative or at the request of the Applicant, and the amount of the mortgage to be insured shall be correspondingly adjusted if necessary to bring it within the limitation imposed by Section 1104 (a) (2).

CONTRACT OF INSURANCE

Contracts of insurance may be issued pursuant to commitment to insure or upon original application. (But see comments above under heading "Piling Application.") Each contract of insurance shall include provisions with respect to the following matters:

1. Validity and priority of the mortgage.—The Mortgagee shall covenant that the mortgage to be insured is a first preferred mortgage as defined in the Ship Mortgage Act, 1920, as amended, and that the priority of lien will be preserved.

2. Mortgage covenants.—The mortgage shall comply with the requirements of Title XI, and shall be substantially in the form prescribed by the Commission at the time of execution of the commitment to insure (or at the time of executing the insurance contract, if there is no prior commitment).

3. The property or project.—The contract of insurance shall contain such provisions as the Commission may deem advisable to assure the continuation of the use of the mortgaged vessel in the trade or project approved by the Commission, and the continued economic soundness of such property or project.

4. Servicing by mortgagee.—The Mortgagee shall, at the expense of the Mortgagor, prepare and submit to the Commission not less frequently than annually a report of the condition of the mortgaged property and the status of the trade or project in which such property is then being used. The Mortgagee shall also advise the Commission promptly of any adverse change in the business of the Mortgagor or in the condition of the mortgaged property which may come to its attention at any time during the period of the contract of insurance. The Commission shall reserve the right to require from the Mortgagor such additional reports and to make such surveys and inspections from time to time as it may deem necessary.

5. Foreclosure.—In the event that the Mortgagee shall have foreclosed and acquired title and possession of the mortgaged property, in accordance with regulations established by the Commission, or shall, with the consent of the Commission, have otherwise acquired such property from the Mortgagor after default, the Mortgagee shall be entitled to receive the benefits of the insurance upon (a) the prompt conveyance to the Commission of title to the property in a form and manner which meets the requirements of rules and regulations of the Commission in force at the time the mortgage was insured, and which is evidenced in the manner prescribed by such rules and regulations, and (b) the assignment to the Commission of all claims of the Mortgagee against the Mortgagor or others arising out of the mortgage transaction or foreclosure proceedings, except such claims as may have been released with the consent of the Commission. Upon such conveyance and assignment, the obligation of the Mortgagee to pay the premium charges for insurance shall cease and the Commission shall issue to the Mortgagee debentures having a total face value equal to the balance of the principal obligation of the mortgage which was unpaid on the date of the institution of foreclosure proceedings, or on the date of the acquisition of the property after default other than by foreclosure, in accordance with the provisions of Section 1105 (a). In the event that the Mortgagee acquires the property other than by purchase at foreclosure sale after foreclosure proceedings have been instituted, debentures having a total face value equal to the balance of the principal obligation of the mortgage which was unpaid on the date of the institution of foreclosure proceedings shall be issued to the Mortgagee.

PREMIUMS

The Mortgagee shall pay to the Commission annually in advance as a mortgage insurance premium a sum equal to 1 per cent of the average principal amount of the insured indebtedness to be outstanding during the succeeding twelve months in acordance with the amortization provisions of the mortgage, as amended to the date of such payment, without allowance or adjustment for any delinquencies or prepayments.

DEBENTURES

The Commission's obligation under its contract of insurance, upon acquisition of the property by the Mortgagee after default and conveyance to the Commission, will be paid in debentures issued pursuant to the provisions of Title XI. As provided in said Title XI, the form, denominations, and redemption provisions of the debentures will be prescribed by the Commission, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. They will bear interest at a rate determined by the Commission, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, at the time the mortgage is offered for insurance, but not to exceed 3 per cent per annum, will be unconditionally guaranteed by the United States, and will be tax exempt, both as to principal and interest, as provided in Section 1105 (c).

FEES AND CHARGES

The fees and charges (other than insurance premiums) which may be assessed in connection with applications for the insurance of mortgages are as follows:

1. Charges imposed by the Commission.—(a) Applications should be accompanied by a fee in the amount of $50 (except for applications for less than $10,000, in which cases the fee should be ½ of 1%, to cover preliminary investigation.

(b) After preliminary investigation of the application, an additional fee in such amount as may be determined by the Commission, may be assessed for the further study of the application, both in Washington and in the field, investigation by the Commission's own staff, and other services required in connection with consideration of the application.

(c) A fee may be imposed in such amount as may be determined by the Commission for the issuance of a commitment, the inspection by the Commission's staff of properties during the construction, reconstruction or reconditioning, and the review by the Commission's staff of the legal proceedings attendant to the documentation of the vessel and the final closing and recordation of the preferred mortgage and the issuance of the formal contract of insurance.

2. Fees, etc., collected by mortgagee.—The Mortgagee may collect, from time to time, from the Mortgagor all fees and charges which the Mortgagee is required to pay the Commission in connection with the application for or the servicing of the mortgage insurance. The Mortgagee, however, shall not receive or accept any further consideration for the making of the mortgage or the obtaining of insurance thereon or for any service rendered in connection therewith, except amounts approved by the Commission as fair and reasonable.

3. Payments to other persons by mortgagee or mortgagor.—No commission, fee, bonus or other remuneration may be paid directly or indirectly to any person for obtaining a commitment to insure, or a contract of insurance, or for services rendered in connection therewith, except amounts approved by the Commission as fair and reasonable for services of accountants, attorneys, architects, engineers, appraisers, or other experts performing services deemed by the Commission to be essential in connection with the preparation and presentation of the application. Bona-fide brokerage commissions for services rendered in negotiating a loan between a borrower and lender may be paid provided that full and complete disclosure thereof is made in the application and the amount appears reasonable to the Commission.

The aggregate of all charges which may be imposed by the Commission shall not exceed ½ of 1% of the amount of the mortgage to be insured.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Bureau of Customs.

(T. D. 49662)

LUMBER, REVENUE ACT OF 1938

CONFLICT WITH ANY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENT OF THE UNITED STATES

To Collectors of Customs and Others Concerned:

Attention is invited to subsections (a) and (b) of section 704 of the Revenue Act of 1938 (Public, No. 554, 75th Congress) which read as follows:

(a) Section 601 (c) (6) of the Revenue Act of 1932 is further amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "In determining board measure for the purposes of this paragraph no deduction shall be made on account of planing, tonguing, and grooving. As used in this paragraph, the term 'lumber' includes sawed timber".

(b) Each sentence of the amendment made by subsection (a) shall become effective (1) on the sixtieth day after the date of the enactment of this Act unless in conflict with any international obligation of the United States or (2) if so in conflict, then on the termination of such obligation otherwise than in connection with the undertaking by the United States of a new obligation which continues such conflict.

After careful consideration of pertinent material, including the trade agreements entered into between the United States and Cuba (1938–T. D. 47232) and between the United States and Canada (1938–T. D. 48033), the Bureau has concluded that the first sentence of the amendment made by subsection (a), supra, is not in conflict with any international obligation of the United States. Collectors of customs are, therefore, directed to apply this sentence of the amendment to importations of lumber, including sawed timber, entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or after July 27, 1938.

In Laurence Phillips Lumber Co. v. United States, (1938) T. D. 49624, the United States Customs Court held that section 601 (c) (6) of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended (U. S. Code, title 26, note following sec. 1481), does not apply to sawed timber. If the rule of this case becomes final and the Treasury Department acquiesces therein, the reduction in duty made pursuant to item 401 of Schedule II of the Canadian Trade Agreement will not apply to sawed timber described in paragraph 401 of the Tariff Act of 1930 in view of the second proviso to item 601 (c) (6) of such Schedule II. In this contingency, the application of the import tax provided for in section 601 (c) (6) of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended, would result in the imposition of total import charges on sawed timber of fir, spruce, pine, hemlock, or larch in excess of $2 per thousand feet, board measure, in contravention of the last clause of the second proviso to item 601 (c) (6) of Schedule II of the Canadian Trade Agreement. Moreover if sawed timber of the character provided for in item 1803 of schedule II of the Canadian Trade Agreement was not legally subject to the import tax on the day the signature of the Canadian Trade Agreement, the assessment of the import tax on such timber would, in the opinion of the Bureau, be in violation of article IV of such agreement which provides that articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of Canada enumerated and described in schedule II annexed to the agreement shall on their importation into the United States of America be exempt from ordinary customs duties in excess of those set forth and provided for in the said schedule. Therefore, if the ruling in T. D. 49624 is to be followed, the second sentence of the amendment made to section 601 (c) (6) of the Revenue Act of 1932 by section 704 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1938 would not become effective until such obligations were terminated otherwise than in connection with the undertaking by the United States of new obligations of like effect.

In the circumstances no ruling can be made at this time as to the effective date of the second sentence of the amendment made to section 601 (c) (6) of the Revenue Act of 1932 by section 704 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1938. Pending the promulgation of a ruling, collectors of customs are directed to continue the present practice in collecting estimated duties and import taxes on sawed timber and to suspend the liquidation of all unliquidated entries covering such merchandise, including entries filed before July 27, 1938.

Acting Commissioner of Customs.

Approved, July 27, 1938.

The respondents named in this paragraph will be hereinafter referred to as "seller respondents."

Each of the "seller respondents" named in this paragraph is engaged in the sale of commodities to customers residing in states other than the respective states in which said "seller respondents" are located, pursuant to which sales commodities are shipped and transported by each of said "seller respondents" into and through various states of the United States to their respective customers. Said "seller respondents" are fairly typical and representative members of a large group or class of manufacturers, processors and producers, engaged in the common practice of selling some of their commodities, in interstate commerce as aforesaid, through respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., to the respondents, Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., The Penny Stores, Inc., and Buckley-Young Company. Said group or class of said sellers comprise a large number of such manufacturers, processors, and producers, too numerous to be separately named herein or to be brought before the Commission in this proceeding without manifest inconvenience and delay.

PAR. 7.—Respondent, Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., places orders for a substantial portion, (probably 85 per cent), of the products by it required in the ordinary course and conduct of its business with, and purchases the same from, the "seller respondents", and others, through the agency of the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., and upon receipt of such orders each of said "seller respondents", and others, ships the products so ordered from the respective states in which said sellers are located into and through various other states of the United States to the respondent, Jobbers Produce Company, Inc.

In the course of the buying and selling transactions hereinabove referred to, resulting in the delivery of products from the "seller respondents", and others, to the respondent, Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., said "seller respondents" and others, since June 19, 1936, have transmitted, paid and delivered, and do transmit, pay and deliver to the respondents, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., and S. O. Scott, so-called brokerage fees or commissions, the same being certain percentages of the quoted sales prices agreed upon by said "seller respondents", and others, and the respondents, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., and S. O. Scott, and the respondents, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., and S. O. Scott, since June 19, 1936, have received and accepted and are receiving and accepting such so-called brokerage fees or commissions while the ownership, management and control of respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., is identified and affiliated with the ownership, management and control of the respondent, Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., through the person and active management of respondent S. O. Scott, who is President, Director and majority stockholder of both said respondent corporations, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., and Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., and also through other mutual officers, directors and employees.

In all of the buying and selling transactions hereinabove referred to, the so-called brokerage fees or commissions are paid and transmitted by said "seller respondents," and others, and accepted and received by said respondents, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., and S. O. Scott, while the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., is acting in fact for and in behalf, and subject to the control, of respondent, Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., for which said so-called brokerage fees or commissions no services whatsoever in connection with such purchases have been rendered or are now being rendered to, for or on behalf of the said "seller respondents," and others, by the respondents, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., or S. O. Scott.

PAR. 8.—Respondent, The Penny Stores, Inc., places orders for a substantial portion of the products by it required in the ordinary conduct of its business with, and purchases the same from, one or more of the "seller respondents," and others, through the agency of the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., and upon receipt of such orders each of such sellers, ships the products so ordered from the respective states in which such sellers are located into and through various other states of the United States to the respondent, The Penny Stores, Inc.

In the course of the buying and selling transactions hereinabove referred to, resulting in the delivery of products from said sellers to the respondent, The Penny Stores, Inc., said sellers, since June 19, 1936, have transmitted, paid and delivered, and do transmit, pay and deliver to the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., so-called brokerage fees or commissions, the same being certain percentages of the quoted sales prices agreed upon by said sellers and the respondents, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., and The Penny Stores, Inc., and the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., since June 19, 1936, has received and accepted, and is receiving and accepting, such so-called brokerage fees or commissions while the ownership, management and control of said respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., is identified and affiliated with the ownership, management and control of respondent, The Penny Stores, Inc., through respondent, S. O. Scott, who is President, Director and majority stockholder of respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., and who is also a stockholder in respondent, The Penny Stores, Inc., and also through the mutual stockholder interests of R. M. Snowden, who is President of respondent, The Penny Stores, Inc., and respondent, S. O. Scott, who together own the majority stock of respondent, The Penny Stores, Inc., and who also together own the majority stock of respondent, Buckley-Young Company, and other corporations not named herein.

In all of the said buying and selling transactions hereinabove referred to, the so-called brokerage fees or commissions are paid and transmitted by the said sellers to, and accepted and received by, the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., while the said respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., is acting in fact for and in behalf, and subject to the control of respondent, The Penny Stores, Inc., for which said so-called brokerage fees or commissions no services whatsoever in connection with such purchases have been rendered or are now being rendered to, for or on behalf of the said sellers by the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc.

PAR. 9. Respondent, Buckley-Young Company, places orders for a substantial portion of the products by it required in the ordinary conduct of its business with, and purchases the same from, one or more of the "seller respondents", and others, through the agency of the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., and upon receipt of such orders each of such sellers, ships the products so ordered from the respective states in which they are located into and through various other states of the United States to the respondent, Buckley-Young Company.

In the course of the buying and selling transactions hereinabove referred to, resulting in the delivery of products from said sellers to the respondent, Buckley-Young Company, said sellers, since June 19, 1936, have transmitted, paid and delivered, and do transmit, pay and deliver to the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., so-called brokerage fees or commissions, the same being certain percentages of the quoted sales prices agreed upon by the said sellers and the respondents, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., and Buckley-Young Company, and the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., since June 19, 1936, has received and accepted, and is receiving and accepting, such so-called brokerage fees or commissions while the ownership, management and control of said respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., is identified and affiliated with the ownership, management and control of respondent, Buckley-Young Company, through respondent, S. O. Scott, who is President, Director and majority stockholder of respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., and who is also a stockholder in respondent, Buckley-Young Company, and also through the mutual stockholder interests of R. M. Snowden, who is Vice President of respondent, Buckley-Young Company, and respondent, S. O. Scott, who together own the majority stock of respondent, Buckley-Young Company, and who also together own the majority stock of respondent, The Penny Stores, Inc., and other corporations not named herein.

In all of the buying and selling transactions hereinabove referred to, the so-called brokerage fees or commissions are paid and transmitted by the said sellers to, and accepted and received by, the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., while the said respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., is acting in fact for and in behalf, and subject to the control of respondent, Buckley-Young Company, for which said so-called brokerage fees or commissions no services whatsoever in connection with such purchases have been rendered or are now being rendered to, for or on behalf of the said sellers by the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc.

PAR. 10. The transmission and payment of said so-called brokerage fees or commissions by the "seller respondents", and others, to, and the receipt and acceptance thereof by, the respondents, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., and S. O. Scott, upon the purchases of the respondent, Jobbers Produce Company, Inc., and the transmission and payment of said so-called brokerage fees or commissions by the "seller respondents", and others, to, and the receipt and acceptance thereof by, the respondent, Mississippi Sales Company, Inc., upon the purchases of the respondents, The Penny Stores, Inc., and Buckley-Young Company, in the manner and under the circumstances hereinabove set forth, is in violation of the provisions of section 2 (c) of the above mentioned Act of Congress entitled "An act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes," approved October 15, 1914, (the Clayton Act), as amended by the Act of Congress entitled "An act to amend section 2 of the Act entitled 'An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes', approved October 15, 1914, as amended (U. TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

[T. D. 4835]

TAXES ON CERTAIN FIREARMS AND MACHINE GUNS

REGULATIONS 88, CHAPTERS III, IV AND VII, AMENDED

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and others concerned:

In conformity with the provisions of the Act approved June 16, 1938 (Public, No. 651, Seventy-fifth Congress), Regulations 88, approved August 17, 1934, as amended, are further amended as follows:

Chapter III is amended as follows:

(1) Immediately after the quotation of section 17, which precedes article 30, the following subtitle and partial quotation of the Act approved June 16, 1938 (Public, No. 651, Seventy-fifth Congress), are inserted:

ACT OF JUNE 16, 1938, PUBLIC, NO. 651, SEVENTY-FIFTH CONGRESS

That the first sentence of section 2 (a) of the National Firearms Act is amended by striking out the period at the end thereof and inserting a colon and the following: "Provided, That manufacturers and dealers in guns with two attached barrels from which only a single discharge can be made from either barrel without manual reloading shall pay the following taxes: Manufacturers, $25 per year; dealers, $1 per year."

* * * * *

(2) Article 30 is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 30. Effective dates.—The original Act is effective July 26, 1934. All persons engaged in taxable occupations on and after that date are subject to special tax. The amendment of section 1 by the Act approved April 10, 1936 (Public, No. 490, Seventy-fourth Congress, 49 Stat., 1192) is effective April 10, 1936. This amendment excludes from the definition of 'firearms' rifles of the caliber of .22 or smaller with barrels sixteen inches or more in length. See article 20 (a). The amendment of sections 2 (a) and 3 (a) by the Act approved June 16, 1938 (Public, No. 651, Seventy-fifth Congress), is effective June 16, 1938. This amendment relates to certain double-barrelled guns.

"The general effect of the several statutes as of the dates indicated is as follows: Prior to April 10, 1936, the same tax rates were applicable with respect to all articles within the statutory definition of 'firearms' which included guns of all calibers with barrels less than eighteen inches long. On and after April 10, 1936, rifles of .22 or smaller caliber with barrels sixteen inches or more in length were eliminated from the definition of 'firearms' and thus removed from the scope of the Act. On and after June 16, 1938, special tax rates were reduced with respect to guns (the term 'guns' including, of course, .22 caliber rifles having barrels less than sixteen inches long), which have two attached barrels from which only a single discharge can be made from either barrel without manual reloading. See article 32 (a). The transfer tax rate was also reduced with respect to such guns with barrels twelve inches or more in length."

(3) The first paragraph of article 32 (a) is amended to read as follows:

"The special taxes are as follows:

"Class 1. Importers or manufacturers of 'firearms' as defined in the Act (see articles 20 (a) and 30), except manufacturers in Class 2, $500 a year.

"Class 2. Persons who manufacture only guns within the statutory definition of 'firearms' (see articles 20 (a) and 30), from which only a single discharge can be made from either barrel without manual reloading: prior to June 16, 1938, $500 a year; on and after June 16, 1938, $25 a year.

"Class 3. Pawnbrokers, except those in Class 5, $300 a year.

"Class 4. Dealers, other than pawnbrokers, except those in Class 5, $200 a year.

"Class 5. Dealers (including pawnbrokers) dealing only in guns within the statutory definition of 'firearms' (see articles 20 (a) and 30), from which only a single discharge can be made from either barrel without manual reloading: prior to June 16, 1938, $300 a year in the case of pawnbrokers and $200 a year in the case of other dealers; on and after June 16, 1938, in either case, $1 a year."

Chapter IV is amended as follows:

(1) Immediately after the quotation of section 3 (a), which precedes article 61, the following subtitle and quotation of section 2 of the Act approved June 16, 1938 (Public, No. 651, Seventy-fifth Congress), are inserted:

SECTION 2 OF THE ACT OF JUNE 16, 1938, PUBLIC, NO. 651, SEVENTY-FIFTH CONGRESS

SEC. 2. The first sentence of section 3 (a) of such Act is amended by striking out the period at the end thereof and inserting a colon and the following: "Provided, That the transfer tax on any gun with two attached barrels, twelve inches or more in length, from which only a single discharge can be made from either barrel without manual reloading, shall be at the rate of $1."

(2) Article 62 is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 62. Rate of tax.—The transfer tax to be levied, collected, and paid upon all articles within the term 'firearm' as defined in the Act (see articles 20 (a) and 30) transferred in the continental United States shall be at the rate of $200 for each firearm, except that on and after June 16, 1938, the tax shall be at the rate of $1 upon the transfer of any gun with two attached barrels, twelve inches or more but less than eighteen (sixteen in the case of rifles of .22 caliber or less) inches in length, from which only a single discharge can be made from either barrel without manual reloading. In every case the tax shall be paid by the transferor."

(3) The fourth paragraph of article 65 is amended to read as follows:

"The application for transfer (order Form 4 (Firearms)) must be forwarded, in duplicate, by the transferor direct to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C. A 'Firearms Act' stamp of the proper denomination (see article 62) must be affixed to the original order form and properly canceled (see article 66) prior to forwarding. The Commissioner, if satisfied that the forms have been correctly prepared, and that the original bears the required stamp, properly canceled, will return the original to the transferor for delivery to the applicant, and will retain the duplicate. No order forms will be approved where the fingerprints are smudged. Upon receipt of the approved order form, the transferor may deliver the firearm to the applicant, together with the original order form with the 'Firearms Act' stamp attached thereto."

Chapter VII is amended as follows:

(1) The subtitle at the head of the partial quotation of section 3173, United States Revised Statutes, as amended, which precedes article 102, is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 3173, UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED, AND REENACTED IN SECTION 1115, REVENUE ACT OF 1926 (44 STAT., 118)

(2) Immediately after the quotation of section 3184, United States Revised Statutes, which precedes article 108, the following subtitle and quotation of section 805 of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

SECTION 805 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

SEC. 805. Interest on unpaid assessments.

(a) Section 3184 of the Revised Statutes is amended by striking out at the end thereof the words "and interest at the rate of 1 per centum a month" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "and interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the date of such notice to the date of payment".

(b) The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply only where notice is served or sent after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(3) Article 108 is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 108. Notice and demand for tax: Penalty and interest.—The collector or his deputy shall within 10 days after receiving an assessment list from the Commissioner, give notice to each person liable to pay the tax stated therein, showing the amount of such tax and demanding payment thereof. If such assessment is not paid within 10 days after the service or the sending by mail of the notice, the collector or his deputy shall collect the tax and penalty assessed, with a penalty of 5 percent additional upon the total amount assessed and interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the date of such notice to the date of payment."

(4) The subtitle at the head of the partial quotation of section 3450, United States Revised Statutes, which appears under the title "Violations, Fines, Penalties, Searches, Seizures, and Forfeitures" is changed to read as follows:

SECTION 3450, UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED AND REENACTED BY SECTION 325, ACT OF JUNE 26, 1936 (49 STAT., 1935)

(5) The last paragraph of the partial quotation of section 3450, United States Revised Statutes, which immediately follows the above-mentioned subtitle, is amended to read as follows:

> And every person who removes, deposits, or conceals, or is concerned in removing, depositing, or concealing any goods or commodities for or in respect whereof any tax is or shall be imposed, with intent to defraud the United States of such tax or any part thereof, shall be liable to a fine of not more than $5,000 or be imprisoned for not more than three years, or both. * * *

This Treasury decision shall be effective as of June 16, 1938.

This Treasury decision is issued under authority prescribed in section 12 of the National Firearms Act, approved June 26, 1934.

DESIGNATION OF DOMESTIC BRANDY AS "COGNAC" OR "COGNAC BRANDY"

To Importers and Bottlers of Distilled Spirits:

On November 15, 1937, the Administration conducted a public hearing[1] in Washington upon a proposal to amend Article II, Section 21, of Regulations 5,[2] relating to the labeling and advertising of distilled spirits, in such manner as to permit brandies produced in the United States which have the taste, aroma and general characteristics of Cognac, as produced in the Cognac region of France, to be designated as "Cognac" if, in direct conjunction with such designation, there appears conspicuously the name of the state or other locality in the United States in which the brandy was produced.

After due consideration, the Secretary of the Treasury has disapproved the proposal so to amend the regulations.

Certain certificates of label approval have heretofore been issued to bottlers of brandy that possesses the taste, aroma and characteristics generally attributed to brandy as produced in the Cognac region of France, allowing such brandy to be designated as "Cognac" or "Cognac Brandy." These certificates of label approval will be cancelled and the holders thereof are hereby requested to mail the same to the Administration for cancellation.

At a special session of the National Bituminous Coal Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 1st day of August, 1938.

The Order of the Commission entered herein on the 30th day of July 1938,[1] determining the weighted average of the total costs of the tonnage produced in Minimum Price Areas 6, 7, 9 and 10, in the calendar year 1936, adjusted as prescribed by the Act, having shown the determination of the weighted average of the total costs of the tonnage produced in Minimum Price Area 7 to be $2.239 per net ton, whereas the determination for said Minimum Price Area 7, as made by the Commission, and as disclosed by the "Findings of Fact and Conclusions," entered herein on the 30th day of July 1938, is the sum of $2.235 per net ton, said Original Order should be corrected and amended by striking therefrom the figure "$2.239," purporting to be the weighted average of the total costs of the tonnage produced in Minimum Price Area 7 (Districts Nos. 19 and 20), and by inserting in lieu thereof the figure "$2.235," per net ton.

1. That the Original Order entered herein on the 30th day of July 1938 be, and the same is hereby amended by striking therefrom the figure of "$2.239", cited therein to be the weighted average of the total costs of the tonnage for Minimum Price Area 7 (Districts Nos. 19 and 20), and by inserting in lieu thereof the figure "$2.235", which figure of "$2.235" per net ton is Hereby Determined to be the weighted average of the total costs of the tonnage produced in Minimum Price Area 7 (Districts Nos. 19 and 20), in the calendar year 1936, adjusted so as to give effect to any changes in wage rates, hours of employment, or other factors substantially affecting costs, exclusive of seasonal changes, reflecting as accurately as possible any change or changes which have been established since January 1, 1936.

2. That the weighted average of the total costs of the tonnage for Minimum Price Area 7, as herein determined, shall be taken as the basis to be effective until changed by the Commission for the proposal and establishment of minimum prices in accordance with further order of the Commission.

3. That said Original Order, dated July 30, 1938, except as herein amended and supplemented, shall remain in full force and effect.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission be and he is hereby directed to cause forthwith a copy of this Order to be mailed to the Secretary of each District Board and to the Consumers' Counsel, and to cause a copy hereof to be published in the Federal Register; and to place for public inspection in each of the Statistical Bureaus within Minimum Price Areas 6, 7, 9 and 10 and at the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. TITLE 24—HOUSING CREDIT

HOME OWNERS' LOAN CORPORATION

EXTENSION OF TIME FOR MAKING PAYMENTS

MANUAL AMENDMENT

Be it resolved, That Section 2.13 of Part 2 of Chapter IV of Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations and the corresponding Section 213 of Chapter II of the Manual are hereby amended to read as follows:

SECTION 2.13 (Manual Section 213) Where the circumstances of the home owner, condition of the security, and the best interests of the Corporation justify it, the General Manager with the advice of the General Counsel may grant extensions of time for the payment of any delinquent amount, including principal, interest and advances, or the entire unpaid balance of the account, or change the payment plan contained in the loan or sale instruments whether the account is delinquent or not and in connection with any such transactions may (a) accept an extension or other agreement or new obligation and security instrument, and execute any such instruments, or cause the same to be executed by a duly authorized officer of the Corporation, and (b) make advances for the payment of taxes; assessments, ground rents or other levies or charges which are due and payable.

Except as provided in subsection (6) herein such authority may be exercised by the Regional Manager with the advice of the Regional Counsel in the following cases and under procedure and limitations prescribed by the General Manager with the approval of the General Counsel:

(1) Where analysis of the home owner's circumstances indicates that the following conditions exist:

(a) That the arrearages in the home Owner's account resulted from adverse economic conditions or emergencies;

(b) That the home owner's present circumstances and the record of his payments during the past six months indicate his apparent ability to pay the outstanding balance within a period not exceeding the remaining term of the loan;

(c) That the home owner is able to keep his account in good standing by paying the installments provided in the extension to be granted as they mature; and

(d) That the home owner is able to make prompt payment of insurance premiums, taxes, assessments, ground rents, or other levies or charges as they mature.

Provided that in no event shall the period of repayment extend beyond fifteen years from the date of the loan or sale instrument.

(2) Where a delinquent home owner desires to sell to a purchaser who is able and willing to assume his obligations to the Corporation but who is unable to presently pay the entire amount of indebtedness already matured provided that except in unusual cases, the period of repayment shall not exceed fifteen years from the date of the loan or sale instrument. In unusual cases where the transfer cannot be effected without extension over a longer term and foreclosure is otherwise unavoidable, the term of extension shall not exceed fifteen years from the date of the extension agreement and provided further that all such unusual cases shall be approved by the General Manager.

(3) Where the loan was made for a term of less than fifteen years and it is necessary to enable the home owner to liquidate his indebtedness, provided that in no case shall the period of repayment exceed fifteen years from the date of the loan or sale instrument.

(4) Where it is necessary that the plan of payment in the loan or sale instrument be changed to any other payment plan authorized by Section 4 (d) of the Home Owners' Loan Act as amended, to enable the home owner to liquidate his indebtedness, provided that in no case shall the period for repayment exceed fifteen years from the date of the original obligation.

(5) Where a home owner is shown to be delinquent (a) as a result of not having been billed according to the loan instruments, or (b) as a result of errors of accounting or billing arising in connection with extension or supplemental agreements, forbearances or indulgences granted, or other arrangements made, or (c) where such delinquency results from the correction of any such accounting or billing errors, or (d) regardless of whether the account is delinquent or not where the term of the obligation has been reduced by miscellaneous credits or other curtailments; provided, however, that in no case shall the period for repayment exceed fifteen years from the date of the loan or sale instrument.

(6) Where an application for extension is not eligible under any of the foregoing subsections but where an analysis of the home owner's circumstances indicates that special treatment is necessary to enable the home owner, not otherwise able to do so, to place his account in good standing, provided that the terms specified in the extension agreement shall be in accordance with the policy of the Corporation as established by the Board. This class of extensions may be granted by the Regional Manager with the advice of the Regional Counsel under instructions, general or special, by the General Manager with approval of the General Counsel.

Be it further resolved, That this resolution shall be effective on September 1, 1938.

Sec. 770.10 Representative of the Local Authority.
Sec. 770.11 Local Authority's Inspection.
Sec. 770.12 Submittals to Construction Adviser.

SEC. 770.1 Purpose.—This Bulletin has been prepared to aid local authorities in drafting, awarding, and administering contracts for the construction of low-rent housing projects in accordance with applicable provisions of the United States Housing Act of 1937[1] and of the Loan Contracts between the respective local authorities and the USHA. *[p. 1#]

SEC. 770.2 Construction adviser.—Prior to the time the local authority invites bids for the construction of a project or any part thereof, the Administrator will designate a representative of the USHA at the site of the project, who will be known as the Construction Adviser. After the final plans and specifications for the project have been approved by the USHA, all matters in connection with the project which involve construction work will be taken up with or through the Construction Adviser. The Construction Adviser shall render advice and suggestions to the local authority, but shall not give orders to the Contractor. *[p. 1#]

SEC. 770.3 Scope of authority.—In all matters relating to construction, the Construction Adviser shall be the representative of the Administrator on the site. The scope of authority of the Construction Adviser shall be so defined by the Administrator as to permit as many decisions and approvals as feasible on the site. In connection with the powers of the Construction Adviser, he will be instructed by the Administrator as to such matters as must be first submitted to the Administrator or to such other representatives of the USHA as he may designate, for consideration and approval before action thereon can be taken by the Construction Adviser. *[p. 1#]

SEC. 770.4 Other USHA field forces.—In addition to the Construction Adviser, there will be such additional field force of the USHA, either permanently or periodically at the site, as the USHA may consider necessary to observe and review the construction of the project for compliance with the provisions of the Loan Contract between the USHA and the local authority. The local authority will be advised by the Construction Adviser as to the scope of the duties of such additional personnel. *[p. 2#]

SEC. 770.5 Land acquisition.[2]—Before the USHA will authorize the local authority to advertise for bids for construction work, the local authority shall have acquired the site or assured the USHA that the site will be acquired within sufficient time to enable the local authority to execute a contract based upon any bids received. Authorization to accept any proposal or to enter into any contract for construction work will not be given by the USHA unless good title to the project site has been obtained by the local authority. *[p. 2#]

SEC. 770.6 Plans and specifications.—Plans and specifications for the construction of the project or any part thereof, together with the other contract documents, should be submitted to and approved by the USHA before the local authority invites bids for such work. The contract documents, as proposed for advertising, should be in the hands of the USHA at least 15 days before the proposed date of advertisement. *[p. 2#]

SEC. 770.7 Responsibility for project.—While the USHA will review the plans and specifications and all other documents submitted to it and furnish technical assistance, the responsibility for design and specifications and the observance of all the requirements of the Loan Contract rests with the local authority. *[p. 2#]

SEC. 770.8 Type of contract.—All work should be performed on a "Fixed Price Contract" basis. It is recommended that the local authority give consideration to dividing the project into several sections, so that separate bids can be requested for the work included in each such section as well as for the entire work. This would enable smaller contractors who cannot undertake the entire project to bid on part of the work and would thereby encourage competition, particularly where a large project is involved. If the project is divided into several sections, all trades within each such section should, so far as possible, be included in one contract. It is not recommended, unless required by State or local law, that the work be divided in accordance with the several trades (plumbing, heating, masonry, etc.) or a contract awarded on such a basis. If the work is thus divided into sections, the sections should be so laid out that the different contractors may proceed with their work independently of each other. Care should also be taken to define exactly the work to be performed in each section so there will be no conflict. If such a division is made, bids for the work in the several sections, as well as for the entire work, should be advertised and opened at the same time so that a determination can be made of the cost of the entire work. *[p. 3#]

SEC. 770.9 Award of contract.—The local authority should not award any contract until (1) after it has submitted to the Construction Adviser a written statement of all bids received, the name of the Contractor to whom the local authority proposes to make the award, and the alternates, if any, it proposes to accept, and (2) the local authority has been advised by the Construction Adviser that there is no objection on the part of USHA to the proposed award. *[p. 3#]

SEC. 770.10 Representative of the local authority.—The local authority should, through appropriate action of its governing body, designate the person who will represent it in the administration of the construction contract and should define the scope of his authority. Such representative should be empowered to perform the functions of the local authority as required by the General Conditions,[3] with such limitations as the local authority may desire. As delays in arriving at decisions and ordering changes when they become necessary often interfere with construction work and may result in claims for damages by the Contractor against the local authority, it is essential that the person designated as the representative of the local authority be readily available to the Contractor at all times. *[p. 3#]

SEC. 770.11 Local authority's inspection.—During the development of the project, the local authority shall provide and maintain competent and adequate architectural and engineering supervision and inspection of the project. Adequate supervision will necessitate a sufficient force of capable architects, engineers, and construction men to enable the local authority to supply to the Contractor promptly any additional or changed designs that may be needed, and to enforce compliance by the Contractor with the provisions of the contract. While the USHA will have representatives at the site of the project and will cooperate with the local authority in calling to its attention any matters that it may not consider in conformity with the contract, the USHA does not undertake the responsibility for the performance of any of the duties required under the Loan Contract to be performed by the local authority. The General Conditions[4] contemplate that the Architect will supervise the work to be performed under the construction contract. If the Architect is not to provide such supervision, the local authority should designate a supervising engineer and staff to perform this function, and in this event, the General Conditions should be modified accordingly. *[p. 4#]

SEC. 770.12 Submittals to construction adviser.—(a) After entering into a construction contract, the local authority should submit to the USHA, before final decision is made thereon by the local authority:

(1) All matters required by the Terms and Conditions[5] to be submitted to the USHA before a decision is made thereon by the local authority, including any change order involving more than $1,000. (See Terms and Conditions, Part III, Paragraph I, and Section 2 of the General Conditions[5]).

(2) All proposed interpretations and decisions of the local authority or the Architect as to whether items of work are required under the contract, the omission of which might affect the cost of the project in an amount exceeding $1,000.

(3) All samples required to be submitted by the Contractor.

(4) All proposed decisions of the local authority which might impair the rights of the USHA under the Loan Contract. (See Terms and Conditions, Part III).

In submitting any of the matters set forth in (a) (1), (2), (3) and (4) above, there should also be submitted all data in connection therewith such as estimates, drawings, and correspondence between the local authority, the Architect, and the Contractor.

(b) In addition to the foregoing, there should also be submitted by the local authority (though not necessarily prior to the action of the local authority thereon):

(1) Copies of change orders, interpretations, and decisions (other than those mentioned in (a) (1) and (2) of this section which are required to be submitted prior to the decision thereon by the local authority).

(2) Copies of shop drawings after approval by the Architect; and copies of approved-as-built and change-order drawings showing clearly all deviations of work as actually installed from contract drawings.

(3) Copies of all pertinent correspondence relating to the contract between the local authority, the Architect, and the Contractor.

(4) Copies of all complaints to the local authority by employees of the Contractor.

(c) Construction reports. Reports to the U. S. Department of Labor, project data and records, and pay rolls and affidavits relating to the Kick-Back Statute[6] should be submitted as required by the Terms and Conditions. SEC. 771.1 General.—The forms of contract documents now to be discussed were not prepared with any particular project or State in mind, and hence must be revised or amended so that every contract as advertised and entered into will conform with applicable State and local laws. It is requested, however, for the sake of uniformity and in order to expedite the checking of documents by the USHA, that the general form thereof be maintained so far as possible and the order of the particular divisions of the documents followed. *[p. 5#]

SEC. 771.2 Advertisement.—The form and method of advertising should comply with State or local laws and should indicate the type of work, and clearly designate the place where and the time when bids are to be received and opened, and the address at which contract documents can be obtained. The period of advertising should be sufficient to allow prospective bidders ample time to visit the site and to examine the contract documents for the purposes of preparing their estimates. *[p. 6#]

SEC. 771.3 Bid.—The bid form sets forth in general the matters which should be covered by the bidder in making his proposal. In order to secure the necessary information to allow a determination as to whether the cost of dwelling facilities per unit and per room will exceed the cost limitations placed thereon by the United States Housing Act of 1937[9], the bidder should be required to state in his bid, in addition to the lump sum price for all work included in the Specification, such amount as he has included therein for the Cost of Site Improvement as defined in Section 19 of the Instructions to Bidders and as distinguished from the Cost of Structures. Space should be left in the bid form for the insertion of this amount. (See Sections 19 and 20 of the Instructions to Bidders for information as to the Cost of Site Improvement and the determination of the cost of dwelling facilities). *[p. 6#]

SEC. 771.4 Affidavit as to collusive practises.—In order to effect the intent of Section 24 of the United States Housing Act [10], each bidder should be required to sign an affidavit in the form prepared by the USHA. In addition, subcontractors and materialmen for the electrical, heating, and plumbing work will be required to furnish the affidavits and information as set forth in Section 17 of Instructions to Bidders. *[p. 6#]

SEC. 771.5 Bidders' qualifications and bid bond.—The forms include a form of statement of bidders' qualifications, which should be completed in order to show the responsibility of the bidder. The forms also include a suggested form of bid bond. An investigation of the State law governing the local authority should be made to determine whether any particular form of bid guaranty or bid bond is required. The bid guaranty should be in a sufficient sum to insure the bidder's financial responsibility and to protect the local authority against damage occasioned by the failure or refusal of the successful bidder to enter into a contract. In general, where bids are anticipated to be in excess of one million dollars ($1,000,000), two and a half per cent (2½%) of the bid price is usually considered sufficient. Where the bid price is anticipated to be less than one million dollars ($1,000,000), the percentage of the bid price required as security should be increased. *[p. 7#]

SEC. 771.6 Instructions to bidders.—The "Instructions to Bidders" should advise bidders as to any special conditions that might exist in connection with the work and set forth the time for completion and the amount of liquidated damages to be charged in the event the work is not completed within the specified time. It should also inform bidders as to the general requirements in regard to the preparation and submittal of bids, and should cover the issuance of any addenda that might be required for revisions in the plans and specifications. *[p. 7#]

SEC. 771.7 Time for completion.—The local authority should give consideration to permitting the bidder to specify, within a restricted range, the number of days that will be required by him to complete the job. No bonus should be provided for completing ahead of time. If the bidder is asked to specify the number of days required to complete, provision should be made in the contract documents for the method of evaluating such bids. Section 14 of the Instructions to Bidders sets forth a suggested method for bidding in this manner. For the purpose of evaluating bids, it is suggested that the amount per day inserted in Section 14 be the same as that inserted in Section 15, so that the same amount be deducted for each day saved as is required by the contract to be paid for liquidated damages for delay in completion. *[p. 7#]

SEC. 771.8 Liquidated damages.—The local authority should set the amount of liquidated damages to be paid by the Contractor in such sum as will be in reasonable proportion to the actual loss that might be sustained by the local authority through the failure of the Contractor to complete on time. In this connection, consideration should be given to the loss that the local authority will sustain by virtue of a corresponding delay in receiving Federal annual contributions. The amount of liquidated damages, however, should not be fixed so high as to discourage the submittal of bids by responsible bidders. *[p. 7#]

SEC. 771.9 Estimates of cost of dwelling facilities.—In addition to the breakdown required to be given by the bidder in his bid between the Cost of Site Improvements and the Cost of Structures, provision should be made in the Instructions to Bidders requiring the successful bidder to cooperate with the Owner and the Architect for the further breaking down, after the opening of bids, of the construction cost of the project, particularly the division of costs between dwelling facilities and nondwelling facilities in structures which may contain both types. The USHA Manual of Instructions of Accounting Procedure for Local Housing Authorities, Part I, sets forth the ultimate breakdown of these costs that will be required of the Local Authority for the purpose of determining whether the costs of dwelling facilities come within the limitations prescribed by the United States Housing Act of 1937." *[p. 8#]

SEC. 771.10 Discrimination.—Paragraph 6, Part III, of the Terms and Conditions [12] and Section 43 of the suggested General Conditions [13] provide that there shall be no discrimination because of race, creed, color or political affiliations in the employment of persons for work on the project. Section 18 of the Instructions to Bidders sets forth a suggested method by which the local authority may give effect to these provisions with respect to Negro labor. The local authority should examine the State or local law (including laws with respect to competitive bidding) to ascertain whether or not Section 18 of the proposed Instructions to Bidders is in violation thereof. *[p. 8#]

SEC. 771.11 Taxes.—The local authority should ascertain whether or not State or local sales or business privilege taxes are applicable to the work to be performed by the contractor. If the applicability of the law is not clear, every effort should be made by the local authority to obtain a ruling from the appropriate officer of the State or locality, i. e., the Attorney General of the State, the Collector of Taxes, the State Tax Commission, etc. If it appears clear to the local authority that any such sales or public privilege taxes are not applicable to the work to be performed by the contractor, an appropriate clause should be inserted in the Instructions to Bidders informing them of this fact and instructing them not to include in their bids any amounts to pay such sales or business privilege taxes. If, however, contractors on work of this kind, are required to pay such sales or business privilege taxes, no reference to such taxes should be made in the Instructions to Bidders or in any other part of the Specification. *[p. 8#]

SEC. 771.12 Contract.—The contract form should contain a description and location of the work and the Specification and Drawings should be identified by number, name and date of issuance. The adjusted contract price (that is, the amount determined by adding to or subtracting from the base bid the amount of any alternates accepted) should be set forth in the contract. In many instances, it is customary to accept a bid by a letter of acceptance to be conditioned upon the execution of the formal contract and the submitting of the required bonds by the contractor. However, such procedure is not required of the local authority, and the procedure of accepting the bid and entering into the contract may be adjusted to conform to the procedure prevailing in the particular locality where the work is to be performed. Care should be taken to have the proposal accepted and the contract signed by a duly authorized agent or officer of the local authority. *[p. 9#]

SEC. 771.13 Performance bond.—The performance and payment bond or bonds should conform to State Law. If the amount of such bond or bonds is not prescribed by State Law, the amount of such bond or bonds should be not less than 50% of the contract amount. Most of the States have laws prescribing the conditions of such bond or bonds and a complete investigation of the law applicable to each project should be made. If there is no applicable statute, such bond or bonds should be used as have been passed on by the State courts as valid. The Bond or bonds in addition to affording protection to the local authority should require payment by the contractor to all persons furnishing labor and material incorporated in the project. The USHA will, upon request, assist the local authority in the preparation of proper forms of performance and payment bonds. The local authority should exercise care in the administration of its contracts which are secured by performance bonds (particularly in ordering changes) to avoid any act which might release the surety. In any doubtful case the consent of the surety to any complicated action should be obtained in advance. *[p. 9#]

SEC. 771.14 General conditions.—The suggested General Conditions, together with instructions relative thereto, for inclusion in construction contracts awarded by local authorities may be obtained from the United States Housing Authority, Washington, D. C. *[pp. 9–14 and Appendix #]

To District Supervisors, and Others Concerned:

The act of June 15, 1938 (Public—No. 620—75th Congress) amending Section 3336, Revised Statutes, as amended, pertaining to brewers' bonds, is as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That Section 3336 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1334 (b)), is further amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 3336. Every brewer, on filing notice as provided by law of his intention to commence or continue business, shall execute a bond to the United States in a penal sum equal to the amount of the tax on fermented malt liquor which, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, said brewer will be liable to pay during any one month: Provided, That the penal sum of any such bond shall not exceed $100,000 nor be less than $1,000. The bond shall be conditioned that the brewer shall pay, or cause to be paid, as herein provided, the tax required by law on all beer, lager beer, ale, porter, and other fermented liquors made by or for him, before the same is sold or removed for consumption or sale, except as hereinafter provided; and that he shall keep, or cause to be kept, in the manner required by law, a book which shall be open to inspection by the proper officers, as by law required; and that he shall in all respects faithfully comply, without fraud or evasion, with all requirements of law relating to the manufacture and sale of any malt liquors aforesaid. Once in every four years, or whenever required so to do by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, or such officer as may be designated by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the brewer shall execute a new bond in the penal sum prescribed in pursuance of this section, and conditioned as above provided, which bond shall be in lieu of any former bond or bonds of such brewer in respect to all liabilities accruing after its approval."

Pursuant to the act of June 15, 1938, Section 3447, Revised Statutes (U. S. C., title 26, sec. 1691 (a) (2)) and Section 5 of the Liquor Enforcement Act of 1936 (U. S. C., Supp. III, title 27, sec. 225), the following regulations are prescribed relative to brewers' bonds:

1. Any brewer who engages in the manufacture for sale of fermented malt liquors must, for each place at which such manufacturing in carried on, execute a separate bond in a penal sum calculated at the rate provided by law with corporate surety, individual sureties, or supported by bonds or notes of the United States or other obligations which are unconditionally guaranteed as to both interest and principal by the United States, as collateral security in a sum equal at their par value to the amount of the penal bond required to be furnished.

2. The penal sum of a brewer's bond to cover the manufacture of fermented malt liquors, must be equal to the amount of the tax (i. e., $5.00 per barrel of 31 gallons) which, in the opinion of the District Supervisor of the district in which the brewery is located, the brewer will be liable to pay during any one month; that is to say, the maximum quantity of fermented liquors that, in his opinion, will actually be tax paid at said brewery during any one month: Provided, That the penal sum of any such bond shall not exceed $100,000 nor be less than $1,000.

3. Bond, Form 1566, prescribed for brewers by Treasury Decision 4609, approved November 26, 1935, amending Regulations 18, Relating to the Manufacture and Tax-Payment of Fermented Malt Liquors, approved October 25, 1934, will be continued in use.

4. New bonds, Form 1566, must be filed by all brewers, except that new bonds need not be filed where bond in a penal sum of not less than $100,000 is necessary, and the brewer has on file an approved bond, or bonds, on Form 1566, in the maximum penal sum of $100,000 with surety or security. New bonds must bear date as of the day on which actually executed, but, if desired, June 15, 1938, may be made the effective date.

5. Except as modified by this Treasury Decision, the provisions of prior regulations respecting brewers' bonds shall remain in force and effect.

COLLECTION AND DESTRUCTION OR REMOVAL FOR DENATURATION OF CERTAIN DISTILLATES SEPARATED IN COURSE OF DISTILLATION

To District Supervisors and Others Concerned:

Section 410 of the Act of June 26, 1936 (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1320 (a)) as amended by Section 2 of the Act of June 15, 1938 (Public—No. 635—75th Congress), provides as follows:

SEC. 410. Under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, distillers may collect, in locked tanks, distillates containing one-half of 1 per centum or more of aldehydes or 1 per centum or more of fusel oil (heads and tails) removed in the course of distillation. The distillates so collected may, under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, be removed from such distillery for denaturation or be destroyed in the manner prescribed by the Commissioner, under the supervision of an internal-revenue officer to be designated by the Commissioner, and when so denaturad or destroyed shall not be subject to the tax imposed by law upon distilled spirits. Such distillates so collected in fruit brandy distilleries may, under regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, be drawn into approved casks, barrels, or other containers and stored in the brandy deposit room of the fruit brandy distillery where produced pending removal for denaturation or destruction.

Pursuant to the above-quoted provision of law the following regulations are prescribed:

1. Prior regulations continued.—Except as hereinafter provided, the collection of distillates containing one-half of one per centum or more of aldehydes or one per centum or more of fusel oil separated in the course of distillation, the determination of the character and quantity, the destruction, the removal for denaturation, and the accounting for such distillates shall be in accordance with the provisions of T. D. 4683.[1]

2. Modification respecting fusel oil content.—The phrase "more than 1 per centum of fusel oil", wherever it appears in T. D. 4683, is hereby amended to read "1 per centum or more of fusel oil."

3. Storage of distillate by brandy distillers.—A fruit brandy distiller may draw into casks, barrels, metal drums, or similar containers, such distillates collected in locked heads and tails tanks and may store such packages of distillates in the brandy deposit room of the distillery temporarily pending removal thereof for denaturation or destruction.

4. Distiller's application.—Where a fruit brandy distiller desires to draw such distillates into packages for storage in the brandy deposit room pending removal for denaturation or destruction, his application on Part 1 of the respective Form 1578 or 1577 shall be properly modified to cover such packaging and storing of the distillate. Upon approval of such application the district supervisor's order to the storekeeper-gauger on Part 2 will be correspondingly modified.

5. Gauging, marking, and branding of packages.—The packages of distillates to be stored in the brandy deposit room will be gauged, marked, and branded in accordance with the provisions of T. D. 4683 at the time of filling, except that where the distillate is to be destroyed the words "For Destruction" will be substituted for the words "For Denaturation" in marking the packages.

6. Period of storage in brandy deposit room.—Such distillates stored in the brandy deposit room must be removed therefrom and shipped to a denaturing plant for denaturation or destroyed within 30 days after the suspension of distilling operations for the season or for an indefinite period.

7. Removal for denaturation or destruction.—Upon removal of the distillate from the brandy deposit room for shipment to a denaturing plant for denaturation, or upon destruction thereof, the storekeeper-gauger will execute his report on Part 3 of the respective Form 1578 or 1577, properly modified to conform to the facts, and will dispose of the copies of such forms and of the reports of gauge, Form 1520, in accordance with the provisions of T. D. 4683.

This paragraph shall not be construed to operate against the employment of physically handicapped persons otherwise employable, where such persons may be safely assigned to work which they can ably perform.

SEC. 9. No person currently serving sentence to a penal or correctional institution shall be employed on any work project. This shall not be interpreted to include persons on probation or parole.

SEC. 10. Subject to approval of plans by the Regional Social Worker, the State Youth Director shall be responsible for making satisfactory arrangements with public relief agencies for the certification of youth who are eligible for employment on work projects of the National Youth Administration. Preference in employment of workers on projects shall be given to youth certified as in need by a public relief agency approved by the State Youth Director and the Regional Social Worker of the Works Progress Administration, and, except with the specific authorization of the Executive Director or his authorized representative, at least ninety per cent of the workers on a project shall be such persons. The following classes of youth are eligible for certification:

(a) A youth member of a family certified as in need at time of application, regardless of whether the primary wage earner is employed on the Works Program.

(b) A youth member of a family which is in need at time of application regardless of whether the primary wage earner has been certified.

SEC. 15. Preference in employment on projects shall be given in the following order:

(a) Veterans of the World War and the Spanish War and veterans of any campaign or expedition in which the United States has engaged who are in need, and are American citizens;

(b) Other American citizens, Indians, and other persons owing allegiance to the United States who are in need, and

(c) Those aliens in need whose declaration of intention to become American citizens were filed prior to June 21, 1938, and which are valid and have not expired.

SEC. 16. No person certified as in need shall be eligible for employment on any project of the National Youth Administration who has refused to accept employment on any other Federal or non-Federal project at an hourly rate comparable with or higher than the hourly wage rate established for similar work on projects of the National Youth Administration. SEC. 17. A person certified as in need who is employed upon a project shall be expected to accept a bona fide offer of private employment provided:

(a) That the temporary or permanent work pays as much or more in compensation for the same length of service as such person received from the National Youth Administration;

(b) That the wage of such work shall be at the prevailing rate;

(c) That such work shall not be in conflict with established union relationships; and

(d) That adequate health and sanitary facilities are provided and the work is conducted in accordance with safe working conditions.

No person certified as in need and employed upon a project who refuses a bona fide offer of private employment under the conditions provided in this section shall be retained in employment for the period such private employment would be available. However, a worker shall be entitled to immediate resumption of his previous employment status if he is still in need and if he has lost his private employment through no fault of his own.

SEC. 18. Youth employees paid on an hourly basis if injured in the performance of duty and unable to work as a result thereof shall be entitled to receive payment of compensation under the provisions of the Act of February 15, 1934 (48 Stat. 351), as amended.

PART VI.—ASSIGNMENT, REASSIGNMENT AND SEPARATION

SEC. 19. The Works Progress Administration shall be responsible for the assignment, classification and reclassification of persons to work projects operated by the National Youth Administration. Non-certified persons to be assigned to such projects shall be referred by the employment offices designated by the United States Employment Service. Reassignment of workers between NYA work projects, which do not involve reclassification, shall be the responsibility of the State Youth Director.

SEC. 20. All separations from projects shall be the responsibility of the State Youth Director. It shall be the responsibility of the WPA Division of Employment to notify the State Youth Director of separations from projects of the Works Progress Administration due to cancellation of eligibility for employment when such separations affect the eligibility of youth employed on NYA work projects.

REGULATIONS RELATING TO HOURLY RATES OF PAY, HOURS OF WORK, PAYMENT FOR SERVICES AND CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in the Works Progress Administration by the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938 approved June 21, 1938, I hereby prescribe the following rules and regulations.

PART I.—DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1. The term "project" as used herein shall mean projects or portions of projects financed in whole or in part from funds appropriated to the Works Progress Administration by the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938, except projects financed in whole or in part from funds appropriated to the Works Progress Administration for the National Youth Administration.

SECTION 2. The term "project employees" as used herein shall mean all employees engaged upon a project and paid by means of a pay roll payment from funds authorized for the operation of the project except owner-operators of teams, trucks and equipment to whom the rules and regulations set forth in this order shall not be applicable.

(a) The term "project employees paid on an hourly basis" as used herein shall mean persons, including supervisory employees engaged upon a project, who are paid on an hourly basis by means of pay roll payments from funds authorized for the operation of such project.

(b) The term "project supervisory employees" as used herein shall mean persons in supervisory positions engaged upon a project who are paid on a monthly basis by means of pay roll payments from funds authorized for the operation of such project.

PART II.—RATES OF PAY

SEC. 3. The rates of pay for "project employees paid on an hourly basis" shall be not less than the prevailing rates of pay for work of a similar nature in the same locality; provided that if minimum rates of pay for persons employed by private employers in any occupation are established by or pursuant to the authority conferred by any Labor Standards Act enacted at the Third Session of the Seventy-Fifth Congress, not less than the minimum rates of pay so established, shall be paid to persons in similar occupations in the same locality employed on projects; provided further that no rates of pay shall be established in accordance with the preceding provision relating to the Fair Labor Standards Act without prior approval of the Federal Works Progress Administrator.

SEC. 4. Rates of pay heretofore established by the several State Works Progress Administrators shall continue in effect and shall be applicable to "project employees paid on an hourly basis." When, in the judgment of the State Administrator, it is necessary to revise hourly rates heretofore established or to determine new hourly rates, such rates of pay shall be subject to the approval of the Federal Works Progress Administrator or his authorized representative prior to their being placed in effect.

SEC. 5. In accordance with the provisions of administrative authorities granted to him it shall be the responsibility of the State Works Progress Administrator to issue State Administrator's Orders which prescribe the schedule of appropriate rates of pay, hours to be worked and monthly earnings by occupational titles for each county in the state in which projects are being operated. Where necessary supplemental schedules shall be issued as State Administrator's Orders covering special determinations for particular projects within the county or for sub-divisions of the county. Where new or revised hourly rates of pay are determined in accordance with the provisions of section 4 above, the State Administrator's Order shall be subject to the approval of the Federal Works Progress Administrator or his authorized representative.

PART III.—HOURS OF WORK

SEC. 6. The normal hours of work for "project employees paid on an hourly basis" shall be that number of hours required to earn the authorized monthly wage at the established rate of pay. The maximum hours of work, however, shall not exceed 8 hours per day, 40 hours per week and 140 hours per month, except when, in the judgment of the State Works Progress Administrator or his authorized representative, the above limitations are not practical in the following cases:

(a) An emergency involving the public welfare or to protect work already done on the project.

(b) Making up time lost due to weather conditions, temporary interruptions in the operation of projects beyond the control of workers, injuries sustained in the performance of duty, illness, military service, or other circumstances which warrant authorizing workers to make up lost time. When making up lost time the maximum hours of work shall be 8 hours per day and 48 hours per week.

SEC. 7. For "project supervisory employees," the minimum hours of work required shall be not less than 120 hours per pay roll month. The hours of work for "project supervisory employees" shall be established by the State Administrator or his authorized representative; provided the hours of work required of such employees shall be equal for each pay period within a pay roll month.

PART IV.—PAYMENTS FOR SERVICES

SEC. 8. The several State Works Progress Administrators are authorized and directed to establish monthly salaries for "project supervisory employees" in accordance with the monthly wages customarily paid for work of a similar nature in the same locality. Deductions for absence for "project supervisory employees" shall be made in the ratio of the number of hours absent to the hours of work required, as prescribed in section 7 of this Order.

SEC. 9. "Project employees paid on an hourly basis" shall be compensated only for time actually worked. Project employees who are paid in accordance with the schedule of monthly earnings shall be allowed every reasonable opportunity consistent with efficient project operations to make up time lost as provided in section 6. Such time lost may be made up during the current or succeeding pay roll months, and payments in excess of the schedule of monthly earnings are permitted for this purpose as prescribed by Administrative Order No. 62.

SEC. 10. "Project employees" if injured in the performance of duty and unable to work as a result thereof shall be entitled to receive payment of compensation under the provisions of the Act of February 15, 1934 (49 Stat. 351) as amended.

SEC. 11. Where "project employees" are quartered in camps, the several State Work Progress Administrators are authorized to fix an appropriate charge for lodging, food, proper sanitation, water and bathing facilities, and medical and dental care, and to make such deductions at the end of each pay roll period from the earnings of "project employees" quartered in such camps.

PART V.—CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT

SEC. 12. It shall be the responsibility of the State Works Progress Administration to assure the maintenance of standards of eligibility for certification. Need and employability shall be the only requirements in determining eligibility provided persons are otherwise eligible as prescribed by law and by these regulations. For the purpose of certification, need shall be said to exist when the resources of the family or of the unattached individual are insufficient to provide a reasonable subsistence compatible with decency and health. At least ninety-five per cent (95%) of the employees on a project shall be persons who have been certified as in need by a public relief agency approved by the Works Progress Administration or in lieu thereof by the Works Progress Administration, except:

(a) Persons on such projects or portions of projects as the Federal Works Progress Administrator or his authorized representative may hereafter exempt, and

(b) Such projects or portions of projects as the State Works Progress Administrator may hereafter exempt, provided that the number of persons covered by such exemptions, including project supervisory employees shall not exceed 10% of the employees on a project and that at least 95% of the persons employed on all projects within the State shall be persons certified as in need.

SEC. 13. Persons in need whose names have not heretofore been placed upon relief rolls shall be eligible for employment and shall be certified as in need in the same manner as persons whose names have heretofore appeared on relief rolls.

SEC. 14. Farmers in rural areas who are in need and who need employment to supplement their farm income shall be eligible for certification and for employment.

SEC. 15. No person under the age of 18 years, and no person whose age or physical condition is such as to make his employment dangerous to his health or safety, or to the health or safety of others may be employed on a project. This section shall not be construed to operate against the employment of physically handicapped persons otherwise employable, where such persons may be safely assigned to work which they can perform.

SEC. 16. Only one member of a family group may be employed on projects as defined herein. This provision shall not be construed to interfere with the part-time employment of a youth member of the family by the National Youth Administration or the enrollment of a member of the family in the Civilian Conservation Corps.

SEC. 17. The fact that a person is entitled to or has received either adjusted service bonds or a Treasury check in payment of an adjusted compensation certificate shall not be considered in determining actual need of such employment.

SEC. 18. No alien illegally within the limits of the United States or alien who has not, prior to June 21, 1938, filed a declaration of intention to become an American citizen which is valid and has not expired, shall knowingly be given employment or continued in employment on any project.

SEC. 19. Preference in employment on projects shall be given in the following order:

(a) Veterans of the World War and the Spanish War and veterans of any campaign or expedition in which the United States has engaged who are in need and are American citizens.

(b) Other American citizens, Indians and other persons owing allegiance to the United States who are in need, and

(c) Those aliens in need whose declaration of intention to become American citizens were filed prior to June 21, 1938 and which are valid and have not expired.

SEC. 20. No person certified as in need shall be eligible for employment on any project financed from funds appropriated to the Works Progress Administration who has refused to accept employment on any other Federal or non-Federal project at an hourly wage rate comparable to or higher than the hourly wage rate established for similar work on projects financed from funds appropriated to the Works Progress Administration. However, any certified person who has been engaged on any Federal or non-Federal project and whose service has been regularly terminated through no fault of his own, shall not lose his eligibility for reemployment on any project financed from funds appropriated to the Works Progress Administration or on any other Federal or non-Federal project on account of such previous employment.

SEC. 21. Project employees and unassigned certified persons shall be expected to accept bona fide offers of private employment, whether of a permanent or temporary nature, provided that:

(a) The project employee is capable of performing such work.

(b) The rate of pay for such employment is not less than the standard prevailing rate of pay and the weekly or monthly earnings provide a reasonable subsistence.

(c) Such employment is not in conflict with established union relationships.

A certified person who takes such private employment shall at the expiration thereof be entitled to reemployment on a project if he is still in need and if he has lost the private employment through no fault of his own. However, project employees and certified persons awaiting assignment who refuse to accept such private employment shall be ineligible for employment on any project for the period such private employment would be available.

SEC. 22. As a condition to their continued employment on projects "project employees paid on an hourly basis" who are certified as in need shall be required to file quarterly a statement as to the amount of their earnings from outside employment while they were assigned on such projects. The quarterly statements of outside earnings shall be taken into consideration in continuing such certified persons in employment on projects.

SEC. 23. Persons certified as in need, including "project supervisory employees," who are authorized to work on projects at monthly earnings which are in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) per month shall have their certification of need cancelled and shall be considered as non-certified persons, provided that this requirement shall not be construed as prohibiting certified workers from receiving monthly earnings in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) per month when making up lost time or in an emergency as provided in section 6.

SEC. 24. Persons who are qualified for assignment to projects and who are eligible as specifically provided by law and by these regulations shall not be discriminated against on any grounds whatsoever, such as race, religion, membership in a labor organization or political affiliation.

SEC. 25. All projects shall be conducted in accordance with safe working conditions, and every effort shall be made for the prevention of accidents.

SEC. 26. Wages to be paid by the Federal Government may not be pledged or assigned, and any purported pledge or assignment shall be null and void.

SEC. 27. "Project employees on an hourly basis" shall be required to show evidence of registration and occupational classification by a designated office of the United States Employment Service before assignment to work on projects.

PART VI.—ASSIGNMENT, CLASSIFICATION AND EMPLOYMENT RECORDS

SEC. 28. The assignment and reassignment of "project employees' and the classification and reclassification by occupational title of "project employees paid on an hourly basis" shall be the responsibility of the State Works Progress Administration. The several State Work Progress Administrators are hereby authorized and directed to continue:

(a) To analyze occupational work experience and training of persons certified for project employment for the purpose of classifying them according to occupational characteristics;

(b) To make every reasonable effort, consistent with prompt employment to assign such persons to work on projects at their usual or related occupations; and

(c) To maintain individual occupational classification records showing work experience, qualifications, primary and secondary occupational classifications, and other related information.

PART VII.—EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 29. These rules and regulations shall become effective at the beginning of pay roll periods on and after August 1, 1938 and shall supersede Administrative Orders 2, 3, 6, 9, 15, 16, 26, 39, 42, 47, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, and 58 of the Works Progress Administration which are hereby rescinded. Pending revision thereto, rules and regulations heretofore issued in the Handbook of Procedures and related Operating Procedures shall continue in effect insofar as applicable and except as modified by the provisions of this Order.

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

WITHDRAWAL OF SAMPLES OF BRANDY OR FRUIT SPIRITS

To District Supervisors and Others Concerned:

Section 618 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1918 (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, sec. 1303) as amended by the Act of June 15, 1938 (Public—No. 635—75th Congress), provides in part as follows:

• • • That suitable samples of brandy or fruit spirits may be withdrawn under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, which samples shall be tax-free if for laboratory analysis and tax-paid if for any other use • • •.

Pursuant to the above-quoted provision of law the following regulations are prescribed:

TAX-FREE SAMPLES FOR LABORATORY ANALYSIS

1. Unfinished spirits in distillery.—The distiller may take samples of unfinished brandy or fruit spirits in the course of distillation for laboratory analysis. Each sample may not exceed one-half pint and the total number of samples must be restricted to the minimum necessary to accomplish the purpose of the laboratory analysis.

2. Finished spirits in receiving cistern.—The distiller may take from the receiving cistern of the distillery samples of brandy or fruit spirits for laboratory analysis. Such samples may not exceed one pint for each distillation of each kind of brandy or fruit spirits produced daily.

3. Spirits in warehouse.—The warehouseman may remove samples of brandy or fruit spirits from designated packages in the warehouse for laboratory analysis. Such samples must be taken from packages designated as "Sample Packages". Such samples may not exceed one-half pint from any package and the number of packages from which samples are taken must be restricted to the minimum necessary to accomplish the purpose of the laboratory analysis. As a rule, not more than one or two samples should be required at any one time from a given lot of spirits of the same distillation, kind of cooperage, etc. When the warehouseman desires to procure samples from a given lot of spirits in warehouse, he will limit the number of packages from which it is desired to take samples to the minimum necessary to procure representative samples of such spirits. Thereafter, if it is desired to procure additional samples from the same lot of spirits, the samples should be taken from the same packages.

4. Disposition of samples.—Tax-free samples must be used solely for laboratory analysis. Such samples may not be furnished to salesmen and dealers for advertising or soliciting purposes. Remnants or residues of tax-free samples taken from the distillery, cistern room, or warehouse, remaining after analysis and which are not desired to be retained as laboratory specimens or for further analysis, should be returned to vessels in the distilling system containing similar spirits, unless the condition of the remnants or residues is such as to render them unsuitable for such disposition. If such remnants or residues of samples are unsuitable for return to the distilling system, they should be destroyed.

TAX-PAID SAMPLES FOR OTHER THAN LABORATORY ANALYSIS

5. Spirits in distillery.—The distiller may take samples of brandy or fruit spirits in the distillery, either in the course of distillation or from the receiving cisterns, for other than laboratory analysis, subject to payment of tax on the quantity so removed. Such samples must be used strictly for sample purposes, and the number and size of the samples must be restricted to that necessary for bona fide sample purposes.

6. Spirits in the warehouse.—The warehouseman may remove samples of brandy or fruit spirits from designated packages in the warehouse for other than laboratory analysis, subject to payment of tax on the quantity so removed. Such samples must be taken from packages designated as "Sample Packages", must be used strictly for sample purposes, and the number and size of the samples must be restricted to that necessary for bona fide sample purposes. The number of packages from which such samples are taken must be restricted to the minimum necessary to accomplish the desired purpose. As a rule, it should not be necessary to take samples from more than one or two packages of a given lot of spirits of the same distillation, kind of cooperage, etc. When the warehouseman desires to procure samples from a given lot of spirits in warehouse, he will limit the number of packages from which it is desired to take samples to the minimum necessary to procure representative samples of such spirits. Thereafter, if it is desired to procure additional samples from the same lot of spirits, the samples should be taken from the same packages.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

7. Application.—When the distiller or warehouseman desires to procure samples of brandy or fruit spirits he shall make application in triplicate to the district supervisor. The application should specify whether the samples are desired for laboratory analysis tax-free or for other purposes subject to payment of tax, the reasons why the samples are desired, the number and size of the samples to be taken, and the place or places of removal. If the samples are to be taken from packages in warehouse, the serial numbers of the packages must be specified. Where it is desired to take samples from the distillery daily for laboratory purposes, the application may be made for such to be done regularly. No samples may be taken until the application is approved.

8. Approval of application.—The district supervisor must satisfy himself as to the need for the number of samples desired and the legitimacy of the purpose for which they are to be used, before approving the application. If the supervisor approves the application, he will return one copy to the applicant, send one copy to the storekeeper-gauger at the distillery or warehouse, and retain the other copy in his office.

9. Removal under supervision.—All samples must be taken under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger.

10. Label.—Each bottle containing a sample of brandy or fruit spirits must have affixed thereto by the distiller or warehouseman a label showing the name of the producing distiller, the kind of spirits, the word "Sample", and the purpose for which it is intended. The label may contain such other identifying data as the distiller or warehouseman desires to place thereon. Samples of spirits taken subject to payment of tax must have appropriate red strip stamps affixed to the bottles, and, where the quantity is one-half pint or more, the distiller or warehouseman should use his indicia bottles.

11. Office record.—The storekeeper-gauger will keep an office record of all samples taken, giving the date, number, quantity in wine and proof gallons, the proof, and, when removed from packages in warehouse, the name of the distiller, the registered number of the distillery, and the serial numbers of the packages. Taxable samples will be recorded separately from tax-free samples. The record will be so kept that all taxable samples removed from the same package will be entered together in chronological order and that all tax-free samples from the same package will be entered in a similar manner.

12. Marking entry, Form 1520.—When the first sample is taken from any package the storekeeper-gauger will note the letters "S. P.," indicating sample package, in red ink on the entry Form 1520 opposite the serial number of the package.

13. Marking package.—When the first sample is taken from any package the warehouseman will, under the supervision of the storekeeper-gauger, stencil upon the Government head of such package the letters "S. P."

14. Credit upon withdrawal of package.—Upon the withdrawal of a package of brandy or fruit spirits from which samples have been removed, the storekeeper-gauger will enter on the withdrawal Form 1520 in red ink in Column 14 the total quantity of the taxable samples and, separately, the total quantity of tax-free samples removed from the package, followed by the words "Samples Tax-Paid" and "Samples Tax-Free," respectively. The total quantity of all samples taken from the package will be included with the allowable loss in calculating (1) the taxable gallons if the package is withdrawn upon payment of tax, or (2) the taxable loss, if any, if the package is withdrawn without payment of tax. The quantity withdrawn as samples will also be entered by the storekeeper-gauger on Form 1513 as withdrawn tax-paid or tax-free, as the case may be. Should the package be transferred in bond to another warehouse the storekeeper-gauger will make like entries in red ink on the transfer Form 236 or 1520 in order that similar adjustment may be made when the package is withdrawn from the receiving warehouse.

15. Report of taxable samples.—At the end of each month the storekeeper-gauger will prepare a report on Form 1615, in quadruplicate, of all taxable samples of brandy or fruit spirits withdrawn during the month from the distillery or warehouse, or the distillery and warehouse where both are operated by the same person under the supervision of the same storekeeper-gauger in charge. All of the information called for by the form will be furnished. The storekeeper-gauger will retain one copy of the form and will deliver the remaining three copies to the distiller or warehouseman, who will forward the three copies to the collector with remittance for the tax due. The collector will execute his certificate of tax payment on each copy of the form, retain one copy, and return the remaining two copies to the distiller or warehouseman, who will retain one copy and deliver the other copy to the storekeeper-gauger. The storekeeper-gauger will note the tax-payment on his retained copy and will forward the other copy to the district supervisor.

BLENDING OF PURE FRUIT BRANDIES

To District Supervisors and Others Concerned:

Section 6 of the Act of June 15, 1938 (Public—No. 635—75th Congress) provides as follows:

SEC. 6. The fourth paragraph of section 605 of the Revenue Act of 1918, approved February 24, 1919 (U. S. C., 1934 edition, title 26, sec. 1151 (b)), is amended to read as follows:

"The taxes imposed by the first paragraph of this section shall not attach to cordials or liqueurs on which a tax is imposed and paid under sections 611 or 613 of this Act, as amended, nor to the mixing and blending of wines, where such blending is for the sole purpose of perfecting such wines according to commercial standards, nor to blends made exclusively of two or more pure straight whiskies aged in wood for a period not less than four years and without the addition of coloring or flavoring matter or any other substance than pure water and if not reduced below ninety proof; nor to blends made exclusively of two or more pure fruit brandies distilled from the same kind of fruit, aged in wood for a period not less than two years and without the addition of coloring or flavoring matter or any other substance than pure water and if not reduced below ninety proof: Provided, That such blended whiskies and blended fruit brandies shall be exempt from tax under the first paragraph of this section only when compounded under the immediate supervision of a revenue officer, in such tanks and under such conditions and supervision as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe."

1. Pursuant to the above-quoted amendment of Section 605 of the Act of February 24, 1919, the provisions of Paragraphs 114 to 123, inclusive, of Regulations 15, approved July 30, 1934, relative to the blending of straight whiskies, are hereby extended to govern the blending of pure fruit brandies distilled from the same kind of fruit, aged in wood for a period of not less than two years, and without the addition of coloring or flavoring matter or any other substance, except pure water in a quantity which will not result in reducing the spirits below 90 degrees of proof.

2. The prohibition against the addition of coloring or flavoring matter shall not be construed to prevent the blending under the provisions of these regulations of pure fruit brandies otherwise eligible to which a small amount of burnt sugar has been added in accordance with the provisions of Article CVII, Part Three of Regulations 7, approved March 6, 1930.

LOSSES OF BRANDY AND FRUIT SPIRITS INTENDED FOR FORTIFICATION OF WINE

To District Supervisors and Others Concerned:

Section 3 of the Act of June 15, 1938 (Public—No. 635—75th Congress) provides as follows:

SEC. 3. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under rules and regulations to be by him prescribed with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, upon the presentation of proof to his satisfaction of the loss by leakage, evaporation, theft, or otherwise of brandy or fruit spirits, intended for the fortification of wine, from storage tanks in bonded warehouses or from steel drums filled therefrom while such drums are in such warehouse, and in the fortification room of a bonded winery, not occurring as the result of any negligence, connivance, collusion, or fraud on the part of the winemaker or his agents, is hereby authorized to remit or refund the taxes assessed or paid upon such lost brandy or fruit spirits: Provided, however, That such remission or refund shall be allowed only to the extent that the distiller or winemaker is not indemnified or recompensed for such loss.

Pursuant to the above-quoted provision of law, Part Three of Regulations 7, approved March 6, 1930, is hereby amended by modifying Paragraphs 457 and 460 and by the addition of three new paragraphs designated 459a, 459b, and 459c, as follows:

"PAR. 457. No allowance can be made for losses of brandy or fruit spirits by leakage or evaporation from receiving tanks in the distillery or from storage tanks in the brandy deposit room, or, except as provided in Section 3 of the Act of June 15, 1938, from storage tanks in the bonded warehouse or from packages filled from such warehouse storage tanks, and the tax must be paid on all such losses: Provided, however, That where there is a deficiency of not over one-half of one per cent on such tanks the same will be ascribed to variation in gauge, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, and no tax will be collected thereon."

"PAR. 459a. The quantity of brandy or fruit spirits intended for use in the fortification of wine which is lost by leakage or evaporation from storage tanks in a bonded warehouse shall be determined and reported monthly. The extent of the loss for each month shall be established by comparison of the quantity shown by actual inventory with the quantity carried in the warehouse accounts as remaining in storage tanks at the end of the month.

"PAR. 459b. Where the loss of brandy or fruit spirits intended for the fortification of wine, by leakage or evaporation from warehouse storage tanks during any calendar month does not exceed one per cent of the actual quantity withdrawn from such tanks for shipment or transfer to bonded wineries for the fortification of wine, application for allowance of the loss will not be required, provided there are no circumstances indicating that the brandy or fruit spirits, or any part thereof, were destroyed, unlawfully used, or unlawfully removed from the warehouse, with the knowledge, consent, connivance, or collusion of the distiller or warehouseman. The allowance of not to exceed one per cent during any one month for losses by leakage or evaporation of such brandy or fruit spirits from warehouse storage tanks shall not be cumulative. Such allowance of one per cent shall apply to the losses for each month, which must be determined separately.

"PAR. 459c. The quantity of brandy or fruit spirits intended for the fortification of wine which is lost by leakage or evaporation from steel drums filled from warehouse storage tanks shall be determined by regauge thereof upon withdrawal for shipment or transfer to a bonded winery for the fortification of wine. The quantity found to be so lost will be entered by the storekeeper-gauger in Column 14 of Form 1520. Application for allowance of the loss will not be required, provided there are no circumstances indicating that the brandy or fruit spirits, or any part thereof, were destroyed, or unlawfully used, or unlawfully removed from the warehouse, with the knowledge, consent, connivance, or collusion of the distiller or warehouseman. Where the regauge indicates that the package has been tampered with, as where a material deficiency is found and there is no evidence of loss by leakage or casualty, or where deterioration in proof not accountable for by variation in gauge is disclosed, the officer will immediately notify the District Supervisor of all the facts in the case and will not permit the package to be removed pending the receipt of instructions from the District Supervisor.

"PAR. 460. Allowance for losses of brandy or fruit spirits intended for the fortification of wine, by leakage or evaporation from warehouse storage tanks, in excess of one per cent per month, calculated in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 459b, or by theft or other cause than leakage or evaporation from warehouse storage tanks or steel drums filled from such storage tanks, or for losses of brandy or fruit spirits, regardless of intended use, by theft or casualty in the warehouse or in transit while in possession of a common carrier, or by casualty while in the distillery, will be made pursuant to claim filed by the distiller or warehouseman, as the case may be, under oath, for remission of tax on the brandy or fruit spirits lost, except that in the case of loss in transit to a bonded winery the claim will be filed by the winemaker. Losses other than those due to leakage or evaporation must be reported to the Supervisor of the district in which the distillery or warehouse is located, immediately after they are discovered. Claims for remission of tax on brandy or fruit spirits lost must be filed with the District Supervisor within 30 days after the loss is discovered, except that claims for the allowance of losses of brandy or fruit spirits intended for the fortification of wine, by leakage or evaporation from warehouse storage tanks must be filed within 10 days after the end of the month during which the losses occurred. The claims must set out all the material facts and circumstances relating to the loss, and particularly the nature, cause, and extent of the loss. The claim must state whether the distiller, warehouseman, or winemaker, as the case may be, is indemnified against or recompensed for the loss of the brandy or fruit spirits, and specifically whether the brandy or fruit spirits were insured."

ABATEMENT OR REFUND OF FORTIFICATION TAX ON BRANDY CONTAINED IN WINE EXPORTED OR REMOVED FOR MANUFACTURE OF VINEGAR OR DEALCOHOLIZED WINE OR WHICH BECOMES UNFIT FOR USE AS WINE AND IS USED AS DISTILLING MATERIAL

To District Supervisors and Others Concerned:

Section 618 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1918 (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, sec. 1303), as amended by Section 1 of the Act of June 15, 1938 (Public—No. 635—75th Congress), provides in part as follows:

• • • That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue under rules and regulations to be by him prescribed subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall remit or refund all fortification taxes assessed or paid upon the quantity of fortifying spirits contained in wines exported, or which have become unfit for use as wine and are used as distilling material.

Pursuant to the foregoing provision of law, Article LXIII of Regulations 7, Relative to the Production, Fortification, Tax Payment, Etc., of Wine, approved October 6, 1937,[1] is hereby amended as follows:

"ARTICLE LXIII.—ABATEMENT OR REFUND OF FORTIFICATION TAX ON BRANDY CONTAINED IN WINE EXPORTED OR REMOVED FOR MANUFACTURE OF VINEGAR OR DEALCOHOLIZED WINE OR WHICH BECOMES UNFIT FOR USE AS WINE AND IS USED AS DISTILLING MATERIAL

"PAR. 314. Claim for abatement or refund of fortification tax.—Where fortified wine is exported or removed for the manufacture of vinegar or the production of dealcoholized wine containing less than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume, or becomes unfit for use as wine and is used as distilling material, the fortifying tax on the brandy contained in the wine will be abated or refunded upon the filing of proper claim by the producer of the wine, supported by evidence clearly establishing the quantity, in proof gallons, of fortifying brandy contained in the wine and its exportation, removal for manufacture of vinegar or dealcoholized wine, or its spoilage and use as distilling material, as the case may be.

"PAR. 315. Alcoholic content shown by the records.—The winery records, including Forms 275 and 702, pertaining to the fortification, storage, and removal of fortified wine exported or removed for the manufacture of vinegar or dealcoholized wine, or which becomes unfit for use as wine and is used as distilling material, must clearly show the alcoholic content of the wine both before and after fortification, and the quantity in proof gallons of brandy added to the wine in fortification. Such wine must be stored in separate tanks, packages, or other containers, kept completely separated from other wines, and a label containing this information must be attached to the containers of the wine.

"PAR. 315a. Unfitness for use as wine and use as distilling material.—When fortified wine becomes unfit for use as wine and is to be used as distilling material the proprietor will, before removal of the wine, request the district supervisor to detail a Government officer to inspect the wine and witness the removal thereof. The officer will carefully inspect the wine, obtain from each package or bulk container a pint sample of the contents, and will witness removal of the wine. The officer will make a report of his findings and action to the district supervisor, and will submit the samples to the nearest Bureau branch laboratory for analysis. The chemist will test the samples of wine submitted by the officer for both alcohol and acids and examine the same for other cause of spoilage, and will state in his report whether the wine is unfit for use as such. Where the analysis indicates that the wine has been tampered with the chemist will so state in his report. If the wine removed is not unfit for use as wine, or if it has been tampered with, as by the removal of original contents and the substitution of water or other liquid therefor, the fortifying tax assessed or paid on the brandy used in fortifying the wine will not be abated or refunded. When received at the distillery, the wine must be used for distilling material under supervision of a Government officer."

MANUFACTURE OF VERMOUTH ON BONDED WINERY PREMISES

To District Supervisors and Others Concerned:

Section 7 of the Act of June 15, 1938 (Public—No. 635—75th Congress) provides as follows:

SEC. 7. The second paragraph added to section 605 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended by section 319 (b) of the Liquor Tax Administration Act (U. S. C., 1934 edition, Supp. III, title 26, sec. 1151 (f)) is amended to read as follows:

"The manufacture of vermouth with fortified sweet wine on bonded winery premises shall not be deemed to be rectification with the meaning of paragraph 'Third' of section 3244 of the Revised Statutes, if distilled spirits other than necessary in the production of approved essences, used in the manufacture of vermouth, whether or not such essences are produced on the bonded winery premises, are not added to the fortified sweet wine used in the manufacture thereof or to such vermouth during or after its manufacture. Such vermouth may be manufactured on bonded winery premises, but only in a separate department thereof having no interior communication with any other department or part of such premises, under such supervision and in accordance with such regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe."

Pursuant to the above-quoted provision of law Regulations No. 7, Relative to the Production, Fortification, Tax Payment, Etc., of Wine, approved October 6, 1937,[1] is hereby amended by the modification of Paragraphs 86 and 87, and by the addition of a new paragraph designated Paragraph 86a, as follows:

"PAR. 86. Separate department.—Vermouth may be manufactured only in a separate department of the winery premises, provided as prescribed in paragraph 15. No wine other than fortified sweet wine may be used in the manufacture of vermouth on bonded winery premises. No distilled spirits other than the quantity necessary in the production of approved essences used in the manufacture of vermouth, as provided in paragraph 86a, may be added to the fortified sweet wine used in the manufacture of vermouth on such premises, or to the vermouth during or after its manufacture.

"PAR. 86a. Approved essences.—Approved essences containing distilled spirits may be used in the manufacture of vermouth on bonded winery premises. Such essences shall contain no greater quantity of distilled spirits than is necessary to extract and hold in solution the flavoring materials. The quantity of such essences used shall be such as will not increase the volume of the wine more than 10 per cent or its alcoholic content more than four per cent by volume or the alcoholic content of the finished product to more than 24 per cent by volume. Such essences may be produced in the vermouth department of the winery or procured elsewhere. The distilled spirits used in manufacturing such essences must be tax-paid. Brandy or fruit spirits withdrawn for use in the fortification of wine may not be used in the manufacture of such essences.

"PAR. 87. Formulae and processes.—Every winemaker desiring to manufacture vermouth on his winery premises shall file with the district supervisor a statement in detail of each process by which he intends to manufacture the product, including the formulae. The formulae must show all the ingredients to be used, but the quantity or percentage of each ingredient used need not be given. It will not be necessary to submit a new formula where the quantity or percentage of any ingredient is varied. Where the ingredients composing a formula are changed, however, a new formula must be submitted. Where an approved essence is to be used the formula must show the alcoholic content of the wine, the alcoholic content of the essence, and the quantity of such essence to be used with a given quantity of wine. Each formula will show the percentage of absolute alcohol by volume in the finished product according to the taxable grade, as not more than 14 per cent, more than 14 per cent and not exceeding 21 per cent, more than 21 per cent and not exceeding 24 per cent. Formulae will be numbered serially and prepared in triplicate. The winemaker will retain one copy of each statement of process and formula accessible for inspection by Government officers, and forward two copies to the district supervisor. The district supervisor will retain one copy and forward the other to the Commissioner. No winemaker may manufacture any vermouth not covered by a formula filed by him with the district supervisor."

Pursuant to the foregoing provisions of law, Regulations No. 7, Relative to the Production, Fortification, Tax Payment, Etc., of Wine, approved October 6, 1937,[1] are amended by modifying the titles of Articles XXV and XXVI and the provisions of Paragraphs 115, 116, 118 to 128, inclusive, and 202, and by the addition of a new paragraph designated 127a, as follows:

"ARTICLE XXV.—SHIPMENT OF WINES IN BOND TO OTHER BONDED PREMISES

"PAR. 115. Removals free of tax.—Wines and vermouth may be removed for transfer in bond free of tax from a bonded winery or bonded storeroom to another bonded winery or bonded storeroom, as provided in these regulations.

"PAR. 116. Shipments in bond.—Where wine or vermouth is shipped in bond to other bonded premises the bill of lading covering the shipment must show the proprietor of the premises from which such wine or vermouth is shipped, as the consignor, and the proprietor of the premises to which the wine is shipped, as the consignee; the serial numbers of the packages; the quantity of wine or vermouth and its alcoholic content. Each package or case so shipped must bear the following data, either stenciled thereon in whole or in part, or by label, in whole or in part, securely attached with a good adhesive: that the wine or vermouth is shipped in bond, the date of shipment, the name, registry number, and location (city or town and State) of the premises from which shipped and the premises to which shipped. This information shall be in addition to the markings prescribed in paragraph 102. Where the wine or vermouth is shipped in tanks, tank trucks, or railroad tank cars, the label must be securely attached with a good adhesive to some place on the tank, tank truck, or railroad tank car where it may readily be examined by Government officers. Where such label is attached to a wooden surface, tacks must be used in addition to the adhesive. The label will be in substantially the following form:

NEW YORK WINE CO.
B. W. No. 72, New York, N. Y., 2nd Dist.
Shipped _____

"PAR. 118. Shipments in same district.—If the wines or vermouth are shipped to premises within the same district, the district supervisor will retain both copies of Form 703 until the monthly reports, Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B, of the consignor and consignee are received, when they will be checked with both Forms 702, 702–A, or 702–B and any loss in transit noted thereon. The date of checking and the initials of the checker will also be entered on each copy of Form 703 in the proper spaces. The district supervisor will then file both copies of Form 703.

"PAR. 119. Shipments to other districts.—If the wines or vermouth are shipped to another district, the district supervisor will immediately forward the blue Form 703 to the district supervisor of the district to which the wines or vermouth are shipped. The district supervisor of the district to which the wines or vermouth are shipped will check the blue Form 703 with the monthly report on Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B of the proprietor to whom the wines or vermouth are shipped, and will note thereon any loss in transit. The date of checking and the initials of the checker will also be entered on Form 703 in the proper space. The district supervisor will then return the form to the district supervisor of the district from which the wines or vermouth were shipped. When the form is received by the district supervisor of the shipping district, it will be checked with the consignor's report, Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B, and the date of checking and initials of the checker will be entered on the Form 703.

"PAR. 120. Wines measured when received.—When received at the premises to which they are shipped, the proprietor of such premises will measure the wine or vermouth and enter on his monthly report, Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B, the quantity actually received.

"PAR. 121. Losses in transit.—If there has been a loss in transit from any package or other container in excess of 1 per cent, or 2 per cent in the case of transcontinental shipments, of the quantity shipped in such container, the proprietor of the receiving premises will attach to his monthly report, Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B, a statement under oath setting out all the material facts relating to the entire loss, and stating particularly the nature and cause thereof, i. e., whether by leakage, evaporation, casualty, theft, etc., and the extent of the loss. If there has been a loss from more than one package, the quantity lost from each package, the cause thereof, and the condition of the package must be given. The statement must also set forth whether the proprietor has been reimbursed or is indemnified for the tax on the wine or vermouth. If statements relative to the loss can be procured from the carrier, copies thereof will also be attached to Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B, as the case may be. The proprietor shall immediately forward copies of these statements to the proprietor of the winery or storeroom from which the wines or vermouth were shipped.

"PAR. 122. Losses less than 1 per cent.—If the loss is less than 1 per cent, or 2 per cent in the case of transcontinental shipments, of the quantity shipped in any package or other container, notation of such loss will be made by the proprietor of the receiving premises on his monthly report, Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B, but no detailed statement of the loss need be made unless so required by the district supervisor or Commissioner.

"PAR. 123. Shipper liable for tax.—The proprietor of the premises from which the wine or vermouth is shipped in bond will remain liable for the tax thereon until received at the premises to which shipped. Application for remission of tax on losses in transit will be filed by the consignor in accordance with Article XXXIV.

"PAR 124. Transfers to and from bonded field warehouse.—Where wine or vermouth are transferred to or from a bonded field warehouse and the winery contiguous or adjacent thereto, it shall not be necessary to make report on Form 703. When wines or vermouth are so transferred the proprietor of each premises shall immediately enter the transaction in his monthly record, Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B.

"ARTICLE XXVI.—REMOVAL OF WINE AS DISTILLING MATERIAL

"PAR. 125.—Wine removed free of tax.—Wine or vermouth may be removed in bond free of tax to a fruit distillery or an industrial alcohol plant for use as distilling material in the manufacture of brandy and alcohol.

"PAR. 126. Pipe line to fruit distillery.—Where a bonded winery and a fruit distillery are operated on contiguous premises by the same person, wine or vermouth for use as distilling material may be transferred from tanks in the winery to measuring tanks in the distillery, or, where the distillery measuring tanks are authorized to be installed on the winery premises, from such measuring tanks directly to the chargers of the stills, by fixed pipe line. The pipe line must traverse only bonded premises and be equipped with a valve which may be locked with a Government lock. The valve will be locked whenever operations at the distillery or winery are suspended.

"PAR. 127. Pipe line to industrial alcohol plant.—Where a bonded winery and an industrial alcohol plant are operated on contiguous premises by the same person, wine or vermouth for use as distilling material may be transferred from tanks in the winery to storage tanks in the alcohol plant, by means of a securely connected pipe line of a fixed and permanent character. The tanks in the winery must be suitably equipped for determining the quantity of wine or vermouth so transferred, and the pipe line outlet of each such tank must be equipped with a valve so constructed that it may be locked at all times, except when necessary to be open for the transfer of wine or vermouth. The keys will be in the custody of the Government officer assigned to the alcohol plant, and the wine or vermouth will be transferred under his supervision.

"PAR. 127a. Permission required for removal of sparkling or artificially carbonated wine.—When the proprietor wishes to remove champagne, sparkling wine, or artificially carbonated wine for use as distilling material he shall make application to the district supervisor for permission so to do, stating the name and address of the distillery or industrial alcohol plant to which it is desired to transfer the wine, the number and size of the bottles, and the condition of the wine. If the district supervisor is satisfied that the application is made in good faith he will authorize the applicant in writing to remove the wine, provided the district supervisor may, where in his judgment the quantity or the attendant circumstances render it advisable, detail an officer to inspect the wine and supervise its removal from the premises.

"PAR. 128. Report on Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B.—All wine or vermouth removed from a bonded winery or bonded storeroom for shipment or transfer to a fruit distillery or industrial alcohol plant must be reported by the proprietor on monthly record, Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B. When wines or vermouth are removed as distilling material, the exact alcoholic content of the wine or vermouth, as 18 per cent, 20 per cent, etc., must be entered on Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B. Where champagne, sparkling wine, artificially carbonated wine, or vermouth is so removed, report will be made in Part 4 or Part 5 of Form 702–A, or Part 6 of Form 702–B, as the case may be, with appropriate modification of the heading of the part and entry in the summary of the form.

"PAR. 202. Unaccounted for items.—Wine or vermouth shipped to other bonded premises will be carried as unaccounted for until Form 702, 702–A, 702–B, or 703 is received showing that the wine or vermouth has been received at the premises to which shipped. Wine or vermouth shipped for export will likewise be carried as unaccounted for until Form 711 and bill of lading are received showing exportation of the wine or vermouth. Losses in transit will be carried as not allowed until the same are allowed by the Commissioner or the tax is paid thereon."

Pursuant to the above-quoted provision of law, Regulations No. 7, Relative to the Production, Fortification, Tax Payment, Etc., of Wine, approved October 6, 1937,[1] is hereby amended by modifying Paragraphs 279, 291, 293, 296, 297, and 313, revoking Paragraph 294, and adding two new paragraphs designated 296a and 296b, as follows:

"PAR. 279. Tax on excess losses.—Where the regauge of packages (other than steel drums filled from storage tanks in bonded warehouse) discloses excess losses, the proprietor of the warehouse will forward all copies of Form 257, with Form 1520 attached, to the collector of internal revenue with his remittance to cover the tax due on such excess losses. The collector will certify to the payment of the tax on all copies of the form, retain one copy, and return the other copies to the proprietor of the warehouse, who will deliver them to the Government officer.

"PAR. 291. Losses.—Each day wines are fortified the officer will also enter on Form 276 the information called for on that form, as indicated by the headings of the various columns and lines and the instructions printed on the form. Where losses have been sustained the officer will attach a statement to each copy of the form, giving the serial numbers of the packages involved, the quantity lost from each package, and the apparent reason for the loss. Losses from storage tanks will be determined at the end of the month during which wines are fortified or upon completion of fortification for the month, as provided in paragraph 296a. The losses from storage tanks will also be reported on the statement accompanying Form 276. Where the loss is due to theft or casualty in transit, or to leakage, evaporation, theft, or other cause while in the fortification room of the winery, the officer will enter in Part 5 of the form, in lieu of the amount of tax on such loss, the words 'Casualty in transit', or 'Theft in transit', or 'Loss in fortifying room by _____', as the case may be. At the close of the month, or upon completion of fortification for the month, the officer will complete the form, retain one copy at the winery as a permanent record, and forward one copy to the collector of internal revenue of the district and the other two copies to the district supervisor, who will transmit one copy to the Commissioner with his brandy account, Form 290.

"PAR. 293. Losses indicating tampering.—Where the officer's gauge indicates that a package may have been tampered with, as where a material deficiency is found and there is no evidence of loss by leakage or casualty, or where deterioration in proof not accountable for by variation in gauge is disclosed, the officer will immediately notify the district supervisor of all the facts in the case and will not permit the package to be used until he is instructed to do so by the district supervisor.

"PAR. 296. Losses in fortifying room.—The tax may be remitted on brandy and fruit spirits which are lost by leakage, evaporation, theft, or otherwise while in in the fortification room of a bonded winery, without negligence, connivance, collusion, or fraud on the part of the winemaker or his agents, to the extent that the winemaker is not indemnified against or recompensed for the tax on the brandy or fruit spirits lost.

"PAR. 296a. Losses by leakage or evaporation from storage tanks.—The quantity of brandy or fruit spirits which is lost by leakage or evaporation from storage tanks in the fortifying room of a bonded winery shall be determined and reported at the end of the month during which wines are fortified or upon completion of fortification for the month. The extent of the loss shall be established by comparison of the quantity shown by actual inventory with the quantity shown by the records of the winery as remaining in storage tanks at the end of the month, or upon completion of fortification for the month, as the case may be. Losses occurring at any time when an officer is not present shall be reported immediately upon discovery to the district supervisor.

"PAR. 296b. Losses allowable without claim.—Where the loss of brandy or fruit spirits in the fortification room of a bonded winery since the date of the last previous determination of such a loss does not exceed one per cent of the quantity used for the fortification of wine during the subsequent month in which wines are fortified or up to the time of completion of fortification for such month, claim for allowance of the loss will not be required, provided there are no circumstances indicating that such loss of brandy or fruit spirits occurred as a result of any negligence, connivance, collusion, or fraud on the part of the winemaker or his agents. The allowance of not to exceed 1 per cent of the quantity used as above provided shall not be cumulative. Such allowance of 1 per cent shall apply to the losses ascertained at the end of the month or upon completion of the fortification for the month, as the case may be.

"PAR. 297. Claims for losses.—Allowance for losses of brandy or fruit spirits by theft or casualty in transit while in possession of a common carrier, and for losses while in fortifying room of a bonded winery in excess of the quantity specified in paragraph 296b will be made pursuant to claim filed by the winemaker, under oath, for remission of the tax on the brandy lost. Losses must be reported to the supervisor of the district in which the winery is located immediately after they are discovered. Claims for remission of tax on brandy or fruit spirits lost should be filed with the district supervisor within 30 days after the loss is discovered, except that claims for the allowance of loss by leakage or evaporation in the fortifying room must be filed within 10 days after the end of the month during which the loss is discovered. The claims must set out all the material facts and circumstances relating to the loss and particularly the nature, cause, and extent of the loss. The claims must show whether the loss occurred as the result of any negligence, connivance, collusion or fraud on the part of the winemaker or his agents, and whether the winemaker is indemnified against or recompensed for the tax on the brandy or fruit spirits lost.

"PAR. 313. Assessment of tax on deficiencies.—Collectors will also enter on their list for assessment any tax due on deficiencies shown on Form 276. Where the form indicates that the deficiency is due to theft or casualty in transit, or to leakage, evaporation, theft, or other cause in the fortifying room of the winery, the collector will not enter on his report the tax on such losses. If, after consideration of the winemaker's claim for remission of tax in the case of those losses where the submission of such claim is required, the tax is found to be due, it will be entered on the assessment list by the Commissioner. (See also Articles LVIII and LIX relative to tax on losses of brandy or fruit spirits.)"

Such pipe lines shall be permanently connected in a secure manner with fortifying tanks or brandy storage tanks in the fortifying room, except that where the winery is operated by the person operating the distillery and the warehouse the brandy or fruit spirits may be weighed in the fortifying room of the winery, in which event the pipe line shall be permanently connected in a secure manner with the warehouse storage tanks, and, when spirits are being transferred, it shall be connected by appropriate and secure connections with the weighing tank in the fortifying room.

4. BUREAU OF MARINE INSPECTION AND NAVIGATION

SUBDIVISION OF RIVER PASSENGER VESSELS; APPROVAL OF MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS OF FIRE EQUIPMENT

Pursuant to call under authority of Section 4405 of the Revised Statutes by the Hon. J. M. Johnson, Acting Secretary of Commerce, a special meeting of an Executive Committee of the Board of Supervising Inspectors, consisting of R. S. Field, Director; George Fried, Supervising Inspector of the Second District; and C. W. Willet, Supervising Inspector of the Sixth District, met in the office of the Director, Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C., on July 26, 1938. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

[Resolution No. 4262]

IN RE: SUBDIVISION OF RIVER PASSENGER VESSELS

Resolved, That under authority of Sections 4405, 4417 and 4426, R. S., Rule III, Rivers, General Rules and Regulations, be and hereby is amended by adding the following new section to be known as section 50:

Every new mechanically propelled vessel of more than 75 gross tons carrying passengers for hire shall have a sufficient number of transverse watertight bulkheads so that the vessel will remain afloat and have positive stability in the event any one main compartment is flooded.

A forepeak or collision bulkhead shall be fitted and located not less than 5 per cent of the length of the ship, and not more than 10 feet plus 5 percent of the length of the ship from the bow at the load water line.

In vessels where the propelling machinery is below the main deck one bulkhead shall be fitted at the forward end of the machinery space (which includes boiler space) and one bulkhead shall be fitted at the aft end of the machinery space. Other transverse bulkheads shall be so located as to meet the above requirements of subdivision and stability.

Main transverse bulkheads shall not be stepped, but may be recessed. No recess shall be fitted nearer the vessel's side than one-fifth of the vessel's beam amidships measured at right angles to the center line at the level of the water line on which the subdivision is based.

Bulkheads shall extend to a deck whose distance above the load waterline is sufficient to enable the subdivision and stability requirements to be met with a fair margin of safety.

If the distance between two adjacent main transverse watertight bulkheads is less than 10 feet plus 2 per cent of the vessel's length, measured between perpendiculars at the extremities of the vessel's load water line, only one of these bulkheads shall be regarded as forming a boundary of a main compartment.

Existing vessels shall comply with the above rules unless it can be shown by the owners that their application is impracticable and unreasonable.

(Effective as to new vessels immediately, as to existing vessels April 15, 1939.)

[Resolution No. 1511–94]

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS SATURDAY, JULY 30, 1938

Important.—Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal Civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts, and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

[Order No. 27]

ORDER REGULATING SUCH HANDLING OF MILK IN THE NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MARKETING AREA AS IS IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE, AND AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE COMMERCE

Whereas, under the terms and provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States is empowered, after due notice and opportunity for hearing, to enter into marketing agreements with processors, producers, associations of producers, and others engaged in such handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof; and

Whereas, under the terms and provisions of said act, the Secretary of Agriculture is empowered to issue orders applicable to processors, producers, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof specified in subsection (2) of section 8c, such orders to regulate only such handling of such agricultural commodity or product thereof as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, having reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order with respect to the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of said act, gave, on the 29th day of April 1938, notice of public hearings[1] to be held on a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order, said hearings being held jointly with the Commission of Agriculture and Markets of the State of New York at Albany, New York, May 16, 1938; Malone, New York, May 17, 1938; Syracuse, New York, May 18, 1938; Elmira, New York, May 19, 1938; New York City, May 20, 24, 25, and 26, 1938; and Albany, New York, June 3, 4, and 7, 1938, and at said times and places all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on the proposed marketing agreement and the proposed order; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture has found and proclaimed[2] the period

[2] See Page 1957.

August 1921–July 1929 to be the base period to be used in connection with ascertaining the purchasing power of milk produced for sale in the New York metropolitan marketing area; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture finds that a pro rata assessment on handlers at a rate not to exceed 2 cents per hundredweight of Class I, II–A, and II–B milk handled will provide funds necessary for the proper administration of this order; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture finds, upon the evidence introduced at the said public hearings;

1. That approximately one-third of the milk produced for sale in the marketing area is produced in States other than the State of New York; that approximately one-third of the milk produced in the State of New York for sale in the marketing area passes through other States on its way to be sold in the marketing area; and that milk produced in the State of New York for sale in the marketing area which does not pass through other States on its way to be sold in the marketing area is physically and inextricably intermingled with that milk which is produced outside the State of New York for sale in the marketing area or which is produced in the State of New York for sale in the marketing area but which passes through other States on its way to be sold in the marketing area; and that all milk which is produced for sale in the marketing area is handled in the current of interstate commerce or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk and its products, except as such milk is regulated by an order of the Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets of the State of New York, to which this order is complementary;

2. That the prices calculated to give milk handled in the marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to section 2 and section 8e of the act are not reasonable in view of the available supplies of feeds, the price of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect the supply and demand for such milk, and that the minimum prices fixed in accordance with the method set forth in this order are such prices as will reflect such factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest;

3. That this order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to handlers defined in a marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held;

4. That orderly marketing conditions for milk flowing into the New York metropolitan marketing area are so disrupted as to result in impairment of the purchasing power of such milk, and that the issuance of this order and all of its terms and conditions will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the authority vested in him by said act, hereby orders that such handling of milk produced for sale in the New York metropolitan marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce, shall, from the effective date hereof according to article X, be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

For milk containing more or less than 3.5 percent of butterfat or received from producers or cooperative associations of producers at plants in other zones, each handler shall pay per hundredweight not less than the prices set forth in this section plus or minus the differentials set forth in sections 2 and 3 of this article.

The minimum prices for Class I and Class II–A milk shall apply to all Class I and Class II–A milk which is sold in the marketing area or which passes through a plant in the marketing area. The minimum prices for milk in Classes II–B, III–A, III–B, III–C, III–D, IV–A, and IV–B shall apply to all milk of any handler in these classes unless such handler has milk in Class I to which the minimum price is not applicable, in which event the minimum III–A, III–B, III–C, III–D, IV–A, and IV–B prices shall not apply to the percent of his milk, if any, in each of the said classes which is equal to the percent of his total milk received from producers to which the Class I price is not applicable.

Payment of the minimum prices for milk received direct from producers shall be in accordance with article VII. Any handler who purchases or receives milk from a cooperative association of producers which is also a handler shall pay such cooperative association in full for such milk at not less than the minimum prices applicable pursuant to this article.

ARTICLE V.—REPORTS OF HANDLERS

SECTION 1. Preliminary monthly reports.—On or before the 23rd day of each month each handler shall, when requested by the market administrator, report to the market administrator in the manner and form prescribed by him: (a) The total quantity of milk received during the first twenty days of such month from producers, and (b) the utilization of such milk in the several classes set forth in article III.

SEC. 2. Reports of deliveries per day per producer.—Each handler shall, upon request of the market administrator given not less than two weeks in advance, report the average deliveries of milk per day per producer during a specified period of time.

SEC. 3. Final monthly reports.—On or before the 10th day of each month each handler shall report to the market administrator, in the manner and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, with respect to milk received at each plant during the preceding month:

1. The total quantity of milk, with the average butterfat content thereof, received from producers, from other plants, from such handler's own farm, and from other handlers;

2. The total quantity of milk and of each product of milk moved out of such plant during such month or on hand at such plant at the end of such month, the butterfat content of each product; and the destination of any milk which moved out of such plant;

3. If classification of any milk is claimed by such handler on the basis of utilization at some other plant, the utilization of such milk, together with written consent for verification by audit thereof signed by the operator, if not a handler, of the other plant, and

4. The computation, pursuant to section 1 of article VI of such handler's net pool obligation.

SEC. 4. Verification of reports and payments.—The market administrator shall promptly verify all reports and payments of each handler by audit of such handler's records. Each handler shall, during the usual hours of business, make available to the market administrator or his representative such of his records and facilities as will enable the market administrator to:

1. Verify the receipts and utilization of all milk required to be reported pursuant to this article, and, in case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

2. Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

3. Verify the payments to producers prescribed in article VII.

ARTICLE VI.—DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE

SECTION 1. Net pool obligation of handlers.—The net pool obligation of any handler for milk received from producers during each month shall be a sum of money computed for such month as follows:

1. Determine the total quantity of milk in each class at each plant;

2. Subtract from the quantity of milk in each class the quantity of such milk received from other plants or from other handlers;

3. Subtract pro rata out of each class the quantity of milk received from the handler's own farm;

4. Subtract from the remaining quantity of milk in each class, the quantity of each to which the prices in section 1 of article IV do not apply, which result shall be known as the "net pooled milk" in each class;

5. Multiply the total quantity of net pooled milk in each class, at all plants of the handler combined, by the respective class prices set forth in section 1 of article IV and add together the resulting sums;

6. Deduct, in the case of each plant where the average butterfat content of all milk received from producers is in excess of 3.5 percent and add in the case of each plant where the average butterfat content of all milk received from producers is less than 3.5 percent, an amount equal to the difference between the total value of the butterfat differentials on net pooled milk in Classes III–A, IV–A, and IV–B at the rates set forth in section 2 of article IV for such milk and the total value of the butterfat differentials on such milk as set forth in section 3 of article VII;

7. Deduct, in the case of each plant nearer New York City than the 201–210 mile zone, and add, in the case of each plant farther from New York City than the 201–210 mile zone, an amount equal to the difference between the sum of the respective transportation differentials, as set forth in section 3 of article IV, on all net pooled milk in Classes II–A, II–B, III–A, III–B, and III–C and the sum obtained by applying the appropriate zone differential set forth in column B of the schedule in section 3 of article IV to the total net pooled milk at each plant in Classes II–A, II–B, III–A, III–B, III–C, III–D, IV–A, and IV–B.

8. Deduct 20 cents per hundredweight for all net pooled milk received from producers at plants in the counties or portions of counties listed below in this section. The result thus obtained shall be known as the "handler's net pool obligation."

Hunterdon.

SEC. 2. Computation of the uniform price.—The market administrator shall, on or before the 14th day of each month, audit for mathematical correctness and obvious errors the final report submitted for the preceding month by each handler and, on the 14th day of such month, compute from all of such corrected reports the uniform price in the following manner:

1. Combine into one total the net pool obligations of all handlers;

2. Subtract the total of payments required to be made for such month by section 5 of article VII and the total of payments claimed pursuant to section 6 of article VII;

3. Add the amount of cash in the producer settlement fund;

4. Divide the result by the total quantity of milk represented in the sum obtained pursuant to paragraph 1 of this section; and

5. Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents to provide against the contingency of errors in reports and payments or of delinquencies in payments by handlers. This result shall be known as the uniform price for such month for milk containing 3.5 percent butterfat received from producers at plants in the 201–210-mile zone.

ARTICLE VII.—PAYMENTS TO PRODUCERS

SECTION 1. Time of payment.—On or before the 25th day of each month each handler which is not a cooperative association of producers shall make payment to each producer for all milk delivered by such producer at any plant during the preceding month at not less than the uniform price, subject to differentials set forth in sections 2 and 3 of this article. If, however, the net pooled milk in all classes at all plants of such handler is less than the total milk he received from producers and he does not pay the uniform price for all milk received from producers, such handler shall pay each producer the uniform price on such producer's pro rate share of the net pooled milk at all of his plants. Each handler shall give each producer a clear statement of the percentage of such producer's milk which was paid for at the uniform price and furnish a copy of such statement to the market administrator at the time payment is made.

SEC. 2. Transportation and location differentials.—The uniform price shall be plus or minus the differential shown in column B of the schedule contained in section 3 of article IV for the zone of the plant as established for the purposes of section 3 of article IV, plus 25 cents in the case of plants located in the counties listed in paragraph 8 of section 1 of article VI.

SEC. 3. Butterfat differential.—The uniform price shall be plus or minus, as the case may be, 4 cents per hundredweight for each one-tenth of one percent above or below 3.5 percent of average butterfat content of milk delivered by any producer during any month.

SEC. 4. Grade A premiums.—In addition to the uniform price and all other payments required pursuant to this article, each handler shall pay for milk which is qualified under the New York City Department of Health requirements for sale as Grade A milk and which is delivered to a plant similarly qualified, an amount per hundredweight equivalent to the following differentials on that Class I milk which such handler sold in the marketing area as Grade A milk;

Butterfat content (percent)	Bacteria colonies per c. c.
	10,000 or less	10,000 to 25,000	Over 25,000
	Cents per cwt.	Cents per cwt.	Cents per cwt.
3.8	66	48	7.5
4.0 and above	78	60	12

SEC. 5. Payments to cooperative associations.—Any cooperative association of producers may apply to the Secretary for a determination of its qualifications to receive payments pursuant to this section by reason of its having and exercising full authority in the sale of the milk of its members, using its best efforts to supply, in times of short supply, Class I milk to the marketing area and to secure utilization of milk, in times of long supply, in a manner to assure the greatest possible returns to all producers, and having its entire activities under the control of its members. After such determination, the cooperative association of producers shall be entitled to continue to receive such payment until it has been disqualified by the Secretary, after hearing, for failure to exercise the authority and to perform the functions upon which such determination was based.

The market administrator shall make the payments authorized by this section, or issue credit therefor, out of the producer settlement fund on or before the 25th day of each month, subject to verification of the reports upon which such payment is based. Such payments shall be made to each cooperative association of producers under the following conditions and at the following rates:

1. One cent per hundredweight of net pooled milk at any handler's plant which was caused to be delivered from its members by such association and on which such handler has made the reports and payments required by this order.

2. Except as set forth in paragraph 3 of this section, 2½ cents per hundredweight of net pooled milk at plants of other handlers which was reported and collected for by such association.

3. Five cents per hundredweight of net pooled milk at plants operated by such association and, if, in addition to the other qualifications, such association has been determined by the Secretary to have sufficient plant capacity to receive all the milk of producers who are members and to be willing and able to receive milk from producers not members, 5 cents per hundredweight of any net pooled milk which was caused by it to be delivered to any other handler and which is reported and collected for by such association.

SEC. 6. Market service payment.—The market administrator shall pay out of the producer settlement fund to any handler immediately after audit of claim for such payment made on forms supplied by the market administrator;

1. With respect to milk received from producers at a plant operated by such handler equipped only for the receiving and shipping of milk to the marketing area, which was, during any month except November or December, moved to a plant where it was utilized in Classes II–A, II–B, III–A, III–B, III–C, III–D, or, during the month of October, IV–A, and from which, if operated by such handler, no Class I milk was shipped to the marketing area during such month, 23 cents per hundredweight of milk so moved, plus 4 cents per hundredweight for the first five miles or fraction thereof, plus ¼ cent per hundredweight per mile for the next 20 miles, and plus $\frac{1}{10}$th of 1 cent per hundredweight per additional mile, of the shortest highway distance between the two plants; and

2. Thirty cents per hundredweight of Class I milk sold during the months of November and December in the marketing area which was received from producers at a plant which is equipped for condensing or drying milk and from which, during the months of May and June preceding, in terms of equivalent of milk received at such plant, no milk in excess of 10 percent and no cream in excess of 50 percent was shipped to the marketing area.

SEC. 7. Producer settlement fund.—The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as "the producer settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to sections 8 and 10 of this article and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to sections 6, 9, and 10 of this article, and to cooperative association of producers pursuant to section 5 of this article.

SEC. 8. Payments to the producer settlement fund.—Each handler shall on or before the 18th day of each month pay to the market administrator for payment to producers through the producer settlement fund the amount by which his net pool obligation for the preceding month is greater than the amount obtained by multiplying the net pooled milk of such handler by the uniform price.

SEC. 9. Payments out of producer settlement fund.—On or before the 20th day of each month the market administrator shall remit to each handler for payment to producers the amount, if any, by which such handler's net pool obligation is less than the amount obtained by multiplying the net pooled milk of such handler by the uniform price. If at such time the balance in the producer settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments due to such handler, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly the payments made to each handler and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who, on the 25th day of the month, has not received the balance of such reduced payment from the market administrator shall be deemed to be in violation of section 1 of this article if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer settlement fund.

SEC 10. Adjustments of errors in payments.—Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors made in payments to or from the producer settlement fund, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount, and such handler shall, within five days, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler the market administrator shall, within five days, make such payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment to any producer for milk delivered to any handler discloses payment to such producer of less than is required by this article, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment next following such disclosure.

ARTICLE VIII.—EXPENSE OF ADMINISTRATION

SECTION 1. Payment by handlers.—As his pro rata share of the expense of administration hereof, each handler shall, on or before the 20th day of each month, pay to the market administrator a sum not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight on the total quantity of milk which was received from producers at plants operated by such handler, directly or at the instance of a cooperative association of producers, and which was utilized in Classes I, II–A, and II–B, the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the Secretary. This section shall not be deemed to duplicate any similar payment by any handler under any order issued by the Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets of the State of New York to which this order is complementary.

ARTICLE IX.—SUSPENSION, TERMINATION AND LIQUIDATION

SECTION 1. Continuing obligation of handlers.—Unless otherwise provided by the Secretary in any notice of amendment, termination or suspension of any or all of the provisions hereof, such amendment, termination or suspension shall not (a) affect, waive, or terminate any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen or may thereafter arise in connection with any provision of this order; (b) release or waive any violation of this order occurring prior to the effective date of such amendment, termination or suspension; or (c) affect or impair any right or remedies of the Secretary or of any other person with respect to any such violations.

SEC. 2. Continuing power and duty.—If, upon the termination or suspension of this order, there are any obligations arising hereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, or by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such termination or suspension.

The market administrator shall (a) continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; (b) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all funds or property on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, to such person as the Secretary shall direct; and (c) if so directed by the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property and claims vested in the market administrator pursuant to this order.

SEC. 3. Liquidation.—Upon the termination or suspension of this order, the market administrator shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid and owing at the time of such termination or suspension.

Any funds collected for expenses, pursuant to the provisions of this order, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator in liquidating the business of the market administrator's office shall be distributed by the market administrator to handlers in an equitable manner.

ARTICLE X.—EFFECTIVE TIME

SECTION 1. Effective time.—This order shall become effective after the issuance by the Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets of the State of New York of an order containing provisions similar to the provisions of this order and to which this order shall be complementary and on the first day of the month following, by more than three days, publication in the Federal Register by the Secretary of (a) his finding that the order is approved by more than two-thirds of the producers voting in a referendum, (b) a marketing agreement containing provisions similar to this order approved by him and signed by handlers of more than 50 percent of the milk sold in the marketing area, or, his determination approved by the President that the failure or refusal of handlers to sign tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act and that the issuance of the order is the only practical means of advancing the interests of producers pursuant to such declared policy of the act.

In witness whereof, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, have executed in duplicate and issued this order to become effective in accordance with article X hereof, and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, this 5th day of August 1938.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 15—COMMERCE

NATIONAL BITUMINOUS COAL COMMISSION

RULING RELATING TO THIRTY DAY CONTRACT LIMITATION

The Commission having entered its ruling relating to thirty (30) day contract limitation on March 30, 1938, and having modified said ruling on April 6, 1938,[1] and this day having amended paragraph numbered (2) of the modification dated April 6, 1938 to read as follows:

"(2) To enter into a contract for the sale of coal for periods not exceeding one year in any case where a State or political subdivision thereof or any other governmental agency opens bids to purchase coal for periods in excess of thirty (30) days, but such contract must provide for a reasonable price to continue until minimum prices are made effective by the Commission and that thereafter no coal will be delivered thereunder below the minimum prices.",

Said ruling as amended is hereby published in consolidated form:

Inquiry having been made to the Commission as to whether or not a thirty (30) day limitation on contracts for the sale of coal is in effect by virtue of the provisions of the third paragraph of Section 4 (e) of the Act, or by virtue of Commission's Order No. 44,[2] and as to the power of the Commission to impose such thirty (30) day limitation under the authority vesting in the Commission to prescribe reasonable rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of the Act, in response thereto and in conformity with what it deems to be the intent of Congress, and in order to carry out the provisions of the Act:

The Commisison construes the third paragraph of Section 4 (e) of the Act, which limits contracts for the sale of coal from and after the date of the approval of the Act, "until prices shall have been established," to a period not longer than thirty (30) days from the date of the contract, as meaning that the thirty (30) day limitation on contracts shall be effective "while" or "as long as" prices are not established, the word "until" referring to the entire time of the duration of a condition, rather than the mere point of inception of such condition, and;

The Commission declares that until minimum prices of coals of code members have been re-established by the National Bituminous Coal Commission, pursuant to subsections (a) and (b) of Part II, Section 4 of the Act, no code member shall sell or enter into any agreement to sell coal calling for delivery thereof for a period beyond thirty (30) days from the date of such sale or agreement of sale, provided however, that it will not be deemed a violation of the Code:

(1) To enter into a contract for the sale of coal with agencies of the Federal Government containing a provision permitting the Federal Government to renew the contract after the effective date of minimum prices, either for the remainder of the fiscal year or for such part thereof as the Government may

[Docket No. 412-FD]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF MAHASKA COAL COMPANY, INC. FOR EXEMPTION

OPINION AND ORDER OF THE COMMISSION

On December 16, 1937, this Commission entered an order effective January 3, 1938, in the matter entitled "Investigation of the Nature and Extent of Transactions in Intrastate Commerce in Bituminous Coal in the State of Iowa and the Effect of such Transactions on Interstate Commerce in such Coal," Docket No. 19-FD.[2] This was a hearing held pursuant to the provisions of the first paragraph of Section 4-A of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

The second paragraph of Section 4-A states:

> Any producer believing that any commerce in coal is not subject to the provisions of Section 4 or to the provisions of the first paragraph of this section may file with the Commission an application * * * for exemption.

This Section further provides that:

> Within a reasonable time after the receipt of any application for exemption the Commission shall enter an order granting, or, after notice and opportunity for hearing, denying or otherwise disposing of such application.

This Commission has not yet set for hearing nor issued notice thereof, the applications for exemption which have been received from Iowa.

On July 26, 1938, Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 12, by its counsel, filed a petition for permission to intervene in the matter of the application for exemption filed on behalf of Mahaska Coal Company, Inc.

The petition of the District Board states that "if the application for exemption heretofore filed herein is granted, this Board will be adversely affected for the following reasons:

"(a) It will be deprived of the revenue that it would receive from the applicant, as a Code member, by way of collection of assessments.

"(b) It would be seriously hadicapped and hindered in the performances of its duties under said statute if this application is allowed.

"(c) The Code members of which this petitioner is the representative would be seriously damaged and affected in the operation of their respective coal mines."

On July 28, 1938, applicant, Mahaska Coal Company, Inc., by its Secretary, submitted a motion to strike the petition for permission to intervene, filed by Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 12.

Applicant states: (1) that the allegation of the District Board that "it will be deprived of the revenue that it would receive from the applicant, as a Code member, by way of collection of assessments," is not material in the matter of application for exemption for the reason that the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 does not apply to applicant unless it is engaged in interstate commerce, and among other reasons, applicant further states that "the right, privilege or authority of the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 12 to collect revenue from the said Mahaska Coal Company, is not in issue under the application of the Mahaska Coal Company;" (2) applicant further states that the allegation by the Producers Board that the performance of its duties under the statute would be seriously handicapped and hindered if the application is allowed, is frivolous, incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial and not an issue in this proceeding; (3) applicant states that the allegation that the code members represented by the District Board would be seriously damaged and affected if the application for exemption is granted, is not a statement of fact, and no facts from which such a conclusion can be drawn have been stated in the petition of the District Board, and the statement is merely a conclusion of the pleader; (4) finally, applicant states that the Petition for Permission to Intervene does not state any facts upon which the Commission can pass, but states only conclusions of the pleader and no facts from which conclusions may be drawn.

We do not pass upon the allegations set forth by applicant, Mahaska Coal Company, Inc., as to the materiality of District Board assessments, or upon the statement of applicant that the sole issue is whether applicant is engaged in interstate commerce, nor do we need determine at this time, whether District Board No. 12 has such an interest in the proceedings as to justify its intervention.

We grant the motion of Mahaska Coal Company, Inc., solely on the ground that the Petition for Permission to Intervene does not state any facts from which the Commission may determine whether petitioner has such an interest in the proceeding as to justify its intervention.

Now, Therefore, It is hereby ordered:

1. That in accordance with this opinion, that the Petition of District Board No. 12 for Permission to Intervene be and hereby is dismissed without prejudice to the right of District Board No. 12 to file a proper petition in accordance with Rule VIII (b) of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Commission, promulgated June 23, 1937, and amended November 5, 1937, May 7, 1938 and June 6, 1938.

2. That the Secretary of the Commission is directed forthwith to mail a copy of this order to the Mahaska Coal Company, Inc., to Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 12, or their Attorneys of record; to the Secretary of each District Board, and shall cause a copy to be filed and made available for inspection at each of the Statistical Bureaus of the Commission; and shall cause a copy hereof to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By order of the Commission.

Dated this 5th day of August, 1938.

AUTHORIZED BY THE SECOND DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATION ACT, FISCAL YEAR 1938

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

PARAGRAPH A. The Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1938, approved June 25, 1938, provides in part:

For the refunding, which is hereby authorized, in accordance with rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, of all amounts collected by any collector of internal revenue as tax (including penalties and interest) under the Bankhead Cotton Act of 1934 (48 Stat. 598), as amended, the Kerr Tobacco Act (48 Stat. 1275), as amended, and the Potato Act of 1935 (49 Stat. 750), fiscal year 1939, so much of the appropriation in the immediately preceding paragraph as may be requisite is hereby made available for the purposes of and in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph: Provided, That no refund shall be made or allowed of any amount paid by or collected from any person as tax under such Acts, unless, after the date of the enactment of this Act, and prior to July 1, 1939, a claim for refund has been filed by such person: Provided further, That no refund shall be denied upon the ground that a proceeding to recover had become barred by the limitation provisions of such Acts, or by the provisions of section 3226, as amended, of the Revised Statutes, or by the provisions of section 608 of the Revenue Act of 1928: Provided further, That in the absence of fraud all findings of fact and conclusions of law of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue upon the merits of any such claim for refund, and the mathematical calculations made in connection therewith, shall not be subject to review by any court or by any other officer, employee, or agent of the United States: Provided further, That no refund of any tax shall be made under this paragraph unless liability for the payment of such tax was satisfied by the payment of money: Provided further, That no interest shall be allowed in connection with any refund made under the authority of this paragraph: Provided further,

That in the case of amounts paid as tax under the Bankhead Cotton Act of 1934 with respect to the ginning of cotton (a) refund shall be allowed to the ginner of the cotton only to the extent that the ginner has not shifted the burden of the tax by including it in any charge or fee for ginning, or by collecting it from the owner or owners of the cotton ginned, or in any manner whatsoever, and (b) refund shall be allowed to the owner or owners of the cotton at the time of ginning, to the extent that the amount of tax was shifted to such owner or owners by the cotton ginner and was not shifted by such owner or owners to other persons, and in such cases, but only for the purposes of this paragraph, the tax shall be considered to have been paid by the ginner to the United States for the account of such owner or owners. No part of the amount of any refund made under this paragraph in excess of 10 per centum of the amount of such refund shall be paid or delivered to or received by any agent or attorney on account of services rendered in connection with such refund, and the same shall be unlawful, any contract to the contrary notwithstanding; and any person violating the provisions of this sentence shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $1,000.

The instructions on the reverse side of Form No. 971 read as follows:

INSTRUCTIONS

1. This certificate must be read and signed in duplicate by the claimant, and the original delivered to the Collector when the claim for refund is filed, the copy being retained by the claimant.

2. If the claim for refund was filed after June 25, 1938, and prior to the time this certificate was required to be filed or the form for it was made available to claimants, the Collector will mail this form to such claimant in duplicate, and within thirty days of the date of such mailing the claimant shall sign and deliver the original to the Collector and sign and retain the copy.

3. If the claimant is an individual or a partnership, the individual or one of the partners must personally sign the certificate unless the Collector is satisfied that this is impossible, in which event it may be signed by a duly authorized agent, and the Collector will then send a copy of the signed certificate to the claimant by registered mail.

4. If the claimant is a corporation, the certificate must be signed with the corporate name, followed by the signature and title of at least one of its responsible officers having authority to sign, or by its receiver or trustee in bankruptcy if the corporation's property or business is operated by such receiver or trustee, and the seal of the corporation must be attached.

5. If the claimant is an executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, receiver, or other fiduciary, such fiduciary shall sign the certificate, and shall attach satisfactory evidence of his authority to act.

Collectors should note that under the circumstances mentioned in paragraphs 2 and 3 of the instructions, it is necessary to mail copies of the form to claimant.

ART. 3. Period during which claims must be filed.—No refund shall be made or allowed of any amount paid by or collected from any person as tax under the Bankhead Cotton Act of 1934, as amended, the Kerr Tobacco Act, as amended, or the Potato Act of 1935, unless, subsequent to June 25, 1938, and prior to July 1, 1939, a claim for refund is filed by the person entitled thereto, or his duly authorized agent or representative. In accordance with the requirements of the above-quoted provision of law claims filed on or before June 25, 1938, may not receive favorable consideration by the Commissioner. A person who has filed, on or before June 25, 1938, a claim for refund of any such tax, penalty or interest, must, nevertheless, to secure refund, file a new claim on the prescribed form subsequent to June 25, 1938, and prior to July 1, 1939.

ART. 4. Interest.—No interest shall be allowed with respect to any refund of tax, penalty or interest made or allowed under the above-quoted provision of law.

ART. 5. Refund of tax paid under the Bankhead Cotton Act of 1934.—(a) Refund of amounts paid as tax, penalty or interest under the Bankhead Cotton Act of 1934, as amended, will be allowed to the ginner of the cotton who paid the tax to the collector of internal revenue, but only to the extent that such ginner has not shifted the burden of the tax by including it in any charge or fee for ginning, by collecting it from the owner or owners of the cotton ginned or in any manner whatsoever.

(b) If the amount of tax, penalty or interest was shifted by the ginner of the cotton to the owner or owners of the cotton at the time of ginning, then to the extent that such tax, penalty or interest was shifted to such owner or owners, and was not shifted by them to other persons, refund will be allowed to such owner or owners. In such case the tax will be considered to have been paid by the ginner to the United States for the account of such owner or owners.

ART. 6. Certification of tax payment by collector.—The collector of internal revenue will fill in the certificate of tax payment on the claim in cases where such certification is necessary. In the case of each claim filed on T. A. Form 116 the collector will attach to the claim the tax returns filed by the taxpayer on T. A. Form 113 and the memorandums of sale on T. A. Form 112 which are applicable to the tax payments with respect to which the claim is filed. For this purpose T. A. Form 112 may be detached from the returns on T. A. Form 111 of which they were a part. (See Articles 3, 4 and 5 of T. D. 4452, approved July 23, 1934.) The Collector will then forward the claim to the Commissioner for appropriate action.

ART. 7. Affidavit of person authorized to receive check.—The check in payment of the amount of the refund allowed will be drawn only in the name of the claimant. If the claimant, in connection with any such claim for refund, files, or causes to be filed, a power of attorney specifically authorizing another person to receive the check in payment of the refund, the power of attorney should be accompanied by an affidavit of such other person that, for services rendered or to be rendered in connection with the refund, he has not received and will not receive or accept, directly or indirectly, as compensation for such services, more than 10 per centum of the amount of the refund allowed.

This Treasury Decision is prescribed under the authority contained in the above-quoted provision of the Second Deficiency Appropriation Act, fiscal year 1938.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

ORDER REGULATING HANDLING IN INTERSTATE OR FOREIGN COMMERCE, AND SUCH HANDLING AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS, OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE OR FOREIGN COMMERCE, OF HOPS GROWN IN STATES OF OREGON, CALIFORNIA, AND WASHINGTON

Whereas, under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, (hereinafter referred to as the "act") it is provided that the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") shall, subject to the provisions of said act, issue orders regulating such handling of certain agricultural commodities, including hops, as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodities; and

Whereas, the Secretary having reason to believe that the issuance of an order would tend to establish and maintain such marketing conditions for hops grown in the States of Oregon, California, and Washington as would establish prices to the producers of such hops at a level that would give such hops a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such hops in the base period, August 1909–July, 1914, did, pursuant to the provisions of the act and the regulations thereunder, on the 27th day of May, 1938, give notice of a hearing [1] to be held at Santa Rosa, California, on June 14, 1938, and in Salem, Oregon, on June 17, 1938, and in Yakima, Washington, on June 20, 1938, on a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of hops grown in the States of Oregon, California, and Washington, at which times all interested persons in attendance at such hearing were afforded due opportuity to be heard concerning the proposed marketing agreement and the proposed order; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds upon the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof;

(1) That, in order to give such hops a purchasing power with respect to articles that farmers buy equivalent to the average purchasing power of such hops during the aforesaid base period, the average price received by the grower of such hops should have been approximately 31.4 cents per pound of hops during the 1937–38 marketing season;

(2) That the average price received by growers of such hops for the 1937–38 marketing season was 16.7 cents per pound of hops;

(3) That the average price per pound of said hops received by growers during the period from 1928 to 1937 was substantially less than the purchasing power of such hops during the aforesaid base period;

(4) That, in the past, the lack of regulation of the shipment of hops produced in the aforesaid States of Oregon, California, and Washington was an important factor contributing toward unstable marketing conditions for such hops and consequently depressed prices to growers;

(5) That the regulation of shipments of hops by proration, as provided in article IV of this order, subject to the terms and provisions contained in this order, will tend to prevent fluctuation of prices to growers, and thereby establish and maintain a more stable market for said hops, tending to restore prices to growers of said hops to a level that will have a purchasing power with respect to articles that producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of said hops in the aforesaid base period;

(6) That the method of regulating shipments by proration among handlers, as provided in this order, is fair and equitable;

(7) That the method of issuing in the name of each grower an allotment certificate or certificates, as evidence of the respective grower's salable allotment for the respective year, as provided in this order, is fair and equitable;

(8) That, as provided in this order, it is fair and equitable for the Control Board, on receipt of satisfactory proof, to issue in the name of any grower, who by reason of a written contract executed prior to June 14, 1938, is legally obligated to deliver, at a definite and stated price, a definite and stated quantity of hops grown by the respective grower during 1938 to any other person, an additional allotment certificate covering or relating to the excess quantity, if any, of the quantity of hops specified in such contract over and above the quantity represented by such grower's salable allotment;

(9) That, as provided in this order, it is fair and equitable to require that, subsequent to thirty days after the effective date of this order, hops produced prior to the year 1938 may be handled, pursuant to the provisions of such order, only in event there shall have been issued pursuant to the provisions of section 5 of article IV of such order a certificate or certificates covering such hops;

(10) That this order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area and regional marketing area that is practicable;

(11) That the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of the regional production and marketing areas covered by this order will not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act with respect to establishing and maintaining such marketing conditions for hops as will reestablish prices to growers that will give such commodities a purchasing power with respect to articles that producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such commodity in the aforesaid base period;

(12) That there are no differences in the production and marketing of hops in the production area covered by this order that make necessary different terms applicable to different parts of such area;

(13) That the pro rata contribution of handlers to the expenses of administrative agencies created by such order, based upon the quantity of hops handled as provided in this order, is fair and equitable;

(14) That this order and all of the terms and provisions thereof are fair and equitable and will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, with respect to said hops grown in said area, by establishing and maintaining such orderly marketing conditions therefor as will establish prices to producers thereof at a level that will give said hops a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such hops in the aforesaid base period and by protecting the interest of the consumer by (a) approaching such level of prices, which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish, by a gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary of Agriculture deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets, and by (b) authorizing no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers above the aforesaid level which it is declared in the Act to be the policy of Congress to establish; and

Whereas, the Secretary further finds:

(1) That the marketing agreement regulating the handling of hops grown in the States of Oregon, California, and Washington executed by him on August 11th, 1938, and upon which a public hearing was held as aforesaid, was signed by handlers who handled more than fifty percent of such commodity produced during the year of 1937;

(2) That this order regulates the handling of said hops in the same manner as the said marketing agreement does, and this order is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activities specified in the aforesaid marketing agreement; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds and determines that the issuance of this order is favored by producers of hops who, during the year of 1937, which the Secretary determines to be a representative period, produced for market at least two-thirds of the volume of such commodity for market within the production area specified in this order;

Now, therefore, it is ordered by the Secretary, acting under the authority vested in him by the act, that the handling of hops grown in the States of Oregon, California, and Washington, in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce in such hops, from and after the date hereinafter specified, shall be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of this order.

6. To cause the books of the Control Board to be audited by one or more competent accountants at least once each fiscal year and at such other times as the Control Board may deem necessary, or as the Secretary may request, and to file with the Secretary a copy of each audit report made.

7. To employ a Managing Agent who, during his employment as such, shall not be a grower, dealer, grower-dealer, or brewer, nor in the employment thereof, and who shall serve as the secretary of the Growers Allocation Committee, and shall have such other duties as are specified for him in this order or by the Control Board; and to employ such other employees as the Control Board may deem necessary, and to determine the salaries and define the duties thereof.

8. To give to the Secretary, or his designated representative, the same notice of meetings of the Control Board as is given to the members of the Control Board.

9. To defend all legal proceedings against any member, alternate, officer, or employee of the Control Board arising out of an act or omission made in good faith pursuant to the provisions of this order.

SEC. 7. Procedure.—1. The Control Board shall adopt rules and regulations governing its procedure and the performance of its duties under this order, and shall select a chairman and such other officers as it may deem advisable.

2. The Control Board shall not perform any of its powers or duties under this order while there are more than six (6) vacancies in its membership, not inclusive of alternates. A quorum shall consist of eleven (11) members, or alternates or substitutes then serving in the place and stead of any members, in attendance at the meeting, and all decisions of the Control Board shall be made by not less than nine (9) affirmative votes.

3. The Control Board may provide for voting by telephone, mail, or telegraph upon due notice to all members; and any member voting by telephone shall promptly thereafter confirm in writing his vote so cast.

4. The members of the Control Board, including successors and alternates, and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the Control Board, shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time. Each regulation, decision, determination, or other act of the Control Board shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time, and, upon such disapproval, shall be deemed null and void except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to public announcement of such disapproval by the Secretary.

SEC. 8. Funds and other property.—1. All funds received by the Control Board pursuant to this order shall be used solely for the purposes herein specified, and the Secretary may require the Control Board and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements.

2. Upon the death, resignation, removal, or expiration of term of any member or employee of the Control Board, all books, records, funds, and other property in his possession belonging to the Control Board, or to which the Control Board is entitled to possession, shall be delivered to the Control Board, or to that member's successor in office, and such assignments and other instruments shall be executed as may be necessary to vest in the Control Board, or in the successor of such member or employee, full title to all such books, records, funds, and other property.

3. The Control Board, with the approval of the Secretary, may maintain in its own name, or in the names of its members, legal action against any handler for the collection of that handler's pro rata share of expenses which may be due under this order.

SEC. 9. Growers allocation committee.—1. The initial members of the Control Board designated as grower members and those designated as grower-dealer members shall constitute the "Growers Allocation Committee." The Committee shall have such duties and functions as are expressly specified in this order for said Committee and such other duties and functions as may be incident thereto. The Growers Allocation Committee may incur only such expenses as are authorized by the Control Board. The members of the Control Board selected, subsequent to the initial members, in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs numbered 2, 3, and 4 of section 1, article II hereof, and the grower-dealer member selected in accordance with the provisions of paragraph numbered 5 of section 1, article II hereof, shall constitute the Growers Allocation Committee from and after April 1, 1939.

2. The Growers Allocation Committee shall select one of its members as its chairman and the Managing Agent shall serve as its secretary. It shall keep proper records of all of its proceedings and shall adopt regulations governing its procedure. Each regulation, decision, determination, or other act of the Growers Allocation Committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time, and upon such disapproval, shall be deemed null and void except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to public announcement of such disapproval by the Secretary.

3. The alternate of each grower member or grower-dealer member of the Control Board shall also serve as the alternate of that member as a member of the Growers Allocation Committee, and shall have the same functions with regard to the Growers Allocation Committee as such alternate has with regard to the Control Board under the provisions of section 2 of this article.

No delay in the selection of any member shall invalidate such selection. Such elections shall be conducted by districts, as follows:

(a) The Advisory Committee for the State of Oregon shall, subject to disapproval by the Secretary, delimit that state fairly and equitably into twelve (12) election districts. Growers and grower-dealers who produce hops in any such district shall be entitled to vote for and select for that district one (1) member of the Advisory Committee.

(b) The Advisory Committee for the State of California shall, subject to disapproval by the Secretary, delimit that state fairly and equitably into three (3) election districts. (c) The Advisory Committee for the State of Washington shall, subject to disapproval by the Secretary, delimit that state fairly and equitably into four (4) election districts. Growers and grower-dealers who produce hops in any such district shall be entitled to vote for and select for that district three (3) members of the Advisory Committee.

4. At any such election each grower or grower-dealer shall, on behalf of himself, his agents, partners, affiliates, subsidiaries, and representatives, cast only one (1) vote for each nominee for membership on the aforesaid Advisory Committee. No grower or grower-dealer shall vote in more than one district in any one state, and, in the event he produces hops in more than one district, he shall vote in that district in which he harvested the largest tonnage of hops during the preceding crop year. The Control Board shall prescribe and submit to the Secretary rules and regulations governing elections of Advisory Committee members, which shall become effective if not disapproved by the Secretary within twenty (20) days after submitted to him.

5. Each member of an Advisory Committee may designate in writing addressed to the Managing Agent a grower or grower-dealer to act as his alternate at any meeting of the Advisory Committee at which that member is not present; such alternate must be a resident of the state and district thereof in which the member resides.

6. Any vacancy in the membership of an Advisory Committee shall be filled, for the balance of the term of the member whose place is vacant, by a grower or grower-dealer, residing in the same district as that represented by the former

7. Advisory Committee members may be reimbursed by the Control Board for all travel and other expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties.

SEC. 2. Functions.—1. Each Advisory Committee shall promptly nominate to the Secretary a successor to any grower from that State whose term on the Control Board as a member or alternate shall expire or whose place on the Control Board for any reason may become vacant. Grower members of an Advisory Committee, as well as other growers, shall be eligible for nomination by that Advisory Committee to serve on the Control Board.

2. Each Advisory Committee shall select from its membership a chairman and a secretary, and shall keep proper records of all of its proceedings. Each Advisory Committee may incur only such expenses as are authorized by the Control Board.

ARTICLE IV.—REGULATION OF DISTRIBUTION

SECTION 1. Limitation of total quantity to be handled.—1. In order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, and in consideration of the estimated consumptive demand for hops, the estimated carryover of hops, and the estimated quantity of hops which will be produced during the year 1938, the maximum quantity of hops produced in the year 1938 which may, during the effective period of this order, be marketed in or transported to any and all markets in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce in such hops, shall be 28,500,000 pounds; provided, however, nothing contained in this paragraph shall prevent the handling of hops pursuant to certificates issued in accordance with paragraph 1, section 4 of this article, and section 7 of this article. The aforesaid quantity of 28,500,000 pounds shall be known, and is referred to hereinafter, as the "salable quantity of 1938 hops".

2. As soon after July 1, 1939, as may be feasible, the Control Board shall estimate the quantity of hops which will be produced during the year 1939, shall ascertain or estimate the total carryover of hops produced prior to 1938 and the carryover, if any, of the salable quantity of 1938 hops, and shall estimate the total consumptive demand for hops. The Control Board thereafter shall transmit to the Secretary its said estimates and findings together with its recommendation of the maximum quantity of hops produced in the year 1939 which should, during the effective period of this order, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, be marketed or transported to market in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce. For the purpose of obtaining additional information pertinent to the determination of a salable quantity of 1939 hops, the Secretary shall hold a meeting or meetings, within the production area covered by this order, subsequent to such notice as the Secretary may deem proper. Thereafter, from the aforesaid estimates, data and recommendation of the Control Board and such other information as the Secretary may have, the Secretary shall determine, fix, and announce, such maximum quantity of hops produced in the year 1939 which may, during the effective period of this order, be marketed in or transported to any and all markets in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce in such hops, as he may deem to be proper in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; provided, however, hops may be handled pursuant to certificates issued in accordance with paragraph 1, section 4 of this article, and section 7 of this article. The aforesaid quantity shall be known, and is referred to hereinafter, as the "salable quantity of 1939 hops".

SEC. 2. Determination of quantity available for sale by growers.—1. The Growers Allocation Committee shall estimate, or cause to be estimated under its supervision, as soon after the effective date of this order in the year 1938 and as soon after July 1, 1939, as the said Committee shall determine that the hop vines have reached such a stage of development that it is feasible to estimate the quantity of hops which will be produced during the respective year, the quantity of hops which will be produced by each grower of hops during the respective year (which quantity shall be deemed to constitute the quantity which will be available for sale by the respective grower) and shall then compute the total quantity of hops which will be produced by all growers during the respective year (which quantity shall be deemed to constitute the quantity which will be available for sale by all growers). The aforesaid estimated production shall be based upon the producing acreage of hops during the respective year and the estimated yield per acre thereon. In estimating the yield per acre, due consideration shall be given to the age and condition of the hop vines, the yield during recent years, and other factors pertinent to the current yield of said hop vines. The Growers Allocation Committee shall cause to be mailed to each grower notice of the aforesaid estimate of the quantity of hops which will be produced by the respective grower during that year and, also, the aforesaid computation by the Growers Allocation Committee of the total quantity of hops which will be produced by all growers during the respective year; and the Growers Allocation Committee shall publicly announce the aforesaid computation of the total quantity of hops which will be produced by all growers during the respective year.

2. The Growers Allocation Committee shall prescribe regulations, subject to modification and approval by the Secretary, which provide a reasonable means whereby any grower who may be dissatisfied with such estimate of his production of hops may protest to that committee or its representative concerning that estimate, and in the event of such protest such estimate shall be reconsidered by the Growers Allocation Committee and revised to any such extent as the committee may find to be proper. Such regulations shall further provide a reasonable means whereby such grower may appeal to the Secretary from the Growers Allocation Committee's final decision on said protest, and the Secretary's determination on such appeal shall be conclusive.

3. Upon expiration of such time for protest as the Growers Allocation Committee may establish pursuant to the preceding paragraph, and after completion of action by said Committee upon all protests as in said paragraph provided, the Growers Allocation Committee shall report to the Secretary all estimates and computations made for or by the Growers Allocation Committee pursuant to this section, together with the data on which the same were predicated. On the basis of such estimates, computations and data and any other pertinent information which the Secretary may have, the Secretary shall determine and notify the Growers Allocation Committee of (a) the estimated total quantity of hops which will be produced during that year by each grower, and (b) the estimated total quantity of hops which will be produced during that year by all growers. Thereupon, the Growers Allocation Committee shall publicly announce the aforesaid determination of estimated total quantity of hops which will be produced during that year by all growers.

SEC. 3. Allocation of Salable Quantity Among Growers.—1. The "salable percentage" of the aforesaid estimated total quantity of hops which will be produced during the respective year by all growers shall be computed by dividing the salable quantity, fixed in or pursuant to section 1 of this article for the hops produced in the respective year, by the aforesaid estimated total quantity of hops which will be produced by all growers during that year. Each grower's allotment of said salable quantity shall be that same salable percentage applied to that grower's estimated production of hops during that year as determined pursuant to section 2 of this article. Such allotment shall be known as the grower's "salable allotment."

2. The Growers Allocation Committee shall notify each grower of his salable allotment computed by that committee as hereinbefore provided. Within ten (10) days after the mailing to a grower, as hereinbefore provided, of his notice of salable allotment, that grower may elect, in writing delivered to the Growers Allocation Committee, to have his salable allotment determined on the basis of the quantity of hops actually harvested by him during that year. In that event, that grower's salable allotment of the salable quantity applicable to hops produced during that year shall be computed by applying the salable percentage to the hops which the Growers Allocation Committee shall determine actually are produced and harvested by that grower during that year.

SEC. 4. Allotment certificates.—1. The Control Board shall issue in the name of each grower certificates as evidence of his salable allotment; and, also, the Control Board shall, on receipt of satisfactory proof, issue in the name of any grower, who by reason of a written contract executed prior to June 14, 1938, is legally obligated to deliver, at a definite and stated price, a definite and stated quantity of hops grown by the respective grower during 1938 to any other person, an additional allotment certificate covering or relating to the excess quantity, if any, of the quantity of hops specified in such contract over and above the quantity represented by such grower's salable allotment. Each such certificate shall be known as an "allotment certificate." Each such certificate shall indicate the year of production and the quantity of hops covered thereby and shall be in such form as the Control Board shall prescribe, subject to approval by the Secretary. The Control Board shall maintain adequate and complete record of each such certificate issued and all pertinent facts relative thereto.

2. Each allotment certificate issued pursuant to this article may be delivered to the grower of the hops to which the certificate is applicable. No such certificate shall be accepted, used, disposed of or transferred by any handler except in connection with the hops to which the same shall relate and pursuant to such regulations as may be prescribed by the Control Board, and approved by the Secretary, relative to the acceptance, use and disposal thereof; and each handler acquiring, accepting, using, disposing of or transferring any such certificate shall render to the Control Board such report relative thereto, except as to terms of sale, as may be required by such regulations.

3. On satisfactory proof that any certificate issued pursuant to this article has been lost or destroyed, the Control Board shall issue a new certificate in lieu thereof in which event the lost certificate shall become null and void, except as to a bona fide purchaser of the hops covered by such certificate, and any handler, except as a bona fide purchaser of the hops covered by such certificate, who may obtain possession of such null and void certificate shall immediately surrender the same to the Control Board.

SEC. 5. Certificates for old hops.—1. The Control Board shall issue to any person who may apply therefor in writing to the Control Board within thirty (30) days after the effective date of this order, or within such other time as the Control Board may specify by and with the approval of the Secretary, certificates covering hops, in Oregon, California, or Washington, owned or in the possession of such person and produced prior to the year 1938. Each such certificate shall be so designated as to be distinguishable from allotment certificates issued for hops grown in the year 1938 or the year 1939, and shall specify the year of production and the quantity of hops produced prior to the year 1938 which are covered by such certificate, and shall be in such form as the Control Board shall prescribe by and with the approval of the Secretary. The Control Board shall maintain an adequate and complete record of each such certificate issued and all pertinent facts relative thereto.

2. No certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be accepted, used, disposed of, or transferred by any handler except in connection with the hops to which such certificate shall relate and pursuant to such regulations as may be prescribed by the Control Board, and approved by the Secretary, relative to the acceptance, use, and disposal thereof; and each handler acquiring, accepting, using, disposing of or transferring any such certificate shall render to the Control Board such report relative thereto, except as to the terms of sale, as may be required by such regulations.

SEC. 6. Limitation of handling to certificated hops.—No person, as principal, agent, broker, or otherwise, shall handle hops for which certificates are required to be issued pursuant to this article unless there shall have been issued pursuant to this article an allotment certificate or allotment certificates covering or applicable to all of those hops, or, if the hops were produced prior to the year 1938, a certificate or certificates issued pursuant to section 5 of this article, except that hops produced prior to 1938 may be handled without respect to certification during the thirty (30) days immediately following the effective date hereof, and, furthermore, unless each bale of said hops shall have been marked or tagged in such manner as the Control Board, by regulations approved by the Secretary, may have prescribed for the purpose of identifying such hops with the certificate applicable thereto, and unless that handler shall comply with any such regulations of the Control Board, as may have been approved by the Secretary, relative to the certificates covering said hops; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not apply to any grower's uncertificated hops being purchased or otherwise acquired from the grower thereof by another grower who has failed to produce and harvest his full salable allotment of hops and is purchasing or acquiring said hops for the sole purpose of making up that deficiency.

SEC. 7. Emergency certificates.—In the event the Control Board at any time shall find that no production estimate has been made, or salable allotment determined, or allotment certificate issued, for or to a grower entitled thereto by virtue of the provisions of this order, the Control Board shall immediately cause to be issued, and may be delivered, to said grower the appropriate allotment certificate to which the Control Board shall find that such grower is entitled according to the provisions of article IV of this order. If any grower is dissatisfied with the determination by the Control Board with respect to such emergency certificate, or the application for an emergency certificate, such grower may appeal to the Secretary; provided, however, that such appeal must be taken promptly after the determination by the Control Board. Upon an appeal as aforesaid to the Secretary, the Secretary may modify or cancel the issuance of an emergency certificate or may authorize the issuance of an emergency certificate. The authority of the Secretary to supervise and control the issuance of emergency certificates is plenary and complete; and any determination made by the Secretary with respect to an emergency certificate, or application for an emergency certificate, shall be final.

ARTICLE V.—ASSESSMENTS

SECTION 1. Expenses and assessments.—1. The Control Board is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary shall find may be necessary to perform the functions of the Control Board, Growers Allocation Committee, and Advisory Committees under this order. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by the levying of assessments as hereinafter provided.

2. Each handler of 1938 or 1939 hops, who is the first handler thereof, shall pay to the Control Board, upon its demand, the assessment rate provided hereinafter in respect to such hops as are handled by such handler as the first handler thereof; provided, however, that any grower who markets or transports to market hops, produced by the respective grower, within the State of production shall not be deemed to be the first handler of such hops insofar as the provisions of this article may be concerned. Beginning with the effective date hereof, the assessment rate shall be one fourth (¼) of one cent per pound, and such rate shall continue in effect until changed by the Control Board with the approval of the Secretary; provided, however, that the Secretary shall not approve an assessment rate which exceeds two-fifths (⅖) of one cent per pound unless he shall have held, prior thereto and subsequent to such notice as he may deem proper, a meeting or meetings within the production area covered by this order for the specific purpose of obtaining information in respect to such assessment rate. Any change in the assessment rate shall not apply retroactively. A grower who, having failed to produce his full salable allotment of hops, purchases or otherwise acquires uncertificated hops from the grower thereof for the sole purpose of making up that deficiency shall not be deemed to be the first handler of those hops within the provisions of this article.

3. Upon the termination of this order the net assets of the Control Board shall be liquidated and disbursed pursuant to the provisions of section 3 of article IX hereof.

4. From the funds acquired pursuant to this article, the Control Board shall pay the salaries of its employees and the expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of the functions of the Control Board, Growers Allocation Committee and Advisory Committees.

ARTICLE VI.—REPORTS, BOOKS AND RECORDS

SECTION 1. Books and records.—Each handler and each subsidiary or affiliate thereof shall keep adequate books and records which will clearly show the details of its handling of hops.

SEC. 2. Reports to managing agent.—To enable the Control Board, the Growers Allocation Committee, or any Advisory Committee to perform its functions hereunder, each handler shall furnish to the Managing Agent, in such form and at such times and substantiated in such manner as shall be prescribed by the Control Board, complete information relating to (a) the volume of hops handled by the respective handler, (b) names and addresses of the growers and other persons from whom hops were purchased or acquired, (c) quantities of hops grown by that handler, and (d) the total quantity of hops owned by the respective handler. Such information furnished to the Managing Agent shall be confidential and shall not be disclosed to any person (including members of the Control Board as well as other persons) except to the Secretary at his request, and except that the Managing Agent may compile such information in such form as will not reveal the identity of individual informants and may make such compilations available to the Control Board, Growers Allocation Committee or any Advisory Committee or to the public. Disclosures by the Managing Agent of any information acquired under this section, except as herein expressly authorized, shall be cause for his removal from office by the Secretary.

ARTICLE VII.—AMENDMENTS

SECTION 1. Proposal.—Amendment of this order may from time to time be proposed by the Control Board or by the Secretary.

ARTICLE VIII.—AGENTS

SECTION 1. Agents.—The Secretary may, by a designation in writing, name any person, including but not being limited to any officer or employee of the Government or any Bureau or Division in the Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this order.

ARTICLE IX.—EFFECTIVE TIME AND TERMINATION

SECTION 1. Effective Time.—This order shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature attached hereto, and shall continue in force so long as the provisions of the act authorizing it are in effect, unless this order is terminated in one of the ways hereinafter specified.

SEC. 2. Termination.—1. The Secretary may at any time terminate this order.

2. The Secretary shall terminate this order whenever he finds that such termination is favored by the majority of the growers of hops who, during the preceding crop year, have been engaged in the States of Oregon, California, and Washington in the production of hops for market, provided that such majority have, during such period, produced for market more than fifty percentum (50%) of the total volume of hops produced for market in said States during that period; but such termination shall become and be effective on and after the first day of July subsequent to the announcement thereof by the Secretary.

3. This order shall terminate in any event whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

SEC. 3. Proceedings after termination.—1. Upon the termination of this order, the members of the Control Board then functioning shall continue as joint trustees, for the purpose of liquidating this order, of all funds and property then in the possession or under the control of the Control Board, including but not being limited to claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination. Said trustees (a) shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary, and (b) shall from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements or deliver all funds and property on hand, together with all books and records of the Control Board and the joint trustees, to such person as the Secretary shall direct, and (c) shall, upon the request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all of the funds or claims vested in the Control Board or the joint trustees pursuant to this order. Any funds collected for expenses pursuant to article V of this order and held by such joint trustees or such persons over and above amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the joint trustees or such other person in the performance of their duties hereunder, shall, as soon as practicable after the termination of this order, be disbursed among those handlers who have paid their assessments in full, pursuant to this order, pro rata in proportion to their contributions pursuant to this order.

2. Any person to whom funds, property or claims have been delivered by the Control Board or its members upon direction of the Secretary as herein provided shall be subject to the same obligations and duties with respect to said funds, property or claims as are hereinabove imposed upon the members of said Board or upon said joint trustees.

ARTICLE X.—DURATION OF IMMUNITIES

SECTION 1. Duration of immunities.—The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred by virtue of this order shall cease upon its termination except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this order.

ARTICLE XI.—SEPARABILITY

SECTION 1. Separability.—If any provision of this order is declared invalid or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this order or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.

ARTICLE XII.—DEROGATION

SECTION 1. Derogation.—Nothing contained in this order is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States (1) to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or (2) in accordance with such powers, to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

ARTICLE XIII.—LIABILITY OF CONTROL BOARD MEMBERS

SECTION 1. Liability.—No member of the Control Board, Growers Allocation Committee, or any Advisory Committee, nor any employee thereof, shall be held liable individually in any way whatsoever to any other person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts either of commission or omission as such member or employee, except for acts of dishonesty.

In witness whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, acting under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, for the purposes and within the limitations therein contained and not otherwise, does hereby execute and issue in duplicate this Order under his hand and the official seal of the United States Department of Agriculture, in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, on the 11th day of August, 1938, and declares this Order to be effective on and after 12: 01 a. m., eastern standard time, August 15th, 1938.

PROMULGATING AND APPROVING RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE PROCEDURE THEREFOR

Pursuant to Act of Congress entitled "An Act to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal, and for other purposes" (Public, No. 48, 75th Cong., 1st Sess.), known as the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the National Bituminous Coal Commission hereby orders and directs:

A schedule of such proposed minimum prices, together with the data upon which they are computed, including, but without limitation, the factors considered in determining the price relationship, shall be submitted to the Commission by each district board within Minimum Price Area 1 (District Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8) on or before the 6th day of September 1938, and after hearing the Commission may approve, disapprove or modify such proposed minimum prices to conform with the requirements of subsection (a) of Part II, Section 4 of the Act. The Minimum prices as approved or modified by the Commission shall serve as the basis for the coordination provided for in subsection (b) of Part II, Section 4 of the Act.

2. That the procedure for the proposal of minimum prices herein ordered and directed shall be in accordance with the following rules and regulations, which are hereby adopted and approved by the Commission therefor:

Rules and Regulations for the Proposal of Minimum Prices

I. Each district board, within 26 days following the issuance of this order directing the district boards to propose minimum prices authorized by subsection (a) of Part II, Section 4 of the Act, shall propose minimum prices by submitting to the Commission within said time a schedule of such proposed minimum prices together with all the data upon which they are computed, including, but without limitation, the factors considered in determining the price relationship.

II. All minimum prices proposed hereunder shall be f. o. b. transportation facilities at the mine, for the kinds, qualities and sizes of coal for which prices are proposed.

III. Each district board shall transmit its schedule of proposed minimum prices to each code member in the district at least fifteen (15) days before the district board files such schedule with the Commission pursuant to Rule I of these Rules and Regulations.

IV. During the interim between transmitting its schedule of proposed minimum prices to each code member in the district and the filing thereof with the Commission, each district board may make such changes or corrections in such schedule as in its judgment it deems proper.

To this end, each district board may arrange to receive protests of code members within the district, conduct such investigations and hold conferences or hearings, as in the judgment of the district board will assist it in formulating the schedule of proposed minimum prices in conformity with the requirements of subsection (a) of Part II, Section 4 of the Act. Any protests of code members shall be filed with the district board within seven (7) days from the date of transmission of its schedule of proposed minimum prices to code members.

VIII. The minimum prices proposed by any district board shall conform to the following standards therefor set out in subsection (a) of Part II, Section 4 of the Act:

a. They shall yield a return for the district equal as nearly as may be to the weighted average of the total costs, per net ton, of the tonnage of the minimum price area within which the district is included, as such weighted average of the total costs shall theretofore have been determined by the Commission pursuant to the provision of subsection (a) of Part II, Section 4 of the Act.

b. They shall reflect, as nearly as possible, the relative market value of the various kinds, qualities and sizes of the coal to which they are applicable.

c. They shall be just and equitable as between producers within the district.

d. They shall have due regard to the interests of the consuming public.

e. They shall be just and equitable as between producers within the district, for any kind, quality or size of coal for shipment into any consuming market area.

Opposite each code member's name shall be shown the name of the mine, the subdistrict in which it is located, the seam or kind of coal produced and the price classification (represented by an alphabetical letter), in each size group (which size group shall be represented by a number), for all sizes applicable to such group that the mine is equipped to produce. "NOTE.—The prices in this schedule are not the final minimum prices that will be established on coal for shipment by code members within this district into consuming markets of this district. In the ultimate establishment of the effective minimum prices, pursuant to subsection (b) of Part II, Section 4 of the Act, the minimum prices as proposed in such schedule, or as modified, are subject to such increase or decrease, respectively, as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) of Part II, Section 4 of the Act."

At any time prior to the acquisition of complete title by the Corporation, the General Manager, with the advice of the General Counsel, may, on such terms and conditions as he may determine to be for the best interest of the Corporation, including the cancellation of the old indebtedness and the taking of new loan or sales instruments where necessary, provided no loss to the Corporation is involved in the transaction, direct that foreclosure proceedings or negotiations for a deed in lieu of foreclosure be suspended or withdrawn, and with like advice may arrange and determine the terms and conditions for a reinstatement of the loan or sale or a reacquisition of title by the home owner. (b) That the assets of the estate are insufficient or of such nature that they cannot be reached by a claim.

(c) That the satisfaction of a claim from assets other than the security of the Corporation will deprive the family of its only means of livelihood or otherwise result in extreme hardship.

The General Manager shall refer the cases where he determines a claim should be filed to the Legal Department, and unless there are legal reasons which would make it inadvisable to file the claim, the Legal Department shall proceed to file the same.

The authority herein vested in the General Manager may be exercised also by Regional, State or District Managers under procedure and limitations prescribed by the General Manager with the approval of the General Counsel.

SEC. 2.08 (Manual 208). 1. Rules LA1 to LA7 inclusive, as heretofore in effect, are hereby rescinded.

2. The following rules and schedule, designated "Regulation X–14," are hereby adopted:

*Regulation X–14.—Rules Relating to Solicitation of Proxies, Consents and Authorizations, Including Schedule 14A

SEC. 10.X–14A–1 (Rule X–14A–1). Proxy statement.—No solicitation subject to Section 14 (a) of the Act[1] shall be made unless a written "proxy statement" is concurrently furnished or has previously been furnished to each person solicited. Such proxy statement shall contain the information specified in such of the items of Schedule 14A as may be applicable in the particular case: Provided, however, That—

(a) Except as to item 1 (a) of Schedule 14A, no statement need be made in the proxy statement in response to any item or sub-item of Schedule 14A which is inapplicable, or the answer to which is in the negative. None of the items need be restated in the proxy statement, and the order of the items and sub-items in the schedule need not be followed. Information required by more than one applicable item need not be repeated in the proxy statement.

(b) Any information required to be included in the proxy statement which is not known and not reasonably available to the persons making the solicitation may be omitted, if a brief statement of the circumstances rendering such information unavailable is made in the proxy statement. Likewise, information as to matters to occur or to be determined in the future need be given only in terms of present intention, but in such case there shall be set forth, to the extent practicable, the maximum and minimum limits of the authority to be conferred concerning each such matter.

(d) In all cases in which past occurrences are to be consented to or acted upon pursuant to the proxy, the applicable items of Schedule 14A shall be read in the past tense, if appropriate.

(e) Unless the context clearly shows otherwise, whenever any fixed period of time in the past is indicated, such period shall be computed from the date of filing the proxy statement.*

SEC. 10.X–14A–2 (Rule X–14A–2). Duty to provide means by which desired action can be specified.—No solicitation subject to Section 14 (a) of the Act[1] shall be made unless (a) means shall have been provided whereby the person solicited is afforded an opportunity to specify, in a space provided in the form of proxy or otherwise, the action which such person desires to be taken pursuant to the proxy on each matter, or each group of related matters as a whole, described in the proxy statement as intended to be acted upon, other than the election of directors or other officials, and (b) the authority conferred as to each such matter or group of matters is limited by the specification so made. Nothing in Regulation X–14 shall prevent the solicitation of a proxy conferring discretionary authority with respect to matters as to which the person solicited does not make the specification provided for above, or with respect to matters not known or determined at the time of the solicitation, or with respect to elections of directors or other officials.*

SEC. 10.X–14A–3 (Rule X–14A–3). Legibility of soliciting material.—Every printed proxy statement and form of proxy, and all related printed material furnished to the persons solicited in connection with any solicitation subject to Section 14 (a) of the Act,[1] other than documents not prepared in connection with the solicitation, shall be set in type not smaller than 10-point roman, at least 2-point leaded; except that financial statements may be set in type not smaller than 8-point roman, if necessary for convenient presentation.*

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

APPLICANTS FOR ADMISSION TO PRACTICE BEFORE COMMISSION

AUGUST 11, 1938.

Notice to the Public:

The Commission has determined that all applicants for admission to practice before the Commission, who are not attorneys at law admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States or of the highest court of any State or Territory or the District of Columbia, shall be admitted only upon written examination, in order that the applicant may show that he is "possessed of the necessary legal and technical qualifications to enable him to render valuable service before the Commission and is otherwise competent to advise and assist in the presentation of matters before the Commission." (Rules of Practice, I–B, 2 (b).)

All applications received up to August 2, 1938, will be passed upon according to the preexisting practice. Applicants who are not members of the bar, who file their applications on and after August 2, 1938, are advised that (a) they should make return to the questionnaire sent them at the time the blank form of application for admission is given them; and that an inquiry will be made of the sponsors and those to whom the applicant has referred, as to the general standing of the applicant. An inquiry will also be made by the Committee of the Association of Practitioners before the Interstate Commerce Commission. If the applicant's standing is found to be good, then (b) applicant will be expected to appear for an examination as to his legal and technical qualifications, at the next succeeding general date on which examinations are held which is more than thirty days distant.

Examinations will be conducted three times a year—the first Tuesday in January, May and September of each year. In view of the shortness of time and the limited number of applications pending, the examination scheduled for September, 1938, will be omitted.

The applicants will be expected to appear for examination, after they have been notified to do so, at the office of the Commission in Washington, or, upon timely request being made, at a district office of the Bureau of Motor Carriers, in cities where such offices are maintained, or in other cities, at the office of the Commission's Bureau of Accounts or Service Agent of the Commission.

The examinations to be given will test the applicant's knowledge of (1) structure and history of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, and related acts, (2) the Commission's rules of practice, (3) the general rules of evidence, (4) the leading cases involving the Commerce Clause of the Constitution and the Interstate Commerce Act, and their significance, and (5) the principles of legal ethics. The decision as to admission or non-admission of candidates will be made upon the basis of the applications, the returns of sponsors and those to whom applicants have referred, and the examination papers.

Acting Secretary.

COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION

[C. C. C. Wheat Form 1—Instructions—1938]

INSTRUCTIONS CONCERNING WHEAT LOANS

Commodity Credit Corporation has authorized the making of loans and the purchase of eligible paper secured by wheat stored on farms or in approved public grain warehouses. These instructions state the requirements of Commodity Credit Corporation with reference to making such loans on wheat and the purchase of notes secured by wheat.

1. Definitions.—For the purpose of these instructions and the notes and loan agreements or mortgages relating thereto, words used in the singular form shall be deemed to import the plural and vice versa, as the case may be, and unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the following terms shall be construed, respectively, to mean:

(a) Eligible producer.—Any person, partnership, association, or corporation, producing wheat as landowner, landlord, or tenant, provided that the acreage of total soil-depleting crops for 1938 on the farm producing such wheat has not exceeded 105 percent of the total soil-depleting acreage allotment as determined in accordance with the provisions of 1938 Agricultural Conservation Bulletin, issued April 16, 1938, as amended.[1]

(b) Eligible wheat.—Wheat of acceptable quality as defined below, which was produced in 1938, the beneficial title to which is and always has been in the eligible producer. The quality of such eligible wheat must be as follows:

(b–1) Wheat stored in approved public grain warehouses shall be of a grade No. 1 heavy; No. 1, No. 2, or No. 3 of the class Hard Red Spring; or of grade No. 1, No. 2, or No. 3 of the classes Durum, Red Durum, Hard Red Winter, Soft Red Winter or White, as defined in the Official Grain Standards of the United States, effective October 1, 1937, provided that wheat of the classes Hard Red Spring or Durum shall contain not more than 14½ percent moisture, and wheat of other eligible classes shall contain not more than 14 percent moisture.

(b–2) Wheat stored on the farm shall be of grade No. 1 heavy; No. 1 or No. 2 of class Hard Red Spring; or of grade No. 1, No. 2, or No. 3 of the classes Durum, Red Durum, Hard Red Winter, Soft Red Winter or White, as defined in the Official Grain Standards of the United States, effective October 1, 1937, provided that wheat of the classes Hard Red Spring or Durum shall contain not more than 13½ percent moisture and wheat of other eligible classes shall contain not more than 13 percent moisture.

(c) Eligible storage shall include public grain warehouses and farm storage meeting the following respective requirements:

(c–1) Public grain warehouses must be licensed under the provisions of the U. S. Warehouse Act or otherwise meet the requirements of Commodity Credit Corporation, and must have executed warehouse agreements with Commodity Credit Corporation. Such warehouses may be situated either at terminal or country points. The term "terminal warehouse", as used herein, shall include elevators and warehouses operating at concentration points which normally receive from producers, cooperative associations, grain dealers, and others, carlots or larger quantities of wheat for storage and reshipment, and shall include elevators and warehouses normally considered as subterminal, which, in addition to the above, also receive wheat directly from producers or others by wagon or truck. The term "country warehouse", as used herein, shall include elevators and warehouses which receive wheat exclusively delivered in wagons or trucks by producers or others at primary shipping points.

(c–2) Farm storage shall consist of farm bins and granaries which are of such substantial and permanent construction as to afford safe storage of the wheat for a period of 2 years and permit effective fumigation for the destruction of insects and afford protection against rodents, other animals, thieves, and weather, as determined by the County Agricultural Conservation Committees.

(d) Lending agency.—Any bank, cooperative marketing association, or other corporation, partnership, or person making loans in accordance with these instructions upon 1938 CCC Wheat Form B, which has executed the Contract to Purchase on 1938 CCC Wheat Form E. (A Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is not included within this definition.)

(e) Eligible paper.—For the purpose of the Contract to Purchase (1938 CCC Wheat Form E), eligible paper shall consist of notes of producers with loan agreements upon 1938 CCC Wheat Form B, secured by warehouse receipts representing wheat in existence and undamaged from the perils of fire, lightning, explosion, cyclone, tornado, windstorm, and flood, dated subsequent to July 15, 1938, and prior to January 1, 1939, and executed in accordance with these instructions with State documentary revenue stamps affixed thereto where required by law. (Notes executed by an administrator, executor, or trustee will be acceptable only where valid in law, and all such notes must be submitted for direct loans in accordance with sec. 16 hereof.)

Otherwise, a deduction of 4 cents per bushel shall be made to cover approximately the difference between the outbound local and proportional rates from the designated terminal market.

(b) Country points in western and central United States.—Except for the States and counties hereinafter set forth, Commodity Credit Corporation will determine the loan value on wheat in storage on the farm or in country or subterminal warehouses by deducting from the designated terminal market value an amount equal to the all-rail interstate freight rate (in effect on June 1, 1938) from the country or subterminal warehouse point, or the shipping point designated by the producer, to such terminal market plus 4 cents per bushel. Each approved warehouse will be advised as to the loan values applicable to wheat stored in such warehouse. Producers may obtain from the county committees the loan values applicable to wheat stored on each farm and in public grain warehouses.

The discounts for smut and garlic determined on a degree basis shall be as follows:

	Cents per bushel
Light smutty	3
Smutty	18
Light garlicky	3
Garlicky	18

5. Determination of dockage, smut, and garlic.—The percentage of dockage shall be determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States and the weight of said dockage shall be deducted from the gross weight of the wheat in determining the net quantity available for loan. The smut condition of wheat shall be determined on a percentage basis in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States in Idaho, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and the following counties in Montana: Lincoln, Flathead, Sanders, Lake, Mineral, Missoula, Powell, Ravalli, Granite, Deer Lodge, Silver Bow, Jefferson, and Beaverhead. In the foregoing area the quantity of smut shall be stated in percentage in accordance with the method described in paragraph (a) under "Smutty Wheat" of the Official Grain Standards of the United States and shall be stated in terms of half percent, full percent, or whole and half percent, as the case may be, and the quantity of smut so determined in pounds shall be deducted from the weight of clean wheat after deduction of other dockage. Elsewhere the smut condition of wheat shall be determined on a degree basis in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States, provided that in the case of wheat which has an unmistakable odor of smut, or which contains balls, portions of balls, or spores of smut in excess of a quantity equal to 14 balls but not in excess of a quantity equal to 30 balls of average size in 250 grams of wheat, there shall be added to and made a part of the grade designation, the words "Light smutty"; provided further, that in the case of wheat which contains balls, portions of balls, or spores of smut, in excess of a quantity equal to 30 balls of average size in 250 grams of wheat, there shall be added to and made a part of the grade designation, the word "Smutty." The garlic condition of wheat shall be determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States, and such condition shall be made a part of the grade designation by adding the words "Light garlicky" or the word "Garlicky," as determined under such standards.

6. Determination of quantity of wheat.—Loans shall be made at values expressed in cents per bushel, a bushel being determined to be 60 pounds of clean wheat free of dockage, when determined by weight, or 1.25 cubic feet of wheat testing 60 pounds per bushel when determined by measurement. In determining the quantity of wheat in farm storage by measurement, fractional pounds of the bushel test weight for wheat testing less than 60 pounds per bushel will be disregarded, and the quantity determined as above will be the following percentages of the quantity determined for 60-pound wheat:

	Percent
For wheat testing 59 lb. or over, but less than 60 lb	98
For wheat testing 58 lb. or over, but less than 59 lb	97
For wheat testing 57 lb. or over, but less than 58 lb	95
For wheat testing 56 lb. or over, but less than 57 lb	93
For wheat testing 55 lb. or over, but less than 56 lb	92

7. Maturity and interest rate.—Loans on 1938 CCC Wheat Form A will mature May 31, 1939. Loans on 1938 CCC Wheat Form B will mature 7 months from the respective dates thereof. All loans will bear interest at the rate of 4 percent per annum.

8. Public warehouses. — Commodity Credit Corporation will accept only negotiable, insured warehouse receipts or receipts in form required by statute covering wheat pledged as collateral to notes on 1938 CCC Wheat Form B issued by any public grain warehouse approved by the Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation serving the district in which such warehouse is located. Warehousemen are advised to communicate with such Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation concerning approval. Each approved warehouse must enter into an agreement with the Commodity Credit Corporation which may be obtained from the Loan Agency. This agreement will limit the warehouseman's lien and impose additional obligations to Commodity Credit Corporation. All wheat pledged as security for a note must be in the same warehouse, and each producer must arrange for the storage of wheat in an approved warehouse either at a country or terminal point. Producers should arrange for cleaning wheat placed in storage containing in excess of 2% dockage in order to avoid excessive charges for transportation, conditioning, and storage. Wheat containing smut or garlic should not be commingled by the warehouseman with wheat free from such smut or garlic. A list of the approved warehouses and their locations will be available at any Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation listed in section 18 hereof:

9. Warehouse receipts.—Commodity Credit Corporation will accept only negotiable, insured warehouse receipts, or receipts in form required by statute, dated on or prior to the date of the related note and properly assigned by an endorsement in blank so as to vest title in the holder, or issued to bearer, executed by warehousemen who are not owners of the wheat. Commodity Credit Corporation will not accept warehouse receipts indicating any lien for charges prior to unloading in or delivery to the warehouse issuing such receipts. Lien for storage charges will be recognized by Commodity Credit Corporation only from July 1, 1938, or the dates of the warehouse receipts, whichever is later. Such receipts must set out in their written or printed terms the gross weight or bushels, grade, subclass, moisture content, degree of smut or garlic and dockage of the wheat represented thereby, and all other facts and statements required to be stated in the written or printed terms of a negotiable warehouse receipt under the provisions of Section 2 of the Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act; provided, warehouse receipts in statutory form must be accompanied by a certificate of the warehouseman identified to the warehouse receipt, setting forth the information required above which may not be included in such statutory receipts, including, if desired, the undertaking of the warehouseman covering insurance and freight bills; provided further, the smut or garlic content of wheat stored in the area set forth in section 5 hereof shall be expressed in percentages. Unless the warehouse receipts are stamped or printed "Insured" there must be attached, or included in, the certificate of the warehouseman the statement that the wheat is insured for not less than market value against the hazards of fire, lightning, explosion, and windstorm, cyclone and tornado. In the case of warehouse receipts issued by any terminal warehouse, each warehouse receipt must either show the protein content, as determined by a recognized protein-testing laboratory approved by the terminal market, or be accompanied by an original or duplicate certificate issued by such laboratory showing the protein content and properly identified as to the wheat covered thereby either by the respective warehouse receipt number, or the bin number and warehouse description, or by car number. Each such terminal warehouse receipt must also be accompanied by an original or duplicate official weight and inspection certificate properly identified to the wheat covered thereby. Such inspection certificate must be issued by an inspector licensed under the U. S. Grain Standards Act. In the case of wheat delivered by rail to any terminal market designated in section 3 (a) hereof, the warehouse receipts shall also be accompanied by the original paid freight bills duly registered for transit privileges, provided, that Commodity Credit Corporation will accept in lieu of such bills, warehouse receipts on which a legend, signed by the warehouseman, has been stamped or typewritten substantially in the following form or certificate of such warehouseman containing such an undertaking:

> The wheat represented hereby was received by rail freight as evidenced by original paid freight bill which has been officially registered for transit and will be held and kept alive, within statutory limitations, for the benefit of the holder hereof.

10. Farm storage.—Wheat stored on the farm must have been stored in the granary at least 30 days prior to its inspection for measurement, sampling, and sealing. In accordance with regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, the County Agricultural Conservation Committees will inspect and approve storage facilities and will arrange for measuring, sampling, grading, and sealing the wheat collateral in approved structures. Chattel mortgages covering farm-stored wheat must be executed and filed in accordance with the applicable State law. Producers may obtain information and assistance from the County Agricultural Conservation Committees in regard to the execution and filing of such chattel mortgages. Where the borrower is a tenant farmer, and the wheat collateral is stored on the farm, the expiration date of the lease shall be given in section 3 (c) of the chattel mortgage (1938 CCC Wheat Form A). If the expiration date of the lease is prior to August 1, 1939, the landlord shall execute the Consent for Storage, section 11 of 1938 CCC Wheat Form A. The consent agreement shall also be signed by any other party or parties entitled to possession. Each producer must designate in section 5 of the Mortgage (1938 CCC Wheat Form A) a shipping point reasonably convenient for the delivery of the wheat as determined by the county committee. Notes and mortgages will not be acceptable which provide a shipping point other than the normal shipping point customarily used by the producers in the locality in which the wheat was produced. A separate note and chattel mortgage must be submitted for wheat stored on each quarter section of land. All loans on farm-stored wheat will be made directly by Commodity Credit Corporation through the Loan Agency of Reconstruction Finance Corporation serving the district in which the mortgaged wheat is stored. Commodity Credit Corporation will pay 7 cents per bushel for storing the wheat for the period ending May 31, 1939, or the date of the delivery of such wheat to Commodity Credit Corporation, whichever is later; provided such payment will be conditioned upon the delivery of the mortgaged wheat of the quantity, grade and subclass described in the chattel mortgage.

11. Liens.—The Wheat collateral must be free and clear of all liens except in favor of the lienholders listed in the space provided therefor in 1938 CCC Wheat Form A or B. The names of the holders of all existing liens on the pledged or mortgaged wheat, such as landlord, laborers, threshers, or mortgagees, must be listed in the space provided therefor in the mortgage or loan agreement. The waiver and consent to the pledge or mortgage of the wheat and the payment of the proceeds of the loan and the proceeds of the sale of the wheat solely to the producer as contained in the mortgage or loan agreement must be signed personally by all lienholders listed or by their agents, whose duly executed authority must be attached firmly; or, if corporations, by the designated officer thereof customarily authorized to execute such instruments, in which case the duly executed authority need not be attached. The producer may direct in the Letter of Transmittal (1938 CCC Wheat Form C) that the proceeds check for a direct loan from Commodity Credit Corporation be made payable to him and/or such other person or concern as he may direct thereon. Producers should read carefully all real-estate or other mortgages previously given by them in order to be sure that crops are not covered thereby. Any fraudulent misrepresentation of fact made in the execution of the note and mortgage or loan agreement and related forms shall render the producer personally liable for the amount of the loan and subject to the provisions of the United States Criminal Code.

12. Insurance.—(a) Wheat stored on farms.—All producers shall provide insurance on wheat stored on the farm for not less than the amount of the loan with accrued interest to maturity. Such insurance shall be evidenced by a certificate in the form printed at the end hereof, issued by a company or association licensed to do business in the State in which the wheat is stored. The insurance coverage may be obtained through the customary channels and the form of certificate required shall be furnished by the agent writing same.

(b) Wheat stored in approved warehouses.—With respect to wheat stored in approved public grain warehouses the warehousman shall provide insurance against the perils of fire, lightning, explosion, and windstorm, cyclone, and tornado for the full market value thereof so long as receipts are outstanding.

(c) Insurance carried by Commodity Credit Corporation.—In addition to the foregoing, Commodity Credit Corporation has obtained a blanket insurance policy which protects it in the event of any loss by or in consequence of damage to or destruction of the pledged or mortgaged wheat arising from fire and lightning; cyclone, tornado, windstorm and hail; theft and wrongful conversion; flood and explosion. This policy is in the nature of errors and omissions, and excess insurance, and the cost is nine-tenths of 1 cent per $100 per month on the daily average balance of loans outstanding.

Banks and other lending agencies desirous of insurance coverage in addition to the primary insurance provided by the warehouse receipts securing notes on 1938 CCC Wheat Form B shall obtain such coverage at their own expense.

Banks and other lending agencies desiring coverage under the Corporation's blanket policy should write to Commodity Credit Corporation, Washington, D. C., and appropriate instructions will be issued, together with the necessary forms for reporting thereunder.

13. County agricultural conservation committees.—The forms 1938 CCC Wheat Forms A and B contain a certificate which must be signed in each instance by a member of a county agricultural conservation committee of the county in which the wheat was produced.

14. Forms.—(a) Wheat stored on farms.—The following documents must be submitted:

All blanks in 1938 CCC Wheat Forms A and B must be filled in with ink, typewriter, or indelible pencil, and no documents containing additions, alterations, or erasures shall be accepted by Commodity Credit Corporation.

16. Direct loans.—Loans upon the security of wheat stored on the farm will only be made directly by Commodity Credit Corporation and such loans must be submitted to the Loan Agency of Reconstruction Finance Corporation serving the district in which the wheat is stored. It is contemplated that loans secured by wheat stored in an approved public grain warehouse will ordinarily be obtained from banks and other local lending agencies which, in turn, may sell the paper evidencing such loans to Commodity Credit Corporation. Producers may also obtain loans directly from Commodity Credit Corporation secured by wheat in such public warehouses. Such notes shall be made payable to Commodity Credit Corporation and shall be delivered to a Loan Agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation serving the district in which the wheat is stored. Paper for direct loans tendered by mail, in person, or otherwise should be accompanied by a Producer's Letter of Transmittal on 1938 CCC Wheat Form C, in duplicate, and must be delivered or postmarked prior to January 1, 1939. TITLE 25—INDIANS

TURNING OVER OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF DISTRICT WORKS TO THE SAN CARLOS IRRIGATION AND DRAINAGE DISTRICT

The Repayment Contract of June 8, 1931, between the United States of America and the San Carlos Irrigation and Drainage District, made pursuant to the San Carlos Act (Act of June 7, 1924, 43 Stat., 475-476) provided that the Secretary of the Interior of the United States could in his discretion permit the District to operate and maintain certain of the works of the San Carlos Federal Irrigation Project designated in the said Repayment Contract as "Works of the District."

The District has for several years been operating the works serving District lands exclusively. The District is desirous of maintaining said works as well as operating them and has formally requested the said Secretary to give his consent to its so doing. which said request was embodied in a Resolution of its duly qualified Board of Directors adopted May 3, 1938.

Responsive to that request and in order to have the operation and maintenance of the works serving District lands carried out by the same organization, and to ascertain the advantages, if any, of having the District operate and maintain the works serving District lands, the consent of the Secretary of the Interior of the United States is hereby given to the operation and maintenance of said District works on the conditions hereinafter set forth.

The Secretary retains the right to withdraw the consent hereby given at any time when in his judgment it would be for the best interests of the Government or the Project as a whole.

In accordance with law, and the Repayment Contract and on the foregoing premises, and in order to make effective the aforesaid purposes,

It is hereby ordered that:

Joint Works

The Joint Works of the San Carlos Federal Irrigation Project are hereby defined and declared to be as follows:

1. Coolidge Dam and San Carlos Reservoir.
2. Electrical power generating, transmission and distribution system.
3. Ashurst-Hayden Diversion Dam.
4. Florence-Casa Grande Canal to and including turnout to the Picacho Reservoir.
5. Picacho Reservoir, Feeder Canal and Outlet Structure, Provided however, that at any time in the future when the Picacho Reservoir is not or can not be used for Project storage or regulatory purposes, it and the outlet structure and feeder canal upon further order of the Secretary may be designated as part of the District Works.
6. North Side Canal from the Florence-Casa Grande Canal to the boundary of the Pima Indian Reservation.
7. Pima Lateral to the boundary of the Pima Indian Reservation.
8. Sub-laterals of the Pima Lateral outside of the Reservation which serve in whole or in part Indian lands.
9. Drainage and irrigation pumping works including wells and structures regardless of whether located within the District or the Reservation.
10. All structures on any and all of the above works, together with measuring devices such as measuring flumes or gauging stations used for the division of water as between Indian lands and District lands, even though some of such structures may be located in laterals and canals themselves designated as District or Indian Works.
11. Telephone lines and appurtenances belonging thereto.
12. All Project buildings paid for on joint account including the office building at Coolidge, the Project garage and shops, including the shops at Olberg, and all machines and other equipment necessary for the operation and maintenance of the Joint Works heretofore selected for that purpose by the Project engineer and the officials of the San Carlos Irrigation and Drainage District. Provided, however, that in the event the Project Joint Works organization does not need all the office and warehouse space to carry on the activities of the Project Joint Works, the District and the Indian Unit, or either, shall have the right to use such space for official purposes on the following conditions, to-wit:

A. The Project engineer shall have the right to determine the amount if any of such available space.

B. The Project engineer has determined that for the present Joint Works will need approximately one-third of the available office space at Coolidge. The District shall therefore be permitted to use one-third of said office space, and the Indian Unit one-third until such time as the Project engineer finds that the requirements of Joint Works for such office space increase or decrease. The occupancy of the building shall be by mutual agreement of the Project engineer, the District engineer and the person in charge of the Indian Unit, should that Unit at any time be under the supervision of anyone other than the Project engineer. It has been agreed that until the requirements of Joint Works increase the District shall occupy the approximate east one-third of the office building. That arrangement is hereby confirmed, subject to the right of the Project engineer to determine the manner in which the building shall be divided so as to best effect the arrangement agreed upon, and the further condition that the right of Joint Works to the use of said building shall at all times be paramount, and the judgment of the Project engineer as to the requirements of Joint Works shall be final until otherwise determined by the Secretary. The basement space in the building shall be divided among the aforesaid units in approximately the same ratio as the office space and subject to the same terms and conditions set forth herein. There shall be no charge made to the District or Indian Units for the space thus occupied. The cost of operating and maintaining the building shall be carried by Joint Works. The warehouse and garage and other facilities at Coolidge have been and are in general necessary for Joint Works, but in the event the Project engineer finds it feasible to assign some of said space or facilities to the District or Indian Units without sacrificing the efficiency of Joint Works he may do so, provided, however, that neither the District nor the Indian Unit shall be entitled to preference or favoritism in that regard.

C. The District and the Indian Unit shall have the right at all times to the services of the Project shops for official work on the following conditions:

(1) The shops shall be maintained for the purpose principally of doing work for the Joint Works part of the Project.

(2) The shops shall be operated at all times under the supervision and management of the Project engineer who shall make such rules and regulations in regard to their operation as he may from time to time think necessary to promote efficiency and economy, including the time and method of payment for work done for the District or Indian Units.

(3) All shop work done for the District and the Indian Units shall be done by the Project shop organization on a cost basis, and shall be done only at such times as may not interfere with Joint Works requirements. All such work shall be done as between the Indian Unit and the District on the basis of "First come, first served," except that the Project engineer may do emergency work for either at any time, when in his judgment it is necessary.

13. All lands upon which any of the foregoing buildings or structures are located and the rights of way therefor, including the right of way for the San Carlos and Picacho Reservoir sites.

A. If at any time it shall be found that the Project Joint Works does not require the use of some of said land, and any of it can be used advantageously by the District or the Indian Unit, the Project engineer may assign such area to either of said Units for use without cost to be used by the Unit to which assigned until needed by the Project. The availability of such land for assignment as aforesaid, and the purposes for which it may be used by the party to which it may be assigned, and the manner in which it shall be used and cared for shall be determined by the Project engineer, whose judgment shall be final in case of disagreement in such matters.

B. In the event the Project engineer determines it is necessary for Joint Works to have and use any or all of the Project buildings or premises in this Order, or hereafter, assigned to the District, he shall give the District six (6) months notice in advance of the date when the District shall vacate any such buildings or premises occupied or used by it.

District Works

All Project Works not hereinabove reserved as Joint Works and which are used for the serving of District lands are hereby defined and declared to be District Works.

The District Works as herein defined are hereby turned over to the District beginning July first, 1938, to be operated and maintained by the District and at its expense under management satisfactory to the Secretary of the Interior of the United States, until further order.

The operation and maintenance of the District Works by the District as provided for herein shall be at all times done both as to quality and quantity in a manner satisfactory to the said Secretary. The District shall at all times keep the works hereby entrusted to its care for operation and maintenance in a satisfactory operating condition; it being understood in that regard that if at any time either the management or the operation and maintenance of the District Works by the District shall prove unsatisfactory to the United States the Secretary of the Interior or his duly authorized representative, the Project Engineer, shall, in writing, call such matters to the attention of the District; and in the event such unsatisfactory matters are not corrected by the District within a reasonable time, the Secretary retains the right to withdraw from the District the privilege of operating and maintaining said works. What constitutes "a reasonable time" within the meaning of this paragraph shall be determined and definitely set forth in any letter or notice calling any such unsatisfactory conditions to the attention of the District. Provided, however, that in the event any such notice shall be given by the duly authorized representative of the Secretary, his fixing of a reasonable time for remedying the unsatisfactory conditions called to the attention of the District in any such notice may be appealed to the Secretary whose decision in that regard shall be final.

Indian Works

All Project works serving Indian lands not reserved herein as Joint Works as above defined shall be considered and are hereby declared to be Indian Works.

All Indian Works as herein defined shall be operated and maintained by the United States and at its or the Indians' expense.

Operation and Maintenance Charges

Joint Works

The Joint Works as herein defined will be operated and maintained by the United States and the cost thereof, including the administration of the Gila decree, (such costs for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1938, are estimated to be $60,000) exclusive of the cost of operating and maintaining electric power generating plants at the Coolidge Dam and the Diesel plant at Coolidge and the power transmission and distribution system, as well as all the appurtenances belonging to the Project electrical system, which is payable from power revenues, and for the payment of which such revenues are now expected to be sufficient, shall be paid by the Project landowners as provided for in the Landowners' Agreement and the Repayment Contract.

Since the Project consists of 50,000 acres of Indian lands and 50,000 acres of public and private lands, said cost of maintaining and operating the Joint Works shall be paid equally on account of the Indian lands and the public and private lands at a per acre rate to be established by order of the Secretary annually hereafter, which said rate shall produce such a sum of money as shall be determined by the Secretary to be the amount necessary to meet, on the aforesaid basis, the proportionate share of the expense required by the Project to maintain and operate the Joint Works.

That part of the charges for operation and maintenance of the Joint Works to be borne by the District when so determined shall be paid on a fiscal year basis to the United States annually in advance, not later than the first day of March of each year, beginning the first of March, 1939, all as provided in the Repayment Contract as amended, which said first payment shall be for the fiscal year 1940, and the United States or the Indians will make available the same amount of money each fiscal year for the operation and maintenance of the Joint Works for and on account of the Indian lands.

Since the District has made payments to the Project covering its share of the cost of Joint Works for the calendar year 1938, and its estimated share of the cost of the Project maintenance to July 1, 1938, also the money collected by it for excess water deliveries during the year 1937; and since in any event there will be unadjusted credits due the District or payments due from it to the Project on account of its share of said costs and its share of Joint Works maintenance and operation costs for the last half of the fiscal year 1939, it is hereby provided that any unadjusted credits or payments on account of said items existing on July 1, 1938, shall be adjusted at the first opportunity after the actual figures are determined by the Project engineer, in any event within thirty (30) days after the Project engineer furnishes the District with a statement of its account with the Project as of July 1, 1938, for and on account of the aforesaid items. The Project engineer in determining what amount if any the District owes the Project on July 1st on account of said items shall allow the District credit for fifty per centum (50%) of the total Project revenues derived from excess water deliveries for the calendar year 1937, to the extent such revenues have been collected and are available for Project uses, but no credit can be allowed the District on account of such revenues due for deliveries to Indian lands during 1937 until made available by Congress; credit for such uncollected amounts shall be allowed on future payments by the District.

Delivery of Water and Operation and Maintenance Charges for District Lands and Works

The District, in accordance with the Repayment Contract, shall make an annual charge against lands of the District, herein designated as the basic charge, for operation and maintenance of District Works and for the District's share of operation and maintenance of Joint Works which charge when collected will, together with its proper share of revenue from the anticpated excess water charges hereinafter provided for, cover the cost of operating and maintaining said District Works and pay the District's share of operating and maintaining the Joint Works.

The District, in accordance with the Repayment Contract, shall deliver two (2) acre feet of water or such part thereof as may be legally and physically available, to each irrigated acre in the District on payment of its said basic charge and any other charges due the District or the United States under the provisions of the Landowners' Agreement and the Repayment Contract, Provided that all sums due the United States provided for herein shall have been paid by the District in accordance with the provisions of this order and the terms of the Repayment Contract; all additional water, except free water, as provided for in the Repayment Contract shall be paid for by the landowners and collected by the District, at the rate of Fifty Cents (50¢) per acre foot for the third acre foot per acre and at the rate of One Dollar ($1.00) per acre foot for all additional water delivered, but the Secretary retains the right to change at any time the charge for excess water.

In order to protect the interests of the United States and facilitate the collection of the construction charges due from the landowners within the District owing to the United States, it is further provided that the District shall maintain an organization which will not entail an overhead expense disproportionate to the services which it renders the landowners in the operation and maintenance of said District Works.

It is further provided that if at any time the Secretary determines that the charges made by the District for operation and maintenance of the District Works are excessive, the District shall proceed immediately upon written notice from the Secretary of the Interior to reduce said cost, to a maximum to be fixed in such notice by the Secretary of the Interior and if within a reasonable time the District finds itself unable to meet the demands of the Secretary in that regard the Secretary may withdraw the operation and maintenance of the District Works from the District. The Secretary retains full power to determine what constitutes a reasonable time within the meaning of this paragraph.

Delivery of Water and Operation and Maintenance Charges for and on Account of the Indian Lands and Works

As hereinbefore provided, the United States will make available for operating and maintaining the Joint Works the aforesaid share thereof due on account of the 50,000 acres of Indian lands in said Project. In addition thereto the United States or the Indians shall provide an amount of money which will be sufficient to meet the per acre cost of maintaining and operating the Indian Works, which said per acre cost shall be termed the basic charge for Indian lands and shall be paid or provided for at the time and in the manner provided from time to time by the Secretary of the Interior in accordance with law and the Repayment Contract. It is further provided that when the basic charge for Indian lands plus the Indians' per acre share of the cost of Joint Works has been determined and the payment thereof made by the Indians in advance or provided for by the United States then there shall be delivered to each irrigated acre of Indian land two acre feet of water or such part thereof as may be legally and physically available annually; and all additional water, except free water as provided for in the Repayment Contract, delivered to Indian lands shall be upon such terms as may be prescribed by the Secretary from time to time as provided for in Article 11 of the Repayment Contract, but until further order in that regard it shall be paid for in advance by the Indians or provided for by the United States in advance of delivery at the rate of Fifty Cents (50¢) per acre foot for the third acre foot per acre and at the rate of One Dollar ($1.00) per acre foot for all additional water delivered.

Application of Funds From Excess Water Deliveries and Sales to Towns, Villages, Municipalities, State Institutions, Indian Agency Grounds and Gardens and the Agricultural Experiment Station at Sacaton

The revenue from charges for excess water deliveries shall be used and paid as provided in the Repayment Contract, and its provisions shall be considered as having been complied with as long as the District operates and maintains District Works, if the said collections shall be made and applied as follows:

Both the District and the Indian Unit or the United States for the Indians shall be entitled to use fifty per centum (50%) of the total of such charges due or collected hereafter from both Indian and District lands in any one year to meet, to the extent it will, their respective basic sum charges. Where deliveries to District lands exceed those to Indian lands or vice versa, any balance due to or owing from either by reason of such differences shall be adjusted at the end of each calendar year by proper payments from the District or credits to it. Such payments or credits to be made on or before March 1st of the succeeding year as provided in the Repayment Contract.

In harmony with the Act of March 7, 1928 (45 Stat. 200 at 210), and Article 12 of the Repayment Contract, it has been the practice since the San Carlos Project has been in operation to furnish water when available to the State Prison near Florence, and to the cities and towns in the Project as well as to the Agency grounds and gardens and the Experimental Farm at Sacaton, and it is believed that so long as that can be done it will be to the best interests of the Project to continue such uses of water. It is contemplated that contracts and such proper orders as may be required will be made in the near future to carry that policy into effect on a well-defined and permanent basis. When that shall have been done all such services as may be required from the District or the Indian Unit to deliver water to said agencies shall be paid for as shall from time to time be provided by the Secretary of the Interior.

All money received from the sale or leasing of water to any or all of the aforesaid public institutions for public enterprises, and beautification, where such service shall be rendered by the District or the Indian Unit, shall after due compensation as aforesaid for such service, be used and paid in the same manner provided herein with reference to money received from excess water deliveries. In the event, however, that the Project Joint Works can and does render the service to any or all of said public institutions without using District or Indian Unit Works, it shall make the collections and the revenue shall go into the Joint Works operation and maintenance fund and be used to reduce the amount due for that purpose from the District and the Indian Unit each year.

Florence-Casa Grande Project Lands

There are certain lands of the Florence-Casa Grande Project which have water rights, but have not been merged as yet with the San Carlos Project. It is necessary that said lands be served in part through Project canals the amount of water to which, under the law and the Florence-Casa Grande Agreement, they are entitled. It is contemplated that contracts and proper orders shall be made with the Florence-Casa Grande landowners, which shall provide among other things for payment by them of construction costs and operation and maintenance charges of the Florence-Casa Grande Project. The operation and maintenance charges collected from said lands shall be paid into the San Carlos Project operation and maintenance fund and be used to reduce the assessments for Joint Works against Indian and District lands each year. The District shall be allowed due compensation however for any service which it may be required to and renders said lands or to the State lands or cities and towns. The extent of service and compensation shall be agreed upon hereafter, but in the event an agreement can not be reached in that regard mutually satisfactory to the Project engineer, the District and the Indian Unit, the Secretary retains the right to determine such matters.

It is further provided that until such permanent arrangements have been consummated for the State lands, the cities, towns and villages, the Florence-Casa Grande lands and the non-project Federal Agency lands at Sacaton, that the District will continue as in the past to deliver to the Florence-Casa Grande Project lands, such water as they are entitled to in accordance with law and the Florence-Casa Grande Agreement and shall collect from said landowners such operation and maintenance charges as shall be determined upon and fixed by the Secretary of the Interior from year to year, and it will also deliver to the State Prison lands and the cities and towns such water as may be allotted to them upon the same terms as has heretofore been done. The Indian Unit will make deliveries to the Federal Agencies for which it shall also be allowed compensation to be hereafter fixed on a per acre basis; Provided the Project shall be allowed a credit of One Dollar and Eighty Cents ($1.80) per acre for service it performs on account of said agencies for the year 1937. All net revenue from collections made on said temporary basis shall be paid to the San Carlos Project Joint Works.

United States and District to Keep and Exchange Records

The District and the Indian Unit or the United States for it will keep records of the amounts and rates of delivery of water to farm units of the District, and the amount and rate of delivery of water to the Indian lands, according to methods approved by the Secretary of the Interior. They will furnish to each other a summary of such amounts and rates of supply for their information. These records are to be kept open for inspection by the Indian Unit, the United States and the District. Such records of the deliveries to District lands served through Government operated canals will be furnished the District in detail for assessment purposes.

District Compliance With Gila Decree

It is further provided that the District in the operation and maintenance of said District Works and the delivery of water to the Project lands within the District and the delivery of water to Florence-Casa Grande Project lands shall use every legal means at its command to see that the terms of the Gila decree are not violated and to cooperate with the Project engineer and the Federal Court Water Commissioner in the enforcement of its terms and provisions.

Division of Project Equipment

Equipment belonging to the San Carlos Project shall be divided as between Joint Works, the District, and the Indian Unit of the Project, according to the needs of each unit. All equipment used or needed for the operation and maintenance of Joint Works shall first be selected from available Project equipment by the Project engineer and shall be designated as belonging to the Project for Joint Works. A division of the remaining equipment shall be made by the District and the Project engineer on such equitable basis as will most nearly equalize the benefits to both the District and Indian Units in the use of said equipment in the operation and maintenance of their respective units of the Project. In the event that an agreement cannot be reached as to this division the matter or disagreement shall be promptly referred to the Secretary of the Interior, together with a statement of the requirements of each as to such equipment, and his decision in the matter shall be final.

The value of such equipment as may be taken over by the District or the Indian Unit of the Project shall be paid for by the party receiving it. The payment therefor shall be made to the Project disbursing agent or other properly designated Project employee. The amount to be paid by each of said parties for the equipment turned over to them, respectively, shall be the current, approved value of said equipment as shown on the Project inventory and equipment accounts. Said equipment shall be paid for by the party receiving same at the time said property is turned over; Provided, however, that the District may use any unadjusted credit due it from the Project on January 1, 1938, in payment for any such equipment taken over by it, and the Indian Unit may pay for such equipment as it takes over on such terms as may be agreed to by the Project engineer, but in the event the said Indian Unit takes over any such equipment on terms other than by payment at the time of delivery, it shall in any event pay the full value thereof as of the date when so taken over, even though the equipment be worn out or destroyed before it shall have been paid for.

When, in the judgment of the Project engineer, emergencies exist, or at such other times as in his judgment economies may be effected in the operation and maintenance work on any part of the Project he may, at the request of the District or the Indian Unit, use Joint Works equipment together with its operating crews to do the emergency work or effect economies, if it can be done without sacrificing Joint Works activities. In the event Joint Works equipment shall have been used as aforesaid, Joint Works shall be fully compensated by the unit for which the work shall have been performed, on an actual per diem or shift basis, according to the procedure established by the Project in accounting for the cost chargeable to the particular piece or pieces of equipment so used at the time such work may be done as aforesaid for the District or Indian Unit.

Certain Features Contingent on Appropriations

It should be remembered that the provisions of this order, to the extent that funds are required to be made available by the United States beyond the fiscal year 1939, are dependent upon appropriations being made by Congress for such purposes. The United States, however, through its Secretary of the Interior, will use every legal effort at its command to see that the assessments which may become due for Joint and Indian Works as provided for herein are made available to the Project or other proper Indian Service official, to the end that the Project Joint Works and the Indian Works may be maintained and operated in the best possible manner so as to promote efficiency and economy in the use of water and conserve the Project water supply.

Supervisory Control Retained

This order is not intended to be and shall not be construed as an amendment or modification of either the Landowners' Agreement or the Repayment Contract, but as an administrative operating order made pursuant to the provisions of the Repayment Contract for the purpose of defining the conditions upon which certain of the objectives provided for in said Contract may be achieved. The Secretary reserves the right to exercise at any time any and all rights, powers and privileges given him by law and the aforesaid Contracts with reference to the San Carlos Federal Irrigation Project, whether specifically mentioned herein or not, including the right to supervise, through his duly authorized representatives, to the extent he may deem necessary, the doing of the maintenance and operation work herein conditionally delegated to the District. The Secretary also retains the right to modify this order and impose new or modified conditions on the District from time to time and to permit the Indian Unit to be operated in whole or in part by the Indians if deemed advisable; also to revoke in whole or in part, at any time, this or any amended or modified order.

LETTER OF INSTRUCTIONS AUTHORIZING ASSESSMENTS ON LAND IN NON-INDIAN OWNERSHIP DESIGNATED UNDER THE FLATHEAD INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, MONTANA, FOR REPAYMENT OF THE CONSTRUCTION COSTS OF THAT PROJECT

JULY 11, 1938.

MR. W. S. HANNA,
Supervising Engineer.

DEAR MR. HANNA: Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of June 21, relating to the matter of assessments against the lands of the Flathead irrigation project for the repayment of construction costs.

Your attention is invited in this connection to the public notice fixing the construction charges for the Flathead irrigation project issued by the Assistant Secretary of the Interior on November 1, 1930. That public notice, as you are aware, sets out the construction costs chargeable to the lands of the different divisions of the project up to that date and also designates the rates of annual assessments against the lands of the various divisions.

The Act of Congress of July 1, 1932 (47 Stat., 564–65) known as the Leavitt Act released all Indian lands from assessments for construction costs so long as such lands remain in Indian ownership.

In accordance with the public notice the construction costs up to November 1, 1930, as designated therein against the lands of the Flathead irrigation project, not included in any irrigation district, were to be repaid within 20 years from that date. The public notice provides that there should be an initial installment of 5 per cent of such construction costs due and payable on December 1, 1930, after which there were to be no further payments until December 1, 1935. Beginning with December 1, 1935, there were to be annual installments paid on that date of each year over a period of 15 years, 5 per cent of the construction costs annually for the first five years and 7 per cent annually for the next ten years.

There has been no modification of this portion of the public notice, in so far as it applies to lands in non-Indian ownership, except the moratorium provisions contained in the Act of Congress of June 13, 1935 (49 Stat., 337) for the season of 1935 and the Act of April 14, 1936 (49 Stat., 1206) for the season of 1936. The provisions of the public notice covering the assessments for construction costs against lands in non-Indian ownership, not included in any irrigation district, have been and still are in effect.

The original public notice contemplated that the full amount of the construction costs, up to November 1, 1930 charged against lands which were then included in an irrigation district, or should subsequently be so included, were to be repaid at the rate of 2½ per cent annually. The arrangement as set out in the original public notice was for the first 2½ per cent assessment to be made for the season of 1931 with the privilege of making the payments semiannually on February 1 and August 1 of the year 1932 with similar assessments and semi-annual payments of each year thereafter until the construction costs were paid in full.

The public notice was modified by the Act of Congress of February 14, 1931 (46 Stat., 1127) which contains the following provision:

• • • in any district in this project, which has or may hereafter execute a repayment contract in pursuance of existing law, the first payment of construction charges may in the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior be required in the calendar year 1935, but in any event the total repayment of such construction charges shall be required in not more than forty years from the date of public notice heretofore given: • • •

On March 28, 1931, the Office addressed a letter to you which was approved by the Department on April 20, 1931, wherein the provisions of the act above cited were discussed and the public notice of November 1, 1930, was amended in accordance therewith. It was explained in that letter that in pursuance of the provisions of the act mentioned above the assessments against lands included within the irrigation districts shall be due and payable in the calendar year 1935 instead of the date fixed in said public notice, provided the annual per acre rate fixed on page 2 of the public notice shall be increased so as to distribute the amount that otherwise would have accrued pursuant to said public notice up to November 1, 1935, over the remainder of the 40-year period, that increased rate to be determined by dividing the total area of each division into the cost fixed by the public notice for such division and dividing that sum by 35 which is the number of years over which the said amount is to be paid beginning with the year 1935.

The letter cited above also points out that all lands not falling within these classes shall be subject to the construction assessments as provided in the public notice.

The letter above cited further modifies the public notice by deleting several lines on page 5 thereof as follows:

proper additions being made thereto on account of individual assessments for operation and maintenance charges for the irrigation seasons of 1928 and 1930 to be covered into construction costs in accordance with the provisions of Acts of Congress approved March 7, 1928 (45 Stat., 213) and May 14, 1930 (46 Stat., 291), and

The Act of May 9, 1935 (49 Stat., 187) further defers the date on which payments should begin on construction costs against lands of the irrigation districts, and contains the following provision:

• • • Provided, That (with the consent of the irrigation districts of the Flathead irrigation project which have executed repayment contracts with the United States as required by law) the Secretary of the Interior may modify the terms of such contracts by requiring the operation and maintenance charges (not heretofore carried into construction costs and which were dealt with in the Act of March 7, 1928 (45 Stat., pp. 212–213)), and those accruing subsequent to March 7, 1928, which were due and unpaid at the time of execution of repayment contract, to be paid over the same period of years and in like manner as the construction costs are to be paid under the terms of the public notice issued by such Secretary on November 1, 1930, as amended April 20, 1931: Provided, That no interest rate shall be charged from and after the date of the passage of this Act: Provided further, That the first installment of such operation and maintenance charges shall be due and payable on the same date as the first installment of construction charges is due or may be due and payable, where modifications of the contracts are made pursuant hereto: Provided further, That the first installment of construction costs shall be due and payable in December 1938 instead of the date now fixed: Provided further, That the operation and maintenance cost assessable against the Jocko Valley irrigation district for the calendar year of 1935 shall be carried into the construction costs and shall be payable as other construction costs. • • •

Pursuant to the provisions of the law quoted above supplemental contracts have been entered into with each of the three Irrigation Districts on the Flathead irrigation project with a view to carrying out the provisions of the act for covering the unpaid operation and maintenance charges into the construction costs and deferring the collection of the construction costs until December 1938.

The supplemental contract with the Flathead Irrigation District bears date of August 21, 1936 and was approved by the Department on August 26 of that year. Section 8 of that supplemental contract modifies the public notice of November 1, 1930, as follows:

8. The United States will levy an assessment against the Flathead Irrigation District for the repayment to the United States of the costs of constructing the irrigation system serving the assessable land included in said District at the rate of $1.28 per acre per annum, beginning with the assessment of the year 1938 until thirty-five (35) such annual assessments shall have been made. Thereafter, the annual assessment for the repayment of such cost accruing subsequent to the issuance of the public notice shall be at the rate of $1.12 per acre against assessable land included in said District until the total expenditure by the United States for the construction of said irrigation system shall have been paid. The said annual assessments shall be paid in semi-annual installments, the first of which shall be due and payable on December 31st of the year for which the assessment is made and the second of which shall be due and payable on June 30th of the succeeding year. The District will annually levy against each assessable acre of land included therein and pay to the United States a sum equal to the assessment of the United States based on the above rates.

The supplemental contract with the Mission Irrigation District bears date of August 21, 1936 and was approved by the Department on August 26 of that year. Section 8 of that supplemental contract modifies the public notice of November 1, 1930, as follows:

8. The United States will levy an assessment against the Mission Irrigation District for the repayment to the United States of the cost of constructing the irrigation system serving the assessable land legally included in said District at the rate of $1.28 per acre per annum, beginning with the assessment of the year 1938 until thirty-five (35) such annual assessments shall have been made. Thereafter, the annual assessment for the repayment of such cost accruing subsequent to the issuance of said public notice shall be at the rate of $1.12 per acre against assessable land included in said District until the total expenditure by the United States for the construction of said irrigation system shall have been paid. The said annual assessments shall be paid in semi-annual installments, the first of which shall be due and payable on December 31st of the year for which the assessment is made and the second of which shall be due and payable on June 30th of the succeeding year. The District will annually levy against each assessable acre of land included therein and pay to the United States a sum equal to the assessment of the United States based on the above rates.

The supplemental contract with the Jocko Valley Irrigation District bears date of September 29, 1936 and was approved by the Department on October 5 of that year. Section 8 of that supplemental contract modifies the public notice of November 1, 1930, as follows:

8. The United States will levy an assessment against the Jocko Valley Irrigation District for the repayment to the United States of the cost of constructing the irrigation system serving the assessable land legally included in said District at the rate of $0.57 per acre per annum, beginning with the assessment of the year 1938 until thirty-five (35) such annual assessments shall have been made. Thereafter, the annual assessment for the repayment of such cost accruing subsequent to the issuance of said public notice shall be at the rate of $0.50 per acre against assessable land included in said District until the total expenditure by the United States for the construction of said irrigation system shall have been paid. The said annual assessments shall be paid in semi-annual installments, the first of which shall be due and payable on December 31st of the year for which the assessment is made and the second of which shall be due and payable on June 30th of the succeeding year. The District will annually levy against each assessable acre of land included therein and pay to the United States a sum equal to the assessment of the United States based on the above rates.

There has been no legislation enacted providing a moratorium for construction costs for the season of 1938 and there is no authority of law by which we may further delay these assessments after December 1938. It will, therefore, be necessary for you to make preparation for these assessments in accordance with the provisions of the public notice of November 1, 1930, as amended by the letter approved by the Department on April 20, 1931, and also as modified by the provisions of the acts of Congress as incorporated in the supplemental contracts with the three irrigation districts herein cited. The assessments against the lands of the irrigation districts for the season of 1938 are to become due and payable one-half on December 31, 1938, and one-half on June 30, 1939.

The assessments for construction charges against all lands of the Flathead irrigation project will be carefully studied by the Committee on Economic Survey at such time in the future as that committee visits the Flathead Indian Reservation. It is hoped that this study may be made during next year.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, JR.,
Assistant Commissioner.

Approved, July 16, 1938.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

MODIFICATION OF RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF FLATHEAD INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, MONTANA

AUGUST 3, 1937.

MR. W. S. HANNA,
Supervising Engineer.

DEAR MR. HANNA: Reference is made to your letter of January 26 transmitting a resolution passed by the Board of Commissioners of the Flathead Irrigation District requesting a change in the practice which has been followed in the delivery of water to landowners who are farming more than one original farm unit or allotment.

Consideration has been given the rules and regulations governing the operation and maintenance of the Flathead Indian irrigation project approved by the Department on August 3, 1932. Section 4 of said rules and regulations provides as follows:

4. Farm units.—For the purpose of these rules and regulations and the delivery of water, a farm unit is defined as a tract in single contiguous ownership or allotment containing not less than one 40-acre subdivision of the Public Survey. In the case of leases a farm unit will be considered a tract in a single lease comprising one or more contiguous tracts.

There appears to be nothing in Section 4 as quoted above that makes it mandatory to consider each orignal farm unit as a single unit for the purpose of apportioning water but there is some question as to whether under that provision it would not be mandatory to consider each allotment containing not less than one 40-acre tract as a separate unit. With a view to clearing this uncertainty the rules and regulations approved on August 3, 1932 are hereby modified and the following language is substituted in lieu of the former Section 4:

4. Farm units.—For the purpose of these rules and regulations and for the delivery of water, a farm unit is defined as a contiguous area of land in single ownership containing not less than one 40-acre subdivision of the Public Survey regardless of its original status as a farm unit or allotment. In the case of leases a farm unit is defined as the contiguous area under a single lease.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, JR.,
Assistant Commissioner.

Approved, August 6, 1937.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

ORDER AMENDING ORDER REGULATING HANDLING IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE, AND SUCH HANDLING AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS, OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE COMMERCE, OF MILK IN THE LA PORTE COUNTY, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, hereinafter called the "act," the Secretary of Agriculture, hereinafter called the "Secretary," on September 24, 1937, tentatively approved a marketing agreement[1] regulating the handling in interstate commerce, and such handling as directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce, of milk in La Porte County, Indiana, Marketing Area; and

Whereas, on November 9, 1937, the Secretary issued Order No. 20,[2] which regulates the handling of milk in the La Porte County, Indiana, Marketing Area in the same manner as the aforesaid tentatively approved marketing agreement, said order being effective November 13, 1937; and

Whereas, the Secretary, having reason to believe that an amendment should be made to said tentatively approved marketing agreement and to said order, gave, on the 27th day of May 1938, notice of a hearing[3] to be held on the 3rd day of June 1938, at La Porte, Indiana, on a proposed amendment to said tentatively approved marketing agreement and said order, and at said time conducted a public hearing at which all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard; and

Whereas, after such hearing, and after the tentative approval by the Secretary on July 15, 1938, of an amendment to said tentatively approved marketing agreement, handlers of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk, covered by said order as hereby amended, which is marketed within the La Porte County, Indiana, Marketing Area, refused or failed to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, and

Whereas, the Secretary determined on the 9th day of August 1938, said determination being approved by the President of the United States on the 12th day of August 1938,[4] that said refusal or failure to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of said act and that the issuance of this amendment to said order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of milk in said area and is approved or favored by more than two-thirds (⅔) of the producers who participated in a referendum thereon conducted by the Secretary on July 23, 1938, and who, during the month of May 1938 (said month being determined by the Secretary to be a representative period) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the La Porte County, Indiana, Marketing Area; and

Whereas, this order, as hereby amended, regulates the handling of such milk in the same manner as the aforesaid tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, and is applicable only to handlers defined in such tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds upon the evidence introduced at the hearing upon such proposed amendment, said findings being in addition to the findings made upon the evidence introduced at the hearing on said order, said original findings being herewith ratified and affirmed save only as such findings are in conflict with the findings hereinafter set forth:

1. That the prices, ascertained in accordance with sections 2 and 8e of the aforesaid act, which will give milk sold in the marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of milk during the base period, August 1919–July 1929, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, the available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, but that the minimum prices established herein do reflect such factors, will insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

2. That this order, as hereby amended, and all the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the aforesaid act.

Now, therefore, the Secretary, pursuant to the authority vested in him by said act, hereby orders that Order No. 20 regulating the handling in interstate commerce, and such handling as directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce, of milk in the La Porte County, Indiana, Marketing Area, issued November 9, 1937, be and it is hereby amended as follows:

1. Delete paragraph 3 of section 1 of article I and substitute therefor the following:

"3. 'La Porte County, Indiana, Marketing Area,' hereinafter called the 'Marketing Area', means the townships of Scipio, Pleasant, Kankakee, Center, Cool Spring, Michigan, Springfield, Galena, and Hudson, all in La Porte County, Indiana."

2. Delete paragraph 5 of section 1 of article I and substitute therefor the following:

"5. 'Producer' means any person, irrespective of whether such person is also a handler, who produces milk which is delivered to a plant from which milk is sold in the Marketing Area."

3. Delete paragraph 6 of section 1 of article I and substitute therefor the following:

"6. 'Handler' means any person, irrespective of whether such person is also a producer, who purchases or receives milk from producers, associations of producers or other handlers, all or a portion of which milk is sold as milk in the Marketing Area, and who, on his own behalf or on behalf of others, engages in such handling of milk as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce."

4. Delete section 1 of article III and substitute therefor the following:

"SECTION 1. Sales and use classification.—Milk received by each handler, including milk produced by him, if any, shall be classified by the Market Administrator as follows:

"1. Class I milk shall be all milk sold or given away in the form of milk, all milk used to produce cream for consumption as cream, and all milk not specifically accounted for as Class II milk.

"2. Class II milk shall be all milk specifically accounted for (a) as being sold, distributed or disposed of other than as milk or cream and (b) as actual plant shrinkage within reasonable limits."

5. Add the following sections to article III:

"SEC. 3. Computation of butterfat in each class.—For each delivery period, the Market Administrator shall compute for each handler the butterfat in each class, as set forth in section 1, as follows:

"1. Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: (a) multiply the weight of the milk received from producers by the average butterfat test; (b) multiply the weight of the milk produced by him, if any, by the average butterfat test; (c) multiply the weight of the milk received from handlers, if any, by the average butterfat test; and (d) add together the resulting amounts.

"2. Determine the total pounds of butterfat in Class I milk as follows: (a) convert to quarts the quantity of milk sold or given away in the form of milk, and multiply by 2.15; (b) multiply the result by the average butterfat test of such milk; (c) multiply the actual weight of cream used for consumption as cream by its average butterfat test; (d) add together the amounts computed pursuant to (b) and (c) of this paragraph; and (e) if the quantity of butterfat so computed when added to the pounds of butterfat in Class II milk computed pursuant to paragraph 3 of this section is less than the total pounds of butterfat received, computed in accordance with paragraph 1, an amount equal to the difference shall be added to the quantity of butterfat determined pursuant to (d) of this paragraph.

"3. Determine the total pounds of butterfat in Class II milk as follows: (a) multiply the actual weight of the several products of Class II milk by the average butterfat test; (b) multiply the weight of a quantity of milk equal to the plant shrinkage (which shall be within reasonable limits) by the average butterfat test of milk received from producers; and (c) add together the resulting amounts.

"4. Determine the classification of the butterfat received from producers as follows:

"(a) Subtract from the total pounds of butterfat in each class the total pounds of butterfat which were received from other handlers and used in such class.

"(b) In the case of a handler who also distributes milk of his own production, subtract from the total pounds of butterfat in each class a further amount which shall be computed as follows: divide the total pounds of butterfat in said class by the total pounds of butterfat in all classes and multiply by the total pounds of butterfat produced by him.

"SEC. 4. Computation of milk in each class.—For each delivered period, the Market Administrator shall compute for each handler the hundredweight of milk in each class, which was received from producers and to which the prices set forth in article IV apply, as follows:

"1. Divide the total pounds of butterfat computed for each class in accordance with paragraph 4 of section 3 of this article by the average test of all milk received from producers by such handler."

6. Delete sections 1, 2, and 3, of article IV and substitute therefor the following:

"SECTION 1. Class Prices.—Each handler shall pay producers, at the time and in the manner set forth in article VIII, not less than the following prices for milk delivered at the handler's plant:

"Class I milk.—$2.42 per hundredweight.

"Class II milk.—The price per hundredweight which shall be calculated by the Market Administrator as follows: Multiply by 3.8 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture, for the delivery period during which such milk is delivered, and add 30 percent thereof: Provided, That for a quantity of Class II milk not to exceed 10 percent of the Class I milk sold by the handler, the handler shall pay the price which shall be calculated by the Market Administrator as follows: Multiply by 3.8 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture, for the delivery period during which such milk is delivered, and add 10 percent thereof."

7. Delete paragraph 1 of section 1 of article VI and substitute therefor the following:

"1. The Market Administrator shall, subject to the condition set forth in paragraph 2 of this section, exclude from the computations made pursuant to section 1 of article VII, the quantity of milk produced by a handler which is sold, used or distributed by such handler: Provided, That where any such handler has purchased milk from other producers the value of the milk so purchased shall be computed under section 1 of article VII as follows: The quantity of such milk shall be ratably apportioned among such handler's total Class I and Class II sales (after excluding purchases, if any, from other handlers) and multiplied by the Class I and Class II prices, respectively."

8. Delete paragraph 3 of section 1 of article VI and substitute therefor the following:

"3. The Market Administrator shall consider as Class II milk any milk or cream sold in bulk by any such handler, who has not exercised the option set forth in paragraph 2 of this section, to another handler operating a bottling or processing plant. If such buying handler uses or sells such milk or cream other than in Class II the Market Administrator shall, with respect to the total value computed for such buying handler pursuant to section 1 of article VII, add the difference between (1) the value of such milk or cream at the Class II price and (2) the value at the Class I price."

9. Delete sections 2 and 3 of article VII and substitute therefor the following:

"SEC. 2. Computation and Announcement of Uniform Prices.—1. The Market Administrator shall compute for each handler and announce the uniform prices per hundredweight of milk delivered to such handler during each delivery period, except the delivery periods of June, July, August, and September, as follows:

"(a) From the total value of milk computed for such handler pursuant to section 1 of this article, subtract the sum obtained from multiplying by the Class II price the total quantity of milk, if any, received from producers who did not regularly sell milk for consumption in the Marketing Area during a period of 30 days next preceding November 13, 1937;

"(b) If the Class I milk of such handler is greater than the base milk received by him from producers, subtract a sum equal to the base milk times the Class I price;

"(c) If the Class I milk of such handler is less than the base milk received by him from producers, subtract a sum equal to the excess milk times the Class II price;

"(d) Divide the remaining sum of money by the excess milk if (b) of this paragraph be true, or by the base milk if (c) of this paragraph be true, to secure the blended price for excess milk or for base milk, as the case may be.

"2. The Market Administrator shall compute for each handler the uniform price per hundredweight of milk received by such handler during each June, July, August, and September delivery period as follows:

"(a) From the total value of milk computed for such handler pursuant to section 1 of this article, subtract the sum obtained from multiplying by the Class II price the total quantity of milk, if any, received from producers who did not regularly sell milk for consumption in the Marketing Area during a period of 30 days next preceding November 13, 1937:

"(b) Divide by the total quantity of milk received from producers other than the milk represented by the amount subtracted under (a) of this paragraph.

"3. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period notify such handler and make public announcement of the uniform prices computed for him pursuant to this section and of the Class II price.

"SEC. 3. Base rating.—During each delivery period, except the delivery periods of June, July, August, and September, the base of each producer shall be a quantity of milk to be calculated by the Market Administrator in the following manner: Multiply the rating, if any, effective pursuant to section 4 of this article, by the number of days on which milk was received from such producer during such delivery period. Milk received from a producer not in excess of his base shall be designated as 'base milk' and that received in excess of his base shall be designated as 'excess milk.'"

10. Delete section 1 of article VIII and substitute therefor the following:

"SECTION 1. Time and Method of Payment.—1. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, other than the delivery periods of June, July, August, and September, each handler shall, with respect to milk purchased outside the State of Indiana or received at the handler's plant outside the State of Indiana during such delivery period, make payment to producers from whom such milk was received, subject to the butterfat differential set forth in section 3 of this article, as follows:

"(a) To any such producer who did not regularly sell milk during a period of 30 days next preceding November 13, 1937, to a handler or to persons within the Marketing Area, at the Class II price for all the milk received from such producer during the period beginning with the first regular delivery of milk from such producer and continuing until the end of two full calendar months following the first day of the next succeeding calendar month; and

"(b) To all other such producers, at the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and for excess milk computed for such handler pursuant to paragraph 1 of section 2 of article VII.

"2. On or before the 15th day after the end of each June, July, August, and September delivery period, each handler shall, with respect to milk purchased outside the State of Indiana or received at the handler's plant outside the State of Indiana during such delivery period, make payment to producers from whom such milk was received, subject to the butterfat differential set forth in section 3 of this article, as follows:

"(a) To any such producer who did not regularly sell milk during a period of 30 days next preceding November 13, 1937, to a handler or to persons within the Marketing Area, at the Class II price for all the milk received from such producer during the period beginning with the first regular delivery of milk from such producer and continuing until the end of two full calendar months following the first day of the next succeeding calendar month; and

"(b) To all other such producers, at the uniform price per hundredweight computed for such handler pursuant to paragraph 2 of section 2 of article VII."

11. Delete the phrase "4 percent" from section 3 of article VIII and substitute therefor the phrase "3.8 percent."

In witness whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, does hereby execute in duplicate under the official seal of the Department of Agriculture, and issue this amendment to the said order in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on the 15th day of August, 1938, and declares this amendment to be effective on and after 12:01 a. m., central standard time, August 20, 1938.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

DETERMINATION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING OF MILK IN THE LA PORTE COUNTY, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, hereinafter called the "Secretary", pursuant to the powers and functions vested in him by the terms and provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, hereinafter called the "act", having reason to believe that the issuance of an amendment to a tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order theretofore issued with respect to the handling of milk in the La Porte County, Indiana, Marketing Area would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, gave, on the 27th day of May 1938, notice of a hearing[1] to be held on the 3rd day of June 1938, at La Porte, Indiana, on a proposed amendment to said tentatively approved marketing agreement and to said order, at which time and place all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on the proposed amendment; and

Whereas, after such hearing and after the tentative approval by the Secretary of an amendment to said tentatively approved marketing agreement, handlers of more than 50 percentum of the volume of milk covered by such order, as amended, which is produced or marketed within the La Porte County, Indiana, Marketing Area, refused or failed to sign such marketing agreement, as amended, relating to milk;

Now, therefore, the Secretary, by virtue of the authority vested in him by the above-mentioned act, hereby determines:

1. That the refusal or failure of said handlers to sign said marketing agreement, as amended, tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of said act;

2. That the issuance of an amendment to said order[2] is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of milk in said area; and

3. That the issuance of the amendment to said order is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who, during the month of May 1938, said month having been determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in said area, and who participated in a referendum conducted by the Secretary on July 23, 1938.

In witness whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, does hereby execute and issue in duplicate this determination under his hand and the official seal of the Department of Agriculture in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, this 9th day of August, 1938.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

NOTICE TO MOTOR CARRIERS OF PASSENGERS

AUGUST 12, 1938.

There is attached hereto a copy of the Commission's order of August 1, 1938,[1] prescribing a quarterly and a monthly report to be submitted by each Class I Motor Carrier of Passengers subject to the provisions of Section 220 of the Motor Carrier Act, 1935.

Class I carriers are required to submit a report in duplicate showing the revenues and number of passengers carried beginning with the month of August, 1938, and monthly thereafter. Three copies of the form of report are enclosed, two of which should be completed for the month of August, 1938, and forwarded to the Commission not later than September 30, 1938, the third copy being for your files.

Beginning with the quarter ending September 30, 1938, and quarterly thereafter, Class I carriers are also required to submit a report in duplicate of their revenues, expenses and statistics. Carriers which keep their accounts on a four-week instead of a calendar month basis may report three such four-week periods in each of the returns for the first three quarters and the four remaining periods in the last quarter. Three copies of the form to be used for this purpose are attached. This form also provides for reporting the cumulative figures for the year 1938, and certain quarterly and cumulative figures for the year 1937. The cumulative figures for each year must include the results of operations from January 1st of each year to and including the last day of the quarter for which the report is rendered. Attention is directed to the fact that for 1937 information is not required for items 3 to 8, inclusive, and items 10 to 20, inclusive, but the totals must include the amounts which would normally be reported under those items.

Additional supplies of the forms will be furnished each Class I carrier for rendering subsequent reports.

Class I motor carriers, as defined in the Uniform System of Accounts for Common and Contract Motor Carriers of Passengers, are those carriers whose average gross revenues from intrastate and interstate motor carrier operations combined are $100,000 or more per annum. It is further provided in the accounting regulations, effective January 1, 1938, that Class I carriers shall be determined upon the basis of the average gross revenues from intrastate and interstate motor carrier operations for the three years preceding January 1, 1938. If, however, a carrier, whose annual revenues have been less than $100,000, under this definition, acquires additional operating authority through purchase or otherwise and the annual revenues of the combined operations are $100,000 or more, such carrier shall be included in the Class I group of carriers effective as of January 1st of the year following that in which the new operations began.

Any carrier receiving this order which is not a Class I carrier, as defined above, shall promptly notify the Commission to that effect, supporting such statement with the amount of its gross revenues for each of the years 1935, 1936, and 1937.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS MONDAY, AUGUST 15, 1938

Important.—Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal Civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts, and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupied, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears.

SUPPLEMENTAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR 1938 WHEAT LOAN PROGRAM

AUGUST 10, 1938.

The Instructions (1938 CCC Wheat Form 1) issued by Commodity Credit Corporation for the 1938 wheat loan program [1] are hereby amended and supplemented.

The definition of eligible wheat, as set forth in Subsection (b) of Section 1 is hereby supplemented as follows:

"Eligible wheat stored in approved public grain warehouses of the classes listed in the Instructions shall include wheat graded No. 4, solely on the factor of test weight per bushel, which wheat otherwise meets the requirements of grade No. 3 for damaged kernels, foreign material and wheats of other classes.

Eligible wheat stored on farms of the classes listed in the Instructions shall include wheat of the class Hard Red Spring graded No. 3 and wheat of other classes listed graded No. 4, solely on the factor of test weight per bushel, which wheat otherwise meets the requirements of the next higher grade for damaged kernels, foreign material and wheats of other classes.

The maximum moisture content stated in said Section 1 of said Instructions shall continue unchanged and shall apply to all eligible grades of wheat, including the foregoing grades."

Subsection (a) of Section 3 of said Instructions is hereby supplemented by adding the following basic loan values for wheat of the added grades and subclasses at the terminal market indicated:

Market	Grade and subclass	Loan value per bushel
Kansas City, Missouri, and Kansas City, Kansas.	No. 1 Dark Northern Spring.	$0.75
	No. 1 Northern Spring.	.73
Omaha, Nebraska, and Council Bluffs, Iowa.	No. 1 Dark Northern Spring.	.74
	No. 1 Northern Spring.	.72

Subsection (b) of Section 3 is hereby amended by adding the following:

"In determining the loan value of wheat stored in subterminal warehouses, Commodity Credit Corporation will deduct only the all-rail interstate freight rate from the subterminal warehouse point to a designated terminal market provided the warehouseman certified such wheat was shipped to such subterminal warehouse by rail. For this purpose only, Commodity Credit Corporation will consider as subterminal warehouses, all warehouses situated at other than the designated terminal markets which have executed the Terminal Warehouse Agreement. If the warehouse receipts representing wheat stored in such subterminal warehouse are accompanied by original freight bills, duly registered for transit privileges, evidencing freight paid in full to the appropriate designated terminal market, or certificates of the warehouseman to that effect, which otherwise meet the requirements of Subsection (b) hereof, Commodity Credit Corporation will advance the full loan value for wheat at such terminal market."

The discounts for "smutty" and "garlicky" wheat, as set forth in Section 4 of said Instructions, should each read "8¢ per bushel" in lieu of "18¢ per bushel." There are further added to said Section 4 the following discounts:

"(i) Where the loan value is based on No. 1 wheat the loan value on wheat grading No. 4 shall be 10¢ less than the loan value of No. 1 wheat.

(f) Products of an American fishery will be entitled to free entry although prepared, preserved or otherwise changed in condition provided the work is done at sea by the master or crew of the fishery or by persons employed by and under the supervision of the master or owner of the fishery. Fish (except cod, haddock, hake, pollock, cusk, mackerel, and sword fish) the product of an American fishery, landed in a foreign country, and there not further advanced than beheaded, eviscerated, packed in ice, frozen and with fins removed, will be entitled to free entry, whether or not such processing is done by the American fishery. Products of an American fishery prepared or preserved on the treaty coasts of Newfoundland, Magdalen Islands, or Labrador, as such coasts are defined in the Convention of 1818 between the United States and Great Britain, will be entitled to free entry only if the preparation or preservation is done by an American fishery.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPILING DATA TO BE SHOWN ON FORM

1. Describe the product in the terms usually used on consular invoices, giving name, brand, quality, number, etc. Use a separate form for each kind.

2. Show quantity produced in one typical batch or lot, recently manufactured, as to which cost records have been maintained.

3. Manufactured sugar is defined in the Sugar Act of 1937 as follows:

SEC. 401. For the purpose of this title—

* * * * *

(b) The term "manufactured sugar" means any sugar derived from sugar beets or sugarcane which is not to be, and which shall not be, further refined or otherwise improved in quality; except sugar in liquid form which contains nonsugar solids (excluding any foreign substance that may have been added) equal to more than 6 per centum of the total soluble solids, and except also sirup of cane juice produced from sugarcane grown in continental United States.

The grades or types of sugar within the meaning of this definition shall include, but shall not be limited to, granulated sugar, lump sugar, cube sugar, powdered sugar, sugar in the form of blocks, cones or molded shapes, confectioners' sugar, washed sugar, centrifugal sugar, clarified sugar, turbinado sugar, plantation white sugar, muscovado sugar, refiners' soft sugar, invert sugar mush, raw sugar, sirups, molasses, and sugar mixtures.

A. Show unit in pounds, as well as total quantity.

B. "First cost" is the full cost of the material laid down at the manufacturing plant, at current domestic prices, without any deduction for any drawback or refund of import duties which may have been allowed or may be allowable. The amounts of any drawback or refund of import duties which have been allowed or which are allowable by reason of exportation should be stated separately.

C. "Additional costs" include all costs of storing, examining, handling, and preparing, up to the point where the materials are ready to be combined in the manufacturing process. Manufacturing costs and general expenses, occurring thereafter, should not be included, nor should profit.

D. "Total cost" is the total of "First cost" ex factory, and "Additional costs."

E. In the event that it is conceded that manufactured sugar is the component material of chief value, it will be sufficient to so state on the invoice and give the percentage of total sugars in the finished product.

The foregoing requirements shall be effective as to articles composed in chief value of manufactured sugar entered on and after the expiration of sixty days from the date of the publication of this decision in the weekly Treasury Decisions.

[Regulations 46—Amendments]

EXCISE TAXES ON SALES BY THE MANUFACTURER

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

In conformity with the provisions of sections 701, 705, and 709 of the Revenue Act of 1938, Regulations 46, approved June 18, 1932, as amended, are further amended as follows:

Chapter III is amended as follows:

(1) Immediately after the quotation of section 603 of the Revenue Act of 1932 which precedes article 22, the following subtitle and quotation of section 701 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

SECTION 701 (A) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

(a) Certain toilet preparations.—The tax imposed by section 603 of the Revenue Act of 1932 shall not apply to tooth and mouth washes, dentrifices, tooth pastes, or toilet soaps, sold after June 30, 1938.

(2) Article 22 is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 22. Scope of tax.—The tax attaches to the sale by the manufacturer of the articles enumerated in section 603 and similar articles commonly or commercially known as toilet articles, which are used or applied, or intended to be used or applied, for toilet purposes. No tax applies, however, to the sale of tooth and mouth washes, dentifrices, tooth pastes, or toilet soaps after June 30, 1938. Any article advertised or held out to be suitable for toilet purposes, or for any purposes for which the articles enumerated in the Act are customarily used, will be subject to the tax, regardless of the name by which it may be known or distinguished. The tax attaches to the sale by the manufacturer of all preparations which are used or applied or intended to be used or applied for toilet purposes or used in connection with the bath or care of the body, or applied to the clothing as a perfume or to the body as a toilet article. The fact that any particular product, preparation, or substance coming within the scope of the Act may have, or be held out to have, a medicinal, stimulating, remedial, or curative value does not exempt it from the tax, if it is used as an adjunct to the toilet or for toilet purposes.

"The tax will not attach to an article which is not a finished product or is not susceptible of use for toilet purposes but is only suitable for use in the manufacture of articles subject to tax.

"Toilet soap is taxable with respect to sales made during the period from June 21, 1932, to June 30, 1938, inclusive, whether the soap is in the form of a liquid, semiliquid, paste, flake, powder, or cake. Soaps and soap powders advertised or held out as suitable for toilet purposes or for application to the body, or parts of the body, as cleansing agents are taxable. Toilet soap advertised or held out as having medicinal properties, medicated toilet soaps, shaving soaps, creams, and powders, and shampoo soaps and soap powders are taxable. A soap used chiefly for removing grease and stains from the hands, though capable of incidental use for cleaning kitchen utensils, is taxable as a toilet soap. Soaps which are made, advertised, held out, and sold primarily for general cleaning or laundry purposes, but which may have an incidental and trivial use as a toilet soap, are not taxable unless advertised or held out as suitable for toilet purposes. Shampoo oils and liquids not containing saponaceous matter are taxable as toilet preparations."

Chapter IV, as amended by Treasury Decision 4669,[1] approved July 22, 1936, is further amended as follows:

(1) Immediately after the quotation of section 810 of the Revenue Act of 1936 which precedes article 24, the following subtitle and quotation of section 701 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

SECTION 701 (B) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

(b) Furs.—The tax imposed by section 604, as amended, of the Revenue Act of 1932 shall not apply to articles sold after June 30, 1938.

(2) The first paragraph of article 24 is amended to read as follows:

"The tax is effective only with respect to the period from June 21, 1932, to June 30, 1938 (both dates inclusive), and is imposed upon the sale by the manufacturer of (1) articles made of fur on the hide or pelt and (2) articles of which fur on the hide or pelt is the component material of chief value."

(3) The phrase "on or after June 23, 1936," appearing in the second and in the last paragraphs of article 24 is amended to read "from June 23, 1936, to June 30, 1938 (both dates inclusive),".

(4) The phrase "on or after June 23, 1936," appearing in the fourth sentence of article 25 is amended to read "from June 23, 1936, to June 30, 1938 (both dates inclusive),".

(5) Article 27 is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 27. Rate of tax.—The tax is payable by the manufacturer at the rate of 10 per cent of the sale price during the period June 21, 1932, to June 22, 1936 (both dates inclusive), and 3 per cent of the sale price during the period June 23, 1936, to June 30, 1938 (both dates inclusive), as outlined in articles 8 to 15, inclusive, and in article 24."

Chapter VI is amended as follows:

(1) Immediately after the quotation of section 606 (a) and (b) of the Revenue Act of 1932 which precedes article 36, the following subtitle and quotation of section 709 of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

SECTION 709 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

(a) Section 606 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1932 is amended to read as follows:

"(a) Automobile truck chassis, automobile truck bodies, tractors of the kind chiefly used for highway transportation in combination with a trailer or semitrailer (including in each of the above cases parts or accessories therefor sold on or in connection therewith or with the sale thereof), 2 per centum. A sale of an automobile truck shall, for the purposes of this subsection, be considered to be a sale of the chassis and of the body."

(b) The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be effective with respect to sales made after June 30, 1938.

(2) Article 36 is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 36. Scope of tax.—The tax applies to sales by the manufacturer of automobile truck chassis and bodies primarily designed or adapted for the transportation of property along highways and roads, although persons may be incidentally transported at the same time, and to sales of other chassis and bodies. During the period from June 21, 1932, to June 30, 1938, inclusive, the tax does not apply to sales of tractors. For the purposes of such exception, the term 'tractors' includes automotive vehicles designed for pulling or drawing a load, as distingushed from those designed for carrying a load, and also includes so-called automobile chassis of the short wheel base type which are specially designed for pulling trailers and are not capable of being equipped with an automobile body, regardless of whether equipped with a fifth wheel. Such term, however, does not include a truck chassis, regardless of style, if so designed that it may be equipped with a body, or if its specifications are included among truck chassis specifications in trade publications current during the period from June 21, 1932, to June 30, 1938, without regard to whether it is equipped with a fifth wheel and whether it is sold for use only for pulling or as the tractive function of a trailer. After June 30, 1938, the distinction between tractors used on the highways and automobile trucks is immaterial, since both classes are taxable after such date. On and after July 1, 1938, the tax attaches to the sale by the manufacturer of all tractors of the kind chiefly used for highway transportation in combination with a trailer or semitrailer.

"Motor-driven machines designed and adapted for use in pulling or drawing vehicles around factories and railway stations, and small trucks for handling baggage and trucks at railway stations, as distinguished from automotive vehicles used on highways and roads, are not subject to tax.

"The sale of an automobile truck or other automobile shall be treated, for the purpose of computing the tax, as the sale of a chassis and a body. If the purchaser of a tax-paid chassis attaches thereto a body manufactured by him and sells the completed vehicle, he is liable for tax on the sale price of the body. However, if the completed vehicle is sold for a lump sum, the tax attaches to such lump sum, unless the sale price of the body is stated as a separate item on the invoice to the customer, or unless such sale price can be established by adequate records to the satisfaction of the Commissioner. The same rule applies where the manufacturer of a chassis installs thereon a tax-paid body and sells the completed vehicle.

"The tax does not apply with respect to sales of bodies by the manufacturer thereof to manufacturers of automobile trucks or other automobiles when sold as provided in article 39. A chassis manufacturer who purchases a body tax free under certificate, as provided in article 39, is required to pay tax on his sale of the completed vehicle as the manufacturer of both chassis and body.

"The tax applies to the sale of all motorcycles. Side cars are considered parts of motorcycles.

"Any parts or accessories for automobile truck chassis, automobile truck bodies, tractors of the kind chiefly used for highway transportation in combination with a trailer or semitrailer, or other automobile chassis or bodies or motorcycles, sold on or in connection therewith, or with the sale thereof, are taxable at the rate applicable to the sale price of the complete articles. A manufacturer cannot lessen his sale price of chassis, body or taxable tractor, or motorcycle by billing separately parts and accessories which are considered equipment for the article in question. If, for example, a manufacturer sells to any person a chassis and a set of bumpers, or a taxable tractor and a fifth wheel and attachments, he must pay tax on the parts or accessories at the same rate as on the chassis or tractor regardless of the method of billing."

(3) Article 37 is amended to read as follows:

mobile truck chassis, bodies, or tractors, and at 3 per cent of the sale price of other automobile chassis or bodies or motorcycles, the sale price to be determined as outlined in articles 8 to 15, inclusive."

(4) Article 40 is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 40. Credit for taxes on tires and inner tubes.—Under the specific provisions of the Act, tires and inner tubes may not be purchased tax free for use as material in the manufacture of, or as a component part of, taxable articles manufactured by the purchaser.

"Where a manufacturer sells tax-paid tires and inner tubes on or in connection with or with the sale of automobiles, taxable tractors, or motorcycles, he may take credit against the tax due on the sale of such automobiles, taxable tractors, or motorcycles in an amount determined by applying to the purchase price of the tires or tubes the percentage rate of tax applicable to the automobiles, taxable tractors, or motorcycles, but the part of the purchase price of tires attributable to any metal rims or rim bases shall be excluded. For example, if the sale price of the automobile is $1,000, the tax payable thereon $30, and the cost to the manufacturer of the tires sold on or in connection therewith $40; the manufacturer will be permitted to take a credit by deducting from the tax payable on the selling price of the automobile an amount equal to 3 per cent of $40, namely, $1.20.

"In the event that the manufacturer of an automobile also manufactures or imports tires and tubes and sells the automobile and the tires and tubes in a single transaction, he will be liable for tax on the sale price of the automobile (including the tires and tubes) at the rate of 3 per cent, and he will also be liable for tax on the tires and tubes at the rates of 2¼ cents and 4 cents per pound, respectively. He will, however, be permitted to take a credit against the tax on the automobile on the same basis as if he had purchased the tires and tubes so sold. The same rule applies in the case of motorcycles and, except for the difference in the rate of tax, in the case of automobile truck chassis and taxable tractors."

(5) Article 41 is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 41. Definition of parts or accessories.—The term 'parts or accessories' for an automobile truck or other automobile chassis or body, taxable tractor, or motorcycle, includes (a) any article the primary use of which is to improve, repair, replace, or serve as a component part of such vehicle or article, (b) any article designed to be attached to or used in connection with such vehicle or article to add to its utility or ornamentation, or (c) any article the primary use of which is in connection with such vehicle or article whether or not essential to its operation or use.

"The term 'parts and accessories' shall be understood to embrace all such parts and accessories as have reached such a stage of manufacture that they constitute articles commonly or commercially known as parts and accessories regardless of the fact that fitting operations may be required in connection with installation. The term shall not be understood to embrace raw materials used in the manufacture of such articles.

"Spark plugs, storage batteries, leaf springs, coils, timers, and tire chains, which are suitable for use on or in connection with, or as component parts of, automobile truck or other automobile chassis, taxable tractors, or motorcycles, are considered parts or accessories for such articles whether or not primarily designed or adapted for such use."

(6) Article 42 is amended by amending the first paragraph to read as follows:

"No tax will be imposed upon parts or accessories sold to a manufacturer of automobile truck or other automobile chassis, bodies, taxable tractors, or motorcycles, provided the vendor obtains from the purchaser, and retains in his possession, a certificate of the purchaser establishing that the purchaser is a manufacturer of such articles."

Chapter VII is amended as follows:

(1) Immediately after the quotation of section 607 of the Revenue Act of 1932, which precedes article 44, the following subtitle and quotation of section 701 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

SECTION 701 (C) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

(c) Phonograph records.—The tax imposed by section 607 of the Revenue Act of 1932 upon records for phonographs shall not apply to such records sold after June 30, 1938.

(2) Article 44 is amended by amending the first paragraph to read as follows:

"The tax imposed under section 607 attaches to the sale by the manufacturer of (1) articles specified in such section suitable for use in connection with or as part of a radio receiving set or a combination radio and phonograph set (regardless of actual use), including parts and accessories for any of such articles when sold on or in connection therewith, or with the sale thereof, and (2) with respect to the period from June 21, 1932, to June 30, 1938 (both dates inclusive), records for phonographs."

Chapter IX is amended as follows:

(1) Immediately after the quotation of section 609 of the Revenue Act of 1932 which precedes article 53, the following subtitle and quotation of section 701 (d) of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

SECTION 701 (D) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

(d) Sporting goods.—The tax imposed by section 609 of the Revenue Act of 1932 shall not apply to articles sold after June 30, 1938.

(2) Article 53 is amended by amending the first paragraph to read as follows:

"The tax is effective only with respect to the period from June 21, 1932, to June 30, 1938 (both dates inclusive), and is imposed upon the sale by the manufacturer of the articles enumerated in section 609 and all similar articles commonly or commercially known as sporting goods, games, and parts of games (except playing cards and children's toys and games)."

Chapter XI is amended as follows:

(1) Immediately after the quotation of section 611 of the Revenue Act of 1932 which precedes article 61, the following subtitle and quotation of section 701 (e) of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

SECTION 701 (E) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

(e) Cameras.—The tax imposed by section 611 of the Revenue Act of 1932 shall not apply to articles sold after June 30, 1938.

(2) Article 61 is amended by amending the first paragraph to read as follows:

"Section 611 imposes a tax on sales by the manufacturer of (a) cameras (except aerial cameras) weighing not more than 100 pounds and (b) lenses for such cameras. The tax is effective only with respect to the period from June 21, 1932, to June 30, 1938 (both dates inclusive)."

Chapter XIII is amended as follows:

(1) Immediately after the quotation of section 614 of the Revenue Act of 1932 which precedes article 65, the following subtitle and quotation of section 701 (f) of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

SECTION 701 (F) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

(f) Chewing gum.—The tax imposed by section 614 of the Revenue Act of 1932 shall not apply to articles sold after June 30, 1938.

(2) Article 65 is amended by amending the first paragraph to read as follows:

"The tax imposed by section 614 is effective only with respect to the period from June 21, 1932, to June 30, 1938 (both dates inclusive). The term 'chewing gum' includes any preparation of chicle, gum, resin, or other plastic insoluble substance, such as is usually sweetened, flavored, and intended for use as a masticatory. Preparations of this character covered or combined with other substances, such as candy, are taxable as chewing gum. The fact that a chewing gum may be advertised or held out as having medicinal or remedial properties will not relieve it from the tax."

Chapter XIV, as amended by Treasury Decision 4387, approved September 2, 1933, and Treasury Decision 4605, approved November 12, 1935, is further amended as follows:

(1) Article 71, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 71. Credits and refunds.—A credit against tax due on the sale of any of the articles covered by these regulations, or a refund, may be allowed to a manufacturer in the amount of any tax which has been paid under Title IV of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended, by any person with respect to the sale of any article (other than a tire or inner tube) purchased and used by such manufacturer as material in the manufacture or production, or as a component part, of any such articles with respect to which tax has been paid, or which has been sold free of tax in accordance with the provisions of article 7, as amended. A claim for refund must be supported by evidence showing (1) that name and address of the person who paid to the United States the tax of which refund is claimed, (2) the date of payment, (3) the amount of the tax, and (4) that the article was so used. A claim for credit must be supported by evidence of the same character. If it is impossible to furnish such evidence at the time when credit is taken, a statement to that effect must be submitted with the return on which the credit is taken, and the evidence supporting such credit filed with the collector within 30 days after the date on which the return is filed. If the required evidence is not so filed, the credit will be disallowed and assessment of the tax resulting from the disallowance made on the current assessment list.

"In the case of a readjustment of price by reason of the return or repossession of an article or a covering or container, or by a bona fide discount, rebate, or allowance, the manufacturer who paid the tax based upon the original price may file a claim for refund or take credit against the tax due upon any subsequent monthly return in the amount of that part of the tax proportionate to the part of the sale price which is refunded or credited to the purchaser. In no case shall such a refund or credit be allowed to the taxpayer in connection with an article or a covering or container sold prior to June 21, 1932. The refund or credit of the tax shall be allowed only if a sworn statement is furnished showing that the readjustment of price has actually been made. (See Art. 13.)

"If any person overpays the tax shown to be due on a monthly return, he may either file a claim for refund on Form 843 or take credit for the overpayment against the tax shown to be due on any subsequent monthly return. In all cases where a person overpays tax, no credit or refund shall be allowed (except as provided in the preceding paragraphs), whether in pursuance of a court decision or otherwise, unless the taxpayer files a sworn statement explaining satisfactorily the reason for claiming the credit or refund and establishing (1) that he has not included the tax in the price of the article with respect to which it was imposed, or collected the amount of tax from the vendee, or (2) that he has either repaid the amount of tax to the ultimate purchaser of the article or has secured the written consent of such ultimate purchaser to the allowance of the credit or refund. In the latter case the written consent of the ultimate purchaser must accompany the sworn statement filed with the credit or refund claim. For the purpose of the tax the 'ultimate purchaser' is a person who purchases an article (1) for consumption, or (2) for use in the manufacture of other articles and not for resale in the form in which purchased. The statement supporting the credit or refund claim must also show whether any previous claim for credit or refund covering the amount involved, or any part thereof, has been filed with the collector or Commissioner.

"A complete and detailed record of each overpayment must be kept by the taxpayer for a period of at least four years from the date any credit is taken or refund is claimed.

"Where articles covered by these regulations are sold by the manufacturer tax paid to a dealer who resells and delivers such articles direct to a State or political subdivision thereof during the period from July 1, 1933, to September 30, 1935 (both dates inclusive), for use in the exercise of an essential governmental function, the manufacturer may be allowed a refund or may take credit in the amount of tax paid against the tax shown to be due upon any subsequent monthly return, provided the manufacturer has in his possession evidence establishing that (A) such article has during such period been delivered by the dealer direct to a State or political subdivision thereof for use in the exercise of an essential governmental function and (B) the manufacturer has repaid or agreed to repay the amount of such tax to the dealer or has obtained the consent of the dealer to the allowance of the credit or refund. The claim for refund or credit must be supported by an affidavit of the manufacturer showing (1) the name and address of each dealer; (2) the amount of tax allowable to each dealer; (3) the date the tax was paid to the United States in each case; and (4) whether the manufacturer has repaid or agreed to repay the amount of such tax to the dealer, or in the absence of such repayment or agreement, whether the dealer consents to the allowance of the refund to the manufacturer. The affidavit of the manufacturer must also show that he has in his possession, subject to examination by internal-revenue officers, a sworn statement from each dealer involved (or if the amount of the tax involved in any dealer's credit or refund is $10 or less, his statement may be signed or acknowledged before two witnesses instead of under oath) stating (a) whether the articles on which the tax was paid have been resold and delivered during the period from July 1, 1933, to September 30, 1935 (both dates inclusive), by him direct to a State or a political subdivision thereof for use in the exercise of an essential governmental function; (b) the State or political subdivision thereof to which such sales were made; (c) the nature of the governmental function, i. e., the kind of activities for which the articles were purchased; and (d) that the tax has been repaid to the dealer, or the manufacturer has agreed to repay the tax to the dealer, or in the absence of such repayment or agreement, that the dealer consents to the allowance of the credit or refund to the manufacturer.

"The credit or refund provisions of the preceding paragraph apply only where there is not more than one intermediate sale between the manufacturer liable for the tax and the State or political subdivision thereof. Where a taxable article is sold by a manufacturer to a distributor for resale to a dealer for resale by him during the period from July 1, 1933, to September 30, 1935 (both dates inclusive), to a State or political subdivision thereof, the credit or refund provisions provided above do not apply.

"A credit or refund of tax paid on any article which is sold during the period from July 1, 1933, to September 30, 1935 (both dates inclusive), for use on vessels of the types enumerated in article 76½ may not be allowed unless it is established that the article sold by the manufacturer was actually for use as fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on such vessels.

"No credit or refund is allowable with respect to tax paid on articles sold by the manufacturer prior to July 1, 1938, for use as fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, even though such articles are used for such purposes on or after July 1, 1938. The provisions of section 705 of the Revenue Act of 1938 apply only to sales made by manufacturers direct to the owners or operators of aircraft, and no credit or refund is allowable, either under section 705 of the Revenue Act of 1938, or under section 621 (a) (3) (A) (ii) of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by section 401 of the Revenue Act of 1935, with respect to tax paid on articles sold by the manufacturer for resale for use on aircraft, regardless of the date the sale or resale occurred, and even though it is known at the time of the manufacturer's sale that the article will be so resold.

"In the case of a sale of a taxable article by a manufacturer to a dealer, where title passes through one or more persons in a chain of sales from the manufacturer to a consumer, and such article is, on and after October 1, 1935, used, or resold for a purpose or use specified in section 621 (a) (3) (A)—the manufacturer who paid the tax to the United States may be allowed a refund, or may take credit against the tax shown to be due upon any subsequent monthly return, in the amount of tax paid by him with respect to the sale of such article, provided he can establish by satisfactory evidence (1) that such article has been used, or resold, for one of the uses specified in such section, (2) the name and address of the ultimate vendor, (3) the name and address of the consumer, and the use made or to be made of such article, (4) the date the tax on his sale of such article was paid to the United States, and (5) that he has repaid or agreed to repay the amount of such tax to the ultimate vendor, or has obtained the consent of the ultimate vendor to the allowance of the credit or refund.

"The evidence required in (1), (2), and (3) of the preceding paragraph may be established by the manufacturer securing from the ultimate vendor (a) the original exemption certificate obtained by such ultimate vendor from the consumer, or (b) a sworn statement by the ultimate vendor that he has obtained from the consumer and has in his possession such an exemption certificate. The consent of the ultimate vendor required by (5) of the preceding paragraph may be indorsed on the certificate or made a part of the sworn statement.

"Where a sworn statement is furnished by the ultimate vendor in lieu of the original exemption certificate, the ultimate vendor must incorporate therein a statement to the effect that the certificate and supporting data (1) are retained by him, (2) will be preserved for a period of four years, and (3) will, upon request, be forwarded to the manufacturer at any time within the period for use in establishing to the satisfaction of internal-revenue officers that a refund or credit is justly due.

"The exemption certificates required by this article shall be in a form substantially the same as those required in the case of sales by the manufacturers direct to users.

"Where tax-paid articles are used by a consumer on and after October 1, 1935, for one or more of the purposes specified above, the ultimate vendor may secure from such consumer, in lieu of the exemption certificate, a sworn statement containing full and complete information as to the date of purchase of the article, from whom purchased, the quantity and nature of the articles, the purpose for which used, the amount of tax involved, and that the consumer has not theretofore executed any other affidavit of use concerning such article. The sworn statement referred to may be furnished to the manufacturer by the ultimate vendor as evidence to support the manufacturer's claim for credit or refund, or the information appearing therein may be incorporated in the affidavit which the ultimate vendor files with the manufacturer who paid the tax to the Government on the sale of the articles.

"The affidavit of the ultimate vendor shall be in substantially the following form:

(Title) (Name of company)

That the certificates and supporting data (1) are retained by him, (2) will be preserved for a period of four years, and (3) will, upon request, be forwarded to the manufacturer any time within the period for use in establishing to the satisfaction of internal-revenue officers that a refund or credit is justly due.

(2) Immediately after the quotation of section 630 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as added by the Act of June 16, 1933 (48 Stat. 254), which precedes article 76½, as added by Treasury Decision 4387 and amended by Treasury Decision 4605, the following subtitle and quotation of section 705 of the Revenue Act of 1938 are inserted:

SECTION 705 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

(a) Section 630 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended, is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following: "The term 'vessels' as used in this section includes civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, and the term 'vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation' includes aircraft owned by the United States or by any foreign nation and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof. The privileges granted under this section in respect of civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, in respect of aircraft registered in a foreign country, shall be allowed only if the Secretary of the Treasury has been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect of aircraft registered in the United States. If the Secretary of the Treasury is advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that a foreign country has discontinued or will discontinue the allowance of such privileges, the privileges granted under this section shall not apply thereafter in respect of civil aircraft registered in that foreign country and employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions."

(b) The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be effective July 1, 1938.

(3) The seventh paragraph of article 76½, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

"The term 'vessel' includes every description of watercraft or other contrivance used, or capable of being used, as a means of transportation on water. Prior to July 1, 1938, it does not include any type of aircraft. On and after July 1, 1938, such term also includes (a) civil aircraft registered in the United States and employed in foreign trade or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions, and (b) civil aircraft registered in a foreign country and employed in foreign trade or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions."

(4) Immediately after the seventh paragraph of article 76½, as amended, the following new paragraph is inserted:

"The term 'vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation' includes every description of watercraft or other contrivance used, or capable of being used, as a means of transportation on water and constituting a part of the armed forces of the United States or of such foreign nation. For the period prior to July 1, 1938, it does not include any type of aircraft. On and after July 1, 1938, such term also includes aircraft owned by the United States or by any foreign nation constituting a part of the armed forces thereof."

(5) Immediately after the ninth paragraph of article 76½, as amended, the following new paragraph is inserted:

"The exemption with respect to civil aircraft is more limited than the exemption with respect to other vessels in that it extends only to civil aircraft employed exclusively in foreign trade, or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions. Moreover, although section 630 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as added by section 5 of the Act of June 16, 1933 (48 Stat. 254), exempts sales of articles for use as fuel supplies, etc., on watercraft engaged in trade between the Atlantic and the Pacific ports of the United States, the amendment provided in section 705 of the Revenue Act of 1938 does not exempt sales of articles for use as fuel supplies, etc., on civil aircraft engaged in trade between such ports. In the case of civil aircraft registered in a foreign country, the exemption is further limited in that the privilege of exemption may be granted only so long as the foreign country allows a substantially reciprocal exemption with respect to civil aircraft registered in the United States. If a foreign country discontinues the allowance of such substantially reciprocal exemption, the exemption allowed by the United States will not apply after the Secretary of the Treasury is notified by the Secretary of Commerce of the discontinuance of the exemption allowed by the foreign country."

(6) The following sentence is added at the end of the eleventh paragraph of article 76½, as amended:

(7) The form of the exemption certificate set forth in the fourteenth paragraph of article 76½, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

(For use by purchasers of articles for use as fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on certain vessels. Section 630 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as added by section 5 of the Act of June 16, 1933 (48 Stat. 254), and as amended by section 705 of the Revenue Act of 1938.)

----------, 193--.
(Date)

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies that he is the----------

----
authorized agent)

and that the article or articles specified in the accompanying order, or as specified below or on the reverse side hereof, will be used only for fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on a vessel belonging to one of the following classes enumerated in section 630 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended.

(Check class to which vessel belongs)

------(1) Vessels engaged in foreign trade.
------(2) Vessels engaged in trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States.
------(3) Vessels engaged in trade between the United States and any of its possessions.
------(4) Vessels employed in the fisheries or whaling business.
------(5) Vessels of war of the United States or a foreign nation.

If the articles are purchased for use on civil aircraft engaged in trade as specified in (1) or (3) above, state the name of the country in which the aircraft is registered.

The undersigned understands that if the article is used for any purpose other than as stated in this certificate, or is resold or otherwise disposed of, he must report such fact to the manufacturer. It is understood that this certificate may not be used in purchasing articles tax free for use as fuel supplies, etc., on pleasure vessels, or on any type of aircraft except (a) civil aircraft employed exclusively in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, and otherwise entitled to exemption, and (b) aircraft owned by the United States or any foreign country and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof. It is also understood that the fraudulent use of this certificate to secure exemption will subject the undersigned and all guilty parties to a penalty equivalent to the amount of tax due on the sale of the article and upon conviction to a fine of not more than $10,000, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with costs of prosecution. The undersigned also understands that he must be prepared to establish by satisfactory evidence the purpose for which the article was used.

been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect of aircraft registered in the United States.

PAR. 29. (b) If the spirits on which drawback is claimed are for use as ship's supplies or as supplies for aircraft, notation to that effect will be made by the claimant in Part 2 of Form 1582. The exporter's affidavit in Form 1582 will also be modified by striking out the words "exported to the port" and substituting therefor the words "laden for use as ship's supplies on the vessel" or "laden for use as supplies on the aircraft," as the case may be.

PAR. 36. The exporter shall, either before or at the time of the execution of his first entry for drawback on Form 1582, file with the District Supervisor a drawback bond on Form 1581, in triplicate, to insure the bona fide exportation of spirits on which drawback is claimed, and the procurement and submission of the required evidence of the landing of such spirits at the designated foreign port, or the use thereof as supplies on vessels or aircraft in accordance with Paragraph 1 (b), or the loss of such spirits after shipment outside the jurisdiction of the United States, without fault or negligence on the part of the exporter. The bond must be furnished with acceptable corporate surety or individual sureties, or secured by the deposit of proper collateral.

PAR. 41. The District Supervisor will keep an account with each drawback bond, in which the principal will be charged with the full amount for which each drawback claim is approved and will be given credit for the amount of drawback represented by the distilled spirits concerning which satisfactory evidence of foreign landing, or of use as supplies on vessels or aircraft as required in Paragraph 52 (b), or of loss outside the jurisdiction of the United States without negligence on the part of the exporter, as hereinafter provided, has been received.

PAR. 43. (b) If the spirits on which drawback is claimed are for use as ship's supplies or supplies for aircraft, a receipt covering the spirits showing marks, numbers, and quantity, signed by the master, or an authorized officer of the vessel or steamship company, in the case of ship's supplies, or by an authorized officer of the aircraft or air line company, in the case of supplies for aircraft, will be filed in lieu of an export bill of lading.

PAR. 46. (b) If the spirits are for use as ship's supplies or supplies for aircraft, the inspector of customs will also so note that fact on Part 6 of Form 1582.

PAR. 50. Where the spirits were not inspected by a customs officer at the port of export, and loaded on the exporting vessel, aircraft, railroad car, motor truck, or other conveyance under his supervision, the claim for drawback may, nevertheless, be allowed provided that the law and regulations were complied with in other respects and the exportation without customs inspection and supervision of lading was not the fault of the exporter or carrier or the agent of either.

PAR. 52. (b) If the spirits were laden on board a vessel or aircraft for use as ship's supplies or supplies for aircraft, there must be submitted to the District Supervisor with whom the claim is filed, an affidavit of the master or other officer of the vessel or aircraft on which the articles were laden, having knowledge of the facts, showing that the spirits have been used on board the vessel or aircraft and that no portion thereof has been landed in the United States or any of its possessions. In the case of vessels of war, such affidavit will not be required.

[Docket No. A–79 O–79]

NOTICE OF HEARING WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER REGULATING HANDLING IN INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE AND SUCH HANDLING AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE OF BEURRE D'ANJOU, BEURRE BOSC, WINTER NELIS, DOYENNE DU COMICE AND BEURRE HARDY VARIETIES OF FRESH PEARS GROWN IN OREGON, WASHINGTON AND CALIFORNIA

Whereas, under Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, notice of hearing is required in connection with a proposed marketing agreement or a proposed order, and the General Regulations, Series A, No. 1, as amended,[1] of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, provide for such notice; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture has reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order will tend to effectuate the declared policy of said act with respect to the handling in interstate and foreign commerce, and such handling as directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate or foreign commerce, of Beurre D'Anjou, Beurre Bosc, Winter Nelis, Doyenne Du Comice and Beurre Hardy varieties of fresh pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington and California;

Now, therefore, pursuant to the said act and said general regulations, notice is hereby given of a hearing to be held on the aforesaid proposed marketing agreement and the aforesaid proposed order regulating such handling of pears in Room A, Civic Auditorium, San Jose, California, on August 26, 1938, at 9:30 a. m.; in the American Legion Hall, Placerville, California, on August 27, 1938, at 9:30 a. m.; in the Auditorium, Jackson County Court House, Medford, Oregon, on August 29, 1938, at 9:30 a. m.; in the Pythian Hall, Hood River, Oregon, on August 31, 1938, at 9:30 a. m.; in the Auditorium, Chamber of Commerce Building, Yakima, Washington, on September 1, 1938, at 9:30 a. m.; and in the Auditorium, Chamber of Commerce Building, Wenatchee, Washington, on September 2, 1938, at 9:30 a. m.

This public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence as to the general economic conditions which may necessitate regulation in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act and as to the specific provisions which a marketing agreement and order should contain.

The proposed marketing agreement and the proposed order each embodies, in similar terms, a plan for the regulation of such handling in interstate and foreign commerce, and such handling as directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce, of Beurre D'Anjou, Beurre Bosc, Winter Nelis, Doyenne Du Comice and Beurre Hardy varieties of fresh pears grown in the States of Oregon, Washington and California. Among other things, the proposed marketing agreement and proposed order provide for: (a) the establishment of a Control Committee, (b) regulation of shipment by grade and size, (c) expenses of administration, and other matters relating to the handling of such pears.

It is hereby declared that an emergency exists in the handling of such pears in the aforesaid area which requires a shorter period of notice than fifteen (15) days; and it is hereby determined that the period of notice given is reasonable under the circumstances.

[B. E. P. Q. 480]

FUMIGATION OF TOMATOES BY METHYL BROMIDE AS A CONDITION OF CERTIFICATION OF TOMATOES MOVING BY REFRIGERATOR CAR FROM THE AREA LISTED IN REGULATION 5 OF QUARANTINE No. 48

ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS

[Approved August 18, 1938; effective August 22, 1938]

Regulation 5, Sec. B, paragraph (2) of the Japanese beetle quarantine (No. 48)[1] authorizes the issuance of certificates for the interstate movement of fruits and vegetables via refrigerator car from the area listed in that regulation to points outside the regulated areas between June 15 and October 15 when they have been handled or treated under the supervision of an inspector in manner and by method to free them from any infestation.

TREATMENT AUTHORIZED

The treatment described herein has been found to be effective against the Japanese beetle and such treatment is authorized as a basis for certification of tomatoes moving to points outside the regulated areas between June 15 and October 15 via refrigerator car when such treatment is carried out under the supervision of an inspector and in a manner satisfactory to him.

TREATMENT METHOD

Fumigation of tomatoes in dry refrigerator cars with methyl bromide at a dosage of 2 pounds per 1,000 cubic feet of space, including the space occupied by the tomatoes and bunkers of the cars, for a period of 2 hours, during which time the car shall remain tightly closed with the plugs in place in the ventilator hatches. The temperature within the car when fumigated shall be not less than 70° F. Provision shall be made for circulating the mixture of air and fumigant in the car for as long a time as is deemed necessary by the inspector. At the end of the fumigation period the hatches shall be opened, the plugs removed, screens placed in the hatch openings, and the car shipped under standard ventilation.

In authorizing the movement of tomatoes fumigated according to the requirements stated above, it is to be understood that no liability shall attach either to the United States Department of Agriculture or to any of its employees in the event of injury.

Caution.—Methyl bromide is a gas at ordinary temperatures. It is colorless and practically odorless in concentration used for the fumigation of tomatoes. It is a poison, and the operator should use an approved gas mask when exposed to the gas at concentrations used in fumigation, and when opening the hatches for ventilating the cars. The car should not be entered until it is well aerated.

TITLE 11—AVIATION

CIVIL AERONAUTICS AUTHORITY

[General Orders 403-1 and 412-1]

POSTPONING THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF SECTIONS 403 AND 412 OF THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS ACT OF 1938 AS TO CERTAIN CLASSES OF AIR CARRIERS AND FOREIGN AIR CARRIERS

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of August 1938.

Section 403 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, requires, among other things, that every air carrier and every foreign air carrier shall file tariffs with the Authority showing all rates, fares and charges for air transportation. Section 412 of said Act provides that every air carrier shall file with the Authority a copy or a memorandum of specified types of contracts affecting air transportation which are in force on the effective date of that section. Section 1110 of said Act authorizes the Authority to postpone the effective date of the provisions of the aforesaid sections if it finds such action to be necessary or desirable in the public interest.

Responsible representatives of the aeronautics industry have stated to the Authority that it is desirable that the effective date of section 403 shall be postponed in order to allow further time for an interchange of views between the representatives of the Authority and the industry with respect to the nature of the regulations to be adopted by the Authority relating to the manner in which tariffs shall be prepared and filed, and to permit the completion by the air carriers of tariff schedules which will comply with such regulations. The air carriers have also stated that they may have a large number of agreements which should be filed on the effective date of section 412 and that it will greatly assist them in the performance of that obligation if the effective date of said action is postponed.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, having duly considered such representations, and being of the opinion that no interest of the public will be adversely affected by the postponement of the provisions of the Act which is to be effected by this order, and finding that its action in such respect is desirable in the public interest, and acting pursuant to the authority vested in it by Section 1110 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 1030) hereby makes and promulgates the following general orders, applicable to the respective classes of air carriers therein described, as follows:

GENERAL ORDER 403-1.—POSTPONEMENT OF EFFECTIVE DATE OF SECTION 403

As to all air carriers and all foreign air carriers, of every class and description, the effective date of all the provisions of section 403 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 is hereby postponed to the extent that such provisions shall not be effective as to such air carriers until 12:01 A. M. on October 3, 1938.

As to all classes of air carriers and all foreign air carriers, except those hereinafter in this paragraph more fully described, the aforesaid section is further postponed to and including the 180th day after June 23, 1938. The classes of carriers as to which such further postponement is not applicable are as follows:

(a) any air carrier, or foreign air carrier, who on or after August 22, 1938, shall maintain one or more regular schedules of operation; and

(b) any air carrier, or foreign air carrier, not directly engaged in air transportation.

GENERAL ORDER 412-1.—POSTPONEMENT OF EFFECTIVE DATE OF SECTION 412

As to all air carriers, and all foreign air carriers, of every class and description, the effective date of all the provisions of section 412 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 is hereby postponed to the extent that such provisions shall not be effective as to such air carriers until 12:01 A. M. on October 3, 1938.

As to all classes of air carriers and foreign air carriers, except those hereinafter in this paragraph more fully described, the aforesaid section is further postponed to and including the 180th day after June 23, 1938. The classes of carriers as to which such further postponement is not applicable are as follows:

(a) any air carrier, or foreign air carrier, who on or after August 22, 1938 shall maintain one or more regular schedules of operation; and

(b) any air carrier, or foreign air carrier, not directly engaged in air transportation.

By the Authority.

Secretary.

[Regulation 401-B-1]

APPLICATIONS FOR CERTIFICATES OF CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of August 1938.

Having duly considered the appropriate provisions for regulations, with respect to the form and contents of applications for certificates of convenience and necessity that may be made to it pursuant to the provisions of section 401 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, and having found that the regulations hereinafter set forth are consistent with the provisions of said Act and necessary and appropriate to carry out the provisions thereof, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, exercising the powers and duties vested in it by sub-section (b) of section 401 and section 205 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 987 and 984), hereby makes and promulgates the following regulation:

REGULATION 401-B-1, APPLICATIONS FOR CERTIFICATES OF CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY

(a) Number of copies.—Three copies of each application for a certificate pursuant to section 401 of the Act shall be filed with the Authority: Provided, however, That if such application asks a certificate authorizing an air carrier to engage in overseas or foreign transportation or air transportation between places in the same territory or possession, six copies shall be filed. Only one of such copies need be actually executed on behalf of the applicant. The names and titles of all signing officers shall be clearly typed or printed beneath their signatures. All unexecuted copies filed with the Authority shall contain typed, printed or facsimile signatures. Each copy must be clear and legible in all respects.

(b) Verification.—The signed copy of each application shall be verified by the applicant. If the applicant is a partnership, such verification shall be made by two or more of the partners. If it is a corporation, business trust or other similar organization, the application shall be verified by three of its officers who shall be respectively the chief executive, the chief financial and the chief operating officer. In the event of the unavailability of any such officer, the acting officer charged with responsibility for his duties, may execute such verification in his stead. Every such verification shall set forth that the persons verifying the same have read and are familiar with the contents of the application and the attached exhibits; that they intend and desire that in granting or denying the rights and privileges applied for, the Authority shall place full and complete reliance on the accuracy of each and every statement therein contained; that they are familiar with the facts therein set forth; that to the best of their information and belief, every statement contained in the application is true and no such statement is misleading; and that, in their opinion, the application does not omit to state any facts known to them which would be deemed by the Authority to be of importance to it in reaching its determinations in connection therewith.

Every such verification shall be subscribed and sworn to before a Notary Public or other officer authorized to administer oaths in the jurisdiction in which such application is executed.

(c) Amendments to application.—If, after receipt of any application, the Authority shall request the applicant to supply it with additional information, such information shall be furnished in the form of an amendment to the original application. Each such amendment shall be consecutively numbered and shall comply with the requirements of this regulation as to form, number of copies, manner of execution, verification, and in all other essential respects.

(d) Formal requirements.—Every application for a certificate shall be made on paper approximately 8½" x 13" in size except that exhibits or other documents attached thereto may be folded to those dimensions. Every such application shall be typewritten, printed or reproduced by some other process which will produce a clear and durable result on firm, tough paper. A margin of at least one inch in width shall be left on the left hand side of all pages and all applications must be bound on that side. All pages of an application shall be consecutively numbered and the application shall clearly describe and identify each exhibit by a separate number or symbol. All exhibits shall be deemed to constitute a part of the application to which they are attached.

(e) Time of filing.—An application shall be deemed to have been filed only when it is actually received by the Civil Aeronautics Authority at its office in Washington, D. C.

(f) Temporary certificates.—An applicant who desires a certificate to engage in temporary air transportation may omit any information otherwise required, if he deems that such information is not necessary in order to enable the Authority to pass upon the merits of such a temporary operation. In this, as in all other cases, the Authority reserves the right to call upon the applicant to furnish it with additional information by suitable amendment.

(g) Applications for non-scheduled operations.—All applications for certificates for non-scheduled operations shall conform to all general provisions of this regulation, but the applicant may omit any of the information required by paragraphs (j), (k), or (l) which it considers to be inappropriate or unnecessary to an application for the particular type of service covered by such application.

(h) Separate applications for "Grandfather" certificates.—Applications for certificates under the "grandfather" clause (section 401 (e) (1)) shall not include applications for any extensions of the routes covered thereby or for any new or additional routes other than those concerning which the applicant claims the right to a certificate pursuant to the provisions of that sub-section. In general it is desirable that a single carrier shall file only one application under the "grandfather" clause and that such application shall cover all the routes claimed by that carrier pursuant to the provisions of that clause. Under special circumstances separate applications may be desirable. Thus in some instances it may clarify the applicant's situation to separate an application for routes including mail service from an application covering solely passenger or property service.

(h) (1) Incorporation by reference.—In general it is desirable that incorporation by reference shall be avoided. However, where two or more applications are filed by a single carrier, lengthy exhibits or other documents attached to one may be "incorporated" in the others "by reference" if that procedure will substantially reduce the cost to the applicant. Any such "incorporation" shall specify with exactness the item or exhibit incorporated and the precise place where the same may be found.

(i) Cover page.—A space of approximately 2½" by 4" shall be left blank on the upper right hand corner of the cover page of each application. This space will be used by the Authority for filing purposes. The cover page of each application shall give the name of the applicant, the sub-section of section 401 under which the application is made, and shall show whether the application is for a temporary or permanent certificate. The cover page shall also indicate briefly the routes covered by such application, the services (mail, passengers and property) to be rendered on the respective routes, and whether such operations are to be scheduled or non-scheduled. At the bottom of the cover page shall be given the name, title, and address of the person to whom communications from the Authority with respect to the application are to be sent.

(j) General provisions concerning contents.—The statements contained in an application shall be restricted to significant and relevant facts. They shall be free from argumentation or from expressions of opinion, except such as may be required by this regulation. Opportunity for argument will be given in the subsequent proceedings.

Each application shall give full and adequate information with respect to each of the items set forth in this paragraph (j) of this regulation, together with the additional information required by paragraph (k) or (l) for the respective types of certificates covered thereby. In addition, the application may contain such other information and data as the applicant shall deem necessary or appropriate in order to acquaint the Authority fully with the particular circumstances of its case. Among other things, every such application shall give the following information:

1. The full name and address of the applicant, the nature of its organization (individual, partnership, corporation, etc.) and the name of the state under the laws of which it is organized.

2. A statement that the applicant is a citizen of the United States, as defined by section 1 (13) of the Act. It is not required that the application shall contain all the evidence which the applicant is prepared to present at the hearing or otherwise in support of such statement, but the application shall at least indicate the nature and result of its investigations in that matter and the character of the evidence it will be prepared to present in support of citizenship.

3. An adequate identification of each route for which a certificate is desired, specifying the type or types of service (mail, passengers and property) to be rendered on each such route, and whether or not such services are to be rendered in scheduled operations. The identification of each route shall name every terminal and intermediate point to be included in the certificate for which application is made.

4. A map (which may be attached as an exhibit) drawn approximately to scale showing all terminal and intermediate points to be served, giving the approximate mileages between all adjacent points, and the principal over-all distances. This map should also indicate all of such points which are now served by air carriers, indicating by arrows the directions flown by such interconnecting carriers and stating their principal terminals, for example "to Dallas" or "to Chicago."

5. State whether the applicant has any reasonable grounds for believing that any other person intends to apply for a certificate covering any part of the routes included in the application. If so, give briefly the applicant's information with respect to such intended applications and the types of services they are expected to include.

(k) Special information to be included in "Grandfather" applications.—An application for a certificate under section 401 (e) (1) (the "grandfather" clause) shall contain all the information required by paragraph (j) of this regulation. In addition thereto every such application shall describe the operations of the applicant and any of its predecessors in interest from May 14, 1938 until August 22, 1938 in such a way as to show full compliance with the requirements of paragraph (e) (1) of section 401. The applicant shall also set forth such further facts as are necessary to enable the Authority to determine that such services were not inadequate and inefficient.

(l) Special information to be included in applications for extensions or new routes.—An application for a certificate with respect to an extension of an existing route or for a new route shall contain all the information required by paragraph (j) of this regulation. In addition thereto, every such application shall give the following information, except that if an application covers only one or more of the routes specified in subsection (e) (2) of section 401 the applicant may omit replies to items 1 and 8 hereof:

1. A map (in addition to the one required by item (4) of paragraph (j)) which shall indicate with reasonable accuracy all air transportation operations serving any of the points covered by such application. If any air carrier is engaged in operations between points not covered by the application but which would normally be considered as being on or near such points, the map shall show the routes served by such carrier. If the applicant has reason to believe that applications have been made or are about to be made for additional routes of the kinds described above, or that other operations of such character are about to be started, the map should indicate the approximate routes. Operations which are not already in existence should be shown by dotted lines or be clearly indicated by other appropriate symbol. In so far as practicable, the map should indicate the types of service rendered by existing and prospective carriers.

2. Describe generally all landing areas (as defined in section 1 (22) of the Act) along the routes covered by the application and give a statement of their adequacy for all types of aircraft which the applicant proposes to use in its operations.

3. Describe generally all existing air navigation facilities along such routes and any such facilities the applicant proposes to install at its own expense.

4. Describe fully any operations which the applicant has already conducted over any part of the routes covered by such application and its plans for making experimental flights or doing other pioneering work along each route.

5. State whether the applicant proposes to engage in day or night visual contact or instrument or over-the-top operations. Briefly describe the kind of terrain and any unusual metereological or other conditions prevalent in that region that might be expected to interfere with the safety or regularity of the proposed operations.

6. Except in a case where the application is for a relatively minor extension of an existing route, describe each aircraft which the applicant proposes to use in the new service, indicating the general nature of the appliances with which each is to be equipped. The statement shall show whether such aircraft is new or second-hand and its present value, if owned, or the price the applicant, expects to pay for it, complete with all instruments and other appliances. This item shall also include a statement of applicant's plans for reserve aircraft, aircraft engines, propellers, appliances and all other materials.

7. State the schedules (including times of departure and arrival) which the applicant proposes to fly at the beginning of operations and the schedules it plans to fly at the end of the first year of operation.

8. Except in a case where the application is for a relatively minor extension of an existing route, give careful estimates as to the population served by each route included in the application. For each of the first 5 years, give estimates of, (A) the amount of traffic the applicant will receive in each class of service to be rendered; (B) its gross revenues in dollars from each such class of traffic; and (C) the net profit from all operations after depreciation and taxes, but before interest. State the principles with respect to reserves for depreciation and obsolescence of equipment that have been used in making the above estimates. All estimates required by this paragraph should be supported by suitable data to verify their reasonableness.

9. Unless the applicant or its predecessors in interest have operated as air carriers for a period of at least 3 years immediately prior to the filing of the application, the application shall contain a statement of its present financial condition, a careful estimate of the additional money which it will be required to expend if the application is granted and shall disclose its plans and expectations for securing any additional funds that may be necessary to carry out its proposed operations. If additional financing will be needed, the applicant shall give detailed information as to its negotiations in that respect, specifying the types of securities it proposes to issue and such other facts as will enable the Authority to appraise the probability that the applicant will be able to raise the necessary funds and at a reasonable cost.

10. State generally the experience of the applicant and of its principal officers and employees in connection with aeronautical enterprises and the degree of financial success which has attended the enterprises with which they have been connected.

11. State fully all facts not elsewhere disclosed in the application which are known to the applicant and to the persons verifying the application which tend to show a probability, (A) that the proposed operations could not or would not be conducted with a high degree of safety to the travelling public, or (B) that the cost to the government for the transporting of the mail, in order to enable the proposed operation to be financially successful, would be excessive, or (C) that the granting of such certificate would deprive other air carriers of substantial parts of their revenues. Any such statement may point out any offsetting advantages, or the increased value of the services that the applicant would render to the public.

By the Authority.

Secretary.

[Regulation 601-A-1]

ADOPTING THE CIVIL AIR REGULATIONS MADE, PRESCRIBED AND ISSUED BY THE SECRETARY OF COMMERCE UNDER DATE OF MAY 31, 1938, WITH CERTAIN ALTERATIONS OR AMENDMENTS

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of August, 1938.

The matter of the Civil Air Regulations, made, prescribed and issued by the Secretary of Commerce, pursuant to the provisions of the Air Commerce Act of 1926 (44 Stat. 568), as amended by the Act of February 28, 1929 (45 Stat. 404), the Act of June 19, 1934 (48 Stat. 1113), the Act of June 19, 1934 (48 Stat. 1116), and sections 11 and 12 of the Act of June 12, 1934, (48 Stat. 933, 937), being under consideration by the Authority, upon its own motion and investigation, pursuant to the authority contained in section 205 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 984), and being fully advised in the premises, the Authority is of the opinion and finds:

(1) The Secretary of Commerce, pursuant to the authority vested in him under the Air Commerce Act of 1926 and its amendments, made, prescribed and issued certain civil air regulations to provide for the registration of aircraft, the rating of aircraft as to airworthiness, and the examination and rating of airmen and air navigation facilities; to provide for the issuance, suspension and revocation of registration, aircraft, airline and airmen certificates and such other certificates as the Secretary of Commerce deemed necessary in administering the functions vested in him under the Air Commerce Act of 1926, and its amendments; to establish air traffic rules for the navigation, protection and identification of aircraft, including rules as to safe altitudes of flight and rules for the prevention of collisions between vehicles and aircraft.

(2) That pursuant to the provisions of section 501 (d) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, application for certificates of registration shall be in such form, be filed in such manner and contain such information as the Authority may require; that pursuant to the provisions of Title VI of said Act, the Authority is empowered, and it is its duty, to promote safety of flight in air commerce by prescribing and revising from time to time such minimum safety standards, rules and regulations as the Authority may find necessary to provide adequately for safety in air commerce and to establish air traffic rules governing the flight of and for the navigation, protection and identification of aircraft, including rules as to safe altitudes of flight and rules for the prevention of collisions between aircraft and between aircraft and land or water vehicles; to issue airman, aircraft, airworthiness, air carrier operating, air navigation facility rating and air agency rating certificates, and to prescribe the rules and regulations for and the form and manner of filing applications therefor.

(3) That the currently effective Civil Air Regulations, as issued by the Secretary of Commerce, as of date of May 31, 1938, prescribe the rules and regulations for and the form and manner of filing applications for registration certificates, set forth minimum standards, rules and regulations for the promotion of safety of flight in air commerce, and establish air traffic rules governing the flight of and for the navigation, protection and identification of aircraft, including rules as to safe altitudes of flight and rules for the prevention of collisions between aircraft and land or water vehicles, and rules and regulations for the application for the issuance and terms and conditions of registration, airman, aircraft, airworthiness, airline competency, air navigation facility rating, and air agency rating, and the rules and regulations for the amendment, suspension and revocation thereof.

(4) That the currently effective Civil Air Regulations are the result of much study, research and analysis by officials of the Bureau of Air Commerce, Department of Commerce, and consulting experts; that the time between the enactment of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 and the effective date of Title VI is such as to make impracticable the immediate analysis of the problems involved or careful preparation of revised regulations covering the matters described in Finding (2).

(5) That it is essential to the public interest and for the promotion of safety of flight in air commerce that there be minimum standards, rules and regulations governing the matters aforesaid.

(6) That, pursuant to the authority contained in section 205 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, the Authority is empowered to make such rules and regulations pursuant to and consistent with the provisions of the Act as it shall deem necessary to carry out such provisions and to exercise and perform its powers and duties under said Act.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, therefore, acting pursuant to the provisions of Section 205 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 984), hereby makes and promulgates the following regulation:

REGULATION 601-A-1. SAFETY RULES

The Civil Air Regulations heretofore issued by the Secretary of Commerce on May 31, 1938, are hereby adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Authority and by it issued as its regulations under and pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, subject, however, to the following substitutions, modifications and amendments:

1. [General Order 610-A-1]

POSTPONING THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF SUBSECTION (A) OF SECTION 610 OF THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS ACT OF 1938, WITH RESPECT TO CERTAIN SPECIFIED CLASSES OF AIRMEN

EXEMPTING CERTAIN FOREIGN AIRCRAFT AND AIRMEN FROM THE PROVISIONS OF SUBSECTION (B) OF SECTION 610 OF SAID ACT

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C. on the 20th day of August, 1938.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Air Commerce Act of 1926, as amended, the Secretary of Commerce has heretofore issued certificates of competency to various classes of airmen described in section 9 (k) of that Act. Section 1 (6) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 enlarges the definition of the word "airman" in such manner that various classes of persons are made subject to the requirements of the new Act, notably all individuals who are directly in charge of the maintenance of aircraft and those in charge of the inspection, maintenance, overhauling or repair of aircraft engines, propellers or appliances (as the latter word is defined in section 1 (11) of said Act), and all individuals who serve in the capacity of aircraft dispatchers or air-traffic control-tower operators. The provisions of clause 2, of section 610 (a), make it unlawful after the effective date of that section for any person to serve in any capacity as an airman, in connection with any civil aircraft used in air commerce, without an airman certificate authorizing him to serve in such capacity. The provisions of clause 3 of said section make is unlawful for any person to employ for service, in connection with any civil aircraft used in air commerce, an airman who does not have an airman certificate authorizing him to serve in the capacity for which he is employed.

Section 1110 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 authorizes the Authority to postpone the effective date of the aforesaid provisions of said Act, if it finds such action necessary or desirable in the public interest. Subsection (b) of said section 610 further authorizes the Authority to exempt foreign aircraft and airmen, serving in connection therewith, from the provisions of sub-section (a) of said section, to the extent and upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Authority as being in the interest of the public.

The examination of all persons who apply for airman certificates is a matter of great importance to safety in air navigation, and it is highly desirable that the provisions of clauses 2 and 3 of section 610 (a) of the Act shall not become effective until the Authority has had adequate opportunity to provide for careful and painstaking examination of all classes of airmen who have not heretofore been required to secure certificates of competency issued by the Secretary of Commerce. It therefore finds it desirable in the public interest that the aforesaid clauses of said section shall be postponed as to all classes of airmen who have not heretofore been required to secure certificates of competency to the extent and in the manner provided in this order.

The Authority is advised that all aircraft, operated by foreign air carriers, and the airmen serving in connection therewith, now engaged in scheduled air transportation within the United States or its possessions, are certificated as required by international convention or agreement, to which the United States is a party. While such circumstances continue in effect, it is undesirable that the provisions of section 610 (a) shall be made applicable to such foreign air carriers insofar as the provisions of said section impose new or larger obligations upon such foreign aircraft or the airmen serving in connection therewith.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in it by sections 1110 and 610 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 1030 and 1012) hereby makes and promulgates this general order as follows:

General Order 610-A-1.—Postponement of effective date of certain provisions of section 610 as to certain airmen and carriers and exempting foreign air carriers from certain provisions of said section.

1. The effective date of the provisions of clause 2 of sub-section (a) of section 610 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the same make it unlawful for any person to serve as an airman, as defined in said Act, who would not have been required on or prior to August 21, 1938, to procure a Certificate of Competency to perform similar functions, and the effective date of clause 3 of said section insofar as its provisions are applicable to the employment of any such airman, are hereby postponed to and including the 180th day after June 23, 1938.

2. Until further order of the Authority, any and all foreign aircraft and airmen serving in connection therewith, shall be exempt from any and all requirements of sub-section (a) of section 610, insofar, but only insofar, as the provisions of said section would impose new or larger obligations and duties upon such foreign aircraft or airmen serving in connection therewith than those to which they were subject on August 21, 1938: Provided, however, That this order shall not exempt any such persons from any provisions of the air traffic rules applicable to aeronautical operations within the United States.

By the Authority.

Secretary.

[General Order 1107-K-1]

POSTPONING REPEAL OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE AIR MAIL ACT OF 1934, AS AMENDED

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of August, 1938.

Section 1107 (k) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 repeals the provisions of section 3 of the Air Mail Act of 1934, as amended. Section 1110 of the Civil Aeronautics Act authorizes the Authority to postpone the effective date of the aforesaid provisions of the said Act if it finds such action necessary or desirable in the public interest.

Section 405 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 provides that each contract between the United States and any person for the carriage of mail, entered into or continued under the provisions of the Air Mail Act of 1934, as amended, shall be continued in effect until canceled in accordance with the provisions of such sub-section, to-wit, the issuance to the holder of such contract of a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity.

Representatives of the Post Office Department and of the air mail contractors, after conference, have agreed that, pending the establishment of a new basis of compensation for the transportation of air mail by the present air mail contractors, after the issuance to them of Certificates of Convenience and Necessity, the past practices of that Department and of the air carriers with regard to "pay trips" and "credit trips" shall continue, and have recommended that the effective date of section 1107 (k) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 be postponed for 150 days after June 23, 1938, insofar as such sub-section repeals the portion of section 3 (f) of the Air Mail Act of 1934, as amended, hereinafter referred to.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, having duly considered the matter and being of the opinion that no interest of the public will be adversely affected by the postponement of the provisions of this Act which is to be effected by this order, and finding that its action in such respects is desirable in the public interest, and acting pursuant to the authority vested in it by the provisions of section 1110 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 1035), hereby makes and promulgates the following general order:

General Order 1107-K-1.—Postponing repeal of certain provisions of the Air Mail Act.

Pursuant to the above-quoted provisions of law, the following regulations are hereby prescribed with respect to closing agreements under section 606 of the Revenue Act of 1928 as amended:

ARTICLE 1. Closing agreements relating to tax liability in respect of internal-revenue taxes.—Closing agreements provided for in section 606 of the Revenue Act of 1928, as amended, may relate to any taxable period ending prior or subsequent to the date of the agreement. With respect to taxable periods ending prior to the date of the agreement, the matter agreed upon may relate to the total tax liability of the taxpayer or it may relate to one or more separate items affecting the tax liability of the taxpayer, as for example, the amount of gross income, deductions for losses, depreciation or depletion, or the year for which an item of income is to be included in gross income or the year for which an item of loss is to be deducted, or the value of property on a specified date. A closing agreement may also be entered into in order to provide a "determination under the income tax laws" as defined in section 820 (a) (1) (A) of the Revenue Act of 1938. With respect to taxable periods ending subsequent to the date of the agreement, the matter agreed upon may relate only to one or more separate items affecting the tax liability of the taxpayer. The following, among others, are examples of the latter type of closing agreement: (1) A taxpayer may sell a portion of his holdings in a particular stock. A closing agreement may be entered into fixing the cost or other legal factor determining the basis for computing gain or loss on such sale, and, at the same time fixing the cost or other legal factor determining the basis (unless or until the statute is changed to require the use of some other factor to determine basis) of the remaining portion of the stock still held by the taxpayer upon which gain or loss will be computed when the taxpayer sells such stock in a later year; (2) if the taxpayer is undecided whether to sell property or hold it, or as to the price at which to sell it, a closing agreement may be entered into determining the market value of the property as of March 1, 1913, for future taxable periods, prior to the consummation of the sale by the taxpayer. A closing agreement with respect to any taxable period ending subsequent to the date of the agreement is subject to any change in or modification of the law enacted subsequent to the date of the agreement and applicable to such taxable period, and each closing agreement shall so recite. Closing agreements may be executed even though under the agreement the taxpayer is not liable for any tax for the period to which the agreement relates. There may be a series of agreements relating to the tax liability for a single period. Any tax or deficiency in tax determined pursuant to a closing agreement shall be assessed and collected, and any overpayment determined pursuant thereto shall be credited or refunded in accordance with the applicable provisions of law.

The procedure in the Bureau of Internal Revenue with respect to applications for entering into closing agreements in accordance with these regulations will be under such rules as may be prescribed from time to time by the Commissioner.

These regulations apply to any closing agreement entered into on and after May 28, 1938, the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1938. Article 1301 of Regulations 74 is hereby superseded.

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS

GENERAL LAND OFFICE

[Circular No. 1449]

FREE USE OF TIMBER UPON PUBLIC LANDS IN ALASKA BY CHURCHES, HOSPITALS AND CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS

1. Free use privilege extended to churches, hospitals and charitable institutions.—The act of June 15, 1938 (Public No. 633, 75th Congress), amends Section 11 of the act of May 14, 1898 (30 Stat. 414), so as to extend the free use timber cutting privilege on the unreserved public lands in Alaska to churches, hospitals, and charitable institutions.

2. Governing regulations.—The cutting of timber on such lands by churches, hospitals and charitable institutions will be governed by the regulations contained in Circular No. 1394, dated June 20, 1936,[1] as herein amended.

3. Regulations amended.—The introductory paragraph and paragraphs 1 and 6 of Circular No. 1394 have been carried into the Code of Federal Regulations as Sections 79.1, 79.2, and 79.7, respectively, which regulations and sections are hereby amended to read as follows:

79.1 Statutory authority. Section 11 of the act of May 14, 1898 (30 Stat. 414; 48 U. S. C. 423), empowers the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of timber found upon the public lands in Alaska by actual settlers, residents, individual miners and prospectors for minerals, for firewood, fencing, buildings, mining, prospecting and for domestic purposes as may actually be needed by such persons for such purposes. This section was amended by the act of June 15, 1938 (Public No. 633), so as to permit the use of such timber by churches, hospitals and charitable institutions for firewood, fencing, buildings, and for domestic purposes.*

79.2 Free use privilege; cutting by agent. The only timber which may be cut under these regulations for free use in Alaska is timber on vacant public lands in the territory not reserved for national forest or other purposes. The timber so cut may not be sold or bartered. The free use privilege does not extend to associations or corporations, except churches, hospitals and charitable institutions. Any applicant entitled to the free use of timber may procure it by agent, if desired, but no part of the timber may be used in payment for services in obtaining it or in manufacturing it into lumber. Timber may not be cut by an applicant hereunder after the land has been included in a valid homestead settlement or entry or other claim, except that any applicant for the free use of timber who has given notice of intention to take it as hereinafter provided, will have the right to cut it while the notice remains in force as against a subsequent applicant who may wish to obtain the same timber by purchase.*

79.7 Amount of timber which may be cut. During each calendar year each applicant entitled to the benefits of the act may take a total of 100,000 feet board measure or 200 cords in saw logs, piling, cordwood or other timber. This amount may be taken in whole in any one of such classes of timber or in part of one kind and in part of another kind or other kinds. Where a cord is the unit of measure, it shall be estimated in relation with saw timber in the ratio of 500 feet board measure to the cord. Permits to take timber in excess of the amount stated may be granted to churches, hospitals and charitable institutions upon a showing of special necessity therefor, and with the approval of the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The restrictions as to quantity do not apply to timber cut for Government purposes under Section 79.3 (Par. 2, Cir. 1394).*

Commissioner.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS AUTHORITY.

[Special Order 401-A-1]

EXEMPTING PENNSYLVANIA-CENTRAL AIRLINES CORPORATION FROM THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 401 (A) OF THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS ACT OF 1938 INSOFAR AS THE SAME ARE APPLICABLE TO THE AIR TRANSPORTATION SERVICE RENDERED BY SAID AIR CARRIER BETWEEN DETROIT, MICHIGAN, AND SAULT SAINTE MARIE, MICHIGAN, VIA INTERMEDIATE CITIES

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of August 1938.

The matter of the exemption of Pennsylvania-Central Airlines Corporation from the provisions of Section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier between Detroit, Michigan, and Sault Sainte Marie, Michigan, via intermediate cities, being under consideration by the Authority upon its own motion and investigation pursuant to the authority contained in sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, (52 Stat. 973, 984 and 1005), and, being fully advised in the premises, the Authority is of the opinion and finds:

(1) That Pennsylvania-Central Airlines Corporation is an air carrier engaged in the rendition of an air transportation service between Detroit, Michigan, and Sault Sainte Marie, Michigan, via intermediate cities, and as such is subject to the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 and the jurisdiction of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

(2) That said air carrier, prior to the enactment of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, was engaged in the rendition of a scheduled air transportation service over the following routes: Between Norfolk, Virginia, and Detroit, Michigan; between Baltimore, Maryland, and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; between Detroit, Michigan, and Milwaukee, Wisconsin; between Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Chicago, Illinois; between Washington, D. C., and Buffalo, New York; and between Buffalo, New York, and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; and was then and yet is possessed of a valid Scheduled Airline Competency Certificate therefor issued by the Secretary of Commerce.

(3) That said Scheduled Airline Competency Certificate of said air carrier was amended on or about the 28th day of July, 1938, to permit the inauguration of a scheduled air transportation service over the route set forth in Finding (1) and said air carrier was ready, able and willing to inaugurate said service prior to said date, excepting, however, that the landing areas necessary for the operation of said service were not in proper condition to permit safe operations.

(4) That said air carrier is the holder of a contract with the Post Office Department for the carriage of mail over the route set forth in Finding (1); that said route was provided for by the Act of Congress, making appropriations for the Treasury Department and Post Office Department, approved March 28, 1938; and that said route is specifically set forth in section 401 (e) (2) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938.

(5) That said air carrier has expended considerable sums of money in advertising the route set forth in Finding (1) and in the development of air traffic and in the training of its personnel for the operation of an air transportation service over said route.

(6) That the present enforcement of the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (1), would be an undue burden on such air carrier by reason of the limited extent of and the unusual circumstances affecting the operations of such air carrier with respect to said air transportation service, and such enforcement would not be in the public interest.

(7) That failure to exempt said air carrier from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, with respect to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (1), would necessitate termination of said air transportation service as of August 22, 1938, and that such termination would disrupt the carrying of mail between the cities served on said route and such other transportation service as is being rendered between said cities by said air carrier, all of which would be contrary to the public interest.

(8) That said air carrier should be exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service of said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (1), for the period from June 23, 1938, to and including 120 days thereafter, and that said air carrier should be permitted to continue its operations over said route and to render such service thereon during said period for such charges and rates as are established pursuant to law.

(9) That, if said air carrier files with the Civil Aeronautics Authority within the period set forth in Finding (8) application for a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity for an air transportation service over the route set forth in Finding (1), said air carrier should be further exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 for all classes of traffic for which authorization is sought in connection with said air transportation service from the date of the filing of such application to the effective date of the order of the Authority with respect to such application.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in it by sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 984 and 1005) hereby makes and promulgates the following special order:

Special order 401-A-1.—Exempting Pennsylvania-Central Airlines Corporation from the provisions of Section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 987) insofar as the same are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier between Detroit, Michigan, and Sault Sainte Marie, Michigan, via intermediate cities.

Pennsylvania-Central Airlines Corporation is hereby exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the same are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier over the route between Detroit, Michigan, and Sault Sainte Marie, Michigan, via intermediate cities, during the period from June 23, 1938, to and including 120 days thereafter, and said air carrier is hereby permitted to continue operations over said route and to render such service thereon during said period for such charges and rates as are established pursuant to law.

Said air carrier is hereby further exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 for all classes of traffic for which authorization is sought in connection with said air transportation service between Detroit, Michigan, and Sault Sainte Marie, Michigan, via intermediate cities, for a further period from the date on which said air carrier files application for a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity for said air transportation service to the effective date of the order of the the Civil Aeronautics Authority with respect to such application, provided, that said application for such Certificate of Convenience and Necessity is filed with the Authority within the period from June 23, 1938, to and including 120 days thereafter.

By the Authority.

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of August 1938.

The matter of the exemption of United Air Lines Transport Corporation from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier between Oakland, California, and Burbank, California, with scheduled intermediate stops at San Francisco, Monterey and Santa Barbara, being under consideration by the Authority, upon its own motion and investigation, pursuant to the authority contained in sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 984 and 1005), and being fully advised in the premises, the Authority is of the opinion and finds:

(1) That United Air Lines Transport Corporation is an air carrier engaged in the rendition of an air transportation service between Oakland, California, and Burbank, California, with scheduled intermediate stops at San Francisco, Monterey and Santa Barbara, and as such is subject to the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 and the jurisdiction of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

(2) That said air carrier, prior to the enactment of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, and prior to and since May 14, 1938, was and has been engaged in the rendition of a scheduled airline transportation service between Newark, New Jersey, and Chicago, Illinois; between Newark, New Jersey, and Cleveland, Ohio; between Chicago, Illinois, and Glenview, Illinois; between Chicago, Illinois, and Cheyenne, Wyoming; between Chicago, Illinois, and Denver, Colorado; between Denver, Colorado, and Cheyenne, Wyoming; between Denver, Colorado, and Salt Lake City, Utah; between Cheyenne, Wyoming, and Salt Lake City, Utah; between Salt Lake City, Utah, and Oakland, California; between Salt Lake City, Utah, and Portland, Oregon; between Portland, Oregon, and Spokane, Washington; between Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, and Seattle, Washington; between Seattle, Washington, and Oakland, California; between Oakland, California, and Burbank, California, and between Burbank, California, and San Diego, California, and was then and yet is possessed of a valid Scheduled Airline Competency Certificate therefor issued by the Secretary of Commerce.

(3) That said Scheduled Airline Competency Certificate of said air carrier was amended on or about the 20th day of July, 1938, to permit the inauguration of a scheduled air transportation service over the route set forth in Finding (1), and said air carrier was ready, able and willing to inaugurate said service prior to said date, except, however, that the landing area necessary for the operation of said service into and away from Monterey, California, was not in a proper condition to permit safe operations.

(4) That said air carrier, for some years last past, has conducted, and is now conducting, regularly scheduled airline transportation services over various routes between Oakland, California, and Burbank, California, and in connection with the rendition of such service was, prior to May 14, 1938, and is now, making regularly scheduled stops at San Francisco and Santa Barbara.

(5) That one of the regular routes flown by said air carrier, prior to the inauguration of said service into and away from Monterey, California, was a direct air route from San Francisco, California, to Burbank, California; that the City of Monterey is approximately 15 miles to the west of said direct route; that the sole change in operations or schedules effected by the amendment of July 20, 1938, to the Scheduled Airline Competency Certificate and appended competency letters held by said air carrier on said date was the addition of the City of Monterey, California, as a scheduled intermediate stop.

(6) That said air carrier has expended considerable sums of money in advertising the route set forth in Finding (1) and in the development of air traffic and in the training of its personnel for the operation of an air transportation service over said route.

(7) That the present enforcement of the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (1) would be an undue burden on such air carrier by reason of the limited extent of and the unusual circumstances affecting the operations of such air carrier with respect to said air transportation service, and such enforcement would not be in the public interest.

(8) That failure to exempt said air carrier from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, with respect to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (1), would necessitate termination of said air transportation service as of August 22, 1938, and that such termination would disrupt the carrying of mail between the cities served on said route and such other transportation service as is being rendered between said cities by said air carrier, all of which would be contrary to the public interest.

(9) That said air carrier should be exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service of said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (1), and particularly the scheduled intermediate stop at Monterey, California, for the period from June 23, 1938, to and including 120 days thereafter, and that said air carrier should be permitted to continue to make a regularly scheduled stop at Monterey, California, and to continue its operations over the route set forth in Finding (1), and to render such service thereon during said period for such charges and rates as are established pursuant to law.

(10) That if said air carrier files with the Civil Aeronautics Authority, within the period set forth in Finding (9), application for a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity for an air transportation service over the route set forth in Finding (1), said air carrier should be further exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 for all classes of traffic for which authorization is sought in connection with said air transportation service, from the date of filing of such application to the effective date of the order of the Authority with respect to such application.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, therefore, pursuant to the Authority vested in it by sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 984 and 1005), hereby makes and promulgates the following special order:

Special order 401–A–2.—Exempting United Air Lines Transport Corporation from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 987), insofar as the same are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier to Monterey, California.

United Air Lines Transport Corporation is hereby exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the same are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier over the route between Oakland, California, and Burbank, California, with scheduled intermediate stops at San Francisco, Monterey and Santa Barbara, during the period from June 23, 1938, to and including 120 days thereafter, and said air carrier is hereby permitted to continue operations over said route and render such service thereon during said period, for such charges and rates as are established pursuant to law.

Said air carrier is hereby further exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 for all classes of traffic for which authorization is sought in connection with said air transportation service between Oakland, California, and Burbank, California, with scheduled intermediate stops at San Francisco, Monterey and Santa Barbara, for a further period from the date on which said air carrier files application for a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity for said air transportation service to the effective date of the order of the Civil Aeronautics Authority with respect to such application, provided that said application for such Certificate of Convenience and Necessity is filed with the Authority within the period from June 23, 1938, to and including 120 days thereafter.

Special Order 401–A–3]

EXEMPTING WESTERN AIR EXPRESS CORPORATION FROM THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 401 (A) OF THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS ACT OF 1938, INSOFAR AS THE SAME ARE APPLICABLE TO THE AIR TRANSPORTATION SERVICE RENDERED BY SAID AIR CARRIER OVER A ROUTE BETWEEN GREAT FALLS, MONTANA, AND GLACIER NATIONAL PARK (BROWNING, MONTANA)

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of August, 1938.

The matter of the exemption of Western Air Express Corporation from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act, insofar as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier between Great Falls, Montana, and Glacier National Park (Browning, Montana), being under consideration by the Authority upon its own motion and investigation pursuant to the authority contained in sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 984 and 1005), and being fully advised in the premises, the Authority is of the opinion and finds:

(1) That Western Air Express Corporation is an air carrier engaged in the rendition of an air transportation service between Great Falls, Montana, and Glacier National Park (Browning, Montana), and as such is subject to the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 and the jurisdiction of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

(2) That said air carrier, prior to the enactment of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, and prior to and since May 14, 1938, was and has been engaged in the rendition of a scheduled air transportation service from San Diego, California, to Salt Lake City, Utah, to Great Falls, Montana, via intermediate points, and was then and yet is possessed of a valid Scheduled Airline Competency Certificate therefor issued by the Secretary of Commerce.

(3) That said Scheduled Airline Competency Certificate of said air carrier was amended on or about the 25th day of June, 1938, to permit the inauguration of a scheduled air transportation service over the route set forth in Finding (1) for the period from June 15 to September 30 of each year; that the application for such amendment was filed on or about the 26th day of May, 1938, with the Senior Airline Inspector of the Bureau of Air Commerce, Department of Commerce, at Burbank, California, pursuant to the Civil Air Regulations; that said application for amendment was approved, but by reason of the press of business pending before the Bureau of Air Commerce the applicant air carrier was not rated as competent to inaugurate said air transportation service until June 25, 1938; and that, therefore, said air carrier took every reasonable step within its power to inaugurate said air transportation service prior to June 23, 1938, the date of enactment of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938.

(4) That said air carrier has expended considerable sums of money in advertising the route set forth in Finding (1) and in the development of air traffic and the training of its personnel for the operation of an air transportation service over said route.

(5) That the present enforcement of the provisions of Section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (1), would be an undue burden on such air carrier by reason of the limited extent of and the unusual circumstances affecting the operations of such air carrier with respect to said air transportation service, and enforcement would not be in the public interest.

(6) That failure to exempt said air carrier from the provisions of Section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, with respect to the air transportation service rendered during the current year by said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (1), would necessitate termination of said air transportation service as of August 22, 1938, contrary to the public interest.

(7) That there are no competing air carriers operating between the terminals of the route set forth in Finding (1); that there are no such air carriers operating along a route parallel to said route set forth in Finding (1); and that no objections were made by any competing or other air carrier to the inauguration of said air transportation service over the route set forth in Finding (1).

(8) That Western Air Express Corporation should be exempted from the provisions of Section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the provisions of said section are applicable to the air transportation service rendered during the current year by said air carrier over the route set forth in Finding (1), for the period from August 21, 1938, to and including September 30, 1938, and that said air carrier should be permitted to continue its operations over said route and to render such service thereon during said period for such charges and rates as are established pursuant to law.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in it by sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 973, 984 and 1005), hereby makes and promulgates the following special order:

Special order 401–A–3.—Exempting Western Air Express Corporation from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act (52 Stat. 973, 987), insofar as the same are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier over a route between Great Falls, Montana, and Glacier National Park (Browning, Montana).

Western Air Express Corporation is hereby exempted from the provisions of section 401 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, insofar as the same are applicable to the air transportation service rendered by said air carrier over the route between Great Falls, Montana, and Glacier National Park (Browning, Montana), during the period from August 21, 1938, to and including September 30, 1938, and said air carrier is hereby permitted to continue operations over said route and to render such service thereon during said period for such charges and rates as are established pursuant to law.

BUREAU OF AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS

ORDER OF DESIGNATION OF TOBACCO MARKETS

SOUTH HILL, VIRGINIA

Whereas, the Act of Congress approved August 23, 1935 (49 Stat., 731; 7 U. S. C., Sup. 1, Chap. 21A) entitled "The Tobacco Inspection Act" contains the following provisions:

SEC. 2. That transactions in tobacco involving the sale thereof at auction as commonly conducted at auction markets are affected with a public interest; that such transactions are carried on by tobacco producers generally and by persons engaged in the business of buying and selling tobacco in commerce; that the classification of tobacco according to type, grade, and other characteristics affects the prices received therefor by producers; that without uniform standards of classification and inspection the evaluation of tobacco is susceptible to speculation, manipulation, and control, and unreasonable fluctuations in prices and quality determinations occur which are detrimental to producers and persons handling tobacco in commerce; that such fluctuations constitute a burden upon commerce and make the use of uniform standards of classification and inspection imperative for the protection of producers and others engaged in commerce and the public interest therein.

SEC. 5. That the Secretary is authorized to designate those auction markets where tobacco bought and sold thereon at auction, or the products customarily manufactured therefrom, moves in commerce. Before any market is designated by the Secretary under this section he shall determine by referendum the desire of tobacco growers who sold tobacco at auction on such market during the preceding marketing season. The Secretary may at his discretion hold one referendum for two or more markets or for all markets in a type area. No market or group of markets shall be designated by the Secretary unless two-thirds of the growers voting favor it. The Secretary shall have access to the tobacco records of the Collector of Internal Revenue and of the several collectors of internal revenue for the purpose of obtaining the names and addresses of growers who sold tobacco on any auction market, and the Secretary shall determine from said records the eligibility of such grower to vote in such referendum, and no grower shall be eligible to vote in more than one referendum. After public notice of not less than thirty days that any auction market has been so designated by the Secretary, no tobacco shall be offered for sale at auction on such market until it shall have been inspected and certified by an authorized representative of the Secretary according to the standards established under this Act, except that the Secretary may temporarily suspend the requirement of inspection and certification at any designated market whenever he finds it impracticable to provide for such inspection and certification because competent inspectors are not obtainable or because the quantity of tobacco available for inspection is insufficient to justify the cost of such service: Provided, That, in the event competent inspectors are not available, or for other reasons, the Secretary is unable to provide for such inspection and certification at all auction markets within a type area, he shall first designate those auction markets where the greatest number of growers may be served with the facilities available to him. No fee or charge shall be imposed or collected for inspection or certification under this section at any designated auction market. Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed to prevent transactions in tobacco at markets not designated by the Secretary or at designated markets where the Secretary has suspended the requirement of inspection or to authorize the Secretary to close any market.

Whereas, pursuant to said Act a referendum has been held among the growers of flue-cured tobacco who sold tobacco at auction on the South Hill, Virginia market during the last marketing season, in which referendum said growers were given an opportunity to vote for or against the designation as provided in Section 5 of said Act; and

Whereas, more than two-thirds of the growers voting in said referendum and who sold tobacco at auction on said market during the last marketing season voted in favor of said designation,

SEC. 29.301 (i) Designation of Tobacco Market

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority conferred upon me by Section 5 of The Tobacco Inspection Act and the affirmative results of the referendum conducted thereunder, the tobacco market at South Hill, Virginia is designated as a market where tobacco bought and sold thereon at auction, or the products manufactured therefrom, moves in commerce.

It is hereby ordered that, effective 30 days from this date no tobacco shall be offered for sale at auction on the abovenamed market until it shall have been inspected and certified by an authorized representative of the United States Department of Agriculture according to standards established under the Act; provided, however, that the requirement of inspection and certification may be suspended at such times as it is found impracticable to provide inspection or when the quantity of tobacco available for inspection is insufficient to justify the cost of such service. No fee or charge shall be imposed or collected for the inspection and certification of tobacco sold or offered for sale at auction on the market designated herein. (49 Stat. 731; 7 U. S. C. Sup. I, Chap. 21A.)

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the City of Washington, this 23rd day of August, 1938.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 20—FISH AND GAME

BUREAU OF BIOLOGICAL SURVEY

ORDER PERMITTING AND REGULATING FISHING WITHIN BIG LAKE RESERVATION, ARKANSAS

Pursuant to regulations 2 and 3 of the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture, effective November 24, 1937, for the administration of National wildlife refuges,[1] it is hereby ordered until further notice that fish may be taken for commercial purposes under permit issued by the resident officer in charge, and with pole and line for sport or for family use without such permit, when and as permitted by the laws and regulations of Arkansas, except during the Federal open season on migratory waterfowl, from waters within Big Lake Reservation, Arkansas, subject to the following conditions, restrictions, and requirements:

1. Licenses.—Prior to the issuance of the above required Federal permit to fish on the Refuge, the applicant for the privilege shall be in possession of and exhibit to the resident officer in charge a valid State commercial fishing license, if such license is required, and any person to whom has been issued a Federal permit shall carry such permit on his person when exercising the privileges thereunder and, upon demand, shall exhibit his permit and license to any Federal or State officer authorized to enforce Federal and State fishing laws and regulations: Provided, that all fishing within the Refuge shall be done in such manner as will not interfere with the objects for which the Refuge was established.

2. Nets and tackle.—All nets and other set tackle, except limb lines, used for fishing on Big Lake Reservation in the State of Arkansas, shall be tagged with metal tags in accordance with the fishing laws of Arkansas. All persons are warned that untagged nets and other set tackle except limb lines will be subject to seizure.

3. Routes of travel.—Persons entering the Refuge for the purpose of reaching waters thereof for fishing shall follow such routes of travel as shall from time to time be designated by the officer in charge.

4. Suspension of fishing privileges.—Whenever it shall appear, during the open season herein provided, that because of intensive fishing or other causes the supply of fish in any area or areas of the waters open to fishing is becoming excessively reduced, the Chief, Bureau of Biological Survey, may, in his discretion, within three days after giving notice to that effect, terminate fishing in such area or areas as may in his judgment be so affected; and all outstanding permits or authority hereunder for fishing in such area or areas shall thereupon become null and void.

5. Reports.—Each permittee authorized to take fish on the Refuge for commercial purposes shall within 10 days after the expiration or termination of his permit submit to the officer in charge, or his representative, a report correctly stating the kinds of fish and the quantity of each kind taken.

6. Revocation of permits.—Any permit issued under this order may be revoked by the issuing officer for noncompliance with the terms thereof, for nonuse, or for violation of any law or regulation applicable to the Refuge or of any State of Federal law or regulation protecting fish or other wildlife, or the nests or eggs of birds; and it is subject at all times to discretionary revocation by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Order of the Secretary of Agriculture issued August 19, 1936, (F. R. 1806) Permitting and Regulating Fishing Within Big Lake Reservation, Arkansas, is hereby revoked.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the United States Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the City of Washington, this 23rd day of August, 1938.

Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 24—HOUSING CREDIT

HOME OWNERS' LOAN CORPORATION

[Administrative Order]

PART 2.—LOAN SERVICE

REVISION OF LOAN SERVICE CHAPTER

It is hereby ordered, That Sections 2.03-21.1, 2.03-21.4, 2.03-29, 2.03-29.2, 2.03-33, 203-36, 2.03-37, 2.03-39, 2.03-41, 2.03-43, 2.03-44, 2.03-48, 2.05-14, 2.05-19, 2.05-22.1, 2.05-23, 2.06-7, 2.11-1, 2.11-2, 2.12-1, 2.13-1, 2.13-2, 2.13-4, 2.13-5, 2.14-1, 2.14-2.1, 2.15-1, 2.15-2 of Part 2 of Chapter IV of Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations and all the Articles of Chapter II of the Manual are hereby revoked and the following procedure is hereby promulgated to be effective as of September 1, 1938, and to be numbered as follows:

SEC. 2.03-19 (Manual Article 203-19). If it appears to the Regional Manager, after consideration of the recommendation of the Analysis and Review Section and the evidence in the case, that foreclosure or the acceptance of a deed in lieu of foreclosure is necessary, he is authorized to so direct the Regional Counsel, by appropriate notice to foreclose, provided it can be legally accomplished. The Regional Manager shall also simultaneously send "Notice of Foreclosure" to all other interested departments, divisions, and sections.

Except in rare and unusual cases where in the opinion of the Regional Manager the circumstances of the case and the best interests of the Corporation warrant it, or where a home owner has offered a voluntary proposal for the adjustment of his account, no effort shall be made by the Loan Service Division to service any account or to instigate the sale of the real estate for the home owner after "Notice of Foreclosure" has been issued.

SEC. 2.03–20.1 (Manual Article 203–20.1). Before temporary or other suspension is directed, the home owner should ordinarily be required to remit a sum at least equivalent to the costs and expenses which have been incurred, but cases will arise in which such remittance cannot be made immediately by the home owner, and in such cases the Regional Manager or the State Manager should determine whether the required sum will be paid in full within a short time and whether temporary or other suspension without the immediate payment of such sum will be in the best interests of the Corporation.

Where foreclosure has not progressed to final judgment or sale under power, the Regional Manager, with the advice of the Regional Counsel, should generally require a payment at least equivalent to all costs and expenses and a demonstration of the home owner's ability to maintain a satisfactory schedule of payments before directing withdrawal, but may in his discretion order "withdrawal" in any case where, in his opinion, such action is in the best interest of the Corporation. It is not desirable to keep the case in suspense longer than is necessary for this purpose.

Where foreclosure proceedings have progressed to final judgment or sale under power, but not to acquisition of complete title by the Corporation, the Regional Manager, with the advice of the Regional Counsel, should generally require a payment equivalent to the total of all costs and expenses, all delinquency existing when foreclosure was commenced, the amount which would have matured up to the date of withdrawal had foreclosure not been commenced, and all costs of reinstatement before directing withdrawal. However, cases will arise in which by reason of the legal factors involved or the circumstances of the case it appears in the best interests of the Corporation to withdraw such proceedings without requiring the present payment of a sum equivalent to the total of such items. In these cases the Regional Manager may, if he considers it to be in the best interest of the Corporation, direct withdrawal without the present payment of such sum.

The Regional Manager should forward to the Regional Counsel with the "Notice of Withdrawal" a statement of the outstanding indebtedness and the terms upon which it is to be repaid. The Regional Manager should generally prescribe the plan of payment and maturity of indebtedness which would have existed had foreclosure not been commenced. Where the Regional Manager makes an exception to this general rule, he shall not fix more liberal terms of payment than he is now or may hereafter be authorized to grant in the case of an extension if no foreclosure were involved.

Regional Managers are directed to use extreme care in authorizing a withdrawal or suspension of foreclosure, giving particular attention to the ability of the home owner to continue in a current status with the terms of his obligation. The danger of third parties taking advantage of both the home owner and of the Corporation should be fully considered in each case.

No proposal of the home owner should be accepted unless in the opinion of the Regional Counsel the Corporation will maintain or secure a lien or rights equal to that held before withdrawal. Other persons liable for the payment of the indebtedness should not be released except upon the approval of the Regional Manager. The right of the Corporation to resume or recommence foreclosure upon failure of the home owner to carry out his proposal shall be preserved during all suspensions.

SEC. 2.03–27 (Manual Article 203–27). Application for partial release or for execution of any instrument affecting the lien, the value of the security, or any right arising under any covenant in the security instrument (except discharges based upon payment in full) shall be made by the home owner on the approved form in duplicate. The information required on this form shall be fully and clearly set forth and, where necessary, the consents of all co-makers, endorsers, or other persons personally liable for the payment of the indebtedness to the Corporation shall be obtained.

Unless it is shown that the execution of any such instrument will be decidedly to the best interests of the Corporation, the State or Regional Manager shall decline the request. Any land or interest therein received by the home owner in, or any enhancement in value resulting therefrom, a transaction in connection with which any such instrument is to be executed shall inure to the benefit of the Corporation, and any funds received by the home owner or by the Corporation as mortgagee or assignee shall be credited or disbursed in accordance with Section 215 and the Articles thereunder and Chapter VIII.

SEC. 2.03–28 (Manual Article 203–28). When application is for the partial release, sufficient information regarding identification and description of the entire property covered by the Corporation's lien instrument and the portion to be released, including the location of any and all improvements thereon, in the form of a plat or survey or such other form as may be acceptable to the Regional Manager and Regional Counsel, shall be furnished by the applicant and made part of the original application.

Where the Corporation is requested to release a portion of the property covered by its lien description, because of error in including more property than was owned by the home owner, the State Manager shall ascertain the party responsible for such error and require such party or parties, if still in the employ of the Corporation, to pay the expenses incident to the release. If the party responsible for the error is not in the employ of the Corporation, such steps as the State Manager deems advisable shall be taken to obtain from such party reimbursement for the expense incident to the correction. However, the collection of the expenses as provided herein shall not be considered as a condition precedent to the granting of the release. If, in the opinion of the State Counsel and Regional Counsel, the Corporation has acquired any substantial interest in the property, by virtue of advances made, or otherwise, for which it has a right of recovery, either in law or equity, the release shall not be executed unless in the opinion of the State Counsel, State Manager, Regional Counsel, and Regional Manager, the release would be for the best interests of the Corporation.

If the value of the portion to be released is nominal, an inspection and report by a Service Representative preferably one who has qualified as a Field Appraiser may be substituted for an appraisal.

Deposits for expenses of the transaction shall not be accepted with the application. Any costs or expenses incurred in connection with the transaction shall be deducted from the proceeds or charged to the home owner's account in accordance with the provisions of the application form.

SEC. 2.03–36 (Manual Article 203–36). No substitution of security involving the removal of the improvements to, or the rebuilding of such improvements on, substituted security shall be entered into without the consent of junior lienors. The requirements of similar consents from co-makers, endorsers, or other sureties shall be within the discretion of the Regional Manager and Regional Counsel.

SEC. 2.03–37 (Manual Article 203–37). Cases involving the substitution of security shall be processed through the channels provided for the handling of partial releases and prepared and submitted to the Regional Manager and Regional Counsel, with such adaptation as may be necessary, on such approved form as may be provided for this purpose. There shall be attached to said form in addition to the appraisals therein provided for, an appraisal of the entire property to be held as security by the Corporation, after the substitution is consummated, and an agreement by the home owner that, in case of rejection of his request, all expenses incurred by the Corporation (normal overhead expenses excepted) shall be charged to his account and secured by or included in the principal of his loan or sales instrument to the Corporation.

SEC. 2.03–39 (Manual Article 203–39). In cases involving a full release of the original security or in which the Regional Manager and Regional Counsel deem it advisable to take a new mortgage covering both the new security and the portion of the old security to be retained, releasing the old mortgage in full, a new note or bond and a new mortgage shall be taken bearing the date of the transaction. The new note or bond shall represent the amount of the unpaid balance of principal and interest of the original loan and also the unpaid balance of any advances, including advances made in connection with the substitution. It shall be in the discretion of the Regional Manager and Regional Counsel whether amounts that are delinquent at the time may be included in the principal of the note or bond and amortized with that portion of the indebtedness not due, or whether the note or bond shall be in terms payable as the original note or bond, leaving any amounts previously delinquent as payable on demand. Said note or bond or the unmatured portion thereof shall be amortized over a period not to exceed 15 years from the date of the original loan. However, in the event the foregoing procedure can not be followed under the laws and practices in any particular state, such procedure may be followed as will be in conformity with such laws and practices.

SEC. 2.03–41 (Manual Article 203–41). A bond approved by the Regional Manager and Regional Counsel unconditionally guaranteeing the performance and completion of the contract to remove and relocate improvements free and clear of all mechanics' and materialmen's liens shall be required, unless other forms of protection are authorized by the General Counsel or an Associate General Counsel. Workmen's Compensation and Public Liability Insurance, a bond against levies upon or attachment of the improvements by creditors, junior lienholders or other claimants, or such other protection as will in the opinion of the Regional Manager and Regional Counsel adequately provide against risks involved in the removal and relocation of the improvements, shall be required in each case.

SEC. 2.03–43 (Manual Article 203–43). All disbursements made for expenses incurred by the Corporation in cases subsequently rejected shall be charged to the account of the home owner.

SEC. 2.03–44 (Manual Article 203–44). The Regional Manager, with the advice of the Regional Counsel, may direct the division of security the allocation of indebtedness to each parcel, and the execution of instruments evidencing and securing the separate debts for the purpose of permitting a sale of a parcel, or parcels, of the property and the assumption of the indebtedness allocated thereto by a financially responsible purchaser, thereby placing the home owner in a better position to retain his home and to keep his account current subject to the procedure herein set forth.

SEC. 2.03–48 (Manual Article 203–48). The Regional Manager with the advice of the Regional Counsel shall decide whether the present mortgage shall be released in full and two or more new mortgages taken in lieu thereof or whether the present mortgage shall be released in part and a new mortgage taken for the part released. Whether released in whole or in part, any new mortgage must be executed by the present home owner and the new mortgage on the property purchased must be assumed by the purchaser in the conveyance or otherwise. When the foregoing procedure pertaining to instruments to be taken cannot be followed under the laws and practices in any particular state, such procedure may be followed as shall be in conformity with such laws and practices. The total indebtedness secured by said mortgages shall equal the balance due the Corporation less any credits to the loan arising from the transaction. The Regional Manager, with the advice of the Regional Counsel, shall fix the amortization rate on any new mortgages and the terms of any supplemental agreement with the home owner providing for revised amortization of the indebtedness not assumed by the purchaser, in conformity with Section 213, Subsection 5 (d). No instrument shall be executed the effect of which will be to release or modify the rights of the Corporation against sureties or other parties secondarily liable without the express approval of the Regional Manager with the advice of Regional Counsel. When the transaction is consummated, the indebtedness to the Corporation shall be secured by liens valid in the opinion of the State Counsel, who shall make a certificate to that effect.

When the division proposed involves properties upon which the Corporation holds a sales instrument, the transaction shall be completed upon such instruments as the Regional Counsel shall approve.

SEC. 2.05–10 (Manual Article 205–10). It should be recognized that the home owner, without other source of income, may realize sufficient income from the rental of his property to carry his obligation, or may salvage his equity by the sale thereof. Such possible solutions to his problem should be carefully considered by him as a means of protecting his own interests, but neither shall be considered as a requirement of the Corporation. If he indicates a desire to follow such a course, he should appoint his own agent and should enter into such a contract with him as best suits his own purposes and provide the Corporation with copies thereof for its information.

When a home owner indicates his intention to offer his property for sale Form 528 shall be executed and Form 153 may be furnished the home owner if he does not have available a form agreeable to himself and his agent. When a home owner indicates his desire to appoint an agent to collect rents he may use any agreement suitable to himself and his agent or may execute Form 152. In either event the case shall be processed in conformity with Article 205–13.

SEC. 2.05–15 (Manual Article 205–15). When home owners are contacted at their home the condition of the property and necessity of repairs should be indicated on Form 525. When inspection of property reveals the necessity of repairs for the preservation of the Corporation's security or where property is found to be unoccupied, vacant or abandoned, Property Inspection Report Form 529 should be executed as indicated in Forms Manual. Necessary Repairs are confined to repairs necessary to protect the interests of the Corporation and shall provide only for those defects which if neglected would impair the Corporation's security.

The home owner's attention should be directed to the necessary repairs, and his intentions regarding them reported.

SEC. 2.05–17 (Manual Article 205–17). The Service Representative shall be responsible for the execution of Transfer of Property by Borrower Form 530 and Report on Deceased Borrower Form 531 in accordance with instructions in the Forms Manual in all such cases coming to their attention or referred to them by the Regional Office.

All requests for the written consent of the Corporation to the transfer of property on which it holds a security instrument or instalment contract or to the assignment of an instalment contract shall be referred to the Regional Control Supervisor.

Where such written consent is not requested, but information is received from any source relative to a proposed transfer, reasonable effort shall be made to have the grantee assume the obligation in the instrument of conveyance or by separate instrument concurrently executed as the Regional or State Counsel may approve.

All cases of transfers of property on which the Corporation holds a loan or sales instrument and which comes to the attention of the field, either before or after the transfer has been consummated, shall be reported to the Regional Office on Form 530.

SEC. 2.05–18 (Manual Article 205–18). When an officer or employee of the Corporation desires to enter into a contract with a home owner to purchase any property on which the Corporation holds a loan or sales instrument, such officer or employee shall submit to the nearest State Office a statement of the proposed sale contract, with a statement by the home owner or other satisfactory evidence that said home owner has been informed of the purchaser's relationship to the Corporation and that the proposed sale agreement is voluntarily entered into. All statements and other information relating to the transaction shall be forwarded through the Partial Release and Property Transfer Section of the Regional Office to the Regional Manager. If the Regional Manager recommends approval of the transaction, he shall forward all information with respect to the proposed sale, together with the loan docket and his recommendations to the Property Committee in Washington. The Property Committee shall report the matter with its recommendations to the General Manager for final action.

SEC. 2.06–7 (Manual Article 206–7). The Tax Section will provide the Loan Service Division with lists of home owners accounts in cases where they are preparing to pay taxes, assessments, or other levies or charges or ground rents, to protect the Corporation's security, or to avoid excessive penalties or otherwise as the General Counsel may direct. These lists will be prepared at the time the Tax Section requests bills from the tax collectors and will show loan number, surname of account, and the taxes which they are planning to pay. Ordinarily, such lists will be received by the Loan Service Division thirty days or more before payment is ordered. Upon receipt of such lists the Analysis and Review Section will review the account and recommend, on Form 532, to the Regional Manager the plan of repayment in connection with such advances. If time permits and there is not sufficient information available, the case may be referred to the field for contact with the home owner. The plan of repayment will follow the policy stated in Article 609–6. In these cases Form 532 must carry an appropriate notation for the guidance of the Regional Accountant that the plan of repayment is in connection with an advance to be made by the Tax Section as stated herein.

SEC. 2.11–1 (Manual Article 211–1). Additional security may be a factor in the solution of some delinquent cases. It is not desirable to take physical possession of personal property nor an absolute conveyance of real property because of the difficulties and expense of custody and servicing of such property. Therefore, additional security must be in the form of a mortgage or other lien on personal or real property which property will be converted into cash by the home owner or his agent at some reasonably certain future date.

SEC. 2.11–2 (Manual Article 211–2). A memorandum shall be prepared by the field describing the additional security available under these provisions, the arrangements for its liquidation, the date when cash will be available, and any other pertinent information, and forwarded with the regular service reports through the usual channels to the Analysis and Review Section. If the Analysis and Review Section does not consider the proposal acceptable, it shall so notify the field through the Control Supervisor. If considered acceptable, the Analysis and Review Section shall submit the file with its recommendation to the Regional Manager for approval. If approved, the Regional Manager shall forward the file to the Regional Counsel for consideration of the legal phase of the case, the preparation of an agreement and such lien instruments as may be required to consummate the transaction, and specific instructions as to the manner of execution, recordation and other similar details. When such papers and instructions have been prepared and such papers executed where necessary on behalf of the Corporation, they shall be forwarded to the field for execution by the home owner and recordation if necessary. Except as provided in Section 212, if recordation is required, the home owner shall be required to deposit the cost of recordation before being permitted to execute any agreement or lien instrument. If, in the opinion of the Regional Counsel, the additional security offered should not be accepted, the file, together with his legal opinion in writing, will be returned to the Regional Manager.

SEC. 2.12–1 (Manual Article 212–1). Any Regional Manager with the advice or approval of the Regional Counsel where required, may exercise the authority granted to the General Manager in Section 212. Pending further order, such authority shall not be exercised by any State or District Manager except as may otherwise be provided in this Manual, but State and District Managers shall make such recommendation to the Regional Manager as they may see fit in connection with their reports and other recommendations in any given case.

SEC. 2.13–1 (Manual Article 213–1). Extensions of time for the making of payments may be effected as authorized in the above and foregoing section, through the use of a new obligation and security instrument, an extension agreement, or such other agreement as will adequately serve and protect the interests of the Corporation, provided that forms employed shall have been approved as required, and provided further that the execution thereof and other necessary steps touching the Corporation's legal position shall be carried out in strict compliance with the instructions of the Legal Department.

It should be noted that Form 193 is adapted to use in all classes of extensions irrespective of the payment plan contemplated. In cases involving payment other than equal monthly payments over the remaining period of the original obligation, care should be used in setting out the terms of the agreement.

In all cases falling within the purview of subsections 1 to 5 inclusive, payments other than the initial payment must be in equal amounts and must fall due at regular intervals. In cases falling within the purview of subsection 6 the above rule does not apply. Consideration should always be given to the question of costs involved in completing the transaction.

SEC. 2.13–2 (Manual Article 213–2). Any such extension may, and ordinarily should, embrace and cover all delinquencies, whether principal or interest, and all advances previously made, or made in connection therewith, for the benefit of the home owner and charged to his account, whether due or not; all such sums to bear interest at the rate applicable to the original obligation. Advances to cover taxes, assessments, or other levies or charges, and ground rents should not be made in connection with any such extension without thorough consideration of the facts of the case. When such advances are authorized by the Regional Manager payment shall be approved by the Regional Counsel. Advances may be made for repairs, reconditioning, or insurance premiums should be handled as separate transactions and not as a part of the extension. Such transactions shall be completed before the extension is granted or handled subsequently as a separate transaction. Legal or appraisal, and other expenses incidental to the closing of the extensions, shall either be collected at the time of closing or advanced and charged to the loan or vendee account after the extension transaction is completed. All legal fees and expenses shall be incurred, approved and paid as provided in Chapter VI.

SEC. 2.13–4 (Manual Article 213–4). All applications for extension of time for the making of payments shall be made by the home owner on the approved form, which contains the agreement of the applicant that any expenses incurred in connection therewith may be charged to the applicant's account.

SEC. 2.13–5 (Manual Article 213–5). The signatures of co-makers, endorsers and other persons liable with the maker of the obligation, though ordinarily required, may be dispensed with if the Regional Counsel has advised that they will not be released from liability or the Regional Manager has determined that their release from liability will not seriously impair the Corporation's position.

SEC. 2.14–1 (Manual Article 214–1). Whenever a home owner indicates a desire to execute a special deposits agreement to accumulate sufficient funds to provide for the payment of taxes now due or to become due, insurance premiums, or other items, he shall be referred to the Loan Service Division which shall investigate the circumstances and if it appears to be in the best interest of the Corporation have Form 168 Revised, or other approved form, executed in quintuplicate by the home owner.

SEC. 2.15–1 (Manual Article 215–1). The Regional Manager, with the advice of Regional Counsel, may permit the payment of taxes, assessments, other governmental levies and charges and ground rents, Attorneys' fees, surveys, appraisal fees, cost of reconditioning and charges or expenses necessary in connection with the consummation of the particular transaction before directing the application of any part of the funds referred to in the foregoing Section to the home owner's account. Where the consideration (whether land, interests therein, enhancement in the value thereof, or funds) exceeds the amount by which the value of the Corporation's security is reduced or diminished by a sufficient amount for the purpose, the Regional Manager, with the advice of the Regional Counsel, may permit the payment of such other items as he may deem proper to the extent of such excess from any funds involved in such consideration. Where such excess does not exist or where it is insufficient for the payment of such other items, they may not be paid except upon the direction of the General Manager with the advice of the General Counsel.

SEC. 2.15–3 (Manual Article 215–3). Application of all miscellaneous credits except those developing out of the closing of loans, sales or resulting from advances previously charged to home owners' accounts, or from excesses of less than $25.00 in insurance loss cases after restoration of the property shall be referred to the Partial Release and Property Transfer Section of the Regional Office on Form 194 or by the Regional Insurance Supervisor on Form 125–A. Cases involving the application of miscellaneous credits which cannot be reported on these forms shall be referred to the Partial Release and Property Transfer Section in any manner acceptable to the Regional Manager and Regional Counsel. The Supervisor of Partial Release and Property Transfer Section shall consider each case so referred and recommend to the Regional Manager and Regional Counsel the action to be taken, as well as the application of miscellaneous credits resulting from such action. When the home owner's written direction for the application of funds to taxes or other items is required and has not already been given, such written direction shall be obtained. When miscellaneous credits are to be used for the payment of taxes, the Tax Section shall prepare the vouchers and certify the amount of such payment.

pursuant to authority vested in them by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board acting pursuant to Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 (48 Stat. 128, 129) as amended by Sections 1 and 13 of the Act of April 27, 1934 (48 Stat. 643–647) and particularly by sub-Sections a and k of Section 4 of said Act as amended.)

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

SEC. 6.6087 Boards of appraisers.—In Veterans' Administration facilities the board of appraisers will consist of a medical officer especially designated to supervise occupational therapy activities, the supply officer or his designate and the ranking aide. In central office, the board of appraisers will consist of three members designated by the Administrator, or the assistant administrator duly authorized to make these designations. The boards at the facilities will meet on or about the fifteenth and last day of each month, or at more frequent intervals (if in the opinion of the manager circumstances may require), (a) to confirm or to amend the decisions made by the aide in charge of occupational therapy since the last meeting of the board; and (b) to fix prices of articles, repairs, and services which come under the jurisdiction of the board. (August 24, 1938.) (Sec. 6, 7; 48 Stat. 9; 38 U. S. C. 706, 707.)

SEC. 6.6088 Considerations in fixing prices.—The values of articles and repairs mentioned in the following will be fixed by the chief aide or the aide in charge of occupational therapy without reference specifically to the board of appraisers for appraisal: (a) In cases where a patient makes an article and desires to purchase it for his own or his immediate family's use and not for resale, in accordance with the provisions of Section 6.6083, the value of the article will be based upon the cost of the material used in its fabrication; (b) the prices of shoe repairs which are completed for patients will be based upon the cost of material used, plus an additional 20% for handling charges; and (c) the value of articles fabricated for Government use and the value of repairs made to Government-owned property will be based upon the cost of material used, plus an additional 20% for handling charges. In estimating the cost of material, consideration should be given not only to the value of the material actually used, but also to the reduced value of material, if any, remaining. A record of the items stated above will be made on the official appraisers list (Form 2589) in duplicate, using one serial number for all items of one project, and a summarized statement showing the individual items of each project should be prepared on the last day of every month. Serial numbers in the regular series of numbers used for appraised items will be assigned to each article for identification purposes. The proceeds from the sale of these articles will be handled immediately without reference to any action by the board of appraisers. The values of occupational therapy articles, projects, repairs and services, other than those overed by the preceding items, will be determined by the board of appraisers. In fixing prices of these fabricated articles, consideration will be given by the board of appraisers to the type of article, the skill evidenced in workmanship and design, and the comparative prices at which similar articles are sold commercially. In fixing the prices of other projects completed, services rendered and repairs made (except repairs to Government-owned property and shoe repairs for patients), consideration will be given to the comparative prices at which similar activities could be accomplished, if it would not be possible to fabricate them as occupational therapy projects. (August 24, 1938.) (Sec. 6, 7, 48 Stat. 9; 38 U. S. C. 706, 707.)

SEC. 6.6091 canceled.

OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

BOUNDARIES OF WIND RIVER MOUNTAIN ROADLESS AREA

AUGUST 9, 1938.

MR. FORREST R. STONE,
Supt., Wind River Agency.

DEAR MR. STONE: Reference is made to your communications of May 17, June 13 and July 7 recommending a revision of the description of the Wind River Mountain Roadless Area established by Departmental Order No. 486, dated October 25, 1937.[1]

You state that the description of the area as set forth in the order and shown on the map does not conform to the boundaries as established in the field by Mr. Robert Marshall, former Director of Forestry, Mr. George M. Nyce, Regional Forester, and yourself. You also direct attention to the fact that the boundaries as now defined include accessible timber resources required by the Indians for fuel and timber products; and embrace a ranger station, existing roads and other improvements.

An examination of the record indicates that the description as set forth in the order was not definite with respect to the north boundary of the area; and that as a result thereof a straight line was projected on the map between the most northerly points on the east and west boundaries, instead of passing through Bold Mountain as intended.

Accordingly the description of the boundaries of the Wind River Mountain Roadless Area is hereby amended to read as follows:

Starting at the south ¼ corner of Section 22, T. 2 S., R. 3 W., on the south boundary of the diminished Wind River Reservation; thence northerly approximately ½ mile to Hobbs Peak; thence in a northerly direction along the divide between Moccasin Creek and Sand Creek to the ¼ corner between Sections 28 and 33, T. 1 S., R. 3 W.; thence north 1 mile to the ¼ corner between Sections 21 and 28; thence west 2½ miles to the southwest corner of Section 19, T. 1 S., R. 3 W.; thence north along range line to the Wind River base line; thence west along base line 1 mile to the southwest corner of Section 36, T. 1 N., R. 4 W.; thence north 10½ miles to the ¼ corner of Sections 11 and 12, T. 2 N., R. 4 W.; thence west 6½ miles to the center of Section 11, T. 2 N., R. 5 W.; thence on a straight line in a northwesterly direction to the top of Bold Mountain; thence on a straight line in northwesterly direction to the point where the north line of Section 15, T. 4 N., R. 6 W., intersects the western boundary of the reservation; thence south, southeasterly and east along the reservation boundary to point of beginning.

Reference to the description of the boundaries as amended and the map which is attached hereto[2] will disclose the fact that the change recommended by your office in the east boundary of the area in Townships 1 and 2 South, Range 3 West, has also been authorized and that it now follows the well defined ridge which passes through Sections 22, 15, 9 and 4, T. 2 S., R. 3 W.; and Sections 33 and 28, T. 1 S., R. 3 W.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, Jr.,
Assistant Commissioner.

Approved, August 13, 1938.
